

Tyneham

Village History Archive

A complete archive of the village of Tyneham, Dorset — evacuated in 1943 and never returned to its inhabitants.

Compiled from tynehamopc.org.uk

Contents

Introduction (8 entries)

The 1943 Evacuation (9 entries)

The Fight to Return (6 entries)

War Memorial (2 entries)

Places – Tyneham Village (24 entries)

Places – Worbarrow & Surrounds (11 entries)

Off-Limits Areas (20 entries)

Family Histories (71 entries)

Parish Records & Censuses (24 entries)

Gravestones (17 entries)

Wills & Probate (6 entries)

Obituaries & Deaths (22 entries)

Historical Newspaper Articles (27 entries)

Emigrants (1 entries)

Poetry (4 entries)

Visiting Tyneham (6 entries)

Introduction

Welcome

Important Note This website is being refreshed to make it mobile-friendly. In the meantime please visit the old website . What is special about Tyneham? Before the Second World War, Tyneham was just one of many small isolated Dorset villages. Its residents led a simple life relying mainly on farming and fishing for their livelihood, oblivious to the future events which would give their home a special place in history. In 1943 the villagers were moved out by Winston Churchill's War Cabinet prior to the area being used for D-Day preparations. They never returned. Today the village is part of the Ministry of Defence Lulworth Ranges, accessible to the public only at specified times. Just the empty buildings remain, trapped in a time warp that has protected the area from many modern developments that, elsewhere, have changed the face of our countryside. Parking

Early History

Extract from Ida Woodford's "In and Around The Isle of Purbeck" published in 1907 TYNEHAM, POVINGTON, AND WORBARROW " The green waves leap At the white cliff's steep." Edwin Arnold THERE is a cross- road a little east of Lutton; the branch on the right leads over the hills to Grange, the direct road through fields with many gates to Tyneham. About a mile and a half farther on, just beyond Egliston Farm, this road divides again, the path on the right leading to the village, and the one on the left to Tyneham House, the seat of W. H. Bond, Esq . It was built by Henry Williams in 1583, as the date sculptured on a small shield over the east door shows. The main building of the house, which is of Purbeck ashlar quarried on the estate, is a fine specimen of Tudor architecture, one of its most interesting features being a stone staircase with a square core, the form of staircase which immediately succeeded the spiral. The upper windows are mullioned, but those on the ground floor were replaced by sash windows about the end of the eighteenth century, when light was thought to be of more importance than architectural beauty. On the west side of the house is an ancient building which rivals the oldest part of Barneston in point of antiquity. It is divided by a floor into stories that are connected by a winding staircase. It was obviously once a banqueting- hall. For a description of it I will again refer to the paper the Rev. W. D. Filliter read to the Field Club :— "This building is all that remains of the ancient manor of Tyneham. It has evidently undergone many changes. It seems to have been originally the hall of the ancient manor- house, and to date from the late thirteenth or fourteenth century. "It seems probable that when the new house was built, in 1567, this hall being no longer required and being in too good condition to be pulled down, was converted into a cottage. A floor was put in, and the space above and below it was divided into rooms, and the walls pierced for the insertion of the windows which now light the rooms upstairs and down. ... A portion of the handsome timbered roof of oak is still in position, and is somewhat remarkable, perhaps a unique specimen of timber roofing." The house is surrounded by trees, and is so completely buried in them that it cannot be seen till one is within a hundred yards of it ; on the east side there is a fine avenue a quarter of a mile long. A footpath due south from the house leads to the top of the cliff, where there is a stone shelter, known as the " ocean seat." From this place is obtained a view of some of the finest coast scenery in Dorset. On the east St. Aldhelm's Head stands out, almost blue in the distance, then the deep inlet of Chapman's Pool, then Kimmeridge Bay with Clavell's Tower above it. A little nearer, the flat, rocky formation of Broad Bench stretches far into the surf. Just beneath is the small cove Brandy Bay, so called because the crannies in its surrounding rocks were in the old days used by smugglers as hiding- places for their " tubs." On the west the bold outline of Gad Cliff overhangs the sea at a height of four hundred feet. Again I must quote the Field Club records, as Prof. Hudleston's description of the cliff is far beyond anything I could say of it : — "This particular district of Gadcliff especially always reminds me of the more calcareous portions of the Alps. One might imagine that it was a kind of Dent de Morcles in miniature. Hard limestones were superimposed on soft sands and clays, in this case on the Kimmeridge Clay, and such a conjunction produced the feature which was so excessively striking." Ravens and peregrine falcons build in the crevices of its rocks, and once smugglers used to hide their contraband goods in the cave beneath. In front of all, the long arm of Portland stretches out from the westward like a bastion guarding the bay. The village is about half a mile from the house, half-way between it and Worbarrow, and is merely a cluster of cottages with an ancient church. The last, which is dedicated to St. Mary and is very small, was restored in 1744. It has a nave and chancel, but no tower ; the south aisle belongs to Tyneham House, and it is probable that the church was originally built to be a chapel to the great house. At the end of the north aisle there is a monument which is elaborately painted and gilded, containing a tablet supported with pillars and surmounted by a frieze, which asserts that underneath lie the bones of several Williams of Tyneham. On the north wall of the nave there is a black marble slab set in a Portland stone frame, which bears the following inscription: "Near this place lyes the body of Elizabeth Tarrant , servant to Mrs. Bond of Tyneham, in which station she continued 34 years. To the memory of her prudence, honesty, and industry, this monument is erected. She died August 2nd 1769, in the 54th year of her age." The manor of Tyneham is bounded by Steeple on the east, Lulworth on the north and west, and the Channel on the south. In Domesday Book it is divided into four parcels: (1) Tigeham, which was held by Bretel, of Robert, Earl of Mortain, the step- brother of William I, and by six thegns in Edward the Confessor's time, its value both before and after the Conquest being 47s. (2) Tingeham, which was held by William, of Hugh de Abrincis, Earl of Chester and son of William the First's sister, and before the Conquest by a Saxon called Alnod. This parcel was worth 20s. (3) Also called Tingeham, which was held of the Queen by Anschitil Fitz- Ameline. In Saxon times it belonged to Brictric. Before the Conquest it was valued at £3 and afterwards at £4. (4) Tigeham, which was held by Edric, one of the King's thegns, styled " Eddricius praepositus " in the Exeter Domesday Book , and was only worth 63d. There is very little evidence by which these ancient parcels can be identified with the present divisions of the parish, but it is possible that Tigeham, which was owned by the Earl of Mortain, is now comprised in West Tyneham, which contains "the mansion- house and demesnes called Great Tyneham, the village of Little Tyneham with its several tenements," and South Tyneham, which was anciently called East Tyneham ; and that Tingeham which belonged to the Earl of Chester is the present Baltington, which comprises a farm about a mile west of Tyneham and some tenements at Worbarrow ; and that North and South Egliston may be the Tingeham that was held of the Queen by Anschitil Fitz- Ameline. It seems quite impossible to place the virgate of land held by Edric, and which was only worth 5s. 3d. The most important of the four parts is what is now called West Tyneham, for it is not only the largest, but also contains the manor- house. From the time that it belonged to the Earl of Mortain until the reign of Queen Elizabeth there is very little contemporary history from which we can gather its story. A family called de Tyneham owned the manor of Warmwell from the time of King John to that of Henry VI, and from their name one imagines that at some earlier date they must have lived at Tyneham. Later this manor appears to have belonged to Thomas Bardolfe, through whose daughter Rohesia it came to the Russells. Both the writer of the MSS. in the Harleian Collection and Coker give accounts of the passing of Tyneham from the Bardolfes to the Russells and the Chicks in such a quaint manner that, as it is quite impossible to choose between them, both shall be quoted. The Harleian chronicle is as follows : — "Tyneham in Purbeck, East and West, out of an old parchment writing in French. "Md that Thomas Bardolfe was seized of the mannor of Estynham in his demayne as in fee, which manner he gave to Walter Russell in free marriage with his daughter Royse, which Walter and Royse had issue between them Thomas, which Thomas took to wife Jane, and had issue John. This John took to wife Margerie the daughter of William Clavile of Holme, which John had issue William who married Alice daughter of John Durnford." Coker's account is less detailed, but it goes farther : — "Royse, daughter and heire to Thomas Bardolfe brought Tyneham to her husband Walter Russell whose posterity for a long continuance were lords of it, who joyning in marriage with the heires of William Clavile and Walter de Durnford, left afterwards for heires fower daughters married to Chick, Meere, Fry and Burdon ; their posteritye passed it away to Henry Williams." Both these accounts give the name of Walter to the Russell who married Royse or Rohesia Bardolfe, though in reality it was John, and neither mentions the social position of the heiress of Bardolfe. Rohesia's mother was the celebrated Adela Corbet whom Chaucer might have had in his mind when he created the "Wife of Bath." She was the daughter of Sir Robert Corbet, lord of the borough of Alcester, in Warwickshire, and commenced her matrimonial career by becoming the morganatic wife of Henry I. In this connection she became the mother of Reginald, afterwards Earl of Cornwall. At another time she married a gentleman called Herbert, and became the mother of Herbert and William Fitz- Herbert, who assisted Henry II so ably in the conquest of Ireland. Her third venture was Thomas Bardolfe of Tyneham, the result of this union being Rohesia. When Rohesia married John Russell she was a widow, having previously married Henry de la Pomerai of Berry Pomeroy in Devonshire, and of la Pomerai Castle in Normandy, who, having joined the rebellion of Prince John, Earl of Mortain, against Richard I, was deprived of his lands, and, strange to say, died suddenly on the return of the King. The royal connection of the ladies of the Bardolfe family was evidently recognised, for the Earl of Cornwall "gave to his sister Rohesia de Pomerai his manor of Riduri in that county in free marriage." As Madame de Pomerai, Rohesia had one son Jocelyn, who assisted his step-uncles the Fitz-Herberts in the war with Ireland. After marrying John Russell she had two sons, Ralph and Thomas; the latter inherited Tyneham, and the former became the ancestor of the Dukes of Bedford. In the records of the family it is stated that John Russell, K.G., first Earl of Bedford, lineal descendant of this Ralph, obtained an introduction to Henry VII, and through an unexpected circumstance was immediately taken into royal favour. As the Russells were connected for five generations with Tyneham, and Wolfeton House, where the "unexpected circumstance" occurred, is the property of Albert Bankes, Esq., a scion of the family of Bankes of Corfe Castle, perhaps the story of how John Russell gained an earldom may not be out of place here. In the reign of Henry VII, Philip of Austria and his wife Juana of Aragon, who had just inherited the throne of Castile from her mother Isabella the Catholic, came to England, and before proceeding to London visited Sir Thomas Trenchard at Wolfeton House. Being deficient in the knowledge of Spanish, the host and hostess found some difficulty in conversing with their royal guests, so Sir Thomas invited his cousin, John Russell of Kingston Russell (a descendant of Ralph), who was a good linguist, to come and help him in his difficult situation. John Russell came, and as both his Spanish and his manners were excellent, he soon became a favourite with the King and Queen, who, when they left Dorset for London, took him with them and presented him to Henry VII. The King of England appreciated the man who has been described as "the most accomplished gentleman of his time" and made him Gentleman of the Privy Chamber. John Russell was knighted by Henry VIII in 1513, and after many adventures was created Baron Russell, K.G., in 1539, and Earl of Bedford in 1550. He died in 1555. At various times he held the posts of Ambassador, Comptroller of the King's Household, High Steward of the Duchy of Cornwall, Lord High Admiral of England, and Lord Privy Seal. Had it not been for the accident of his being able to assist the King and Queen of Castile as interpreter, he might have lived and died "mute and inglorious" in the wilds of Dorset! The fifth Earl of Bedford, who besieged Sherborne Castle with the Parliamentary army, and afterwards joined the Royalist forces, was created Marquis of Tavistock and Duke of Bedford by William III in 1694. Having given so much time to the descendants of John and Rohesia Russell's elder son Ralph, we must now go back to the younger son Thomas, who inherited Tyneham. His descendants appear to have lived quietly at Tyneham for about a hundred years, the estate passing in direct line from father to son, but in Richard the Second's reign John Russell, the fifth in descent from Thomas, died before his father, and as he had no brother the property was divided between his four sisters, Johanna the eldest, who had married Thomas Chyke, receiving the greater part of West Tyneham. The Chykes, Chekes, or Chicks were people of some importance, members of the family having represented Wareham in Parliament frequently from the commencement of Edward the First's reign to the end of Henry the Sixth's. The estate remained in the possession of the Chykes for several generations, and in Henry the Eighth's reign became the property of John Pope, apparently in right of his wife Johanna who was the heiress of the Chykes. John and Johanna Pope sold it in 1523 to John Williams of Herringston, Esq., for his life and that of his second son Henry. Henry Williams, who afterwards built Tyneham House, survived his father, and purchased the reversion in fee May 22nd, 1563. When he died in 1589 "the jury in their return of the lands held at his death . . . were unable to say (penitiis ignorant) of whom his estate in West Tyneham was held," but it is probable that it belonged to the Abbey of Cirencester, co. Gloucester, as in a deed dated 5 Elizabeth, Tyneham is described as "subject . . . to an annual rent charge of 20 shillings payable to the late monastery of Ciceter." Henry Williams died seized of the manor of Tyneham, lands in West Holme, Lyme Regis, Whitchurch, Marshwood, West Lulworth, the farm of Burngate, and the reversion of a moiety of the manor of Egliston held of the Queen in capite by rent of 6s. 8d. Jane, the only daughter of Henry Williams, married Sir Robert Lawrence of Grange, and their son John, who inherited his mother's estates, sold "the manors or lordships of Tyneham and Egliston" to Nathaniel Bond, Esq., of Lutton, in 1683, from whom Tyneham descended to Margaret Sophia Bond, who on her marriage with the Rev. Matthew Rogers gave it to her brother, the Rev. William Bond, rector of the parish, from whom it descended to William Henry Bond, Esq., in whose possession it now remains.

South Tyneham, in past years called East Tyneham, was, like West Tyneham, part of Tige-ham, that was held by Bretel of the Earl of Mortain ; it remained part and parcel of West Tyneham until the division of that estate between the daughters of John Russell in Richard the Second's reign. His youngest daughter Alice, who had married William Burdon, inherited it, and it passed through her daughter Jane, who married John Dolfin of Stoborough, to Agnes Dolfin, who married William Clavell. In Elizabeth's reign it came to the Lawrences of Winterborne Steepleton, and in Charles the First's reign was bought by Elias Bond of Wareham, Lord- Lieutenant of the Isle and Captain of the Castle of Portland ; also M.P. for Wareham in 1658. Elias was succeeded by his nephew William Bond, whose two daughters, Mary Gould and Margaret Speke, eventually shared the estate. Mary, Countess of Abingdon, only daughter of James and Mary Gould, died without children, and left her share of the estate to her cousin George Speke, from whom it descended to William Speke of Jordans, near Ilminster, who sold it to John Garland in 1803, from whom it descended to the wife of Mr. Henry House of Lytchett. Baltington, which, as has been said, is probably the Tinge-ham that belonged to the Earl of Chester in the reign of William I, consists of a farm and a few cottages in Worbarrow, and is situated between Tyneham Farm and Worbarrow Bay. Anciently one part of it belonged to Barneston and the other to the manor of Knowle Steeple and Creech. After the death, early in King John's reign, of Engelin, the lord of Egliston, in this parish, his widow recovered one- third of Baltington, her dower, from Adam de Morton. Eventually Robert, son of Adam de Morton, or Mordone, granted it to William Martel, for which gift William gave Robert three silver marks and his wife one " bezant." In Edward the First's reign it became the property of the Stokeses of Barneston, to whom from then till early in the sixteenth century it appears to have belonged. In Henry the Eighth's reign it was held by the Gerards of Longhide of the Clavells of Barneston, and late in Elizabeth's reign it was brought by the heiress of the Gerards as her marriage portion to the Napiers of More Crichel. In 1793 Humphrey Ockley Sturt, who inherited it from the Napiers, sold it to John Bond of Grange, grandfather of the present owner. Egliston, which was probably the three hides in Tinge-ham described in Domesday Book as being held by Anschitil Fitz- Ameline, was anciently divided from West Tyneham by a boundary- line which extended from Tyneham Cap, the summit of the south hill, to the summit of the hill on the north. The hamlet consists of two parts, North and South Egliston, the former now containing Egliston Farm, already mentioned, and the latter Tyneham Farm. The name Egliston is obviously derived from Engelin or Eglin, who owned it before the third year of the reign of King John, and whose widow, after much litigation, was allowed to keep a third part of the estate for her dowry. North Egliston anciently belonged to the Clavells of Quarr. In Henry the Eighth's reign their descendants, the Dacombs of Corfe Castle, sold it to Thomas Coles, from whom it was purchased by William Cockram, whose great- grandsons, Joseph and Samuel Symonds, eventually inherited it. Samuel sold his moiety in 1719 to Denis Bond of Grange, and in 1811 Joseph's son William sold his share to John, brother and successor of Denis Bond. So once more the manor of North Egliston was united in one estate. South Egliston belonged until the reign of Henry V to the Priory of Wareham, dependent on the Benedictine Monastery of Lire, in Normandy. In 1415, however, the alien priories were dissolved, and the King gave the Priory of Wareham and all other property of the Monastery of Lire that was in England to the Monastery of Shene, in Surrey, which he had himself founded. In Henry the Eighth's reign South Egliston was claimed by the Crown, and was given in 1546 to Peter Seynthill, who in the same year sold it to Sir Oliver Lawrence, whose son, Edward Lawrence of Grange, sold it in 1587 to Henry Williams of Tyneham. From the Williamses it passed to the Mohuns, and in 1634 Robert Mohun sold it to Elias Bond of Lutton, from whom it was bought by Henry Jubber in 1674, whose descendants in 1720 sold it to John Bond of Tyneham. After passing through the hands of many of the Bonds of Tyneham it was eventually inherited by John Bond of Grange, whose descendant now owns it. About a mile north of Tyneham, and at the foot of the hills on the other side, lies the farm of Povington, and beyond it stretches the expanse of bracken and heather called Povington Heath. It is now a small hamlet, but once it was a manor. In Domesday Book it is said to have been held in demesne by Robert Fitz- Gerald. In Edward the Confessor's reign it was held by Almar and taxed for eight hides. After the Conquest it was worth £11, and the mill, which "paid 25s.," was claimed for the King's use. POVINGTON Robert Fitz- Gerald was the son of Gerald, "dapifer" or royal steward to William I and uncle of William de Romana, Earl of Lincoln. He accompanied the Conqueror to England, and eventually became tenant- in- chief in the counties of Dorset, Somerset, Hants, Wilts, and Bucks. He gave Povington to the Abbey of Bec, in Normandy, which gift was ratified later by Henry II. When King John lost the duchy of Normandy, difficulties with regard to alien abbeys holding English territory arose. That the Abbot of Bec must have shown some diplomacy and clung to the good things of Povington the following statement shows. "The abbot . . . since Easter removed eighty- five cheeses, with all the wool of the sheep and lambs, one basket of loaves and 15s. worth of oates sold together with 28s. 9d. of the Easter rent." The abbot probably continued to appropriate the revenues of his quondam lands in Dorset, for in the next reign we find Avenel Fitz- Robert claiming the manor of Povington against the Abbot of Bec. The case was to be decided by a trial by wager of battle, in which, strange to say, the churchman won, and the vanquished knight "quit- claimed to the said abbot all his right in this manor." In later times Povington was reckoned as a parcel of the Priory of Okeburn, in Wiltshire, which was a " cell " to the Abbey of Bec. When wars arose between France and England the King would claim the alien monasteries as his own. As has been already said, the alien monasteries were suppressed in 1415; Povington, however, became Crown property at an earlier date. It was granted by Henry IV to John of Lancaster, Duke of Bedford, but on his death in 1436 it again came to the Crown, and Henry VI granted it to "the master and bretheren of the Hospital of St. Anthony in London and their successors for the exhibition and support at the University of Oxford of five well disposed scholars to be brought up in the faculty of arts, so that such scholars, before going to Oxford, should be well and sufficiently instructed in the rudiments of grammar at the College at Eton : each scholar to receive after the rate of 10 pence a week until he should attain the degree of Bachelor of Arts." Nine years later it is recorded that Henry granted the "farm or rent which John Newburgh, Esq., ought to pay for the custody of the manor of Povington," and many other lands that used to belong to the alien Priory of Okeburn, to the Provost and Royal College of St. Mary's at Eton. Edward IV revoked the grant, but later in the seventh year of his reign, " for the welfare of himself and Elizabeth his consort whilst living, and for the health of their souls ' cum ab hac luce migravimus apud altissimum,' " granted all the lands, including Povington (Newburgh's lease having expired), to William Westbury, then Provost of the College of Eton. These various grants appear contradictory. It seems improbable that Henry VI should have granted certain lands to the Master and Brethren of St. Anthony's Hospital in 1442, and only nine years later given them to the Provost of Eton. The grant made by Edward IV is comprehensible enough : as has been said, he revoked the grants made by his conquered predecessor. Things became clearer, however, later on, and it is seen that Povington belonged to Eton for at least a hundred years, as in 1541 Robert Bishop of Carlisle, then Provost of Eton, "granted to Denis Bond a lease of Lutton, parcel of the manor of Povington," in exchange for other lands. In Edward the Sixth's reign Povington, like so many other places in Purbeck, was given to the Duke of Somerset. With most of his other possessions in the county it eventually came to his son, the Earl of Hertford, who sold it to John Vincent, yeoman, in 1616. It remained in the Vincent family till 1733, when the last male member bequeathed his estates to his sister's son, William Lord, from whom it was inherited by his cousin, William Dore, who sold it in 1801 to John Bond of Grange. Hutchins, without quoting any authority, says that there was once a chapel at Povington. The recent discovery of a fragment of a large cross in the ground points towards the truth of this assertion. The farm of West Whiteway, which is intersected by Luckford Lake, one of the boundaries of Purbeck, is about a mile west of Povington Farm. It was part of the manor of Povington till 1615, when the Earl of Hertford sold it, one part to William Collins and the other to John Cockram. After passing through several hands early in the last century, both parts became the property of the Welds. Collins's share now belongs to Reginald Weld, but Cockram's was sold by Joseph Weld, Esq., to the Rev. Nathaniel Bond in 1863. West Whiteway Farm, once belonging to the Collinses, is interesting as being the only part of the Lulworth estate that lies actually in Purbeck. Worbarrow or Worthbarrow Tout is a conical- shaped hill almost surrounded by water, being joined to the main cliff by a thin neck of land. Hutchins relates that at the foot of the barrow, a little north of it, there was a circular rampart, where two or three cannons were placed in time of war. As the reviser of Hutchins points out, this cannot be correct, as such a situation would necessitate the ramparts rising straight " from out the azure main." The Tout is now adorned by the flagstaff and other appurtenances of a coastguard station. Worbarrow Bay is one of the most beautiful in Dorset. From Worbarrow Tout on the east to Mupe Rocks on the west is a little more than a mile. Within the bay the coast- line dips twice to form inlets — on the east that called Worbarrow, beyond which the village nestles, and on the west the narrower ravine called Arish Mell, through which cleft can be seen the towers of Lulworth Castle " bosom'd high in tufted trees." West of Arish Mell, between Cockpit Head and Mupe Rocks, Mupe Bay sparkles in the sunlight. Colour here is more varied than it is generally in English scenery, except indeed in Devon : the rocks on the east are red and bronze, the cliffs on the west are white and dazzling, while the intervening shore is yellow; the sea is intensely blue, and the shingles on the beach have a look of silver ; the land is covered with grass that in contrast looks a more than usually vivid green. Apart from its aesthetic perfections, Worbarrow claims consideration for its geological characteristics. When the geology of Purbeck was described in an earlier chapter, it was said that at Worbarrow would be found a key to the enigma, as here there are what may be called " end sections," beds of both cliffs and hills. Rings Hill, the western extremity of the Purbeck Hills, extends from the inlet of Worbarrow to that of Arish Mell, and with the termination of this range of hills we come to the termination of Purbeck itself. But Rings Hill has a greater interest even than being the boundary of the island ; on its summit are still to be seen the remains of the ancient fortification called Flowers Barrow. Historians and archaeologists, and all those learned in such subjects, differ as to whether the fortification was of British or Roman origin. As it stands on the top of a hill, 560 feet above the sea- level, and is inaccessible except from the north- east — even at that point only to be approached by the path that runs along the top of the hills which rise abruptly at Corfe and terminate at Arish Mell — as its situation is bleak and desolate, and provisions difficult to obtain, one cannot help imagining it to be the last stand of a people at bay, rather than the camp of a conquering army. Charles Warne, f.s.a., in his Ancient Dorset, a work only published for its author and subscribers, gives an interesting and learned account of Flowers Barrow, from which I will quote : — "The area of the Camp is between five and six acres ; the ground on the north and west falls very precipitously ; on the south side it presents the aspect of a lofty cliff, some six or seven hundred feet high, with its base gradually yielding to the incessant action of the waves ; while the summit, scored with numerous fissures, shows the destructive power of atmospheric agencies. "For ages exposed to these influences, the results may be readily imagined ; the defences on this side of the Camp, whatsoever they may have been, are now, with the exception of a few slight traces, entirely swept away. Judging from the inclination of the area, and aided by their few vestiges, it is natural to infer that the entrenchments on the south side were parallel to those on the north. On this, the opposite side, the declivity of the hill increases rapidly as it recedes from the area; from this circumstance protection was readily obtained by scarping the face of the hill, the effect of which was to produce a confused series of irregular banks, ditches, and platforms. "An exception, however, must be taken to the inner line of defence, which, from its greater strength and better finish, plainly bespeaks either an addition to the original work, or a reparation of the rampart, by increasing its width and adding to its height ; the surface of the area adjoining it show^s signs of disturbance. It is easy to be seen, by comparison, what parts have been restored. This additional or improved rampart is attributable to a period of Roman occupation, and the reader is referred to the essay on Vespasian's early conquests in Britain, where he will find the explanation fully given. The entrances to Florus- Bury are on the south- east and north- west. The approach from the south- east is ... by a level range ; to obviate this defect, the entrance, which is remarkably narrow, is made through the outer rampart so close to the verge of the hill as to allow only a limited space of a few yards wide for ingress ; and so precipitously does the land fall off to the sea that it would be impossible to assault the entrance with a large body of men. "On passing through the outer approach, a broad level space, about thirty yards wide, occurs, and a little way within, on the right hand, an embankment or middle line of defence extends for about fifty yards, purposely as an additional protection to this the most vulnerable quarter of the camp. "The entrance through the inner rampart is more to the north- east and east, immediately opposite the outer entrance, thereby giving the defenders an advantage, as an enemy would have to make his advance obliquely and so be flanked by this middle rampart. "At the west end, the outer vallum is, as on the east side, thrown up somewhat in advance of the inner ; and the exterior entrance is about fifty yards more to the north than the interior one ; hence the passage is carried diagonally through the defences. The form of the camp seems originally to have been somewhat of an oval, and its area is still marked with vestiges of early occupation, concerning which the late J. F. Pennie observes : ' In this mountain fortress the wells are to be seen that were dug by the warlike inhabitants to retain the water that fell from the clouds,' and ' a long series of circular excavations in this ground over which were erected their principal tents or booths, while on the south- west of the area may be perceived, from the inequalities of the ground, where stood the different divisions for their cattle.' " This description brings a past world before our eyes, and if remembered when from the summit of the hill one beholds the rugged coast, the treeless hills, and heather- covered moors rolling away into the distance, it is easy to imagine the situation as it was two thousand years ago, when Britons in sheepskin and Romans in armour met and, fighting on the hills, turned the greensward crimson. Even in this remote region the “pomp and circumstance of glorious war” has left its indelible impress on the character of the scene, while two thousand years of peace have hardly left a trace. The derivation of Flowers Barrow remains obscure. Hutchins suggests that it was named Florus- Bury, after Florus, a Roman officer in Vespasian's army, and though there is no particular authority for the statement, we must, in the words of Mr. N. Bond, “submit it to the judgement of the learned” as to whether its correct appellation should be Florus- Bury or not. The learned, alas, do not agree amongst themselves ! Beyond Cockpit Head, as has been said, Mupe Bay extends to Mupe Rocks, which form the western extremity of Worbarrow Bay ; and behind its shore the great mass of Bindon Hill rises and stretches like a vast rampart defending the coast, till it descends abruptly at the east side of Lulworth Cove.

As time passed by . . . this is Tyneham's story

As time passed by . . . this is Tyneham's story admin 28 August 2017 31 August 2017 Guest post by Nick Churchill

Isolated as much by geography as history, Tyneham offers a unique perspective on the way things used to be. Nobody has lived here since 1943 and today the valley is part of the Lulworth firing ranges, owned by the Ministry of Defence. Dorset has been a vital military training ground for more than 150 years, but the Army's policy of improving public access to Tyneham and the surrounding area means it is open for up to 150 days a year when not being used for live firing exercises. The people of this idyllic valley lived simple lives relatively untouched by the outside world, but Tyneham's fate was sealed by Churchill's War Cabinet when it decided the valley was needed for military training ahead of the D- Day landings. The chain of events that has seen Tyneham capture the public imagination began on 19 December 1943 with the complete evacuation of the village and surrounding area. Everybody had to leave. Nobody came back.

1901 They lived in the splendid Tyneham House out of view in Tyneham Great Wood. Apart from the fishermen at Worbarrow and a few non- tenant farmers, nearly all the villagers depended on the Bonds for a living. Six o'clock in the morning and 11- year- old Fred Lucas is filling buckets from the village water pump. He lives in Shepherd's Cottage at the end of The Row with his parents, nine brothers and sisters and baby nephew. His sister Edith, 15, has left for Tyneham House where she's a scullery maid. Fred's not at school today, it's harvest time and he's needed in the fields. This week he's going to market in Wareham. He'll have to walk, but he doesn't mind – it's his first trip out of the valley. The Bond family have owned the Tyneham Valley for over 200 years.

1924 The closure of the coastguard station in 1912 marked the beginning of a gradual decline in Tyneham's population. More families drifted away after the Great War and the village school closed in 1932. Although Tyneham's population was decreasing, increased car ownership meant Tyneham was a popular destination for visiting motorists who paid to park there. There was even a tearoom at Worbarrow. Helen Taylor is off to Tyneham House where she has worked as a seamstress since leaving school at 14 in 1916. With her sister Bessie, she lives at Laundry Cottages, the only house in the village with running water, doing the washing for the 'Big House' and for Rev. Corfield at the Rectory. They took on the work of their mother Emily who died in 1917, grief stricken by the loss of three sons, William, Arthur and Bert, in the War. Another fourteen sons of the parish also perished.

1943 Under the cover of official secrecy, 225 people from 102 properties were evacuated. By Christmas, all residents from Tyneham and the surrounding area were gone. Training for the D- Day landings which were to happen in six months time began in earnest. Unlike many villages requisitioned during World War Two, Tyneham was never handed back. In the new world order, Lulworth firing ranges were crucial to our defence and in 1952 the entire valley was compulsorily purchased for £30,000. It's nearly Christmas, but there's little cheer as the last of the villagers leave. Ralph Bond was only given notice to clear the valley last month – the same day he learned his son Mark was missing in action. His wife Evelyn pins a note to the church door imploring the Army to 'treat the church and houses with care.' It concludes: 'We shall return one day and thank you for treating the village kindly.' Many leave reluctantly, particularly the elderly, but with the enemy just across the Channel, others are relieved.

1968 Articles in the press had kept the village that 'Died for D- Day' in the public eye. Tyneham was open on public holidays to permit access to the beach, but the village remained behind barbed wire as nature reclaimed the derelict homes. August bank holiday and in keeping with the radical spirit of the times, Rodney Legg and the Tyneham Action Group are demonstrating in the car park. A display of old photographs shows the village in its heyday. Having enlisted former villagers like war veteran John Gould and Philip Draper, whose father built 'Sheepleaze' on the cliff above the beach in 1910, they're campaigning for the valley to be given to the National Trust. The Army has enraged protestors by dismantling Tyneham House with 14th and 15th century stonework removed to stately homes at Bingham's Melcombe and Athelhampton. 1976 Public and political pressure eventually forced the Government's hand. In 1974 Lord Nugent was commissioned to investigate military land holdings, but although he recommended the release of Lulworth ranges a White Paper subsequently rejected the report and the increasingly factionalised campaigners had to settle for greater access instead. The first church service for 36 years was held at St Mary's in 1979. Dave and his team are on the church roof replacing the rotten timbers. Years of neglect have taken their toll but work is progressing well. The boards have been removed from the windows and morning sunlight is streaming into the church for the first time in over thirty years. Since the protesters' battle lines dissolved, the Army has been working to open Range Walks and plans to have many of the cottages cleared, their dilapidated roofs removed and broken walls made safe. 2003 The Army's presence has prevented Tyneham's surrender to tourism. The refurbished schoolroom opened in 1994, followed by Tyneham Farm in 2008 where, a year later, the first concert in the village for more than 70 years was staged. Arthur Grant is at the newly renovated St Mary's Church. His family lost its home here in 1943, but he's back today for a carol service to mark the 60th anniversary of the evacuation. There's a warm atmosphere inside as Mark Bond arrives to greet people that were once his family's tenants and servants. 'My thoughts go back to Tyneham at Christmas because we had such fun carol singing,' says Arthur. 'Nobody thought anything of walking and we'd go all over the village, up to the House and over to Kimmeridge. We had flasks of tea and mince pies as we went. Beautiful times.' Today and tomorrow Byelaws prevent the commercial development of Tyneham, which is why you won't find a gift shop there. Instead more humble pleasures can be enjoyed: the rich wildlife, the range walks, swimming from the beach, the wealth of historical interest, or simply soaking up the deep sense of peace. Much has been written in which this place is cast as somehow lost, a ghost village. It's neither lost nor dead, but it has evolved in unfamiliar ways and remains one of the most beautiful places in the country. Tyneham gave its heart for its country in 1943, but with sympathetic management its soul will survive for generations to come. Nick Churchill 2011 www.nickchurchill.org.uk Bookmark the permalink . « 2015: Death of Dorothy 'Grace' Grant 2017: Death of Nancy Openshaw Banister »

Timeline

Below is a Timeline providing information on events at Tyneham over the centuries. It shows when ownership of Tyneham changed hands, when Tyneham House, Tyneham Church and Tyneham Rectory were built. It includes tragic events that claimed the lives of men from Tyneham and Worbarrow.

Year	Mth/Day	Event
BRONZE AGE
c3000BC		Burial mounds are built on Povington Heath
IRON AGE
c400BC		Flower's Barrow hill fort is built on the cliff top above Worbarrow Bay
13TH CENTURY
1297		The original Tyneham Church is built
16TH CENTURY
1563-1583		Elizabethan main section of Tyneham House is built for Henry Williams
17TH CENTURY
1641		34 men of Tyneham swear the Protestation Oath
1678		Administration of the goods of Henry Miller
1683		Nathaniel Bond buys Tyneham and Creech Grange
18TH CENTURY
1707		Nathaniel Bond dies – his son Denis Bond inherits Tyneham
1744		Nave roof of Tyneham Church is covered with lead & other alterations made
1746/47	Jan 30	Denis Bond dies – his nephew John Bond inherits Tyneham
1784	May 30	John Bond dies – son Rev. William Bond inherits Tyneham. He builds the South Transept at Tyneham Church for the exclusive use of the Bond family leaving the North Transept for the congregation. The seats become known as 'the Cowstalls'
1784		The smaller of the two bells at Tyneham Church is recast by R Wells of Aldborne
19TH CENTURY
1831		Reform Riots
1832		South Transept of Tyneham Church is replaced with much larger one
1835		James Galton, 53, agricultural labourer from Worbarrow is convicted of smuggling
1841	Jun 7	1841 Census : total population of parish= 250
1851	Mar 30	1851 Census : total population of parish= 276
1852	Mar 5	Rev. William Bond dies – son Rev. Henry Bond inherits Tyneham
1853		Village Tap built
1860		Tyneham School is built
1861	Apr 7	1861 Census : total population of parish= 272
1865	Mar 4	Five coastguard men from the Coastguard Station at Worbarrow drown
1871	Apr 2	1871 Census : total population of parish= 269
1872		harmonium replaces the barrell organ at Tyneham Church
1874	May 21	Three

coastguard men from the Coastguard Station at Worbarrow drown 1875 Sep 27 Rev. Henry Bond dies at South Petherton – W.H. Bond inherits Tyneham 1876 Tyneham Rectory is built 1880 South porch at Tyneham Church is removed and rebuilt as west porch 1881 Apr 3 1881 Census : total population of parish= 275 1882 Alfred Dawson sketches Tyneham House 1883 Dec 25 The Great Western Railway 's paddle steamer South of Ireland hits the rocks off Worbarrow Bay in fog and is holed. Fortunately all lives are saved. 1886 Jun 19 Three coastguard men from the Coastguard Station at Worbarrow drown 1891 Apr 5 1891 Census : total population of parish= 260 1898 Rev. John Bond dies 1899 Dec 10 Tyneham heir Algernon Bond is severely injured in a sortie during 'The Siege of Ladysmith' in the Boer War 20TH CENTURY 1901 Mar 31 1901 Census : total population of parish= 238 1902 Mr & Mrs W.H. Bond present Tyneham Church with a new pipe organ as a thank-offering for the recovery of their son " Algy " (Algernon) 1910 The Coastguard Station at Worbarrow is disbanded 1910 Sheepleaze Cottage is built on the cliffs at Worbarrow 1910 An oak tree is planted to commemorate the coronation of King George V 1911 Apr 2 1911 Census : total population of parish= 209 1911 Jun 13 Algernon Bond dies of malaria in Calcutta, India 1914-1918 THE GREAT WAR 1915 Aug 21 Private Bertie Taylor is killed in action aged 21 1915 Dec 8 Private Henry ("Harry") Holland is killed in action aged 27 1916 Feb 26 Private William Meech is killed in action aged 28 1916 Nov 13 Private John Holland is killed in action aged 21 1917 The Ministry of Defence acquires land at Lulworth and commences live firing 1917 Oct 20 Private Henry George Balson is killed in action aged 38 1917 Nov 2 Private Charles Job Cleall is killed in action aged 27 1921 Jun 19 1921 Census : total population of parish= 196 The Census Enumerator had the initials HJH and so is likely to have been Herbert John House . 1923 Jun 16 William Minter ,15 and his cousin Ernest Percy Rose , 23 drowned in Worbarrow Bay 1924 Oct The new Wooden Village Hall is formally opened 1929 Dec Wooden Village Hall is destroyed in gales 1929 The public telephone box is installed in Post Office Row 1931 1931 Census : total population of parish= 165 1932 Mar 24 Tyneham School closes because of the 'small number of pupils' 1935 Jan 11 W.H. Bond dies – son Ralph Bond inherits Tyneham 1937 Aug 10 Schoolboy Roderick Maurice Fitzgerald French-Mullen aged 13 killed after being thrown from horse at Worbarrow 1939-1945 WORLD WAR 2 1940 Ralph Bond forms the Tyneham Home Guard 1940 Jul 11 Messerschmitt Me110 crash-landed on Povington Heath . The two-man German crew became the first prisoners of the 'Battle of Britain' 1941 Radar Station is built on a ridge above Egliston Gwyle 1941 The RAF requisitions Tyneham House as an administration centre for the radar station at Brandy Bay 1943 Nov 16 The parishioners are served with Notice of Eviction from Major General C H Miller of Southern Command 1943 Dec 19 The Military take-over: All residents are evacuated 1944 Feb 25 Able-Seaman Charlton Holland is killed when a German U-Boat sinks HMS Mahratta 1944 Dec 29 Allied convoy TBC 21 is attacked by German U-boat U-772 in the English Channel, 50°28'N, 02°28'W. The freighter Black Hawk is torpedoed and the blast wounds four (one of whom died later). The survivors were taken on board HMS Dahlia and the ship abandoned. The stern 1947 Dec Government publishes White Paper 'Needs of the armed forces for land for training and other purposes' 1948 Mar Sir Cecil Oakes chairs Public Inquiry at Masonic Hall in Wareham 1950 May It had been intended to open the road to Worbarrow Bay to the public. Confirmation was given that Tyneham House had be hit once and the church twice. 1952 Compulsory Purchase Order made on Tyneham House 1952 Feb 10 Ralph Bond dies 1956 Lilian Bond publishes " Tyneham A Lost Heritage " 1966 Fire destroys Tyneham Rectory 1967 Dec Rodney Legg publishes the first issue of Dorset County Magazine which kick-started the ' Surrender Purbeck ' campaign 1968 May 18 Tyneham Action Group is formed with Philip Draper as chairman and Rodney Legg as honorary secretary 1969 May 22 Deputation from Tyneham Action Group received by M.O.D. in London 1969 Tyneham Action Group publishes " Fight for Tyneham " 1970 Prime Minister Edward Heath announces Lord Nugent is to chair a Defence Lands Committee to explore which parts of the M.O.D estates could be returned to private ownership 1971 May 21 Rodney Legg , 'founder and instigator' of the Tyneham Action Group , condemns its 'ill-conceived' policies 1972 Rodney Legg forms rival organisation with the name ' The 1943 Committee ' – it publishes its 'Blueprint for Tyneham' 1972 Aug 28 The 1943 Committee attends a Protest Rally in Tyneham car park 1973 Jul 5 Lord Nugent publishes Defence Lands Committee Report 1973 Jul 5 Rodney Legg establishes ' Friends of Tyneham ' 1974 The Government provides £10,000 to create a car park and safe paths 1975 Sep 5 Lulworth Range Walks formally opened by Colonel Sir Joseph Weld 1977 Mar 30 Scheme to appropriate the redundant Tyneham Church as a rest and exhibition centre confirmed 1979 First service held at Tyneham Church in 36 years 1992 Rodney Legg publishes " Tyneham Dorset's Ghost Village " 1995 Patrick Wright publishes " The Village That Died For England " 21ST CENTURY 2000 Millennium Oak Tree planted in churchyard 2003 Dec 21 60th Anniversary Carol Service held at Tyneham Church . Former residents invited to see completed refurbishment of church including exhibition boards 2007 Dr. Andrew Norman publishes " Tyneham: A Tribute " 2007 Nov: The Army launches its Tyneham Farm project 2008 Tyneham Farm renovated and re-opened to the public 2009 R J Saville publishes ' Tyneham in Purbeck ' 2012 The K1 Mark 236 Telephone Kiosk is renovated 2012 Nov 11 Service of Remembrance held at Tyneham Church 2014 Robert Westwood publishes ' The Tyneham Story ' 2016 Gordon Lewis publishes ' Tyneham with Worbarrow: Then & Now ' Page last updated: 10 March 2024

Local Landmarks

This section includes information on, and photographs of, the bays, beaches, landmarks and land features that are within the parish of Tyneham. Map showing location of local landmarks 7 SEPTEMBER 2022: THIS PAGE IS CURRENTLY BEING UPDATED – PLEASE CHECK BACK IN A DAY OR TWO Brandy Bay Brandy Bay, 2012 View of Brandy Bay and Gad Cliff from the South West Coast Path. Here it is pictured at low tide when the eroded strata of the seabed is revealed. © Philip Halling and licensed for reuse under a Creative Commons Licence. Broad Bench Broad Bench © Jim Probert 2007 Licensed for reuse under a Creative Commons Licence Broad Bench © Jim Champion 2009 Licensed for reuse under a Creative Commons Licence Charnel Cow Corner Flower's Barrow Flowers Barrow is an iron-age hillfort on the cliff edge above Worbarrow Bay . Sadly around half of the original hillfort has been lost due to continual erosion of the cliffs. Flowers Barrow is only accessible when Tyneham and the Lulworth Range walks are open – see . It can be reached either by a steep coastal path from Worbarrow or by a path from Whiteway Hill. Gad Cliff Gold Down Hobarrow Bay Pondfield Cove Povington Heath Povington Heath © Stuart Cankett 2007 Licensed for reuse under a Creative Commons Licence Tank Tracks across Povington Heath © Tom Munro 2008 Licensed for reuse under a Creative Commons Licence Tyneham Cap Looking north to Tyneham Cap, 2008 View north towards Tyneham Cap from the cliff edge above Brandy Bay © Jim Champion 2008 Licensed for reuse under a Creative Commons Licence Looking south-east from Tyneham Cap Looking east-southeast from the highest part of Tyneham Cap on the Purbeck limestone ridge, across Kimmeridge Bay towards St Aldhelms Head. © Jim Champion 2008 Licensed for reuse under a Creative Commons Licence Whiteway Hill Looking along the ridge of Whiteway Hill Flowers Barrow can be seen at the far end of the ridge and the Isle of Portland in the very far distance. © Sarah Charlesworth 2000 Licensed for reuse under a Creative Commons Licence Worbarrow Bay Worbarrow Tout Page last updated: 7 September 2022

Sea & Smuggling

The following extracts are taken from the Smugglers' Britain website by kind permission of Richard Platt, author of ' Smuggling in the British Isles – A History ' . Smugglers' customers Some of the contraband landed in southern England was consumed locally: tilling the rich soil a little way inland made many a farming fortune, and just as the squire demanded the best brandy, so too his daughters expected the best French lace. However, there is evidence that the smuggled imports often found their way to London: a trail of stories of smugglers' hidden depots points to a cross-country highway that channelled goods from the coast to the markets in the capital. Amazingly, some contraband made its way to London from as far afield as West Dorset: in 1719 a merchant at Lulworth was importing cocoa beans at a time when there was a taste for drinking chocolate only among the smarter London set. Some contraband travelled long distances inland for different reasons. Cargoes of brandy landed in Dorset in the early 19th century were of such poor quality that they were virtually unfit to drink, and the kegs were carted a safe distance from the coast to undergo a further distilling process, before being sold in the town taverns. Arish Mell SY855803 2 miles E of West Lulworth To the west of the marble workings of Purbeck, every point where there was direct access to the sea was pressed into service at one time or another. Worbarrow Bay was a popular landing spot, with Arish Mell beach in the middle especially convenient: one run there in 1719 was of spectacular proportions, with five luggers unloading together, and... A perfect fair on the waterside, some buying of goods, and others loading of horses... there was an army of people, armed and in disguise, as many in number as... at Dorchester fair. Nearly sixty years later, a local newspaper reported that... A Dunkirk schooner landed... upwards of twenty tons of tea, in sight of and in defiance of the Custom House officers as they were mounted twenty four-pounders, which they brought to bear on the beach. The smugglers on shore carried it off in three waggons and on horses, except twelve hundredweight, which the officers seized, and carried to a public house at West Lulworth... but thirty or forty of the schooner's people, well armed, followed after, and broke into the house, beating and cutting the people they found there in a cruel manner, and carried off the tea. The following extracts are taken from the book " Dorset Smugglers" by Roger Guttridge The contraband boom continued, reaching a level in 1719 which would have been unimaginable five years earlier. In one week in October of that year, there were two runs of unprecedented size, one at Worbarrow Bay on the Purbeck coast, the other further west near Bridport. The run at Worbarrow involved no less than five ships unloading simultaneously and an observer described "a perfect fair at the waterside, some buying of goods and others loading of horses, that there were an army of people, armed and in disguise, as many in number as he thought might usually be at Dorchester fair, and that all the officers in the county were not sufficient to oppose them". A report from the Weymouth Custom House in 1804 stated: "The places for landing smuggled goods to the eastward of this place are Jordan Gate, Upton Mills, Ringstead Beach, Mupe, Arish Mill [Mell] and Worbarrow Beach . The three latter are the most noted places. It frequently happens that large vessels carrying from four to six or seven hundred casks land their cargoes at these places, which vessels do not belong to or are known to any in this part of the coast. This they carry off in defiance to the officers on the station ..and which ... we suppose may amount to ten thousand casks annually ..." After a brief respite in the early 1830s, a final round of brutality and ruthlessness was unleashed in the Purbecks. Several coastguards were attacked and two were thrown over the cliffs to their deaths, one to the west of Lulworth, the other at Gad Cliff in the parish of Tyneham . Smugglers Roll of Honour Tyneham : STICKLAND, William , fisherman, 1840, 26 , smuggling, 6 months STICKLAND, Thomas , fisherman, 1840, 23 , smuggling, 6 months Worbarrow MOWLAM, George, fisherman, 1821, 40 , smuggling, £100, 6 months GALTON, James , labourer, 1822, 53 , smuggling, £100, 1 year, of Agiston [Egliston] near Worbarrow Page last updated: 7 September 2022

RAF Brandy Bay

Extract from Frontline Dorset, A County at War 1939-45 , by George Forty , 1994: There were a significant number of RAF-manned radar stations in Dorset . . . WAAF stationed at one of these units was Gabrielle Holyoake , who was on the Purbeck coast, at Tyneham, between Lulworth Cove and St Alban's Head. The site was called RAF Brandy Bay , and she was manning a Type 7000 GEE navigational radar , which was used to help guide our Bomber crews all over Europe. . . . Gabrielle was prevented by lack travel facilities and the Official Secrets Act from knowing the exact whereabouts of the other stations in the Southern chain, however, she did know the master was at Bulbarrow Hill, near Blandford, while there were slaves at Truleigh Hill on the Downs behind Shoreham-by-Sea and at West Prawle near Salcombe in Devon, with the monitor being at RAF Brandy Bay. The first famous success for GEE was the 1,000 bomber raid on Cologne on 31 May 1942. She goes on: . . . Brandy Bay was one of the happiest of RAF stations. There were only about 40 of us, the girls lived in Tyneham House , then a beautiful Elizabethan manor, whilst the men lived in the rectory in Tyneham village. . . . We had little spit and polish, no drill or parades. Off duty we made our own amusements, being free to roam on Gad Cliff , Tyneham Gap and over to Kimmeridge Bay. We ignored the invasion defences to swim in Worbarrow Bay . Until we acquired bicycles the only way to Corfe Castle was to walk the five miles. We hitchhiked to Swanage and Wareham and once a month we were able to go on the laundry run to Bournemouth (my home town). Over Whiteways Hill was the Lulworth army camp where we went to dances. We occasionally organised a dance at Tyneham House , but we only had a gramophone and a radio! I have happy memories of those years. I cannot remember it ever raining or being cold. Friendships were made which have survived to this day. Gabrielle Holyoake

Balson's Gap and Malhala's Fortune by Roy Martin

admin 6 December 2014 18 April 2020 Guest post In her book, Tyneham, A Lost Heritage, Lillian Bond wrote: "The first of the Tyneham woodmen that I remember was a Balson ... Old Balson was a little, wiry man as gnarled and woody looking as a tree root. His clothes, well weathered by long use, were the traditional corded leggings and a thick leather coat, topped by a round and ear-flapped headdress of brown fur." She goes on to describe him at some length, then says: "His home was in the heath at Povington and he walked to his work, taking as near as possible a bee line over the hill. The track worn by his daily journeys in the course of the years out lasted him for many more, and the place in the hedge where he climbed from the North Hill into Madmore continued, long after his death, to be known as Balson's Gap ." To learn about his cottage, which was in the hamlet of Whiteway, we need to go back to earlier William Balsons. The first recorded William Balson (1759–1835) was the son of a John Balson ; he married Elizabeth Miller in January 1789. The Millers were, and still are, a fishing family. Their first child Thirza was born in the same year, and their second Mahala arrived in 1791. Their sons Henry and John were born in 1802 and 1804 respectively; there may have also been a William who died young. The next son, Robert , went on to farm at Creekmoor near Poole, where he was described as a Yeoman. William II , William and Elizabeth's last recorded son, was born in 1811. He seems to have remained in Purbeck. This William married Elizabeth Snelling (various spellings) on 23 May 1830. They were both nineteen and their first child, a daughter Kizah , was born four months later. The first entry in Henry Roll's Journal is: " Wm Balson began bilding his house at Whiteway this spring of 1833, over the lake south of the road going to Povington . They went into it in the spring of 1834." As William I was an old man by now, he died at Tyneham in 1835, the builder seems to have been William II. By this time William II and Elizabeth had a son, John . William chose well; though the site was on the edge of the heath the chalk stream known as Luckford Lake flowed past. This not only gave a constant supply of clean water, it also neutralized the acid heathland soil. If needed more chalk could be wheeled down from the nearby pit. How did William get to know of the site? It could be that he had a night job, guiding the smugglers and the landers through the lonely open country, to get their goods across the River Frome to Bere Regis and even on to the Capital? Early in the journey they would have had to cross Whiteway or Povington Hill. Could it have been this Balson, and his convoy, who first made Balson's Gap? His Miller in-laws would probably been involved! William's sister Mahala was twenty years older than him, she had never married. An unnamed child of William and Elizabeth Balson was christened at Corfe Castle on 30 December 1791: as their other early children were also christened at Corfe, it is probable that this was Mahala. In the 1841 Tyneham census Mahala and her mother Elizabeth are described as paupers; but ten years later she was recorded as an annuitant. By the time she made her will in February 1855 Mahala was living in Wareham . She bequeathed almost five hundred pounds to various members of the family. Her first, and worst, choice was her nephew James , the son of the yeoman Robert. She left this young man £300. Robert was obviously upset that James should have been chosen and only left him five shillings in his own will. James was, or became, a ne'er-do-well; he seems never to have owned a house or land and spent two spells in Dorchester prison . One of Mahala's other bequests was fifty pounds to William III , who later took over the house at Whiteway; he is the Balson that Lillian Bond wrote about. He was my great grandfather. How did an elderly spinster end up with a fortune deposited in the Dorchester Bank ? Some have said that she was generous, though not free, with her favours. It is difficult to imagine that she amassed the equivalent of fifty years wages in that way! Others say that the money came from smuggling, but why then did she have it and not the others? It is difficult to imagine that she, or the men, would have taken £500 in cash to Dorchester or even to a Wareham branch; without the Magistrates, and the whole County, becoming aware. The name Mahala is unusual, but not unknown in Dorset. It also occurs in many other languages, including Zulu, where, as Malhala, it means 'free of charge' or a gift. Thank you to Anne Lyons for sending me copies of the wills of Mahala and Robert and my brother Eric Martin for pointing out the possible South African connection. Luckford Lake marks the western extremity of the Isle of Purbeck. Roy Martin, December 2014 We are very grateful to Roy Martin for writing this feature for us. If you would like to write a feature about your ancestors from Tyneham parish, please get in touch at info@tynehamopc.org.uk Balson , Miller . Bookmark the permalink . « Poem: "The Tale of Tyneham" by Angela Wybrow Hollow Ditch and a Hollow Promise »

The 1943 Evacuation

1943 Evacuation

No small sacrifice On 16 November 1943, all households within the parish of Tyneham were issued with the following evacuation notice: SOUTHERN COMMAND TRAINING AREA, EAST HOLME, Nr. LULWORTH In order to give our troops the fullest opportunity to perfect their training in the use of modern weapons of war, the Army must have an area of land particularly suited to their special needs and in which they can use live shells. For this reason you will realise the chosen area must be cleared of all civilians. The most careful search has been made to find an area suitable for the army's purpose and which, at the same time, will involve the smallest number of persons and property. The area decided on, after the most careful study and consultation between all the Government Authorities concerned, lies roughly inside of the square formed by EAST LULWORTH – EAST STOKE – EAST HOLME – KIMMERIDGE BAY. including your properties – see overleaf [HANDWRITTEN] It is regretted that, in the National Interest, it is necessary to move you from your homes, and everything possible will be done to help you, both by payment of compensation, and by finding other accommodation for you if you are unable to do so yourself. The date on which the military will take over this area is the 19th December next, and all civilians must be out of the area by that date. A special office will be opened at Westport House, WAREHAM, on Wednesday 17th November, and you will be able to get advice between the hours of 10a.m. and 7p.m., from there on your personal problems and difficulties. Any letters should be sent to that address also for the present. The Government appreciate that this is no small sacrifice which you are asked to make, but they are sure that you will give this further help towards winning the war with a good heart. C. H. MILLER Major-General I/c Administration, Southern Command 16th November 1943

The Parishioners In 1981, the Royal Armoured Corps Gunnery School restored the bible used at St. Mary's Church up to the evacuation and added names of 'The Parishioners' presumably intended to be those present immediately prior to the evacuation. We do not know who compiled the listing or what resources were used. Please note that the list: excludes the names of those parishioners who lived in the forgotten parts of the parish, namely Povington and Whiteway includes the names of a number of people who had passed away or left the parish before the evacuation in December 1943. Below we set out fuller information about those named.

H. M. G. Bond Henry Mark Garneys Bond (1922-2017) – Known as Mark, he was the son of Ralph and Evelyn Bond. He later served in Royal Green Jackets and became Major-General and Brigadier. He was High Sheriff of Dorset in 1977.

E. M. G. Bond Elizabeth Mary Garneys Bond (1921-2010) – Elizabeth was the daughter of Ralph and Evelyn Bond. She married David Philip Williams, Third Baronet of Bridehead. She was High Sheriff of Dorset in 1979.

Mr & Mrs Ralph Bond William Ralph Garneys Bond (1880-1952) – Known as Ralph. He was High Sheriff of Dorset in 1945.

Evelyn Isabel Bond nee Blake (1884-1954) – Evelyn, as churchwarden and person responsible for clearing the church prior to evacuation, is believed by some to be the person who pinned the note on to the church door in 1943 saying: "Please treat the church and houses with care. We have given up our homes where many of us lived for generations to help win the war to keep men free. We shall return one day and thank you for treating the village kindly".

Mr & Mrs William Bond The 'Mr &' is an error as William Henry Bond died in 1935.

Mary Caroline Bond nee Thompson (1851-1949) – Widow of William Henry Bond

Miss Margaret Bond Margaret Helen Bond (1892-1988) – Known as Margot. Spinster sister of Ralph.

The Misses Blake Alice Victoria Blake (1887-1970) – Spinster sister of Mrs. Ralph Bond

Phyllis Constance Blake (1893-1976) – Spinster sister of Mrs. Ralph Bond

Mr & Mrs Churchill Sidney George Churchill (1900-1975) – In 1939 was farming West Crupton Farm near Maiden Newton. Took over Tyneham Farm from Walter Case Smith not long before the evacuation.

Edith Laura Churchill nee Pitcher (1901-1973) – Please see Churchill Family page for more information.

Mr & Mrs Curtis This entry would appear to be a mistake as this couple were living at Sevenoaks, Kent at the outbreak of WW2 where James was employed as Head Gardener.

Charles James Curtis (1879-1970) – 'James' was born at East Grafton in Wiltshire. He was Captain of the Air Rifle Shooting Club.

Annie Curtis nee Wilson (1877-?) – Annie was born at Lymington. James and Annie married at Lymington in 1907 and were living in Tyneham by 1911. They did not have any children. "James Curtis was head gardener, an expert at his work and a trusted friend, for eighteen years and was succeeded by his second in command Tom Gould". Lilian Bond Joe Dando This entry is an error. Joe Dando had left Tyneham by 1930 Joseph Alfred Dando (1912-2002) – Joe Dando worked as a Servant for the Bond Family at Tyneham House from 1926. He married Alice Edith 'Rose' Wellman, daughter of Bob & Alice Wellman, in 1934. Rose was also a servant at Tyneham House. Please see Dando Family page for more information. George & Ellen Davis This would appear to be an error as George Davis died in 1927 and his widow Ellen was living near Witchampton at the outbreak of WW2. George and Ellen were the parents of Flo who married Percy Holland in 1927 a few months before George's death. Please see Holland Family page for more information. Mr & Mrs Phillip Draper Philip Draper (1902-1979) – Owned 'Sheepleaze' on the cliffs above Worbarrow. Jane Esther Draper nee Lawson (1904-1985) – Wife of Philip. Please see Draper Family page for more information. Gwendoline Driscoll Gwendoline Agnes Jane Driscoll nee Hall (1897-1975) – Gwendoline ran the Post Office in The Row from 1939 to 1943. She later emigrated to Rhodesia. Please see Driscoll Family page for more information. Mr & Mrs Durrant Albert George Durrant (1915-1998) – Albert and Rosalind came to Tyneham after the outbreak of World War 2. Albert enlisted with the Tyneham Home Guard in 1941. Rosalind Emily Durrant nee Samways (1914-1966) – Maud Ellis Ethelwyn Maude 'Maud' Ellis (1879-1951) – Spinster: lived in 'The Bungalow' on the cliff edge overlooking Worbarrow Bay. George, Lily & Archie Everett George William Everett (1882-1957) – George was employed at Tyneham Farm by Walter Case Smith. Lily Everett nee Hawkins (1888-1957) – Wife of George. They married in 1911. Archibald James Everett (1912-1970) – Son of George & Lily. Archie was also known as 'Whippet'. Please see Everett Family page for more information. The Rev. & Mrs Frend This is an error. Revd. Edwin George Clifford Frend (1871-1937) – Revd. Frend died before the evacuation and was buried in Tyneham churchyard. Edith Frend nee Bacon (1876-1966) – Edith, Revd. Frend's widow, moved to Hindhead, Surrey before the outbreak of the Second World War. Please see Rectors of Tyneham page for more information. William Frend This is an error. William Hugh Clifford Frend (1916-2005) – Second son of Revd. Edwin & Mrs Edith Frend. William was living in Oxford at the outbreak of the Second World War. Tom, Virtue & John Gould Thomas Henry Mansbridge Gould (1872-1948) – Tom was the Head Gardener. Virtue Mary Park Gould nee Everett (1877-1964) – Virtue was the sister of George Everett and aunt of Archie Everett. Tom and Virtue married at Tyneham on 20 April 1904. John Cedric James Gould (1912-2010) – John, son of Tom and Virtue, was a central figure in the campaign to return Tyneham to its residents. Please see the Gould Family page for more information. Harry, Marjorie, Arthur Grant Henry George Grant (1898-1977) – Harry Grant was the woodman at Tyneham House from 1926. Beatrice Marjorie Grant (1901-1982) – Marjorie Arthur Henry John Grant (1922-2010) – Arthur, son of Harry and Marjorie, later married Grace and had two children, Geoffrey and Annette. Arthur's ashes are buried in the graveyard at Tyneham Church. Please see the Grant Family page for more information. Cyril Griffiths Cyril Frank Griffiths (1928-1998) – Cyril lived with the Grant Family at Gwyle Cottages. James & Edith Herd Edith Herd nee Knight (1886-?) – Born Edith Knight, she married Harry Barnes in 1908 at East Lulworth and then married Scotsman James Forgan Herd in 1920. Edith was Tyneham's postmistress in the 1930s. James Forgan Herd (1892-1943) – James died early in 1943 before the eviction. Charlotte & Helen Hole Lottie Hole Please see Hole Family page for more information. William Holland William Holland (1886-1946) – Please see Holland Family page for more information. Herbert & Jessie House Herbert John House (1889-1958) – Herbert was the farmer at North Egliston, sometimes referred to as South Tyneham Farm. Jessie Emily Pitcher House nee Bowditch (1893-1978) – Jessie Please see House Families page for more information. Gerald, Gwen & Poppy House Gerald, Gwen and Poppy were children of Herbert & Jessie House. Gerald House (1918-2006) – Gwendoline 'Gwen' House (1923-) – Poppy Ciceley House (1925-2006) – Poppy was 18 when evacuated. She married Clifford Budden in 1946 and they had three children. Please see House Families page for more information. William House William House (1913-2001) – Violet Ruth House nee Collins (1917-1991) – William John House (1938-1989) – Please see House Families page for more information. Arthur & Rose House Albert 'Arthur' House (1916-1999) – Eveline 'Rose' House nee Collins (1919-2006) – Please see House Families page for more information. Sylvia House Sylvia House (1919-1999) – Daughter of Herbert & Jessica (Jessie) House of Povington Farm. She married George Francis Braisby (1917-2000) of Blackmanston Farm, Steeple in 1943 – they were the last couple to be married at Tyneham. Please see House Families page for more information. Mr & Mrs Howard This would appear to be an error. Charles William Howard (1860-1928) – Emily Alice Howard nee

Tewksbury (1861-1936) – Please see Howard Family page for more information. Percy Howard No supporting information found. George Howard George Frederick Howard (1893-1956) – Percy & Ellen Kerley Percy Henry John Kerley (1886-1959) – Percy Ellen Louisa Mary Kerley nee Evans (1887-1972) – Ellen Please see Kerley Family page for more information. Albert & Reginald Longman Albert Bernard Longman (1869-1943) – farmed Baltington Farm – married Emma Caroline Bartlett (1870-1940) – Reginald Charles A Longman (1913-1983) – son of Albert & Emma Please see Longman Family page for more information. Charles Meech Thomas Charles Meech (1884-1971) – Charlie was the son of Emily Taylor, the Laundress, from her first marriage to Thomas How Meech (1860-1888). Charlie was the 'Odd Man' at Tyneham House. Please see Meech Family page for more information. Jack & Alice Miller John Alfred 'Jack' Miller (1866-1947) – Also known as 'Jam'. Alice Mary White Miller nee Rose (c.1866-1959) – known as 'Miggie'. Jam and Miggie lived at Rose Cottage , Worbarrow. Please see Miller Family page for more information. Charles & Harriet Miller Charles William Miller (1852-1943) – Sadly Charlie died a few days after the evacuation and the Army gave permission for him to be buried at Tyneham. Harriet Deborah Miller nee White (1854-1947) – Harriet was buried at Wareham. Charles and Harriet lived at Fern Hollow , Worbarrow. Please see Miller Family page for more information. Thomas & Minnie Miller Thomas William Miller (1858-1952) – Tom, a fisherman, was single and lived at Hill Cottage , Worbarrow at the outbreak of the Second World War Minnie Louisa Miller (1888-1966) – Minnie was Tom's niece, the spinster daughter of his late brother Jesse Walter Miller (1861-1938) Please see Miller Family page for more information. Winifred & Beatrice Minterne Winifred Elizabeth Minterne (1901-1973) – Beatrice Ann Minterne (1904-1966) – Please see Minterne Family page for more information. Tom Minterne This is an error as Tom had died in 1925. Please see Minterne Family page for more information. The Rev. & Mrs Money Revd. Humphrey Churchill Money (1884-1954) – Rector of Tyneham Mary Constance Money nee Henderson (c.1893-1960) – Please see Rectors of Tyneham page for more information. Mr & Mrs Pritchard & son Arthur This is an error as the Pritchard Family left Tyneham in 1928. Mrs Rayner This is believed to be an error. Miss Louisa Rayner was in service at Tyneham House c. 1931. Walter & Kate Smith This is an error. Walter Case Smith (1861-1948) – Walter, nicknamed 'Leather Jacket', farmed Tyneham Farm during the 1930s and early 1940s before Sidney Churchill took over. He moved to Holly Lodge at Stapehill near Wimborne and died on 18 January 1948. Theodora Kate Smith nee Doble (1862-1938) – Kate was Walter's housekeeper at Arne. Walter and Kate married in 1907. Kate died in 1938. Please see Smith Family page for more information. Arthur & Phillis Stockley William Arthur Stockley (1908-1983) – Arthur was a cowman and general worker living at Worbarrow in 1939 – at the time of the evacuation he and his wife were living in a cottage at Lutton Farm, Steeple May Phyllis Stockley nee Barnes (1909-1987) – Phyllis, Arthur's wife, was the daughter of the late Harry Barnes who ran the Post Office until his death in 1915 Please see the Barnes Family page for more information. Mr & Mrs James Tassell This is an error. Mr & Mrs John Thomas Tassell were in service for Mary Caroline Bond at 1 Queens Avenue, Dorchester at the outbreak of WW2. William, Elizabeth & Helen Taylor William Taylor – William was the woodman of Tyneham and was appointed Parish Clerk and Sexton by the Bond family. His wife was Emily, the laundress. She also doubled as local 'midwife' and was also caretaker for the church and school. She died in 1917 aged 52. Harriet Elizabeth Taylor (1892-1987) – Bessie. Helen Beatrice Taylor (1901-1999) – Helen, known as 'Beattie' was the Seamstress at Tyneham House. After being displaced, the Taylor Family went to live at Corfe Castle. Please see the Taylor Family page for more information. Mr & Mrs Albert Toms This would appear to be an error. Albert Toms (1868-1942) – Albert was a shepherd and was living at Baltington in 1931 – in September 1939 he was at Coombe Keynes Lillian May Toms formerly Hampshire nee Elliot (1895-1982) – Albert's second wife – by 1939 was living at Upton near Poole in Dorset – Albert and Lilian had four children together Mr & Mrs Upshall This is an error. The Upshall Family lived at 4 The Row from 1925-1929. At the outbreak of WW2 in September 1939 they were living at Studland. Please see the Upshall Family page for more information. Reginald Ware Reginald Gower Ware (1891-1973) – Reggie was an ex-soldier severely wounded in World War 1. His left arm was virtually useless and he also suffered serious injury to his abdomen. He lived at Gate Cottage near the lower end of the Gwyle Stream. He had a boat called Witch of Worbarrow. Please see Ware Family page for more information. Mrs Wheeler This is an error. Mrs Mary Jane Wheeler died in 1932. Please see Wheeler Family page for more information. Bob & Alice Wellman Robert Wellman (1887-1964) – Robert married Alice Victoria Lucas in 1912. Alice Victoria Wellman

nee Lucas (1887-1975) – Alice was the daughter of 'Shepherd' Lucas (James William Lucas 1848-1925). Their daughter Alice 'Rose' Wellman married Joe Dando in 1934. Bob and Alice had other children including Vera, Jim, Ivy, Peter & Joyce. Please see Wellman Family page for more information. Ernest & Evelyn Whitlock Ernest George Whitlock (1905-1947) – Ernest was a Carter. Evelyn Mary Whitlock nee Kelly (1904-1989) – Please see Whitlock Family page for more information. If you have any information about individual parishioners that you would like to share, please see contact details shown on the home page. Page last updated: 2 September 2023

1943 Evacuation

No small sacrifice On 16 November 1943, all households within the parish of Tyneham were issued with the following evacuation notice : SOUTHERN COMMAND TRAINING AREA, EAST HOLME, Nr. LULWORTH In order to give our troops the fullest opportunity to perfect their training in the use of modern weapons of war, the Army must have an area of land particularly suited to their special needs and in which they can use live shells. For this reason you will realise the chosen area must be cleared of all civilians. The most careful search has been made to find an area suitable for the army's purpose and which, at the same time, will involve the smallest number of persons and property. The area decided on, after the most careful study and consultation between all the Government Authorities concerned, lies roughly inside of the square formed by EAST LULWORTH – EAST STOKE – EAST HOLME – KIMMERIDGE BAY. including your properties – see overleaf [HANDWRITTEN] It is regretted that, in the National Interest, it is necessary to move you from your homes, and everything possible will be done to help you, both by payment of compensation, and by finding other accommodation for you if you are unable to do so yourself. The date on which the military will take over this area is the 19th December next, and all civilians must be out of the area by that date. A special office will be opened at Westport House, WAREHAM, on Wednesday 17th November, and you will be able to get advice between the hours of 10a.m. and 7p.m., from there on your personal problems and difficulties. Any letters should be sent to that address also for the present. The Government appreciate that this is no small sacrifice which you are asked to make, but they are sure that you will give this further help towards winning the war with a good heart. C. H. MILLER Major-General I/c Administration, Southern Command 16th November 1943 The Parishioners In 1981, the Royal Armoured Corps Gunnery School restored the bible used at St. Mary's Church up to the evacuation and added names of 'The Parishioners' presumably intended to be those present immediately prior to the evacuation. We do not know who compiled the listing or what resources were used. Please note that the list: excludes the names of those parishioners who lived in the forgotten parts of the parish, namely Povington and Whiteway includes the names of a number of people who had passed away or left the parish before the evacuation in December 1943. Below we set out fuller information about those named. H. M. G. Bond Henry Mark Garneys Bond (1922-2017) – Known as Mark, he was the son of Ralph and Evelyn Bond. He later served in Royal Green Jackets and became Major-General and Brigadier. He was High Sheriff of Dorset in 1977. E. M. G. Bond Elizabeth Mary Garneys Bond (1921-2010) – Elizabeth was the daughter of Ralph and Evelyn Bond. She married David Philip Williams, Third Baronet of Bridehead. She was High Sheriff of Dorset in 1979. Mr & Mrs Ralph Bond William Ralph Garneys Bond (1880-1952) – Known as Ralph. He was High Sheriff of Dorset in 1945. Evelyn Isabel Bond nee Blake (1884-1954) – Evelyn, as churchwarden and person responsible for clearing the church prior to evacuation, is believed by some to be the person who pinned the note on to the church door in 1943 saying: "Please treat the church and houses with care. We have given up our homes where many of us lived for generations to help win the war to keep men free. We shall return one day and thank you for treating the village kindly". Mr & Mrs William Bond The 'Mr &' is an error as William Henry Bond died in 1935. Mary Caroline Bond nee Thompson (1851-1949) – Widow of William Henry Bond Miss Margaret Bond Margaret Helen Bond (1892-1988) – Known as Margot. Spinster sister of Ralph. The Misses Blake Alice Victoria Blake (1887-1970) – Spinster sister of Mrs. Ralph Bond Phyllis Constance Blake (1893-1976) – Spinster sister of Mrs. Ralph Bond Mr & Mrs Churchill Sidney George Churchill (1900-1975) – In 1939 was farming West Crupton Farm near Maiden Newton. Took over Tyneham Farm from Walter Case Smith not long before the evacuation. Edith Laura Churchill nee Pitcher (1901-1973) – Please see Churchill Family page for more information. Mr & Mrs Curtis This entry would appear to be a mistake as this couple were living at Sevenoaks, Kent at the outbreak of WW2 where James was employed as Head Gardener. Charles James Curtis (1879-1970) – 'James' was born at East Grafton in Wiltshire. He was Captain of the Air Rifle Shooting Club. Annie Curtis nee Wilson (1877-?) – Annie was born at Lymington. James and Annie married at Lymington in 1907 and were living in Tyneham by 1911. They did not have any children. "James Curtis was head gardener, an expert at his work and a trusted friend, for eighteen years and was succeeded by his second in command Tom Gould". Lilian Bond Joe Dando This entry is an error. Joe Dando had left Tyneham by 1930 Joseph Alfred Dando (1912-2002) – Joe Dando worked as a Servant for the Bond Family at Tyneham House from 1926. He married Alice Edith 'Rose' Wellman, daughter of Bob & Alice Wellman, in 1934. Rose was also a servant at Tyneham House. Please see Dando Family page for more information. George & Ellen Davis This would appear to be an error as George Davis died in 1927 and his widow Ellen was living near Witchampton at the outbreak of WW2. George and Ellen were the parents of Flo who married Percy Holland in 1927 a few months before George's death. Please see Holland Family page for more information. Mr & Mrs Phillip Draper Philip Draper (1902-1979) – Owned 'Sheepleaze' on the cliffs above Worbarrow. Jane Esther Draper nee Lawson (1904-1985) – Wife of Philip. Please see Draper Family page for more information. Gwendoline Driscoll Gwendoline Agnes Jane Driscoll nee Hall (1897-1975) – Gwendoline ran the Post Office in The Row from 1939 to 1943. She later emigrated to Rhodesia. Please see Driscoll Family page for more information. Mr & Mrs Durrant Albert George Durrant (1915-1998) – Albert and Rosalind came to Tyneham after the outbreak of World War 2. Albert enlisted with the Tyneham Home Guard in 1941. Rosalind Emily Durrant nee Samways (1914-1966) – Maud Ellis Ethelwyn Maude 'Maud' Ellis (1879-1951) – Spinster: lived in 'The Bungalow' on the cliff edge overlooking Worbarrow Bay. George, Lily & Archie Everett George William Everett (1882-1957) – George was employed at Tyneham Farm by Walter Case Smith. Lily Everett nee Hawkins (1888-1957) – Wife of George. They married in 1911. Archibald James Everett (1912-1970) – Son of George & Lily. Archie was also known as 'Whippet'. Please see Everett Family page for more information. The Rev. & Mrs Frend This is an error. Revd. Edwin George Clifford Frend (1871-1937) – Revd. Frend died before the evacuation and was buried in Tyneham churchyard. Edith Frend nee Bacon (1876-1966) – Edith, Revd. Frend's widow, moved to Hindhead, Surrey before the outbreak of the Second World War. Please see Rectors of Tyneham page for more information. William Frend This is an error. William Hugh Clifford Frend (1916-2005) – Second son of Revd. Edwin & Mrs Edith Frend. William was living in Oxford at the outbreak of the Second World War. Tom, Virtue & John Gould Thomas Henry Mansbridge Gould (1872-1948) – Tom was the Head Gardener. Virtue Mary Park Gould nee Everett (1877-1964) – Virtue was the sister of George Everett and aunt of Archie Everett. Tom and Virtue married at Tyneham on 20 April 1904. John Cedric James Gould (1912-2010) – John, son of Tom and Virtue, was a central figure in the campaign to return Tyneham to its residents. Please see the Gould Family page for more information. Harry, Marjorie, Arthur Grant Henry George Grant (1898-1977) – Harry Grant was the woodman at Tyneham House from 1926. Beatrice Marjorie Grant (1901-1982) – Marjorie Arthur Henry John Grant (1922-2010) – Arthur, son of Harry and Marjorie, later married Grace and had two children, Geoffrey and Annette. Arthur's ashes are buried in the graveyard at Tyneham Church. Please see the Grant Family page for more information. Cyril Griffiths Cyril Frank Griffiths (1928-1998) – Cyril lived with the Grant Family at Gwyle Cottages. James & Edith Herd Edith Herd nee Knight (1886-?) – Born Edith Knight, she married Harry Barnes in 1908 at East Lulworth and then married Scotsman James Forgan Herd in 1920. Edith was Tyneham's postmistress in the 1930s. James Forgan Herd (1892-1943) – James died early in 1943 before the eviction. Charlotte & Helen Hole Lottie Hole Please see Hole Family page for more information. William Holland William Holland (1886-1946) – Please see Holland Family page for more information. Herbert & Jessie House Herbert John House (1889-1958) – Herbert was the farmer at North Egliston, sometimes referred to as South Tyneham Farm. Jessie Emily Pitcher House nee Bowditch (1893-1978) – Jessie Please see House Families page for more information. Gerald, Gwen & Poppy House Gerald, Gwen and Poppy were children of Herbert & Jessie House. Gerald House (1918-2006) – Gwendoline 'Gwen' House (1923-) – Poppy Ciceley House (1925-2006) – Poppy was 18 when evacuated. She married Clifford Budden in 1946 and they had three children. Please see House Families page for more information. William House William House (1913-2001) – Violet Ruth House nee Collins (1917-1991) – William John House (1938-1989) –

Please see House Families page for more information. Arthur & Rose House Albert 'Arthur' House (1916-1999) – Eveline 'Rose' House nee Collins (1919-2006) – Please see House Families page for more information. Sylvia House Sylvia House (1919-1999) – Daughter of Herbert & Jessica (Jessie) House of Povington Farm . She married George Francis Braisby (1917-2000) of Blackmanston Farm, Steeple in 1943 – they were the last couple to be married at Tyneham. Please see House Families page for more information. Mr & Mrs Howard This would appear to be an error. Charles William Howard (1860-1928) – Emily Alice Howard nee Tewksbury (1861-1936) – Please see Howard Family page for more information. Percy Howard No supporting information found. George Howard George Frederick Howard (1893-1956) – Percy & Ellen Kerley Percy Henry John Kerley (1886-1959) – Percy Ellen Louisa Mary Kerley nee Evans (1887-1972) – Ellen Please see Kerley Family page for more information. Albert & Reginald Longman Albert Bernard Longman (1869-1943) – farmed Baltington Farm – married Emma Caroline Bartlett (1870-1940) – Reginald Charles A Longman (1913-1983) – son of Albert & Emma Please see Longman Family page for more information. Charles Meech Thomas Charles Meech (1884-1971) – Charlie was the son of Emily Taylor, the Laundress, from her first marriage to Thomas How Meech (1860-1888). Charlie was the 'Odd Man' at Tyneham House. Please see Meech Family page for more information. Jack & Alice Miller John Alfred 'Jack' Miller (1866-1947) – Also known as 'Jam'. Alice Mary White Miller nee Rose (c.1866-1959) – known as 'Miggie'. Jam and Miggie lived at Rose Cottage , Worbarrow. Please see Miller Family page for more information. Charles & Harriet Miller Charles William Miller (1852-1943) – Sadly Charlie died a few days after the evacuation and the Army gave permission for him to be buried at Tyneham. Harriet Deborah Miller nee White (1854-1947) – Harriet was buried at Wareham. Charles and Harriet lived at Fern Hollow , Worbarrow. Please see Miller Family page for more information. Thomas & Minnie Miller Thomas William Miller (1858-1952) – Tom, a fisherman, was single and lived at Hill Cottage , Worbarrow at the outbreak of the Second World War Minnie Louisa Miller (1888-1966) – Minnie was Tom's niece, the spinster daughter of his late brother Jesse Walter Miller (1861-1938) Please see Miller Family page for more information. Winifred & Beatrice Minterne Winifred Elizabeth Minterne (1901-1973) – Beatrice Ann Minterne (1904-1966) – Please see Minterne Family page for more information. Tom Minterne This is an error as Tom had died in 1925. Please see Minterne Family page for more information. The Rev. & Mrs Money Revd. Humphrey Churchill Money (1884-1954) – Rector of Tyneham Mary Constance Money nee Henderson (c.1893-1960) – Please see Rectors of Tyneham page for more information. Mr & Mrs Pritchard & son Arthur This is an error as the Pritchard Family left Tyneham in 1928. Mrs Rayner This is believed to be an error. Miss Louisa Rayner was in service at Tyneham House c. 1931. Walter & Kate Smith This is an error. Walter Case Smith (1861-1948) – Walter, nicknamed 'Leather Jacket', farmed Tyneham Farm during the 1930s and early 1940s before Sidney Churchill took over. He moved to Holly Lodge at Stapehill near Wimborne and died on 18 January 1948. Theodora Kate Smith nee Doble (1862-1938) – Kate was Walter's housekeeper at Arne. Walter and Kate married in 1907. Kate died in 1938. Please see Smith Family page for more information. Arthur & Phillis Stockley William Arthur Stockley (1908-1983) – Arthur was a cowman and general worker living at Worbarrow in 1939 – at the time of the evacuation he and his wife were living in a cottage at Lutton Farm, Steeple May Phyllis Stockley nee Barnes (1909-1987) – Phyllis, Arthur's wife, was the daughter of the late Harry Barnes who ran the Post Office until his death in 1915 Please see the Barnes Family page for more information. Mr & Mrs James Tassell This is an error. Mr & Mrs John Thomas Tassell were in service for Mary Caroline Bond at 1 Queens Avenue, Dorchester at the outbreak of WW2. William, Elizabeth & Helen Taylor William Taylor – William was the woodman of Tyneham and was appointed Parish Clerk and Sexton by the Bond family. His wife was Emily, the laundress. She also doubled as local 'midwife' and was also caretaker for the church and school. She died in 1917 aged 52. Harriet Elizabeth Taylor (1892-1987) – Bessie. Helen Beatrice Taylor (1901-1999) – Helen, known as 'Beattie' was the Seamstress at Tyneham House. After being displaced, the Taylor Family went to live at Corfe Castle. Please see the Taylor Family page for more information. Mr & Mrs Albert Toms This would appear to be an error. Albert Toms (1868-1942) – Albert was a shepherd and was living at Baltington in 1931 – in September 1939 he was at Coombe Keynes Lillian May Toms formerly Hampshire nee Elliot (1895-1982) – Albert's second wife – by 1939 was living at Upton near Poole in Dorset – Albert and Lilian had four children together Mr & Mrs Upshall This is an error. The Upshall Family lived at 4 The Row from 1925-1929. At the outbreak of WW2 in September 1939 they were living at Studland. Please see the Upshall Family page for more information. Reginald Ware Reginald Gower Ware (1891-1973) – Reggie was an ex-soldier severely wounded in World War 1. His left arm was virtually useless and he also suffered serious injury to his abdomen. He lived at Gate Cottage near the lower end of the Gwyle Stream. He had a boat called Witch of Worbarrow. Please see Ware Family page for more information. Mrs Wheeler This is an error. Mrs Mary Jane Wheeler died in 1932. Please see Wheeler Family page for more information. Bob & Alice Wellman Robert Wellman (1887-1964) – Robert married Alice Victoria Lucas in 1912. Alice Victoria Wellman nee Lucas (1887-1975) – Alice was the daughter of 'Shepherd' Lucas (James William Lucas 1848-1925). Their daughter Alice 'Rose' Wellman married Joe Dando in 1934. Bob and Alice had other children including Vera, Jim, Ivy, Peter & Joyce. Please see Wellman Family page for more information. Ernest & Evelyn Whitlock Ernest George Whitlock (1905-1947) – Ernest was a Carter. Evelyn Mary Whitlock nee Kelly (1904-1989) – Please see Whitlock Family page for more information. If you have any information about individual parishioners that you would like to share, please see contact details shown on the home page. Page last updated: 2 September 2023 admin 25 March 1923 4 March 2020 Newspaper The proposed Tank School at Lulworth Sir: Permit me, on behalf of the residents and, more particularly, the fisherman of this bay, two miles east of the Tank Corps gunnery range near Lulworth, to urge the public and national need for preventing this monstrous local nuisance. Mr. R. D. T. Yerburch, M.P. for Southern Dorset, is right in saying that its perpetuation will exclude the public from access to some of the finest of the Dorset coast and impose irksome restrictions on local fishermen. The creation of the range in war-time was one of the many ugly necessities to which the community was bound to submit. Its continuance, with noisy din of gun practice, admitted risks of unspent shells, essential uncertainty as to when the practice must bar all walking on these splendid cliffs, and the direct interference with the useful and already precarious business of the local fishermen, constitutes a severe indictment against the Government Department concerned, whereas it is just a case where, even in England, the Government should give a lead in preserving in the amenities of this lovely bit of coast, one of our precious national possessions. For such a gunnery range, waste ground like that of Salisbury Plain or the sands off Shoeburyness should be selected, and not a line of coast-wise downs which hardly has its equal for beauty and accessibility in the whole of England. Yours faithfully, WARWICK DRAPER Sheepleaze, Worbarrow, Near Corfe Castle, Dorset. August 15th, 1923. Draper, Sheepleaze. Bookmark the permalink . « 1920: Tyneham – War Memorial 1925: Farm labourer's fatal accident near Coombe Keynes »

1923: Letter to the Wiltshire Times

News - 1939

News – 1939 Mr. and Mrs. Charles William MILLER Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Miller, of Worbarrow Bay, Dorset, have received a message of congratulations from the King and Queen on their diamond wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Miller have lived in the same cottage for 58 years. The Times, Saturday 4 February 1939

News - 1968

News – 1968 The Times – Tuesday 9 April 1968 Dorset manor house being given away By Rita Marshall The Ministry of Defence has been giving away some of the last surviving parts of the derelict fourteenth-century Tyneham manor house, which for the past 25 years has been on the Lulworth artillery range, Dorset. Brigadier Martin Bond, the head of a family that had lived in the house for nearly 500 years, is serving in west Germany. "This is the end of a long, sad and rather disgraceful story", he told me from Osnabrück, "I feel pretty sour." The Bond family, villagers and farmers from the Tyneham valley, were evacuated in 1943. In 1952, after disputes, the war Office compulsorily acquired the house. Wartime sacrifice Since 1943 it has been deteriorating. Now, what vandals, weather, neglect and ricochet bullets have left, has been given away to owners of other manor houses and museums. Brigadier Bond said: "In 1943 when the whole valley was evacuated we accepted it as a wartime sacrifice. It was implied to us all, although not in writing, that it would be all right to go back when the emergency was over. "Some months ago the Ministry of defence land offices wrote to tell me of proposals to give away some of the pieces of the house that were left. I replied slightly angrily that that was the affair of the Ministry. I no longer had any authority over the house. On that sour note the correspondence ended." The Ministry of Defence's gift has been, for at least two men, a costly business. Lord Southborough, in his house, Bingham's Melcombe, near Dorchester, has a stone doorway of the fourteenth or fifteenth century and a porch, dated 1583, from Tyneham. "I have these pieces because the Royal Commission on Historical Monuments was getting very concerned about the state of this house in the middle of the artillery range", he said. "It makes you want to weep to see an old house in this state. It has cost me four figures to remove, transport, and absorb these pieces into my house, but I regard it as a patriotic act." Mr. Robert Cooke, M.P. for Bristol, West, of Athelhampton Hall, Dorset, has stone facing blocks from Tyneham. He told the royal commission that he could not see how to accommodate part of the fourteenth-century Tyneham in his own fifteenth- sixteenth- century home. Eventually he agreed to incorporate some of the stone in works at the rear, which are Victorian in origin and not in keeping with their surroundings. Bringing the stones from Tyneham was costly, he said. The royal commission said parts of Tyneham had gone to other homes. The National Trust had some stone roofing material which it was keeping until needed. When it became known that parts of Tyneham were being given away there was local concern. The south- east Dorset area planning subcommittee, who were asked to keep an eye on the house before it was taken over by the Army, called for a report from the Ministry of Public Building and Works. 'With regret' The Ministry sent details of the steady deterioration of the property which the planning committee "noted with regret". The Ministry said that any thought of restoring the house was out of the question. "There is no public access to the house, it has been falling very steadily into a derelict state. It was thought that to give away the remaining pieces was the right thing to do. The Bond family were consulted and had no objection." Brigadier Bond said: "I am very grateful to these public- spirited people who have taken some of the pieces. At least something of Tyneham will be preserved." The Times – Tuesday 3 September 1968 The army reclaims a beautiful spot – for shelling From Philip Howard – Tyneham, Dorset, Sept. 2 All today, holiday crowds lay on the beach at Worbarrow Bay, happily staring up at the craggy cliffs of the Dorset coast. Children screamed in the surf: other people sprawled on the strange grassy mound called the Tout, brooding over their transistor radios, and looking down to Lulworth Cove with the waves frothing in and out of the mysterious caves. The only difference between this and a thousand other Bank holiday beaches is that it really is one of the most beautiful stretches of wild coast in Britain and nobody will be able to visit again until Christmas. From tomorrow morning the crump of big guns and the squeal of armoured cars and tanks will replace the picnickers and the bikinis. The bay, the ghost village of Tyneham behind it and the whole valley will be beauty spots no longer. They will become again what they are for the rest of the year, except for Bank holidays and the month of August: part of the 10,000 acres of Royal Armoured Corps ranges, which stretch over nine miles of the coast here, strictly out of bounds to the general public, fenced off with barbed wire, with frequent notices about unexploded shells, and with a lurid placard of skulls and crossbones. The Army pumps £4m. of shells into the area during an average year. But never on Bank holidays. A group of local residents spent the holiday here today in a demonstration to try to persuade the military to give back to the public this piece of the range. Hideous traffic jams built up on the narrow road through the bracken. Many hundreds of people made the pilgrimage between the barbed wire and the rusty skeletons of tanks to the beach. The campaign did a brisk trade in leaflets and membership forms. There was a nostalgic display of pictures of what Tyneham looked like before it became a range. And all day there was a running dialogue between holidaymakers and the campaigners around their trestle table with their charts and placards. "You've got to have gunnery ranges somewhere. Now, haven't you?" barked a military- looking gentleman in a blazer. Crowds peered at the derelict buildings of the village, which has been deserted for 25 years, and looked through the trees for the decaying Elizabethan manor house, which is being stripped of its Purbeck stone. A 6ft. cross painted red, "marked the spot of a broken promise", for, when the Government assumed responsibility for Tyneham House in 1943, it promised to return the house after the war. In some ways, today's demonstration was almost too successful. The fulmars, which are one of the rare attractions of these cliffs, might find such large, enthusiastic crowds every day around their lonely homes nearly as tiresome as bombardment by tanks. The campaigners grew hoarse explaining why Tyneham is unique and must be recovered from the Army. The 500ft. cliffs apparently are happy hunting grounds for the geologist. They are thick with fossilized trees and are one of the best examples anywhere of marine erosion of rocks of varying hardness. For the ornithologist there are seabirds he can see nesting in few other parts of Britain. There is the only Iron age promontory fort on the South Coast, which suffers frequent bombardment of a king it was never built to withstand. There is the scenery and the coastal paths and the little beach set in the silver sea. Whether these arguments will melt the heart of the Ministry of defence is perhaps doubtful. But they certainly sent today's visitors home glowing with enthusiasm for English heritage. The first tanks invented came to shoot along this stretch of Dorset in 1916. Gradually, as guns became bigger, Tyneham valley became vulnerable to overshooting, and it was taken over in 1943, with the assumption that it would be handed back after the war. Then, in 1948, and the cold war, the Army compulsorily purchased it. The overshoot area now stretches 14 miles out to sea. And a new line of targets for armoured cars has recently been put up along the line of the cliffs. Until the next Bank holiday, the fulmars and the cliffs and the view will all be out of bounds again to everything except high explosives.

News - 1969

News – 1969 << News – 1968 News Index | News – 1970>> The Times – Tuesday 5 August 1969 Army opens gunnery beaches to public From a staff reporter Lulworth, Dorset, Aug. 4 The restricted beaches inside the Royal Armoured Corps Gunnery School range areas which civilians were asked to leave two weekends ago were opened to the public today, the start of the school's summer leave. The operation of clearing the approaches to the beaches at Mupes and Worbarrow Bays finished shortly before civilian access was allowed. Residents had complained that the beaches were being used by army personnel while the public was banned. A protest "invasion" of the beaches was planned for last Sunday but only one family and a couple of holidaymakers went to Mupes Bay. The army did not interfere. After firing last Wednesday, 40 men spent 1,000 hours patrolling the authorized approaches. A final sweep across the shingle and rocks of Mupes Bay was made a short time before it was decided to let the public on to the beach. Colonel A.H.N. Reade, commandant of the gunnery school, said it would take months to cover the necessary terrain with mine detectors and would require the checking of every possible bit of metal. The Army point out that if they tackled the area in the way the beaches would "never be open to the public". Instead, the patrols search with eyes, boots and sticks, systematically stamping the ground and prodding it to see if there is anything lying on the surface. They cover the paths and verges and 10 yards across the fences, signposted with warnings. The main dispute between the civilians who want access to the beaches outside firing hours at other times of the year and the authorities is that the military personnel and their families can go down to the beaches with special permission. Mrs. Margaret Kraft, of Milborne Wood, Dewlish, a vigorous campaigner for the release of the Tyneham Valley from the range area said she was prepared to help anyone who wanted free access to what she regarded as the finest beaches between Eastbourne and Devon. Lord Salisbury's plea: Lord Salisbury, aged 76, said on the I.T.N. programme World in Action last night that the residents, who gave up their homes in 1943 so that the area could be used as a shooting range, responded to the coalition government's appeal out of patriotic duty. They were told they could return when the war ended but they still had not returned. Lord Salisbury, a former M.P. for South Dorset, urged the Government to try to right the wrong "which these good people have suffered". << News – 1968 News Index | News – 1970>>

News - 2006

News – 2006 Fortean Times, November 2006 Tyneham – Village of the Vanished By Leigh Driver England is full of deserted villages, but while the majority were abandoned in the mediæval period as a result of disease, climate, population pressures or economic factors, some have 'vanished' in more recent times. In an extract from her new book The Lost Villages of England, Leigh Driver tells the story of how the pretty Dorset village of Tyneham became one of the strangest casualties of World War II. A row of rustic thatched cottages stands in the shadow of a square-towered village church, while a ragged group of militant labourers dressed in early 19th- century garb – the founders of the Friendly Society of Agricultural Workers – gathers in earnest conversation beneath the tall elm on the green. Yet the year is not 1833 but 1985, and the place – not Tolpuddle but another well known Dorset village some miles distant: Tyneham. Depopulated at a time of national emergency, this once- attractive yet hard- working village stands empty and ruinous amid a vast Army training area. So faithfully does Tyneham represent a centuries- old rural landscape that it has on occasion found itself dressed as a set for television or film productions. One such production was Comrades, Bill Douglas's 1985 film about the Tolpuddle Martyrs, for which a mature tree was planted on the green, and a fake church tower quickly constructed. Yet for most of the time, Tyneham is empty and silent, save for scurrying wildlife and the persistent crump of guns. Our first glimpse of early Tyneham came in 1859, with the excavation of an Iron Age industrial site and settlement there. More than 2,000 years ago, the local Kimmeridge shale stone was worked by people of the Dwr y Trges (Durotriges) tribe to create amulets, bracelets and necklaces, personal ornaments later admired by the Romans; in fact, both settlement and industry flourished during the occupation. Surrounded as it is by numerous relics of prehistory, this valley was clearly favoured long before the shale- workers took up residence. Bounded by gently rolling hills in all landward directions, and to the south by the sea, the isolation of this compact coastal location is one factor that attracted the Army in 1942 when, in order to train British and American tank crews for the planned assault on Normandy's beaches, it sought to expand its existing gunnery ranges at Lulworth. Unfortunately, the use of live ordnance made it imperative that the tiny village that lay at the heart of this new battle training ground should be evacuated. Those final Tyneham residents long maintained that assurances were given that their removal from the village was merely a temporary precaution and that once hostilities ceased they would be allowed to regain possession of their homes. As tenants of the Bond family, who held the Tyneham estate (and therefore much of the parish), the villagers did not actually own any of the properties. Consequently, when it became clear that the government intended to retain the land indefinitely, the ordinary folk of Tyneham merely received compensation for the produce of their gardens. Nevertheless, as far as the villagers were concerned, Tyneham, while not their property, was certainly their home, and had been for many years – in a number of cases, for generations. Since the evacuation, a great deal has been written about Tyneham, much of it penned by former residents – memoirs often criticised, by both outsiders and former villagers, for painting too idyllic a picture of life there. For we are presented with an enchanting scene of a remote and peaceful valley blessed with a temperate climate, a pest- free sanctuary for flora and fauna where snow rarely fell, and a village where the men still habitually dressed in traditional smocks made from home- grown flax and where iron- hooped wooden buckets were still carried on yokes. Wistful nostalgia aside, these first- hand stories provide a fascinating account of a virtually self- sufficient community that spoke a language almost of its own, and lived a now vanished way of life. Village Life Run along lines of almost feudal interdependence between the landowning employer and his tenant labourers, the estate and village were directed from Tyneham House. A gabled, three- storey Elizabethan mansion of grey Purbeck ashlar built in 1523, it boasted grand mullioned windows that looked out upon colourful gardens, immaculate lawns and a majestic avenue of lime trees. One of the three great houses on the Isle of Purbeck, it had been home to the Bond family since 1683. Included within its complex of outbuildings was an even earlier manor house dating from the 14th century. The village itself largely comprised a single street of scattered grey stone cottages and the mediæval church of St Mary. Refurbished in the late 18th century, the church interior contained the splendid monuments of the Bond family in Caen stone. At Harvest Festival, the church would be beautifully decorated with flowers and vegetables from the gardens of Tyneham House, and it was not an uncommon sight for wild and domestic animals to invade the services to which parishioners had been called by two modest bells hung in an exterior bell- cote. Close by stood the early 19th- century single- roomed National School, which, together with the rectory, was one of the few substantial buildings in the village. Further along, in a line of terraced cottages known locally as The Row, stood the village bakery, which eventually became the General Store, with the later addition of a Post Office, where Tyneham's only telephone could be found (until a phone box was installed shortly before evacuation). There was no village inn, the nearest pub being the Ragged Cat, which was some distance away on the Lulworth Road. Entertainment came in the curious form of itinerant Italian organ grinders with their trained animals, performing bears and travelling thespians. From the village, a small winding path lined with local fishermen's cottages followed a small stream called the Gwyle as it dropped 0.8km (0.5 miles) through a narrow valley to the sea at Worbarrow Bay. Sharing only the church, schoolroom and Post Office with the rest of the village, the fisherfolk of Worbarrow were almost a self-contained community. From the communal effort of hauling the nets full of mackerel onto the beach, to the making of crab and lobster pots, every man, woman and child played their part. It was said that none of the men ever learned to swim, their philosophy being that if you were destined to drown it was better to get it over with quickly. They were clearly not averse to taking risks, as smuggling formed a lucrative sideline. Above all, the Tyneham estate relied on mixed arable and livestock farming. The estate's 700 sheep, each with its own bell, were watched over by a single shepherd and his dog. There was also abundant pasture for dairy cattle, the milk being sent to London by train from nearby Corfe. No fences prevented the animals from wandering onto the rough gravel tracks that passed for roads, but a multitude of gates would restrict their movements, while the fields around the village were lined with grey stone walls and separated by quick-set hedges, patched with small woods and coppices or belts of trees – formations essential to the success of the shooting parties regularly held at Tyneham House. Across this landscape, the horse provided the necessary motive force up until 1937, when tractors were introduced. It was on the bitterly cold day of 17 November 1943, as the village began its traditional preparations for the forthcoming festive season, that the Creech village postmaster delivered to every household the letters that brought the unwelcome news of evacuation. The date set for the military takeover was 19 December. By that time, nearly half of the Isle of Purbeck had been requisitioned and the gunnery ranges at Lulworth expanded. In addition, an RAF radar station sat atop the lofty Tyneham Cap; women from the WAAF (Women's Auxiliary Air Force) were billeted at Tyneham House, and airmen lodged in the village. Barbed wire had become a familiar sight in the landscape, as had the tank traps along the coast. Villagers who had already given so much for their country (the parish had lost many young men in the Great War) patriotically did their duty and peacefully accepted the eviction, buoyed by the belief that they would be back before the hay was due to be harvested. Temporary accommodation and alternative employment were found, and gradually the village emptied. Within weeks, this tight-knit community had been scattered across the Isle of Purbeck, yet the people's thoughts never strayed far from home, and most were simply marking time until the end of the war. But, sadly, the end of hostilities in 1945 did not bring about the end of their exile. Frustrated and concerned, Tyneham's villagers wrote to the War Office, dismayed at the deteriorating condition of their cottages, the overgrown fields and shell-damaged church. As time went by, they intensified the pressure until finally, in 1947, the news broke that the parish of Tyneham-cum-Steeple was to be retained by compulsory purchase to become part of a 7,200-acre (2,880-hectare) gunnery range. Though impassioned protests brought about a public enquiry, a government White Paper made it clear that, while some promises might have been made regarding the eventual return of Tyneham, it was necessary for all personal considerations to be overridden by what was in the best interests of the nation. As any last hope of returning home vanished for the villagers, many were offered the chance to be rehoused at Sandford, near Wareham, in a small estate of newly built council houses known as Tyneham Close. Light and modern, with electricity and indoor plumbing, these dwellings were a world away from the draughty old stone cottages of the village, with their antiquated sanitation. A number of former Tyneham folk were quite content in their new homes, but many others, broken-hearted, never really recovered from the shock. Yet even they were eventually forced to concede that there was by now little left of the old Tyneham to move back to. Interest in the village never waned, however. The demise of the great Tyneham House, demolished by the Ministry of Works in the 1960s, brought renewed protests. Candlelit vigils were held by pressure groups intent on gaining greater access to the village, with the result that firing is now halted on certain specially designated days of the year, allowing visitors to the village. A special car park has been built, and picnic tables installed. Moreover, the old school has been set up as though the children have merely stepped outside for a moment, while the church, restored and now maintained by the Army, houses an exhibition chronicling both the history of the village and the current importance of the area as a protected natural habitat. In 1975, the graveyard was restored and used for burials once more. With its gravestones scoured clean and its pond freshly dug out, many feel that the village has become sanitised, its unique character lost. And yet this ghost village still exerts a powerful attraction, having attained a mythical status in the public's imagination. Visiting Tyneham today, one recalls the parting plea pinned to the church door by the villagers as they stoically vacated their homes for the national good. Their haunting words are now famous: "Please treat the church and houses with care; we have given up our homes where many of us lived for generations to help win the war to keep men free. We shall return one day and thank you for treating the village kindly."

News - Index

News – Index This page provides links to newspaper items in reverse date order (from latest published to earliest published). If you have a newspaper article that is not shown, please email us at the address on our home page.

2021: Pathway blocked by razor wire Main menu A pathway in Purbeck "used for 50 years" has been blocked off by a "vicious razor blade wire". by Ben Williets The path leading to Broad Bench, near Kimmeridge, has been cordoned off by a barbed wire fence, a move which one resident called "heavy-handed". Frances Nicholson, 54, said: "There's... Posted in Newspaper Broad Bench Comments Off on 2021: Pathway blocked by razor wire

2011: Tall story Tall Story: Brilliant sketches by an Englishman which were found in a dusty folder show how the Eiffel Tower was built By Daniel Miller It was a wonder of modern engineering when it was completed in 1890 and remained the tallest building in the world for an astonishing 41 years.... Posted in Newspaper Draper Comments Off on 2011: Tall story

2010: Lingerin gghosts of a long-dead England Tyneham in Dorset was already a museum piece when it was shut down during the Second World War. It never reopened by David Randall There'll be another burial in the village next week. Arthur Grant's ashes will be interred in the churchyard at Tyneham in Dorset. He left more than... Posted in Newspaper , Obituary Grant Comments Off on 2010: Lingerin gghosts of a long-dead England

2008: History wakes up By Nick Churchill BENEATH the muck and dust of ages, Tyneham's centuries-old farm is stirring. For nearly 65 years all that has moved through its stables and stalls are bats, creepy-crawlies and the odd range warden – but a new project is under way that will see these buildings restored... Posted in Newspaper Bond , Churchill , Price , Smith , Tyneham Farm Comments Off on 2008: History wakes up

1975: Tyneham's ration of nostalgia HISTORY stopped at Tyneham 32 years ago. Just before Christmas,1943, the villagers gave up their homes to make way for an army firing range, and the village died. The villagers of Tyneham never went back. Their bitter and protracted struggle for possession of their homes ended in failure as the... Posted in Newspaper Cato , Driscoll , Everett , Holland , Longman , Ration Books Comments Off on 1975: Tyneham's ration of nostalgia

1969: Army opens gunnery beaches to public From a staff reporter Lulworth, Dorset, Aug. 4 The restricted beaches inside the Royal Armoured Corps Gunnery School range areas which civilians were asked to leave two weekends ago were opened to the public today, the start of the school's summer leave. The operation of clearing the approaches to the... Posted in Newspaper campaign Comments Off on 1969: Army opens gunnery beaches to public

1968: The army reclaims a beautiful spot – for shelling Letter to The Times From Philip Howard – Tyneham, Dorset, Sept. 2 All today, holiday crowds lay on the beach at Worbarrow Bay, happily staring up at the craggy cliffs of the Dorset coast. Children screamed in the surf: other people sprawled on the strange grassy mound called the Tout,... Posted in Newspaper campaign Comments Off on 1968: The army reclaims a beautiful spot – for shelling

1968: Dorset manor house being given away By Rita Marshall The Ministry of Defence has been giving away some of the last surviving parts of the derelict fourteenth-century Tyneham manor house, which for the past 25 years has been on the Lulworth artillery range, Dorset. Brigadier Martin (Mark sic) Bond, the head of a family that had... Posted in Newspaper Athelhampton House , Mark Bond , Tyneham House Comments Off on 1968: Dorset manor house being given away

1945: Dorset's new Sheriff Mr. William Ralph Garneys Bond, of Tyneham House, Corfe Castle, Dorset's new sheriff, was born in 1880, was educated at Eton and New College, Oxford. He served in the Sudan political service from 1905 to 1926 and was governor of Fung (1922-24) and of Dongola (1924-26). He is a Justice... Posted in Newspaper Bond , Sheriff Comments Off on 1945: Dorset's new Sheriff

1939: Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Miller Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Miller, of Worbarrow Bay, Dorset, have received a message of congratulations from the King and Queen on their diamond wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Miller have lived in the same cottage for 58 years. Published by The Times, Saturday 4 February 1939 Posted in Newspaper Miller , Worbarrow Comments Off on 1939: Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Miller

1937: Killed while riding Downside schoolboy's skull fractured Roderick Maurice Fitzgerald ffrench-Mullen, aged 14, of Downside School , near Bath, whose parents are in India, was killed when he was thrown from a horse at Worbarrow Bay, Dorset, yesterday. He was spending part of his holiday with his uncle, Mr Desmond Nicholas Fitzgerald, a... Posted in

Newspaper , Obituary French-mullen , Fitzgerald , Sauer Comments Off on 1937: Killed while riding 1936 – Tyneham Rectory Roof / Garden Fete TYNEHAM RECTORY ROOF – URGENT NEED OF REPAIR – GARDEN FETE WITH TWO-FOLD OBJECT The raising of funds towards meeting the cost of urgently-necessary repairs to the roof of the Rectory, the residence of the Rev. and Mrs. G. Clifford Frend, was the primary object of a fete held on... Posted in Newspaper fete , Frend , Rectory , Sauer , Tyneham House Comments Off on 1936 – Tyneham Rectory Roof / Garden Fete 1935: Tyneham House let Tyneham House, Corfe Castle, a Dorset property that dates from 1580 and has been owned by one family for 250 years, has been let furnished on lease by Messrs. James Styles and Whitlock (St. James Place). Published by The Times, Thursday 31 October 1935 Posted in Newspaper Sauer , Tyneham House Comments Off on 1935: Tyneham House let 1935: Unspoilt Worbarrow Bay Dorset Beauty – Warbarrow Bay – Unspoilt English Splendour [By Stephen F Aylett] Seeing that the majority of our people live inland, it is not surprising that the many charming nooks and coves that form our coastline, should provide the change required by those who seek an environment of contrast... Posted in Newspaper Worbarrow Bay Comments Off on 1935: Unspoilt Worbarrow Bay 1925: Farm labourer's fatal accident near Coombe Keynes Fall from Farm Waggon – Bournemouth chauffeur as principal witness The tragic circumstances under which George Cleall (43), a cowman employed at Povington Farm, East Lulworth, met his death whilst returning from Hethfelton Farm with a load of straw on a haorsed waggon, formed the subject of an enquiry by... Posted in Newspaper Cleall , fatal accident , Wrixon Comments Off on 1925: Farm labourer's fatal accident near Coombe Keynes 1923: Letter to the Wiltshire Times The proposed Tank School at Lulworth Sir: Permit me, on behalf of the residents and, more particularly, the fisherman of this bay, two miles east of the Tank Corps gunnery range near Lulworth, to urge the public and national need for preventing this monstrous local nuisance. Mr. R. D. T.... Posted in Newspaper Draper , Sheepleaze Comments Off on 1923: Letter to the Wiltshire Times 1920: Tyneham – War Memorial By the unveiling and dedication of the memorial tablet to the members of the parish who made the supreme sacrifice in the Great War the parish of Tyneham has worthily perpetuated the memory of its gallant sons, and also contributed its quota to the war memorials springing up all over... Posted in Newspaper , War Dead memorial , tablet , war Comments Off on 1920: Tyneham – War Memorial 1914: Air Rifle Shooting On Wednesday evening last week the members of the Povington Club visited Tyneham to shoot the return match to that won by the former Club by seven points on February 7th. Tyneham now won by 19 points, making 184 points, and Povington 165. Scores:- Tyneham – J. Curtis (captain), 23;... Posted in Newspaper Curtis , Gould , Knight , Lucas , Meech , Taylor , Warr Comments Off on 1914: Air Rifle Shooting 1910: Forthcoming Marriages Mr. L.L. Yeatman-Biggs and Miss Cicely Bond The marriage of Mr. Lewin Legge Yeatman-Biggs, son on the Bishop of Worcester and the late Lady Barbara Yeatman-Biggs, to Miss Cicely Bond, daughter of Mr. William H. Bond, of Tyneham House, Wareham, Dorset will take place on September 6 at Tyneham Church.... Posted in Newspaper Bond Comments Off on 1910: Forthcoming Marriages 1910: Parish Meeting The annual parish meeting was held in the Schoolroom on Saturday evening, the Rector (the Rev. C. S. Homan) being in the chair. Mr. W. H. Bond 1 proposed the re-election of Mr. Homan 2 as chairman. Mr J. Bascombe 3 seconded, and it was carried unanimously. Messrs. Job Chilcott... Posted in Newspaper Bascombe , Bond , Chilcott , Homan , Smith , Telegraph Comments Off on 1910: Parish Meeting 1906: Tyneham School SCHOOL CHALLENGE SHIELD. – This school has won the challenge shield for the East Dorset Division this year. DR. BARNARDO'S HOMES. – A collection box has been made by the school children in aid of Dr. Barnardo's Homes with the following results: – Irene Knight, 13s 7d; Lizzie Restreux, 11s... Posted in Newspaper Bascombe , Cleall , Dart , Kellaway , Minterne , Pittman , Restreux , School , Taylor Comments Off on 1906: Tyneham School 1898: Local Football News TYNEHAM v. WARBARROW (A.) At Tyneham on Saturday, teams representing the two schools met. Willie Healey was captain of Warbarrow team, and Francis Willcox of Tyneham. This being a first match, the players were greatly excited. The kick-off was at four p.m., and the first goal was scored by Jesse... Posted in Newspaper Cooper , Football , Healey , Selby , Wilcox , Willcox Comments Off on 1898: Local Football News 1893: The Royal Wedding THE ROYAL WEDDING. – A tea for the people of Tyneham was given at Warbarrow by the Rev. J. Bond, of Tyneham House, to celebrate the wedding of the Duke of York. At the same time and place Mr. N. Bond, of Grange, gave a tea to the children of... Posted in Newspaper Bond , Chilcott , coastguard station , Filliter , Ward , Worbarrow , Wordsworth Comments Off on 1893: The Royal Wedding 1886: The Coastguard Accident at Warbarrow Mr. J.E. Robens, of Weymouth, appeals for help for the widows and children of the coastguardsmen who lost their lives in Warbarrow Bay on the 19th ult. The Warbarrow Coastguard boat left that station for exercise in the bay at noon. On completing their exercises the men went into Lulworth... Posted in Newspaper coastguard , Marshall , Newberry , Newbery , Sullivan Comments Off on 1886: The Coastguard Accident at Warbarrow 1885: Tyneham – Death of the Rev. W. Truell We regret to announce the death of the Rev. William Truell. B.A., rector of Tyneham, which took place at the Rectory on Sunday morning last. The deceased gentleman, who was 81 years of age, entered the Church of England in 1827, and was ordained priest in 1828; he has, therefore,... Posted in Newspaper , Obituary Truell Comments Off on 1885: Tyneham – Death of the Rev. W. Truell

The Fight to Return

Fight for Tyneham

The first "Dorset" magazine was launched by Rodney Legg in Spring 1968 and featured Tyneham prominently. The magazine itself was primarily founded as a weapon in his first and best-known campaign: to return Tyneham to the villagers who had been evicted in 1943. John Newth, September 2011 Tyneham Action Group In the first issue of Dorset, Rodney Legg invited readers to 'help form a "Tyneham Action Group". He asked for letters of support with the intention of holding a public meeting to plot the first steps of the campaign to force "The Surrender of Purbeck". On 18 May 1968 around 20 people met in response to the invitation at the Moule Institute near Dorchester. A committee was formed with Philip Draper (1902-1979) as its chairman. I called the meeting that formed the Tyneham Action Group to organise and renew the fight to free the part of Purbeck still in military occupation. Public opinion is wielded by the group, whose total strength of paid members make it the largest countryside body in Dorset. Rodney Legg, Fight for Tyneham, 1969 The summer Bank holiday saw the Tyneham Action Group at Tyneham car park. After the publicity drive, the newspaper features, the television items, Tyneham Action Group ... decided to hold a meeting within the Isle of Purbeck to consolidate their position locally, to disseminate information and to pass a resolution with regard to their future aims. 1 'Exiles' step up fight for village Tyneham's small but vociferous group of "exiles" yesterday fired another shot in their attempt to regain possession of the tiny Dorset village from the Army. The Tyneham Action Group, whose supporters include Lord Salisbury, has now published a booklet called the Fight for Tyneham outlining its campaign. The battle began 26 years ago when Britain was at war. Then, the "exiles" surrendered their homes and the surrounding land willingly when the Army requisitioned the area to use as a firing range. But when the Second World War ended the Army stayed on. Despite an earlier pledge that its tenancy was only to be for the duration of the war compulsory purchase orders were used to make the Army's tenure on this lovely stretch of English coast permanent. But the population of Tyneham, which numbered less than 200 before the war, would not give up. Calling themselves "the village that lost the war," they continued to harass the authorities, finding support among local and national groups with an interest in seeing the land used for peaceful purposes once more. Two months ago, Lord Salisbury led a protest deputation to Whitehall demanding action. Television and Press reports have kept the issue on the boil, and the action group aims to turn the Tyneham issue into a "national scandal." The Birmingham Post, 12 August 1969 Friends of Tyneham Friends fall out over Army Two conservation groups have clashed in the fight for the release by the Army of the Dorset coast village of Tyneham. Friends of Tyneham, an organisation who claim a membership of more than 1,000 have accused the 400-strong Tyneham Action Group of treachery. The allegation followed a week-end decision by the T.A.G. to disband after six years after the Government ruling that the Army must remain in occupation of tank and firing ranges in Lulworth and the Tyneham Valley. Both groups wanted the Defence Ministry to return Tyneham village, commandeered for training during the Second World War, to the original householders or their descendants. The Friends of Tyneham are continuing their campaign with demonstrations in Dorset and London and with a barrage of letters to M.P.s and Government heads. But T.A.G. president, Maj. Gen. Mark Bond, of Moigne Combe Owermoigne, near Weymouth, said: "Although we are far from satisfied with the Army's continuing occupation of the area, we feel we have got to accept facts as they are." The decisions were taken at a meeting in Wareham at the week-end which was raised by Friends of Tyneham founder secretary, Mr Rodney Legg, of Milborne Port, and chairman Mrs. Mavis Caver. They accused members of being Traitors to the Tyneham cause and Mr. Legg said: "We standby what we said. They have given the impression that the fight is over but it is not." Bristol Evening Post 20 November 1974 1943 Committee John Gould 's wish to return to Gardener's Cottage was the symbol of hope and resistance for the 1943 Committee. John died bitterly disappointed at not being able to return to his former home. Page last updated: 10 March 2024 Fight for Tyneham, 1969 []

Tyneham Action Group

The Tyneham Action Group was formed on 18 May 1968 in a meeting room at the Moule Institute, Fordington, Dorchester. It followed a plea in the first issue of 'Dorset – The County Magazine' to form the group. A committee was formed with engineer Philip Draper, formerly of Sheepleaze, Worbarrow as its Chairman and journalist and campaigner Rodney Legg as its Secretary. The following people were on the Committee: Mrs Ruth Collyer Monica Hutchings Mrs Mavis Caver – President – Sir Arthur Bryant Rolf Gardiner – Vice President Lilian Bond – Vice President Lord Salisbury – Vice President Other members: Kenneth Allsop Miss Joan Begbie Press Officer: Mrs Margaret Kraft At Easter 1969, an information post was On 22 May 1969, a delegation

Tyneham Poetry Corner | Poem: "Something is very wrong" by Samantha Day

Poem: "Something is very wrong" by Samantha Day admin 31 October 2020 7 July 2021 Poetry Corner I'm wandering round my home , I cannot hear a thing I grip onto a bannister, held together with a string I call out for my parents, where have they disappeared? My older siblings too, why are they not here? It's always been so lovely, living in this row Our little group of cottages, a place where friends all go. Maybe I'll go along to school, I may just find them there, I sit at the table at the back, on a bench, not chairs, The room is full of people, what are they doing here? The clothes they wear are very strange, my body's full of fear The books are all still on the shelf, our cups for milk are too? What are they holding in their hands, my day is so untrue? Someone is stood right by my desk, clicking a screen towards the class The room is cold, the fire is out, some windows have broken glass. I'm so confused what's going on, where has everyone gone? I can't see friend or family, something is very wrong. The farm is empty of horses and cows, machinery is rusted and bent I can't see my friends who live here, I don't know where they went! The tears fall down quietly, wet upon my cheeks I want to find my mummy, her arms are all I seek. I run outside and see the Church, I can pray to God for help I see a note upon the door, I read it and give a yelp They've had to leave, they had no choice, the army took our homes But why am I still left here, why am I all alone? I stare down at a gravestone, my name etched on the stone A white light now surrounds me, I no longer feel alone I look round and see my mummy, her arms are open wide My daddy too, and Rosie, stood there side by side I run to them with all my might, and grab them by their hands Everything is clearer and now I understand. Tyneham again is silent, what stories it could tell, Of families and friends of yesteryear, and the place that they all dwelled. Poem , Poetry . Bookmark the permalink . « We will remember them 2010: Death of Arthur Grant »

Hollow Ditch and a Hollow Promise

admin 4 March 2015 31 August 2017 Guest post by Roy Martin Hollow Ditch Farm was at West Creech; about one kilometre, five furlongs, north-west of Creech Grange, which we knew as Grange House. The farmhouse and outbuildings seem to be built mainly of sandstone, with brick corners. The farmers who lived there were tenants of the Bond family. Matthew Langrish Charles (1866-1939) and his wife Susan Priscilla Charles (1877-1947) (pictured below) were the tenants in the 1920s and probably earlier. Aunt Sue was a Balson from the hamlet of Whiteway. She had married Uncle Mat at Tyneham in July 1913, when she was 26, over twenty years younger than him. In the 1891 census Matthew was living at Egglestone (Egliston) with his parents William & Emma Charles . Matthew was recorded as an Agricultural Labourer and his father as a Shepherd; in 1901 Matthew was still there but described as a Carter. By 1911 he was living at Hollow Ditch with his father, and was recorded as an 'Estate Labourer'. Aunt Sue & Uncle Mat at Hollow Ditch in the 1930s My father, Gerald Charles Martin , was born at Whiteway in 1916. His Dorchester born father, Alma Victor Martin , was killed on 18 November 1916 in the Battle of Ancre , the last day of the Battle of the Somme. His mother Edith Ellen Martin (née Balson) , Susan's sister, contracted TB and was sent to the Sanatorium at Poole. As she was unable to look after her little boy he was sent to Hollow Ditch; a rather lonely boy as there were no other children, though the Cake family were at the nearby Whitehall Farm. He seems not to have been formally adopted. There was a small primary school at Creech and for his secondary education my father cycled daily to Wareham. I sometimes think how different his life might have been if he had been able to go to the new Grammar School at Swanage, he was certainly bright enough, but the money would not have been there. My father and mother met when she was 'in service' at Grange House, then just about the only opportunity for a working class girl. When they married in 1936 Mat and Sue bought them a small bungalow at Wool, being a prudent couple they charged the young Martins rent of ten shillings a week – so that the young couple would 'learn the value of money'. From there Dad could motor cycle to work at Bovington Camp. I was born there later that year. My memories of Hollow Ditch must be from 1943, by this time Aunt Sue was a widow. I remember making butter in a small glass churn; now I see the photograph of Sue's solitary cow I can see why we only made enough for ourselves. Other memories include sorting the stored apples to throw out any that had 'gone off' and eating wild strawberries on the banks of Pike's clay pit railway to their Povington mine. I suffered bad stomach ache after those strawberries! In 2009 I contacted the military at Lulworth Camp and they were kind enough to arrange for a Ranger, with a 4x4, to take us where ever we wanted to go. We first headed to Hollow Ditch; I wished that my parents could have seen it once more, but it is now a sad sight. There were no strawberries to be seen, but there was still fruit in the orchard. We then went to Whiteway, but there is even less there. What came to mind at both sites were the 'then and now' photographs of Normandy, with the buildings all rebuilt: and the similar devastation at the South Georgian whaling stations, where I also took many photographs. Uncle Mat died in 1939; so when the eviction notice arrived in November 1943 Aunt Sue was living alone. By that time my father was in Italy with the Royal Engineers and most of the male Balsons and her mother were dead, so she must have felt rather alone. She moved to Kimmeridge, where she lived together with a refugee called Eva (pronounced Ava). Like the other evacuees Sue was never allowed to return to her home. She died at 22 Kimmeridge in 1947 and Eva moved to a small bungalow at the junction of Holme Lane and Grange Road. The old house now looks as if it will be swallowed up by the West Creech Clay pit, a giant white hole. It would seem that the military is able to sell the land it requisitioned, but will not allow the families to return to their homes. A Hollow Promise indeed. We are very grateful to Roy Martin for writing this feature for us. If you would like to write a feature about your ancestors from Tyneham parish, please get in touch at info@tynehamopc.org.uk Rodney Legg quotes Mrs S P White One of the younger girls, Edith, worked at Tyneham house. She married but her husband was also killed in the war and she was left with a little boy. Later she died and was always discussed in grim whispers (galloping consumption and a broken heart) but Gerald was brought up by another aunt at Hollow Ditch, a smallholding north-west of Creech Grange. I spent many happy holidays with them and the more familiar with that part. This was a sturdy little house with little windows and thick walls. Large cupboards by the fireplace house hams and smoked bacon. Breakfast there were marvellous meals – my aunt and uncle having done hours of work fetching the cows and milking by hand, had by this time developed large appetites. Hence we had masses of eggs, thick slices of bacon and chitterlings and soft potato cakes. Sometimes they cooked eels which cousin Gerald had teased me with early in the morning. Mother's name was Beatrice Bessie Balson, and you can imagine how she was teased about that. Her sister, Susan, who lived at Hollow Ditch, married Matthew Charles. At Hollow Ditch there was a large russet apple tree, large wooden butter pats with intricate patterns, and rows of lovely golden butter laid on a tray ready to go to Wareham market. Once a lady named Elsie Cake called, on a straight-up, no-nonsense bicycle with a fancy chain-guard. She hopped off in a most graceful manner, in spite of long skirts and button boots. I later tried to do the same but came a cropper. In the evenings I would go across the heath to the Marepool and watch the deer drinking at dusk. It was also from this spot that I watched Lulworth Castle burning (in 1929). My grandparents are buried at Tyneham churchyard and Aunt Susan was buried at Steeple. She ended her days in a cottage at Kimmeridge, having been moved there at the time of the evacuation. But she always hoped to return to Hollow Ditch... Balson, Charles, Martin. Bookmark the permalink. « Balson's Gap and Malhala's Fortune by Roy Martin Tripcony »

2021: Pathway blocked by razor wire

admin 7 September 2022 7 September 2022 Newspaper A pathway in Purbeck "used for 50 years" has been blocked off by a "vicious razor blade wire". by Ben Williets The path leading to Broad Bench, near Kimmeridge, has been cordoned off by a barbed wire fence, a move which one resident called "heavy-handed". Frances Nicholson, 54, said: "There's been a path there controlled by the Ministry of Defence. When they fly a red flag, you can't go into that. We must be talking 40 or 50 years that path has been there, despite the erosion you can still get down to the beach. What they have done is put up this razor blade wire. During lockdown, surfers were going down that path even when red flags were up. "I can understand their frustration in them breaking the rules, I feel they have been extremely heavy-handed. "You are allowed to use that path when there aren't red flags there." Ms Nicholson said the wiring was not the "right solution" and called for the path to be restored. She continued: "Erosion happens all the time. The path should be made good and there needs to be policing of the red flags if the surfers are ignoring it. I feel it is completely heavy-handed and out of proportion. I can understand their annoyance with the surfers if they are ignoring the red flags but not in respect to this path. They have put this razor blade wiring spilling down the pathway, if someone is stuck on the beach or an animal it is dangerous, it's totally out of keeping with a beautiful area." An MoD spokesperson said: "Although the Charnel Steps are not a public footpath sometimes the public try to use them to access Broad Bench. The steps are also unsafe due to erosion. This area has been fenced off to make it clear that this is not an accessible route. Our contractors monitor the fence for damage and vandalism and conduct repairs when necessary. Broad Bench is accessible via the beach when the Range Danger Area is open to the public." Published by the Bournemouth Daily Echo, 29th September 2021 Page last updated: 7 September 2022 Broad Bench . Bookmark the permalink . « 2010: Tributes paid to legendary Purbeck photographer Arthur Grant 2015: Death of Eileen May Eastment nee Whitelock »

War Memorial

War Dead

Below we list the names of those known to be associated with the parish of Tyneham who gave their lives in the service of their country. Forenames Surname Year born Year died Age Conflict On Tyneham plaque?

Henry George John	BALSON	1879	1917	38	WW1	Yes
William James	BALSON	1875	1902	26	Boer War	No
Reginald John	BASCOMBE	1898	1918	20	WW1	No
Bernard Gerald Lawrence	CHILCOTT	1886	1917	31	WW1	No
Charles Job	CLEALL	1890	1917	27	WW1	Yes
Charlton	HOLLAND	1901	1944	42	WW2	No
Harry	HOLLAND	1888	1915	27	WW1	Yes
John	HOLLAND	1897	1916	21	WW1	Yes
Claude Knox	HOMAN	1896	1915	19	WW1	No
Charles William Lemuel	McPEAK	1892	1916	24	WW1	No
Alma Victor	MARTIN	1887	1916	29	WW1	No
William George	MEECH	1887	1916	28	WW1	Yes
William David	MILLS	1920	1943	23	WW2	No
Walter Edward	STURMEY	1891	1917	26	WW1	No

Reginald Bertie TAYLOR 1894 1915 21 WW1 Yes

Listing of men associated with Tyneham who died serving their country Tyneham War Memorial Plaque The war memorial plaque can be found in Tyneham Church . It commemorates just six men associated with Tyneham who lost their lives in the First World War. The war memorial plaque was unveiled and dedicated at a special service held on Friday 19 November 2020. Below we record details of all of the men associated with Tyneham that we know of who have lost their lives serving their country in the Boer Wars, First World War and Second World War.

Boer War Private William James BALSON William James Balson was the second of of ten children born to William Balson (1851-1933) and his wife Amelia Balson nee Gould (1854-1921) . He was baptised at Corfe Castle on 5 September 1875. William enlisted on 18 August 1894. He served with the Rifle Brigade, 1st Battalion, Dorsetshire Regiment (3372). He died on 10 July 1902 at Standerton. World War 1 Private Henry George BALSON Henry George John Balson was a brother of William James Balson (see Boer War above) and the fourth of ten children born to William Balson (1851-1933) and his wife Amelia Balson nee Gould (1854-1921) . Henry spent his teenage years at Tyneham. He later worked as a gardener at Holnest Park near Sherborne, Dorset. Henry married Florence Amelia Barnard (1881-1966) at Holnest on 28 August 1910. Florence later lived at "Rocquaine," in Victoria Avenue, Swanage. Henry initially served with the 1st Battalion, Dorsetshire Regiment (13760) before joining the 6th Battalion, Somerset Light Infantry (28569). He died aged 38 on 20 October 1917. Henry is remembered on the Tyneham memorial plaque and at the Lijssenthoek Military Cemetery . Private Reginald James BASCOMBE Reginald James Bascombe was born at Tyneham on 30 August 1898. He was the only son of James Bascombe (1849-1911) and his wife Bessie Eliza Bascombe nee Longman (1860-1918) . His father was farmer at Baltington Farm . Reginald attended Tyneham School and had a younger sister Dorothy . Reginald's father James died on 21 January 1911 when Reginald was just 12. Bessie, Reginald and Dorothy were still at Tyneham on 2 April 1911. Reginald subsequently attended Dorchester Grammar School . His mother Bessie was living at 5 Belvedere Terrace overlooking the Esplanade at Weymouth. Reginald moved to 192 Brixton Hill , London and was employed as a clerk . While living there enlisted on 14 August 1916 but was placed on the Army Reserve list. He moved to 25 Amesbury Avenue, Streatham Hill in September 1916. Reginald served with the 15th (County of London) Battalion (Prince of Wales Own Civil Service Rifles) (535078) in France from 20 September 1917. He suffered with septic heels on several occasions. Reginald died on 20 October 1918 aged 20 of pneumonia , most likely as a consequence of the Spanish Flu pandemic, at 30 Livingstone Road, Portswood, Southampton while on leave. He was buried at Southampton Hollybrook Cemetery . His mother Bessie's death was registered at Southampton in the final quarter of 1918. Reginald's grave at Hollybrook Cemetery Photo courtesy of Frank Grant / Find A Grave Sadly Reginald's name is not included on the Tyneham memorial plaque but it is included among 28 former pupils commemorated on the Dorchester Grammar School Memorial Roll which is now displayed at the Thomas Hardy School , Dorchester. The Dorchester Grammar School Memorial Roll Photo courtesy of Kevin Matthews, Thomas Hardy School Humanities Teacher and Head of the Thomas Hardy School's Combined Cadet Force, Mr Kevin Matthews , made this informative and moving video to commemorate Private Reginald James Bascombe especially for Remembrance Day 2020 . Gunner Bernard Gerald Lawrence CHILCOTT Bernard Gerald Lawrence Chilcott was born at Tyneham and baptised at St Mary's Church on 18 July 1886. He was the second son of James Arthur Chilcott (1855-1933) and his wife Mary Caroline Chilcott nee Lawrence (1857-1940) who farmed Baltington Farm and then Lutton Farm, Steeple. Bernard enlisted at Sherborne, Dorset and served as a Gunner (137017) with the Royal Garrison Artillery , 250th Siege Battery. He was killed in action on 28 December 1917 in France and is commemorated at the Aeroplane Cemetery, West-Vlaanderen, Belgium.

Charles Job CLEALL Charles Job Cleall Photograph courtesy of Nancy Wright Charles Job Cleall was the son of John Cleall (1851-1906) and his wife Hannah Cleall nee Burden (1861-1900) . In 1911, Charles and his two brothers, Francis Henry 'Frank' Cleall (1884-1993) and Walter James Cleall (1894-1984) , were boarding with the Turner family at West Whiteway, Tyneham . Charles served with the 257th Company, Machine Gun Corps (Infantry) (113367). Charles died on 2 November 1917 aged 27. Charles is remembered on the Tyneham memorial plaque and at the Basra War Cemetery .

Private Harry HOLLAND Harry Holland Photograph courtesy of Mark White Henry Holland , known as Harry Holland , was born on 26 September 1888 at Hounslow. He was the son of the late John Holland (1845-1920) and his wife Rose Ballam Holland nee Hansford (1861-1944) . Harry served with the 2nd Battalion, Dorsetshire Regiment (8117). He was killed in action on 8 December 1915 in Mesopotamia (now Iraq). He is remembered on the Tyneham memorial plaque and at the Kut War Cemetery .

Private John HOLLAND John Holland Photograph courtesy of Mark White John Holland was born on 3 February 1897. He was the son of John Holland (1845-1920) and his wife Rose Ballam Holland nee Hansford (1861-1944) . John served with the 14th Battalion, Hampshire Regiment (29626). He died on 13 November 1916 aged 21. John's blood-stained bible with bullet that killed him Photograph courtesy of Mark White John is remembered on the Tyneham memorial plaque and at the Netley Military Cemetery . John's headstone at Netley Military Cemetery

Lieutenant Claude Knox HOMAN Claude Knox Homan was born at Winterborne Came, Dorset on 12 July 1896. He was the son of Reverend Claude Samuel Homan (1867-1947) and his wife Adelaide Mabel Homan nee Digby (1862-1947) . Claude spent much of his childhood at Tyneham Rectory . where his father served as Rector from 1897 to 1913 . His parents later moved to 72 Parkstone Road, Poole, Dorset. Claude served with the 6th Battalion, Dorsetshire Regiment and was killed in action at Ypres on 18 September 1915 aged 19. Claude is remembered at Voormezele Enclosure No.3 . Sadly his name is not included on the Tyneham memorial plaque. Claude's headstone at Voormezele Photograph courtesy of International Wargraves Photography Project

Charles William Lemuel McPEAK Charles was born at Worbarrow on 11 March 1892 and was baptised at St. Mary's Church, Tyneham on 10 April 1892. His father was a Coastguard Boatman. Charles joined the Royal Navy on 5 September 1907 aged 15 and married Florence Margaret Smith of Eton in 1915. Sadly Leading Seaman Charles was killed along with all other 856 hands onboard when H.M.S. Black Prince (pictured) was attacked and sunk by five German warships on 31 May 1916 during the Battle of Jutland in WW1. His widow later remarried. Sadly his name is not included on the Tyneham memorial plaque.

Private Alma Victor MARTIN Alma Victor Martin , known as Victor, was born at Fordington near Dorchester in 1887. He was the fourth son of blacksmith turned coachbuilder Charles Martin (1849-1919) and his wife Sarah Bilke Martin nee Pitfield (1849-1919) . In 1911 Victor was working as an attendant at the Dorset County Asylum near Dorchester. Victor married Edith Ellen Balson at Tyneham on 1 June 1914. At the time Victor, aged 26, was a waiter living at Nicholas Street, Weymouth. Edith, aged 21, was the daughter of William Balson (1851-1933) and his wife Amelia Balson nee Gould (1854-1921) of Povington. It is thought that Edith also worked at the Asylum and that is how she met Victor. Victor enlisted at Weymouth with the Dorset Regiment (18594) and later joined the 7th Battalion Queen's (Royal West Surrey) Regiment (G/21773). Victor and Edith had a son Gerald Charles Martin (1916-1992) born 11 March 1916. Photograph courtesy of Roy Martin Victor was killed in action at Ancre , France on 18 November 1916 aged 28. It marked the last day of the Battle of the Somme . Victor is remembered with honour on the Thiepval Memorial .

Private William George MEECH William George Meech was born in 1887. He was the second son of Thomas How Meech (1860-1888) and his wife Emily Meech nee Hyde (1865-1917) . Sadly William's father Thomas died in 1888 when William was less than 12 months old. The following year his mother Emily married William Taylor (1865-1952) . William served with the 1st/1st, Dorset Yeomanry (Queen's Own) (996). William died on 26 February 1916 aged 28. He is remembered on the Tyneham memorial plaque and at the Alexandria (Chatby) Military and War Memorial Cemetery .

Private WALTER EDWARD STURMEY died aged 26 on 4 February 1917 Walter was born at Whiteway to shepherd Frederick Sturmeay (1857-1926) and his wife Ellen Sturmeay nee Scutt (1853-1934) . He served with the 1st/6th

Batallion, Royal Warwickshire Regiment , service number 21052. Walter is remembered with honour at Assevillers New British Cemetery , France (grave reference V.C.3) as well as on the East Lulworth memorial. Private Reginald Bertie 'Bertie' TAYLOR Bertie was the second son of William Taylor and Emily Taylor nee Hyde . Bertie served with the Dorset Yeomanry (Queen's Own) and died at Gallipoli on 21 August 1915 aged 21. He is remembered on the Tyneham memorial plaque and the Helles Memorial . World War 2 Able Seaman Charlton HOLLAND Charlton Holland was born at Bere Regis on 6 May 1901. He was the son of John Holland (1845-1920) and his wife Rose Ballam Holland nee Hansford (1861-1944) . He was a younger brother of Harry Holland and John Holland who both lost their lives in World War 1. Charlton served with the Royal Navy (D/J 81779) aboard H.M.S. Mahratta . an M Class Destroyer. While guarding the largest-ever Arctic convoy sent on its way to Russia she was torpedoed by German U-Boat U-990 off the coast of Norway and sunk on 25 February 1944. Only 16 of the 236 crew survived. Charlton's death came just five weeks after his mother Rose died. Charlton is remembered on the Plymouth Naval Memorial (Panel 86 Column 3). A memorial to those who lost their lives on the Arctic Convoys was unveiled at Murmansk in 1991 on the 50th anniversary of the first Arctic Convoy. Flight Sergeant William David MILLS William, born was the son of David Mills (1895-1980) and his Worbarrow-born wife Jessie May Mills nee Minterne (1895-1982) . David and Jessie had married at Tyneham Church on 21 April 1929. David was the a draper living at 80 Parkinson Street, Burnley. The 1921 census showed William and mother Jessie at Worbarrow. William enlisted with the RAF. His service number was 655255 and he served as a Flight Sergeant with 218 (Gold Coast) Squadron. William married Gladys Joan Day (1920-2000) in Surrey in the Spring of 1943. Their engagement had been announced in December 1941. Sadly William's plane, a Short Stirling I, was lost without trace, believed to have been the victim of a night fighter over the North Sea. It had taken off from RAF Downham Market on 27 May 1943 headed for an operation over the Frisian Islands. Their were seven crew members on board. William was aged 23. 1 A Short Stirling Mark 1 of RAF Bomber Command William is commemorated on the Runnymede Air Forces Memorial Panel 138. Page last updated: 19 March 2024 Meech Family Meech , Taylor , War Dead Comments Off on Meech Family Mills W – International Bomber Command Centre (internationalbcc.co.uk) []

We will remember them

admin 10 November 2019 10 November 2019 War Dead On Remembrance Sunday we remember the following men associated with Tyneham parish who lost their lives as a result of serving their country . . . See War Dead for further information about each man. Bookmark the permalink . « 2019: Death of Ronald George Whitelock Poem: "Something is very wrong" by Samantha Day »

Places – Tyneham Village

Places

Tyneham Village Tyneham Farm Worbarrow

Tyneham

Left Sidebar

Tyneham House

The ruins of Tyneham House are NOT accessible to members of the public. The steps from Tyneham House were removed to Bingham's Melcombe, a private house and estate not open to the public. The north porch doorway from Tyneham House now stands proudly at the head of 'The Canal' at Athelhampton House (see below).

Tyneham Church

The Row Tyneham Church Tyneham Farm Tyneham School Tyneham Cottages Village Fountain MUST SEE: Tyneham Church has been restored and now includes an exhibition of village life. Telling the story of the everyday lives of the villagers during the first half of the last century, the church exhibition serves as a memorial to their sacrifice. Their family names are displayed in the frieze of tiles around the church and their photographs look down from the oak panelled walls. Getting there: From Tyneham Car Park head towards the Telephone Kiosk. Carry on up Post Office Row and Tyneham Church is straight ahead. Please note the exhibitions in Tyneham Church, Tyneham Farm and Tyneham School open at 10am and close at 4pm . Things to look out for at St Mary's Church, Tyneham: Notice on Church Door During the Second World War it became necessary for the British Army to extend its existing training area. The inhabitants of the Tyneham Valley were evacuated. When they left they pinned a note to the church door. It read: Please treat the church and houses with care. We have given up our homes, where many of us have lived for generations, to help win the war to keep men free. We will return one day and thank you for treating the village kindly. Bible containing names of former residents forced to evacuate in December 1943 The Bible Exhibition boards One of many boards telling Tyneham's story Tiled Surnames One of many surnames displayed on the walls World War One Memorial Tablet Click here for more information on those named Stained Glass Windows Tyneham Churchyard What Three Words location for main entrance door = Mixing Cake Shifting Brief history of Tyneham Church Parts of Tyneham Church date from circa 1190 . In 1744 the church was altered considerably and the nave roof was covered with lead. In 1832 the present South Transept was built replacing the much smaller original. In 1880 the 14th Century South Porch was taken down and used to build a new West Porch . In 1943 a note was pinned to the door 'Please treat the church and houses with care'. Today Tyneham Church includes an exhibition of village life. Although the church has been de-consecrated it still belongs to the Diocese of Salisbury . The Ministry of Defence pays them £1 a year as rent. Tyneham Church finally became a Grade II Listed Building on 17 December 2020 , together with Tyneham School and the Village Fountain Rectors Many rectors have served at Tyneham but the service of two in particular stand out: Revd. Denis Bond was Rector for 53 years from 1742 to 1795 Revd. William Bond (1757-1852) was Rector for 57 years from 1795 to 1852 Click here for full list of Rectors Page last updated: 12 August 2022

Rectors of Tyneham

Tyneham Church Tyneham Rectory Rectors of Tyneham and Steeple Below we provide information about Rectors of the united benefice of Tyneham and Steeple . The last Rector was Reverend H. C. Money who was away on war service when Tyneham was evacuated in 1943. From To Name and Additional Details where known 1937 1943 Revd. Humphrey Churchill Money (1884-1954) served as a chaplain with the New Zealand Expeditionary Force in 1917-1919. From 1928, he had been curate to Philip 'Tubby' Clayton, Vicar at All-Hallows-by-the-Tower in Barking, London. Clayton, an Australian, had founded the Christian men's organisation Toc H while serving as a military chaplain in Flanders during World War I. Rev. Money was also chaplain to Toc H's League of Women Helpers. In 1937, Rev. Money resigned from Holy Trinity Scottish Episcopal Church, Stirling to become Rector of Steeple (with Tyneham and Grange) in Dorset. Rev. Money, the last rector of Tyneham, was away serving with the Royal Engineers, when Tyneham and the Rectory were requisitioned by Southern Command, to extend the Lulworth Ranges, in 1943. 1933 Edwin George Clifford FRENDA MA – Please contact us for more information 1927 Christopher Campbell SHARPE MA – Please contact us for more information 1923 1927 Frederick de la Poer Beresford CORFIELD (1873-1954) . Married Gertrude Annie Rees 1903. They were living at Nettlecombe Rectory, Williton, Somerset when Gertrude died 7 March 1929. Frederick died 8 June 1954 aged 80. Crockfords (1939): Ord. deacon, 1905; priest (Chester) 1908; C. of Frodsham, Cheshire, 1905-9. C. of Tarporley, 1909-10. C. of Nantwich, 1910-12. V. of Weston, 1912-13. R. of Church Eaton, 1913-23. Chaplain to the Forces, 1917-19. V. of Steeple with Tyneham and Grange, Dorset, 1923-7. V. of Nettlecombe, Somerset, 1927- 1916 1923 Thomas Openshaw COUPE MA (22 January 1887-1980) was born in Ansdell, Lancashire to James Coupe (1861-1931) and Emily Coupe nee Openshaw (1859-1944). He was baptised at St. Cuthbert, Lytham, Lancashire on 26 February 1887. Thomas obtained his B.A. in 1908. In 1909 he married Edith Annie Diggles (1889-1939) and they had a daughter Gwendoline May Coupe shortly after. Thomas was ordained deacon in 1910 and priest in 1911 and was Curate of Trowbridge, Wiltshire from 1910 to 1913, living at Glyn Lewis, Westbourne Gardens. In 1912 he obtained his M.A. from Selwyn College, Cambridge. He then served as Curate at Holy Trinity, Dorchester from 1913 to 1916, living at 1 Weymouth Avenue. Thomas was Rector of Steeple-cum-Tyneham & Grange from 1916 to 1923, living at Tyneham Rectory, but for part of this time served his country as a Lieutenant in the Royal Army Service Corps. In 1917 he became a freemason. He then became Rector of Church Eaton in Staffordshire. His wife died there in 1939 and the following year he married a widow, Evelyn May Smalley (nee Smallbone) (1890-1970) at Lichfield in Staffordshire. Thomas died in 1980 aged 93 in Northamptonshire. 1914 1916 Revd. Edward Clifford HAWKES MA was Rector of Steeple with Grange and Tyneham from 1914 to 1916. Edward was born in the St. Pancras area of London to Edward John Hawkes (1819-1879) and Mary Hawkes nee Hawkes (1829-1886). His father was a shirt maker employing other workers. Edward and Mary had two further children, but they both died in infancy. 'Clifford' was his maternal grandmother's maiden surname. 1897 1913 Claude Samuel HOMAN BA (1868-1947) . He was the Rector at Stockton, Codford St. Mary, Wiltshire, England. Died 5 May 1947 aged 78. Steeple Kelly's Directory 1898: 'The living is a rectory, annexed to that of Tyneham, joint net yearly value £336, with residence and 25 acres of glebe, 5 of which are in Steeple, in the gift of Nathaniel Bond esq. and held since 1897 by the Rev. Claude Samuel Homan B.A. of Christ's College, Cambridge, who is also rector of East Holme, and resides at Tyneham.' Crockfords (1932): C. of St. Matthias, Plymouth, 1891-93; W. Stafford, Dorset, 1893-96; R. of Winterbourne-Came w. Winterbourne-Farringdon, Dorset and I. of Whitcombe, Dorset, 1896-97; R. of Steeple w Tyneham 1897-1913; P.C. of E. Holme 1897-1913.; V. of Frampton 1913-1916; c. of Longfleet 1921-22; Chap. Costebelle 1922-25. Hillmorton, Wyndham-road, Parkstone, Dorset. See Homan Family 1889 Christopher WORDSWORTH MA (1848-1938) – Contact us for more information 1852 1889 Nathaniel BOND MA (1804-1889) second son of John of Gower Street London arm Oriel College Oxford matriculated 23 Nov 1822 aged 17; BA 1829; Rector of Steeple with Tyneham 1852; Hon Canon of Sarum preb 1859 of Creech Dorset JP. Built Tyneham Rectory in 1853 but lived at Creech Grange, Steeple. 1795 1852 William BOND MA (1757-1852) son of John of Steeple Dorset arm Wadham College Oxford matriculated 24 Oct 1775 aged 18; BA 1779; MA 1783; Rector of Steeple with Tyneham 1795; canon residentiary of Bristol 1742 1795 Denis BOND MA (1719-1795) the son of John BOND of Steeple Dorset arm Wadham College Oxford matriculated 29 March 1737 aged 18 BA 1740 MA 1743 of Tyneham & Eglington in the isle of Purbeck. Rector of Steeple with Tyneham 1742. Died s.p.1795 Rectors of Tyneham before becoming united with Steeple Below we provide information about Rectors of Tyneham before it became united with Steeple. From

To Name and Additional Details where known 1738 1742 Christopher TWYNIHOE MA (1689-1773) was baptised at Turnworth Dorset 10 Feb 1689. he was educated at Oriel College Oxford where he matriculated on 20 March 1706/7 at the age of 17. He was awarded his BA in 1710 and his MA in 1715. He joined the church being made Vicar of Hannington Wilts in 1713 and Rector of Steeple with Tyneham in 1738 and of Poxwell Dorset as well from 1739. He resigned his Rectorship on 22 April 1742. His pedigree is given under his son Christopher Twiniho (1722-1767) who was vicar of St Georges Church in Fordington from 1759 until his death in 1767. 1722 1738 Samuel BOLDE (1649-1737) was ordained a priest 13 June 1674 and appointed Vicar of Shapwicke on 15th. His life is extensively covered in the Dictionary of National Biography. In March 1682 he preached from his pulpit against intolerance and persecution, in support of the French protestants which was later published as 'A Sermon Against Persecution' and roused much indignation eventually resulting in his resignation and re-appointment on 22nd April 1682 as Rector of Steeple, a post he held until his death in August 1738 after a ministry there of more than fifty-five years, aged eighty-eight, and greatly respected. 1692 1721 Bernard TOUP (1669-1721) was the son of Bernard TOUP (1621-1721) of Chaldon and Hannah HARDY. He was educated at Wadham Hall Oxford 3 where he matriculated on 21 May 1680 at the age of 19 and was awarded his BA on 26 Feb 1683/4. He was ordained as deacon in Chichester Cathedral on 19 Sep 1686, appointed Rector of All Saints Church in Dorchester on 13 May 1691, and then Rector of St Mary's in Tyneham Dorset on 6 Jan 1692 a position he retained until his death. He married a Mary and they had at least a daughter as Hannah Toop was born on 18 September and baptised in Tyneham the following month on 13 October 1696. 1681 1691 John RICCARD MA – Adm. pens. at ST CATHARINE'S, Mar. 7, 1667-8. Matric. 1668; B.A. 1671-2. Subscribed for deacon's orders (Bristol) Feb. 27, 1674-5; for priest's, Dec. 20, 1679. R. of Tyneham, Dorset, 1681-91. Died there Dec. 21, 1691. 1664 Lawrence HIGDON MA – Adm. pens. at TRINITY, May 21, 1636. Matric. 1636; B.A. 1639-40; M.A. from Magdalene, Appointed Rector of Tyneham 21 Oct 1664 1663 Joseph TOMES MA son of Joseph of Tyneham Dorset Minister matriculated Magdalen Hall Oxford 12 July 1672 aged 16 BA 1676 (as John) , Signed Act of Uniformity as Curate of Tyneham 23 Aug 1662; Appointed Rector of Tyneham 26 Sep 1662; Rector of East Lulworth 1680 1616 1662 Joseph DYKE of Dorset pleb Merton College Oxford matriculated 18 May 1604, aged 18 BA 10 Nov 1607; MA from Magdalen Hall 6 July 1610, Instituted Rector of Tyneham 6th June 1616 signed Act of Uniformity as Rector in situ 23 Aug 1662 1594 Henry RUSSELL of Dorset pleb Broadgates Hall Oxford matriculated entry under date of 1576. BA 13 Feb 1578/9, MA 1 July 1581, Instituted Rector of Tyneham 14 Aug 1594 1582 1594 Humphrey FLETCHER (-1594) Instituted Rector March 1582, Death recorded in church records on 24 July 1594 1545 1582 Adam RICKERMAN (-1582) Appointed 1545 died March 1582 1530 Edward KYXLEY MA (or KIXLEY) BA June 1518 MA 30 June 1523 No college or any other details recorded apart from an appointment after he left Tyneham on 24 Sep 1551 as Vicar of Milford 1510 John POPE 1507 Robert BREMMER 1488 Richard WHITTOCK 1488 1488 John BRYAN 1471 Thomas MONE 1468 John ALDESTON 1466 John ALDESTON 1457 William BURGNEY 1453 John SOMERSED 1451 Thomas BENET 1447 John COURTELLIR 1440 Richard HOLDECHE 1415 Richard BEAKE 1391 Richard HERYPING 1350 John COLART 1349 John WEST 1313 John de CLENCH 1304 William de CANE Page last updated: 26 June 2021

Tyneham Farm

[Tyneham Buildings] The Row Tyneham Church Tyneham Farm Tyneham Rectory Tyneham School Tyneham Cottages Village Fountain Photo by grassrootsgroundswell MUST SEE: Some of the Tyneham Farm outbuildings have been restored and now house a variety of farm implements. Check out the Tyneham Barn stage, the Scrappy Wall and the garden. The Granary & Carthorse Stalls Carthorse Stalls The Barn Getting there: From Tyneham Car Park head south on the unmade road that leads through the trees towards the toilets. Turn left and Tyneham Farm is a very short distance beyond the toilets. Please note the exhibitions in Tyneham Church , Tyneham Farm and Tyneham School open at 10am and close at 4pm . Things to look out for: Storyboard on way into farm Scrappy wall Tyneham Barn Cottage Garden Known farmers of Tyneham Farm include: 1902-1940: Walter Case Smith (1861-1948) – see the Smith family page 1940-1943: Sydney George Churchill (1900-1975) – see the

Churchill family page My uncle's farm was about 500 acres and carried a flock of Dorset Horn sheep. In addition, there was a large herd of dairy cows and a large area of cereals. The evening's milk would be collected at 8 a.m. the following morning. There was no laid on water, electricity or sewerage system. In summer the large churns were placed in water overnight. It always amused me to see the lorry driver duck his head into each churn to test the freshness. Hugh Hutchings Uncle Walter certainly had no tractors when he left in about 1940. When a new tenant arrived, (Mr. Churchill) much consternation was caused by his introducing tractors and sacking some of the men. Hugh Hutchings Tyneham Farm – locations of farm buildings The Farmhouse Please be aware that Tyneham Farmhouse is no longer standing. "The dairyman's house and farmhouse formed one block of building with a common roof, excellent dwellings both. Lilian Bond The Dairyman's House The top floor of the dairy house was all one airy room whose well-scrubbed boards were covered by rows of big blue vinny cheeses, in different stages of the ripening process. A colonnaded lean-to on the north side of the dairy-house accommodated the great cheese press, and the vats connected with the cheese-making, a process carried out by 'dairy chap' and wife in spotless pinnners." Lilian Bond Milking Parlour The Milking Parlour is still standing, but it's use is somewhat different now – it now houses the public toilets! Cow Stalls and Piggeries The cow stalls and piggeries are no longer standing. The Granary The granary still stands but the interior is closed to the public. The building dates from the early 1800s. It was altered in 1904 as part of extensive improvements to the farm by landowner William Bond. The exterior maintains many of its original features. Inside the floorboards upstairs rotted many years ago The Great Barn The barn had wide access doors on the east side, opening on to the stable yard, and also the west side, opening on to the cow yard. The Cart Sheds The Cart Sheds were at the southern end of the Stable Yard. Part of the sheds is still standing but the roof tiles have been replaced with metal roofing sheets. The Cottage Garden Access to the Cottage Garden is through the archway at the west side of the Great Barn. The Scrappy Wall Click here to read more about the Scrappy Wall. The Tyneham Farm Project Page last updated: 13 August 2022 2008: History wakes up By Nick Churchill BENEATH the muck and dust of ages, Tyneham's centuries-old farm is stirring. For nearly 65 years all that has moved through its stables and stalls are bats, creepy-crawlies and the odd range warden – but a new project is under way that will see these buildings restored... Posted in Newspaper Bond , Churchill , Price , Smith , Tyneham Farm Comments Off on 2008: History wakes up

Scrappy Wall

The Scrappy Wall has been added to Tyneham Farm as part of the continuing Tyneham Farm Project . Outline plan Our 'Scrappy Wall' will be built along the foundation of the old Cart Shed which ran from the Barn towards the Toilets. The wall will be built from an eclectic mixture of materials ~ Purbeck and Portland stone, bricks, slates, clay tiles and drainage pipes accumulated during the clearance of the farm site. Custom-made Gabion baskets will form parts of the wall. Familiar as rock-filled retaining structures, ours will instead contain a jumble of unearthed metal hinges, chains, bottles, machinery parts and fixings. Incorporated into the main structure will be a mix of old Farm and Military equipment. The objects will be named using slate and carved stone. A 'show off' section has been set aside for the dry stone wallers. As a continuation of our successful scented garden, the wall will be topped with a carpet of Thyme, star attraction for bees, planted in the hot, dry conditions it loves. The building handiwork of many volunteers can be admired on the farm site. Date stones displayed in the walls show their progress since the beginning of the Tyneham Farm Project in 2008. Both the Dry Stone Walling Association and the Dorset Countryside Volunteers will be involved in this next, rather different creation. Scraps of information embedded in the wall Churchill's War Cabinet ordered the evacuation of the Tyneham Valley, along with the occupants of farms and smallholdings in Povington, Lulworth and Creech. Over 100 properties were claimed by the military. Responsible for rehousing the evacuees who could not find themselves a place to live, Wareham and Purbeck District Council hastily requisitioned empty properties and rooms in nearby villages. Dorset has been the 'home of the tank' since 1916 when it was developed by the British and tested at Lulworth. It was first used during the First World War at the Battle of the Somme. In December 1943 Tyneham became part of the wartime 'Dorset Coast Battle Area', a training ground for American and British Tank crews based at nearby Lulworth and Bovington

Camps. By the Spring of 1944 the South Coast had become an armed camp in preparation for D-Day. Eleven million acres of land, much of it farmland, became airfields, training grounds, camps and munition dumps. On 6 June the 34,000 American Troops based in Dorset left Weymouth and Portland for the 'bloodiest' of the five Allied landing sites 'Omaha Beach' 2,500 Americans lost their lives that day. The D-Day landings became the largest naval task force in history. On June 6 1944 an armada of 7,000 boats, 156,000 troops and 54,000 vehicles left the south coast for the beaches of Normandy. The D-Day Normandy landings included troops from Britain, America, Australia, Belgium, Canada, Czechoslovakia, France, Greece, The Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway and Poland.

Tyneham Farm Project

This barn, now on display at Tyneham, was originally located at West Creech Farm, The building would have been used to store next years seed. It is positioned on staddle stones to prevent rodent eating or fouling the seed. January 2008 – old views Tyneham Farm had been closed to the public since the evacuation in 1943. Thickets of tangled undergrowth and over sixty years' worth of accumulated debris are cleared from the site. February 2008 – new ideas The Project Manager and a local journalist admire the barn's spacious and gloomy interior. It has great potential as a display space. Planning and research begin. March 2008 – Surprise! It's a cobbled ford Removal of scrub and nearly a metre of silt from the site of the pond reveal a cobbled surface and a bridge opening built into the dry stone wall. Excavation begins. May 2008 – star builders Local people on a dry stone walling training course are the focus of attention. With guidance from expert wallers, twenty beginners, ranging in age from 15 to 65, finish the wall in 3 days. August 2008 – four big ones Dangerous stonework and sheets of corrugated iron are removed from the barn doorways, the lintel is raised and two sets of doors are built for the newly christened History Barn. October 2008 – the splendid arch After clearing the self-seeded sycamores rooted into the top of the wall, an arched entrance is built into the proposed scented garden. Volunteers had already cleared the interior of undergrowth. November 2008 – exciting opportunities A new two metre high fence surrounds the farm keeping out the deer. Tree planting is now possible. Given a head start, in a trench of good soil, the first of over twenty native species are planted. February 2009 – youngsters get stuck in Pupils from Montacute Special School in Poole, clear the last of the brambles behind the Granary. The newly dug trench shows the original course of the stream which flowed over the cobbled ford. March 2009 – that sinking feeling Heavy winter rain draining from the hills leaves soil and newly planted trees waterlogged. The first of two land drains is installed across the garden by volunteers. May 2009 – building the bank A trainer with the British Trust for Conservation Volunteers worked with his small group to build an earth and stone bank. The plants have established well. An end result to be proud of. June 2009 – the second of many? Ten beginners are instructed in the art of walling on a training course run by the Dry Stone Walling Association. With another course planned for 2010, this is set to become an annual event. July 2009 – Groundforce The Dorset Conservation Volunteers arrive in force. They build a bridge, move tons of Purbeck stone, construct three Gabion baskets, dig a drainage channel (and drink lots of tea!). August 2009 – all hands on deck! The Ranges are open for the month of August. Work gathers momentum. The last of the silt is barrowed out, cobbles are uncovered and cleaned, the wall is repaired and extended, meanwhile . . . August 2009 – 'hard' labourers . . . in the History Barn, Lilian Bond's stage is recreated in the north bay. Purbeck 'paviours' are laid over the dirt floor. Eight clear panels inserted into the roof flood the interior with light. September 2009 – the Squire's daughter A quote from Lilian Bond's book, 'Tyneham, A lost Heritage', is routed into the stage planks. Her memories of the Tyneham Theatre productions were the inspiration for the rebuilding of the stage. October 2009 – the first show for 95 years The Purbeck Village Quire celebrate harvest in the History Barn. An audience of nearly one hundred, including Lilian's nephew Major General Mark Bond, are entertained with Victorian song, dance and poetry. Page last updated: 5 April 2020

Tyneham School

[Tyneham Buildings] The Row Tyneham Church Tyneham Farm Tyneham Rectory Tyneham School Village Fountain MUST SEE: Tyneham School closed in 1932 but the building has been faithfully restored and reburbished to recreate an authentic 1920's classroom. reopening-1974 former-school-2012 former-school-2018 GETTING THERE: From Tyneham Car Park walk towards the Telephone Kiosk. Carry on up Post Office Row and then turn left. Tyneham School is on the left. Please note the exhibitions in Tyneham Church , Tyneham Farm and Tyneham School open at 10am and close at 4pm . Wat Three Words location for entrance door = Sobs Taller Enabling (switch to satellite view) Things to look out for: Children's named school pegs in entrance lobby Children's work on desks Please be aware the children's work has been created to give an authentic feel. It is not the actual work of the children named. The same is true of the children's pegs. Brief history The Tyneham National Elementary School was built in 1856 , originally to house 60 children. When the Coastguard station at Worbarrow closed in 1912, nearly half the pupils left. Numbers remained low throughout the 1920s . Sadly attendance fell to just nine children and in 1932 the school was closed 'for reason of economy'. The children were then taken by bus to Corfe Castle school. The old school building was then used as a village hall. By December 1943 , the property had been requisitioned by the NAAFI (Navy, Army and Air Force Institutes). Tyneham School became a Grade II Listed Building on 17 December 2020 , together with Tyneham Church and the Village Fountain The children The children walked in from the outlying farms and villages. So if the weather was bad, attendance was poor as the teacher's log book shows. Similarly outbreaks of flu or other diseases kept many children off school. Also children were off when the farms were busy with harvesting and other work such as hedging and ditching. Children from 4 to 14 were taught in the same room. The younger ones used the stage behind the drawn curtain, counting beads on strings or drawing with blunt crayons, usually under the eye of a 'pupil teacher'. Children as young as three would often wander in to join their brothers and sisters. The teachers 1861 Mrs Louisa Knapp & Mrs Sarah Ann Hinde 1871 Miss Hester Legg & Miss Elizabeth Crumpler 1881 Miss Hester Legg & Miss Sarah Hood 1895-1907 Mrs Ann Elizabeth Fry nee Newberry (1857-1910) Mrs Fry ... suffered from arthritis and was very lame but kept her charges in good order nevertheless. Lilian Bond 1907-1921 Miss Norah Sophia Woodman (1871-1944) 1921-1928 Mrs Malvina Pritchard nee Harper (1874-1964) 1928-1932 Miss Leonora Maria Hearne (1880-1977) There was a very strict regime under Mrs. Pritchard , head teacher from 1921 to 1928. Even her son, Arthur, who attended the school was shown no favouritism. The late Kathy Barnes of East Stoke, (then Kathy Wrixon) recalled there was no talking and knuckles were rapped if the pen was held incorrectly for handwriting. Joined-up writing was practised from the start, with careful attention to spacing of letters. The Union Jack was saluted on entering school. The late Winnie Applin (then Winnie Bright) was a pupil teacher trained by Mrs. Pritchard for four years. Winnie walked from Kimmeridge every day and knew all the best places to find orchids on the way. Apparently she caused a stir when she got a motorbike and rode it to school! Winnie was particularly valued by Mrs. Pritchard as she was the only one who could play the piano. Shows When the school put on an evening show, the unwieldy bench desks were taken outside and the villagers would bring their own chairs. Children sat on the floor or perched on the bookcases at the back watching the show by the light of paraffin lamps. Page last updated: 12 August 2022 1906: Tyneham School SCHOOL CHALLENGE SHIELD. – This school has won the challenge shield for the East Dorset Division this year. DR. BARNARDO'S HOMES. – A collection box has been made by the school children in aid of Dr. Barnardo's Homes with the following results: – Irene Knight, 13s 7d; Lizzie Restreux, 11s... Posted in Newspaper Bascombe , Cleall , Dart , Kellaway , Minterne , Pittman , Restreux , School , Taylor Comments Off on 1906: Tyneham School

Tyneham Rectory

Off Limits Baltington Charnel North Egliston Povington South Egliston Tyneham House Tyneham Rectory Up Under Barrow Whiteway Please be aware the ruined shell of Tyneham Rectory has now been fenced off for safety reasons but can be viewed from a short distance. Shell of Tyneham Rectory Brief history Until 1853, Rectory Cottages served as the Rectory Tyneham Rectory was built in 1853 by the Rector Revd. Nathaniel Bond to the west of Tyneham Church . For the first 32 years of its life, the Rectory was home to the Curate Revd. William Truell

– the Rector lived over at Creech Grange Tyneham Rectory was an impressive building with a large barn, enclosed cobbled courtyard, formal garden, greenhouse and a tennis court. In 1891, the Rectory was home to eleven members of the Wordsworth family and four servants Originally the Rectory had a curving driveway but this was later converted to a substantial rectangular gravelled parking area. The Rectory was exposed to the elements especially when a line of trees blocking its views were removed. In 1966 it suffered major fire damage Today it is just a single-storey shell cordoned off from public access. The Rectory over the years ... The new parson's house begun in April 1853 at Tyneham to the west of the church, about a gun shot from the church. Henry Rolls, Shoemaker & Diarist, East Lulworth The Rectory with curving driveway My husband's grandfather, Nathaniel Bond of Grange, who built the rectory on succeeding to the property, was patron of the living and its holder too. During his long incumbency his brother-in-law, the Reverend William Truell , served as his curate and was resident at Tyneham. The parson's wife and the curate's were twin Hawkesworth sisters . Another assistant priest was housed at Steeple in the later years of "Uncle Nat's" long life. Lilian Bond The following advertisement gives a flavour of the contents of the Rectory in 1889 when the late Revd. William Truell's daughter Eleanor was looking to move with her elderly widowed mother Jane to Wimborne Minster. Western Gazette, 13 September 1889 Evelyn De Labilliere with daughter Ruth and Nell the retriever The rectory roof was built with too shallow a pitch, giving rise to perpetual trouble. The rain poured into the house after storms and hundreds of pounds were spent on repairs with no lasting improvement. Lilian Bond Rev. Sharpe's car is parked outside 'It is a square house, very large for the village, with a tennis court, and looks as if it must have been very jolly in peacetime. 2nd Lt David Greville-Heygate, attached to the Loyal North Lancashire Regiment In 1966, the Rectory suffered major fire damage. When Tyneham was reopened to the public, many buildings were made safe by removing roof structures and reducing the height of remaining walls where necessary. The Rectory was reduced to a single storey. More recently, the remaining structure has become unsafe and has now been cordoned off from public access. Location What Three Words location = locked.action.comforted List of Rectors 1936 – Tyneham Rectory Roof / Garden Fete TYNEHAM RECTORY ROOF – URGENT NEED OF REPAIR – GARDEN FETE WITH TWO-FOLD OBJECT The raising of funds towards meeting the cost of urgently-necessary repairs to the roof of the Rectory, the residence of the Rev. and Mrs. G. Clifford Frend, was the primary object of a fete held on... Posted in Newspaper fete , Frend , Rectory , Sauer , Tyneham House Comments Off on 1936 – Tyneham Rectory Roof / Garden Fete Page last updated: 15 August 2022

Village Fountain

Getting there: From Tyneham Car Park head towards the Telephone Kiosk. Carry on up Post Office Row and the Village Fountain is straight ahead. The fountain was built in 1853 by Rev. John Bond (1801-1898) who created the Madmore Reservoir at Tyneham from which water to the fountain was piped. Although the fountain supplied the villagers with drinking water, the water is no longer safe to drink . Tyneham Fountain in 2012 The fountain is inscribed with the date 1853 and the following text: "Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again: but whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into ever lasting life." John 4th 13 & 14 "When I was at school, the village tap was the limit of where we were allowed at play-time, and we queued there, cupping our hands to get a drink." Fred Knight Middlesex cyclist Reg Bicknell taking a refreshment break pre-WW2 . Photo courtesy of his grandson Mark Bicknell. The Village Fountain became a Grade II Listed Building on 17 December 2020 , together with Tyneham Church and Tyneham School Page last updated: 3 September 2022

The Row

The Row Tyneham Church Tyneham Farm Tyneham Rectory Tyneham School Tyneham Cottages Village Fountain MUST SEE: The Row is a former row of terraced houses now reduced to their shells. It is safe to wander in and out of the cottages. The Row in August 2017. Photo courtesy of Sara Mills. Each house now contains a storyboard

providing more information about who lived there in the past complete with photographs. For detailed information, click on each property in the list below. The Row was a row of four terraced houses, numbered from the higher end nearest Tyneham Church . The properties were originally thatched, but were later tiled c. 1880. 1 The Row – The School House 2 The Row – Labourer's Cottage 3 The Row – The Post Office with Telephone Kiosk outside 4 The Row – Shepherd's Cottage The Row – Location The Row c.1900 with hedges The Row c. 1910 with walls The Row c. 1935 with telephone box The Row c. 1935 Page last updated: 14 August 2022

3 The Row - The Post Office

3 The Row – The Post Office Tyneham The Row 1 The Row – School House 2 The Row – Labourer's Cottage 3 The Row – Post Office 4 The Row – Shepherd's Cottage Tyneham Church Tyneham Farm Tyneham School Tyneham Cottages 3 The Row Storyboard The third cottage in the Row was the shop, and from 1890 became a Post Office too. Shopkeepers & Sub-Postmasters/Postmistresses: 1880-1890 William Mores 1890-c.1905 Mrs Anne Mores c.1905-1910 Mrs Jane Pitman nee Tizzard – see the Tizzard family page 1910-1915 Harry Barnes – see the Barnes family page 1915-1938 Mrs Edith Barnes nee Knight (known as Mrs Edith Herd following her second marriage in 1920) – see the Barnes family page 1938-1942 Mrs Gwendoline Driscoll – see the Driscoll family page Three customers at a time produced a traffic jam and, when the counter was piled high with parcels waiting for the postman, the postmistress was scarcely visible behind the rampart. The shop had a fine, rich blend of smells, bacon and cheese predominating, with alluring under-currents of tea, liquorice and peppermint. A big cardboard box displayed needles and thimbles, cotton reels, mending wool, buttons and tape, all priced at a copper or two. The telephone, for the receipt and dispatch of telegrams only, lived in the kitchen for the sake of privacy, but Mrs.Pitman's voice repeating messages could be distinctly heard by customers in the shop. The substance of incoming telegrams was often known all round the village before they reached their lawful destination. Lilian Bond

School House

Tyneham The Row 1 The Row – School House 2 The Row – Labourer's Cottage 3 The Row – Post Office 4 The Row – Shepherd's Cottage Tyneham Church Tyneham Farm Tyneham School Tyneham Cottages I The Row Storyboard The School House is at 1 The Row . It is the cottage at the top end of The Row nearest Tyneham Church. Sadly only the shell of the cottage remains today. In the grounds of the cottage stands the flag staff. After the school closed, the school house was also known as Flagstaff Cottage . Occupants of the School House From 1895 to 1907, the cottage was home to teacher Annie Fry . From 1907 to 1921 the teacher was Norah Woodman – see Woodman family page . Norah lived in the cottage with her parents and sister. From 1921 to 1928 the cottage was home to Malvina Pritchard and her son Arthur – see Pritchard family page . From 1928 to 1932 the teacher was Leonora Hearne . After 1932, when the Tyneham School was closed, sisters Helen and Charlotte Hole lived in the cottage and referred to it as Flagstaff Cottage – see the Hole family page . By December 1943, the property had already been requisitioned by the NAAFI (Navy, Army and Air Force Institutes) for its staff. Page last updated: 23 April 2020

2 The Row - Labourer's Cottage

2 The Row – Labourer's Cottage Tyneham The Row 1 The Row – School House 2 The Row – Labourer's Cottage 3 The Row – Post Office 4 The Row – Shepherd's Cottage Tyneham Church Tyneham Farm Tyneham School Tyneham Cottages 2 The Row

4 The Row - Shepherd's Cottage

4 The Row – Shepherd's Cottage Tyneham The Row 1 The Row – School House 2 The Row – Labourer's Cottage
3 The Row – Post Office 4 The Row – Shepherd's Cottage Tyneham Church Tyneham Farm Tyneham School
Tyneham Cottages Shepherd's Cottage is at 4 The Row . Shepherd's Cottage was home to the Lucas family 1925-1929 William Upshall & family – see Upshall family page The lowest cottage in the row was the shepherd's by tradition Lilian Bond

Tyneham Cottages

| Tyneham Buildings | The Row Tyneham Church Tyneham Farm Tyneham Rectory Tyneham School Tyneham
Cottages Village Fountain The ruins of most Tyneham cottages can be viewed from a short distance . They are fenced off for safety reasons but storyboards are on display. Only the shells of the cottages in The Row can be entered. Double Cottages Gardener's Cottage Gwyle Cottages Labourer's Cottage – 2 The Row – can be entered Laundry Cottages Rectory Cottages Shepherd's Cottage – 4 The Row – can be entered Sadly the ruins of Museum
Cottage are in an restricted area that is off limits. Page last updated: 27 June 2021

Double Cottages

|Tyneham Buildings The Row Tyneham Church Tyneham Cottages Double Cottages Gardener's Cottage Gwyle
Cottages Laundry Cottages Museum Cottage Rectory Cottages The top of the street was closed by a gate across the Lulworth road. A wicket gate alongside and a metalled pathway led to the head gardener's cottage, passing the backs of two more houses on the way. These houses were both small and inconvenient and only suitable for housing one or at most two persons. Lilian Bond Occupants of Double Cottages The cottage on the eastern side was home to: 1881: John Richards and family 1881: George Richards and family 1881: George Richards The cottage on the western side was home to: 1881: William Guy and family 1891: Charles Smith and family 1901:
Alfred Tizzard and family The eastern cottage was long occupied by old George Richards and, when he could no longer "do for himself", by a widowed sister who looked after him. Lilian Bond The other cottage held the Alfred Tizzards , who would have managed well in it by themselves but [they] had Mrs. Tizzard's invalid brother, Philip Harvell, living with them and were seldom without a brother's or sister's child as well. Lilian Bond Location of Double
Cottages Double Cottages lie to the east of Tyneham Church and The Row Page last updated: 21 August 2022

Gardener's Cottage

Gardener's Cottage |Tyneham Buildings The Row Tyneham Church Tyneham Cottages Double Cottages
Gardener's Cottage Gwyle Cottages Laundry Cottages Museum Cottage Rectory Cottages Please be aware the ruined shell of Gardener's Cottage has now been fenced off for safety reasons but can be viewed from a short distance. The last house on the east side of the Village was the gardener's, another of Uncle John's additions, built on the same plan as Museum Cottage but with no entrance at the back. This was intended to eliminate draughts from opposite outer doors but, rather naturally, was not appreciated by the housewives who inhabited the house.
Lilian Bond Location of Gardener's Cottage Page last updated: 27 June 2021

Gwyle Cottages

|Tyneham Buildings| The Row Tyneham Church Tyneham Cottages Double Cottages Gardener's Cottage Gwyle
Cottages Laundry Cottages Museum Cottage Rectory Cottages Please be aware the ruined shell of Gwyle Cottages has now been fenced off for safety reasons but can be viewed from a short distance. Gwyle Cottages comprised two non-identical semi-detached properties. Sadly only the ruins remain. .. passing between the shepherd's house and pond one came by a grassy track and field gate to the Gwyle Cottages, built about 1880 of local stone with stone-tiled roofs to match the "street". They stood in an enclosure of their own and faced the Gwyle. Lilian Bond In February 1941, officers attached to the Loyal North Lancashire Regiment, were billeted with local residents. Company Commander Captain Allen, second-in-command Lieutenant Higgins and 2nd Lt David Greville-Heygate stayed with Harry and Marjorie Grant who lived in the left-hand Gwyle Cottage. The officers found the cottage charming and the furniture beautiful (it had come out of the Grand Hotel in Swanage), but they were the only men in the battalion without electric light, hot water or gas. Photograph courtesy of Reverend Toddy Hoare

Gwyle Cottage ruins Occupants of Gwyle Cottages Gwyle Cottages , comprising two non-identical semi-detached properties, were home to the following families: Wellman family from 1912 to 1936 Mrs Alice Wellman nee Lucas c.1927 Bob and Alice Wellman (nee Lucas) and their six children: Rose, Vera, James, Ivy, Peter and Joyce – see Wellman family page Gould family from ? until 1924 Thomas and Virtue Gould (nee Park) and son John – see Gould family page Grant family from 1924 to 1942 Harry and Marjorie Grant (nee Smith), son Arthur and adopted son, Cyril Griffiths – see Grant family page Gale family 1939 Jean Gale, two younger sons Anthony and Andrew and children's nurse The Gwyle Cottages Storyboard on site Location of Gwyle Cottages Page last updated: 17 September 2022

Laundry Cottages

[Tyneham Buildings] The Row Tyneham Church Tyneham Cottages Double Cottages Gardener's Cottage Gwyle Cottages Laundry Cottages Museum Cottage Rectory Cottages Please be aware the ruined shell of Laundry Cottages has now been fenced off for safety reasons but can be viewed from a short distance. Both laundry cottages faced south, so that the stone-flagged walk before their doors and the two seep porches made the most of the sun. Theirs was the pleasantest position in the village, warm and sheltered, close to church and street, but not too crowded by the neighbours. Lilian Bond Occupants of Laundry Cottages Taylor family from 1902 to 1943 Here Mrs Taylor reigned for many years, a cheerful bustling soul with a genial word for everyone she met and an infectious laugh. She ran the laundry, coped efficiently with her family and was official caretaker to the church and school as well. Lilian Bond The laundry arrived every Monday morning in two huge wicker hampers delivered by my stepbrother in his cart Helen Taylor Laundry Cottages c.1943, also known as Taylor's Cottages Laundry Cottages, 2012 Owned by the Tyneham Estate this was the only dwelling with running water.

Museum Cottage

[Tyneham Buildings] The Row Tyneham Church Tyneham Cottages Double Cottages Gardener's Cottage Gwyle Cottages Laundry Cottages Museum Cottage Rectory Cottages Off Limits: Museum Cottage is strictly off limits at all times. Museum Cottage from the north-west 1943 Museum Cottage , built by John Bond, was originally home to the head gardener and is shown as Gardener's Cottage on old maps. In 1881 it was home to gardener William Hart and his family. "The house stood vacant for a while and my father allowed us to arrange our natural history collections in the empty rooms. From this the house acquired its name of Museum Cottage ." Lilian Bond After the new Gardener's Cottage was built, it became home to the coachman . Coachman Frederick Knight (1871-1946) and his family lived in the cottage from c.1904 until 1918 after which they moved to Povington . The last of the coachman to inhabit the Museum was Frederick Knight, its occupant for over fourteen years. He sadly brought the brougham and pair out for the last time on my wedding day, a month or so before the shadows of the first World War descended on the country. Lilian Bond After William Henry Bond died in 1935, Tyneham House was let to Dr. Sauer who owned a Rolls Royce and Museum Cottage became home to his chauffeur. Museum Cottage pictured from the south-west 1943 When Tyneham House was occupied in 1941 by the W.A.A.F. , Museum Cottage became home to Ralph and Evelyn Bond until the evacuation in December 1943. Ruins of Museum Cottage courtesy of Google 3D Location of Museum Cottage Museum Cottage lay on the southern side of ' The Avenue ' which lead from Tyneham Farm to Tyneham House . It was some way from the rest of the village. Page last updated: 6 March 2024

Rectory Cottages

Tyneham Buildings| The Row Tyneham Church Tyneham Cottages Double Cottages Gardener's Cottage Gwyle Cottages Laundry Cottages Museum Cottage Rectory Cottages Please be aware the ruined shell of Rectory Cottages has now been fenced off for safety reasons but can be viewed from a short distance. The Rectory Cottages were the actual Rectory until around 1880 when the new Rectory was built. In the summer months the Rector would often live in these cottages while the new Rectory was let to supplement the Rector's stipend. The rectory cottages, a very ancient building, filled the west side of the yard. They served as a rectory before Nathaniel Bond, the builder of the school, replaced them by the present parsonage house some 80 years ago. Lilian Bond 1956 In 1911 one of the Rectory Cottages was home to the Biles family . Page last updated: 14 April 2020

Telephone Kiosk

MUST SEE: The K1 Telephone Kiosk outside the former Post Office is one of only five still in existence. Be sure to take a peek. The original kiosk ... Tyneham got its first public telephone kiosk during the winter of 1929 . Before this date the villagers would keep in touch with the outside world by telegram or later by using the telephone in the back room of the Post Office . original 1929 original kiosk 1973_74 via mark carter original 1981 original 1983 original 1985 Click on the images above to view Tyneham's telephone kiosk was a 'K1' made of reinforced concrete with wooden door. It was sited outside the Post Office in The Row . Its installation was at first resisted by William Bond but he eventually granted permission. Tyneham was evacuated 14 years later in 1943. For the next 40 years the abandoned kiosk was left to its fate. It became hidden under self-seeded trees and ever- creeping undergrowth. With the public being granted increased access to the Army Ranges, the kiosk was restored in 1983 but with the incorrect roof decoration. During the filming of 'Comrades' in 1985 an accident resulted in Tyneham's telephone kiosk being completely destroyed. The replacement kiosk ... The K1 Mark 236 at Tyneham today is the replacement bought by the film company responsible. It is one of five such kiosks still in existence. In 2012, the kiosk had a complete makeover. Thanks to the invaluable help of ex-GPO engineer Ian Jolly the it now boasts authentic fittings and wartime notices. It now looks much as it did when the last villager left Tyneham in December 1943. The photographs below show: the kiosk stripped of all its fittings being tested for a new hardwood door on 16 Aug 2012 with a fresh coat of paint and renovated roof decorations in Sep 12 the painted door and windows being installed on 12 Oct 2012 ex-GPO engineer Ian Jolly admiring the restored kiosk complete with interior fittings on 20 Oct 2012 replacement testing for size replacement fresh coat of paint replacement fitting doors windows replacement restoration complete Click on the images above to view Chance encounter About 2010 I met a lady in the village whose father was the engineer that installed the original telephone back in 1929 (Kimmeridge 221). She said the vicar (Rev. Frend) had approached her father and told him he was doing the work of the Devil! However some six months later her father installed a phone (Kimmeridge 223) in the Rectory! The lady confirmed there were three other phones: Tyneham House (Kimmeridge 215), Tyneham Farm (Kimmeridge 217) and Tyneham Post Office (Kimmeridge 219). She was unable to explain why they were all odd numbers. Apparently her father worked all his life for the phone company, as had she. And her son and daughter were still working for them! She also identified the box as a K1 236 and noticed the incorrect roof decoration. Paul Fancy, Range Warden More about kiosk designs... Public phone boxes first appeared on our streets around the start of the 20th century. However there were many styles ranging from rustic wooden booths in rural areas to galvanised iron boxes on docksides. Several even had thatched roofs! Additionally colours ranged from conservative buffs and browns to eye-catching vermillion and flame. The General Post Office (GPO) had to find a solution to this confusion. So leading architects were called in to design an attractive, cost-effective kiosk for all our towns and cities. Post Office Red was to become the standard colour. Eight standard kiosk designs were introduced between 1921 and 1983. The K1 was Britain's first standard telephone kiosk. Between 1921 and 1927 the GPO designed three versions. Each had the same reinforced concrete body and wooden door. The kiosk at Tyneham is the third and final version. It was the K6, introduced in 1935 for the Jubilee of George V, that was destined to become a British icon. The decline of telephone kiosks Sadly the 'Red Telephone Box' is declining rapidly with the exponential growth of mobile phone usage. So British Telecom introduced an 'Adopt a Kiosk' for a pound scheme to help save this important part of our heritage. Over 5,000 communities now take care of their local box. Uses include art galleries, defibrillator stations, food banks, libraries and shops plus much more besides! Further information from www.payphones.bt.com/adopt_a_kiosk/HTML/payphone/index.htm www.the-telephone-box.co.uk Page last updated: 3 September 2022

Places – Worbarrow & Surrounds

Worbarrow, Bay & Tout

Worbarrow Coastguard Station Fern Hollow Gate Cottages Hill Cottage Mintern's Cottage Rose Cottage Sea Cottage Sheepleaze The Bungalow MUST SEE: Worbarrow Bay is a beautiful unspoilt location twenty minutes walk from the car park at Tyneham Village. Getting there: Worbarrow lies just over a mile west from Tyneham on the coast. From Tyneham Car Park head south on the unmade road that initially leads towards Tyneham Farm and the toilets. The road then turns right heading away from Tyneham Farm and the toilets in a westerly direction. Follow this track west to Worbarrow Bay. There is a stony beach overlooked by Worbarrow Tout which the more energetic can climb. Swimming is allowed but children should be supervised as the beach shelves steeply as you enter the water. At the time of the 1901 Census, this remote coastal hamlet of seven cottages and a Coastguard Station was home to over fifty people. Coastguard families accounted for more than half that number. When the Coastguard Station closed in 1911, the population plummeted and never recovered. Based around fishing and the nearby school and church at Tyneham, life here had remained unchanged for generations. During the 1930's, with increased car ownership, this beautiful spot became popular with tourists. Enterprising fishermen, supplemented their incomes by selling cooked crabs and lobsters, home-made beer and cream teas. In 1943, the ten remaining residents, most of them elderly, were evacuated from their homes. From White Rose Cottage and the Minterns' house a footpath crossed the little close beside the gardens, dropped to the stream and passing by the garden of Fern Hollow joined the road near Tizzards'. Lilian Bond Sadly no buildings remain intact at Worbarrow. Some foundations remain visible. Much more information about past buildings at Worbarrow including photographs can be found by clicking on the links below: Coastguard Station Fern Hollow Gate Cottages Hill Cottage Lifeboat House Mintern's Cottage Rose Cottage Sea Cottage Sheepleaze The Bungalow Tizzard's Courtesy of Allan Lawton Page last updated: 13 August 2022

Coastguard Station

Worbarrow Coastguard Station Fern Hollow Gate Cottages Hill Cottage Mintern's Cottage Rose Cottage Sea Cottage Sheepleaze The Bungalow The Coastguard Station was demolished over a hundred years ago. A Coastguard Station was established at Worbarrow by the time of the census on 6 June 1841. It was designed to house eight Coastguard men and their families. They increased the population of Tyneham parish by up to 40. Coastguards in charge Coastguards in charge included: 1851: William Lidderdale 1861: John Wingent 1871: George Blunden 1881: Edward Newbery (died in the 1886 tragedy) 1891: John Peek 1894: William Sparrow (appointed 2 February) 1901: John Johns 1911: Station uninhabited Please see our Coastguard Families page for more information. Tragedies Tragedy struck the Coastguard men and their families three times in three decades: In 1865, Charles Baker , Thomas Chope , William Dunn , John Hickey and ? Purnell were drowned. Each left a widow and a total of 19 children lost their father. In 1874, William Skinner aged 41, William Bennett aged 38 and Henry Stroud aged 48 lost their lives. Each left a widow, two of whom were expecting, and a total of 18 children lost their father. In 1886, Edward Newberry , William Marshall and James Sullivan lost their lives. Each left a widow and a total of 15 children lost their father. Please see our Coastguard Families page for more information. Station Closure The Coastguard Station closed by 1911 and was purchased by William Bond who demolished it around 1912 supposedly to stop the cottages being used as holiday homes. After the coastguard went away my father had the old and inconvenient houses taken down but left the wall surrounding the enclosure. Lilian Bond Paving stones from the Coastguard Station were lifted and used to create the pavement in front of The Row . Page last updated: 4 April 2020 Coastguard Station coastguard , coastguard station Comments Off on Coastguard Station 1893: The Royal Wedding THE ROYAL WEDDING. – A tea for the people of Tyneham was given at Warbarrow by the Rev. J. Bond, of Tyneham House, to celebrate the wedding of the Duke of York. At the same time and place Mr. N. Bond, of Grange, gave a tea to the children of... Posted in Newspaper Bond , Chilcott , coastguard station , Filliter , Ward ,

Worbarrow , Wordsworth Comments Off on 1893: The Royal Wedding 1865: Distressing Accident in Weymouth Bay FIVE LIVES LOST On Saturday, March 4, five men belonging to her Majesty's coastguard were suddenly swallowed up in the angry sea. The men, who belonged to the Warbarrow station, about thirteen miles to the westward of St Alban's Head, were returning in their galley from Weymouth with sundry stores,... Posted in Newspaper Baker , Chope , coastguard , coastguard station , Dunn , Hickey , Parnell Comments Off on 1865: Distressing Accident in Weymouth Bay 1865: West Lulworth – The Melancholy Casualty at Sea On Saturday afternoon just before 2 pm, a south south west wind blowing and a heavy sea running the Warborough galley was seen by the watchman at Lulworth returning from Weymouth where she had gone previous evening for Government Stores. She past the cove in safety but about a quarter... Posted in Newspaper Baker , Bale , Chope , coastguard , coastguard station , Dunn , Gildea , Hickey , Miller , Purnell , Williams Comments Off on 1865: West Lulworth – The Melancholy Casualty at Sea 1844: Miraculous Escape Poole, Saturday, April 13 MIRACULOUS ESCAPE. – Lieut. Wilmot, R.N., of the Warbarrow Coast Guard Station, received some severe injuries about a fortnight ago whilst on night duty, he having (owing to the extreme darkness of the night) walked over the highest part of Gadcliff, which is an elevation of... Posted in Newspaper coastguard , coastguard station , Gadcliff , Wilmot Comments Off on 1844: Miraculous Escape

Fern Hollow

Worbarrow Coastguard Station Fern Hollow Gate Cottages Hill Cottage Mintern's Cottage Rose Cottage Sea Cottage Sheepleaze The Bungalow This little house, tucked away in the fuchsias and spiny thickets by the road, was home to Jack Miller's cousin, Charlie, and his wife Harriet. Though the Charlie Millers had no children of their own, Harriet was once a school mistress and their cosy home was often full of young visitors. When evacuated in 1943, they were delighted with the comforts of their new house at Stoborough and fascinated by the electric lights. Unfortunately, ninety three year old Charlie was already sick and died two weeks after moving. Fern Hollow was the home of the Charlie Millers and a very snug and hospitable home they made of it. It faced the sunrise and a view of Baltington Hill and was protected from the gales by the high, scrub-covered bank behind it. The well-stocked garden sloped down to the stream and trapped the sunshine. We often visited Fern Hollow and its kindly mistress. The little house, well hidden by the thickets in the hollow ... Lilian Bond, 1956 Page last updated: 25 August 2020

Gate Cottages

Worbarrow Coastguard Station Fern Hollow Gate Cottages Hill Cottage Mintern's Cottage Rose Cottage Sea Cottage Sheepleaze The Bungalow Standing by the gate at the end of the Worbarrow road one of these cottages was home to the Warr family between 1908 and 1919. Mrs Warr , a local lady, was taught at Tyneham school by Harriet Miller . On the left of the photograph, taken in 1943, is Sheepleaze . Behind the chimney is the roof of a small cottage known as 'Tizzards'. At the turn of the last century it was home to Richard Tizzard , his wife Mary Ann, and their nine children. Above the roof The Bungalow can be seen on the coast path to Flowers Barrow. A later resident of Gate Cottages was Reggie Ware , who had suffered severe shrapnel wounds in the First World War leaving him with stomach injuries and his left arm virtually useless. Reggie was the grandson of John Wheeler , husband of Mary Jane Wheeler who lived at The Bungalow . He owned a succession of cars and added a garage onto Gate Cottage also a fishing boat called the Witch of Worbarrow . Shell of Gate Cottages 2009. Copyright Terry Yarrow. Worbarrow Coastguard Station Fern Hollow Gate Cottages Hill Cottage Sea Cottage Sheepleaze The Bungalow

Hill Cottage

Worbarrow Coastguard Station Fern Hollow Gate Cottages Hill Cottage Mintern's Cottage Rose Cottage Sea Cottage Sheepleaze The Bungalow Hill Cottage, which stood alongside the Coastguard Station , was home to

generations of the 'fishing Millers'. 'Old Henry Miller', his bachelor son Tom, and many of their ancestors had been deeply involved in smuggling whilst living next door to the officers charged with stamping out the trade. On 29 September 1939, the following were living at Hill Cottage: MILLER Thomas W 81 1858 Single Hill Cottage MILLER Minnie 51 1888 Single Hill Cottage WATKINSON Kezia E 71 1868 Widow Hill Cottage WATKINSON Victor P 12 1927 Single Hill Cottage Only the outline of Hill Cottage remains today. Worbarrow Coastguard Station Fern Hollow Gate Cottages Hill Cottage Mintern's Cottage Rose Cottage Sea Cottage Sheepleaze The Bungalow

Mintern's Cottage

Mintern's Cottage Worbarrow Coastguard Station Fern Hollow Gate Cottages Hill Cottage Mintern's Cottage Rose Cottage Sea Cottage Sheepleaze The Bungalow Mintern's Cottage Inland from The Bungalow , in a hollow by the stream, this cottage was home to the Mintern family for nearly fifty years. Tommy fished with his partner 'Tarry' Samways and also kept cows and chickens. In 1908, after having six daughters, Tommy and Sarah had a son. Tragically, 'Billy' drowned, aged 15, whilst fishing in Worbarrow Bay. In 1943, two of the Mintern girls were still at their small holding, supplying the Tyneham valley with milk, butter and eggs and 1/- teas for tourists. Mintern's Cottage featured in a postcard Page last updated: 6 March 2020

Rose Cottage

Worbarrow Coastguard Station Fern Hollow Gate Cottages Hill Cottage Mintern's Cottage [Rose Cottage] Sea Cottage Sheepleaze The Bungalow Rose Cottage was home to Jack & Miggie Miller until 1913 and was named after Miggie – her maiden name was Rose. The small cottage had roses growing around the door. From White Rose Cottage and the Minterns' house a footpath crossed the little close beside the gardens, dropped to the stream and passing by the garden of Fern Hollow joined the road near Tizzards'. Lilian Bond In her book, "Tyneham: A Lost Heritage", Lilian Bond wrote in 1956: 'The earliest caravan arrived at Worbarrow over fifty years ago and caused a small sensation. Its owners, the three sisters Thompson, drove it from Surrey with a hired horse and parked it in the field by White Rose Cottage. Rose Cottage was later home to Arthur Stockley and family. Page last updated: 26 August 2020

Sea Cottage

Worbarrow Coastguard Station Fern Hollow Gate Cottages Hill Cottage Mintern's Cottage Rose Cottage Sea Cottage Sheepleaze The Bungalow Sea Cottage stood proudly close to the shoreline of Worbarrow Bay . In 1840 , when the Tithe Map was prepared, it was owned and occupied by Samuel Miller (1763-1848) and his wife Elizabeth Miller nee Bradford (1763-1846) . Samuel was the grandson of Worbarrow resident Henry Miller (1680-1747) . Subsequent generations of the Miller family lived at Sea Cottage until the forced evacuation in December 1943 . Sea Cottage from the shoreline c. 1910 Sea Cottage, occupied by the Joseph Millers and afterwards by the Jacks, stood close to the shore with nothing but a narrow, buttressed path between it and the shingle. Lilian Bond Sea Cottage c.1930 The derelict cottage is featured on Tyneham Action Group postcards Sea Cottage stood above the rocky beach alongside the boathouse slipway, facing the South Westerly gales. For over thirty years it was home to Old Henry Miller's son Jack Miller , his wife 'Miggie' (Alice White Rose) and her mother Martha, a lively, quick witted East Ender known to all as Granny Rose. In 1943 Jack and 'Miggie', both aged 77, were evacuated to a cottage at Langton Matravers near Swanage. Only the foundation bank now remains

Sheepleaze

Worbarrow Coastguard Station Fern Hollow Gate Cottages Hill Cottage Sea Cottage Sheepleaze The Bungalow Sheepleaze, with its views across Worbarrow Bay to the Isle of Portland In 1910, with permission from landowner, William Bond , this substantial stone house was built on the cliff above the beach by London barrister, Warwick Draper . Warwick's three children, and, by the late 20's, their young families, spent almost every summer at their holiday residence. When the Government decided to retain the land requisitioned in 1943, Warwick's eldest son Philip Draper was furious. He fought hard to regain Sheepleaze using a wide range of influential London friends. In the 70's he became a leading figure in the Tyneham Action Group 's campaign to get the Army out of the Tyneham valley so that its former residents and families could have the option to return. Also see The Draper Family 1923: Letter to the Wiltshire Times The proposed Tank School at Lulworth Sir: Permit me, on behalf of the residents and, more particularly, the fisherman of this bay, two miles east of the Tank Corps gunnery range near Lulworth, to urge the public and national need for preventing this monstrous local nuisance. Mr. R. D. T.... Posted in Newspaper Draper , Sheepleaze Comments Off on 1923: Letter to the Wiltshire Times

The Bungalow - Worbarrow

The Bungalow Worbarrow Coastguard Station Fern Hollow Gate Cottages Hill Cottage Sea Cottage Sheepleaze The Bungalow ||| Photograph courtesy of Charlotte Heath Initially built as a small bungalow, in 1912, the Bungalow was extended over the years. By 1920 it was already a very sizeable seven bedroom residence as demonstrated by the for sale by auction notice below. The accommodation comprises 7 Bedrooms, 2 Bathrooms, 3 Reception-rooms, Billiard-room, and Offices. Stable and Coach-house. Electric Light. Central Heating throughout. Tennis Lawn. Rockery. Sunk Rose Garden. Small Greenhouse. Summer-house. Flagstaff. In all about Half-an-Acre. It was home to Mary Jane Wheeler , widow of John Wheeler , a Midlands' cotton magnate. After she died in 1932 her four adopted children continued to visit with their families and friends. See the Wheeler family page. In September 1939, Thomas Henry Chambers , an ex-marine seeking work was living at the property with his wife Annie Florence Chambers nee Rose . She was the sister of Ernest Percy Rose who drowned at Worbarrow on 16 June 1923. At the time of the evacuation in December 1943, Mary Wheeler's niece, Miss Ethelwyn Maude Ellis , known as Maud, was living at The Bungalow. Page last updated: 8 September 2022

Baltington

Off Limits Baltington Charnel North Egliston Povington South Egliston Tyneham House Tyneham Rectory Up Under Barrow Whiteway Off Limits: Baltington is strictly off limits at all times. Baltington lies to the north west of Tyneham . Sadly the area is off limits. Baltington Farm Baltington anciently was a manor but by 1774 was just a farm. The History and Antiquities of the County of Dorset by John Hutchins published in 1774 The Bath Chronicle, 2 June 1791 What Three Words location of farmhouse entrance = Rucksack Kickers Clearly (switch to satellite view) Farmers of Baltington have included: 1861 – William Shetler Hull – see Hull family page 1871 – James Symes Hull 1881 – James Symes Hull 1891 – James 'Arthur' Chilcott 1899-1911 – James Bascombe 1911-1943 – Albert Bernard Longman – see Longman family page In 1932, Albert Longman employed Mr. S Allen, an engine driver Page last updated: 2 March 2024

Off-Limits Areas

Off Limits

Whiteway Off Limits Baltington Charnel North Egliston Povington South Egliston Tyneham House Whiteway

Tyneham House

Off Limits Baltington Charnel North Egliston Povington South Egliston Tyneham House Tyneham Rectory Up Under Barrow Whiteway ||| Off Limits: Tyneham House was home to the Bond Family who owned Tyneham for many generations. Since Tyneham was evacuated in 1943 Tyneham House has become a shell. It is strictly off limits. Brief history of Tyneham House Tyneham House was built by Henry Williams between the years 1563 and 1583 . It incorporated a mediaeval ' Great Hall ' believed to date from the 14th Century and known as the ' Old House ' north-west wing was added c.1590 . The north-west wing was extended in the 17C to include a servants hall and additional bedrooms . The Bond Family purchased Tyneham House and estate in 1683 . Substantial changes were made c.1820 to the whole section behind the rooms on the Elizabethan east-front and the mullioned windows on the east front were replaced with sash windows starting lower down north porch was added in 1861 telephone was installed in 1935 Tyneham House was requisitioned in 1941 as an administration centre for the radar station at RAF Brandy Bay and to accommodate the W.A.A.F.s working there. Tyneham House was requisitioned by compulsory purchase in 1952 1968 parts of the house were dismembered and removed to other sites Even the mediaeval section was not immune from dismemberment, although it was afforded some ' protection ' in the form of a corrugated-iron roof Tyneham House alteration dates Mediaeval Wing Originally the ' Great Hall ' built in 14C by the Russell Family Sub-divided c.1567 to include fireplace with brick oven and chimney stack Floor later inserted dividing building into two storeys , winding stone staircase added and upper windows inserted Mediaeval lintel and stone door surround ripped out c.1968 Stone roof tiles removed c.1975 as weight considered too heavy for mediaeval roof trusses and replaced by corrugated-iron roof Old House – the 14C 'Great Hall' From North-East Tyneham House from In and Around the Isle of Purbeck 1907 Photo courtesy of Toddy Hoare Photo courtesy of Barbara Swinburne From South-East c. 1927 Photo courtesy of Barbara Swinburne Photo courtesy of Barbara Swinburne Image courtesy of Google 3D . Only the Elizabethan Great Hall was 'protected' . The demise of Tyneham House Lilian Bond 's account makes clear some damage was caused by the WAAF s and RAF including destruction of drains which caused the cellar to flood. Sir Arthur Bryant , the Tory historian, visited the house in 1949 and commented 'its stone roof was overgrown with creepers and brambles' and 'a few more years of the present neglect and nothing will remain'. John Gale of The Observer visited Tyneham House in 1952 and commented that its windows were 'grotesquely blindfolded with sheets of black corrugated iron' and that the garden had 'run wild amid barbed wire'. Apparently an architect reported to the Ancient Monuments Commission in 1958 that the internal construction was beyond repair and that reconstruction would cost £30,000. In 1966 a MOD spokesman informed writer Michael Frenchman that although the house had never been adopted as a target, they were discussing the possibility of pulling it down. The windows were still securely boarded, but it was uncertain whether this was to keep vandals out or to stop people seeing the havoc wrought by shell fire and delay. Thieves had been able to steal the lead from the roof and the rot had set in a long time ago. By 1968 The Times reported the MOD was in the process of completing the dismemberment of Tyneham House. Tyneham House is just one of 2,000 of England's lost country houses – see complete list . The steps from Tyneham House were removed to Bingham's Melcombe , a private house and estate not open to the public. The north porch doorway stone surround from Tyneham House now stands proudly at the head of 'The Canal' at Athelhampton House . The Canal, Athelhampton House Oak panelling and a mantel piece from a bedroom were moved to the Dorset County Museum , now the Dorset Museum . Photo courtesy of Mark White Location of Tyneham House What Three Words location for 1583 east porch of Tyneham House = intervene.unstable.singles (switch to satellite view) Extract from 1908 publication, courtesy of Pete Ross : General – The present house, which is certainly the finest example extant of the sixteenth century manor houses of the Isle of Purbeck, was built by Henry Williams between the years 1563 and 1583. The later date is given on the porch, and Hutchins records the fact that about the year 1820 a doorway, leading to a spiral staircase, was destroyed, in the spandrels of which were the initials H.W. and the date 1567. The house is built of Purbeck stone, which has been quarried on the estate, and is roofed with local stone tilestones. The roof was an open one with arch-shaped struts to the rafters, the lower order of which were ornamented with a cusped pattern. Mr. Thomas Bond, in his article in the Purbeck Society Papers on the Ancient manor Houses of Purbeck, states that "Its date has been assigned by an 'experienced antiquary and professional architect in the time of Edward III., but I am inclined rather to place it late in the following century." He then goes on to consider the historical side of the question, but makes no deduction from it. As far as the very battered remains are concerned either date may be equally correct, such distinctive features as it had have long since vanished: on considering the families to which the house belonged the probability seems to be that any extensive rebuilding would be done by the Russells, as we know they were a much wealthier family than the Chicks, who would have done the work were Mr. Bond's surmise correct. In one of the outbuildings there is a fine oak roof, or rather the remains of one, in situ; the probability is that this is the position of the ancient hall. Access to it is obtained through a late fifteenth century door, much defaced. Exterior – The main front of the present house faces east. It is perfectly plain ashlar work, three floors high, the top one of which is lighted by three dormer windows, formed by carrying the wall up and finishing with small gables. In the centre of this front there is the old porch, over the door of which is the date 1583. This is illustrated, as also is this side of the house. The porch has a simple round arched opening with the usual architrave. There are two somewhat meaningless consoles, one on each side supporting a pilaster strip panelled on the face, the whole is crowned by a small entablature and cornice. The shield bearing the date is in the tympanum, and in the angles of the two spandrels are two shields bearing the arms of Bond (ancient) and Bond (of Cornwall) on the dexter and sinister sides respectively. The jambs are relieved by a chamfer wave mold, capped by a plain ovolo with a necking below. This molding is, however brought out square and overhangs the angles to the amount of the chamfer. The jamb mold stops on a small bead which is somewhat curiously cut, and beneath it gradually curves out until it dies into the square faces, and on to a chamfer at the angles. Internally the arch and jamb are molded with the wave on the chamfer. The carelessness of the workmen of the period is well shewn by the fact that, on the left hand side, the console cannot rest its entire width on the impost. The lower windows were formerly glazed in three lights with mullions, similar to those above, and a transom, but these were removed about 1820 by the grandfather of the present owner, and sash windows inserted. In making the windows lower to accommodate the sashes the heavy molding on the plinth appears to have been a difficulty, but this was eventually overcome by breaking the molding round below each window. The effect is curious. The other sides of the buildings are similar in design, but not the dormer windows. The ends of the blocks are finished with gables. Internally – The interior suffered considerably from "modernisation" in the early part of the eighteenth century, but in one of the bedrooms a fine specimen of an early seventeenth century carved oak overmantel and chimney-piece survived. An illustration is given of this. The small shields shown on the frieze were inserted in recent times, they represent i. Bond (ancient) imp. Lawrence. ii. Bond (ancient) quarterly with Bond of Cornwall. iii. Bond (ancient) imp. Williams, reading from the dexter side. The shields are planted on to acanthus leaf console brackets, and do not look as incongruous as might be expected, as by their tinctures they supply a pleasant touch of colour. Between these brackets the frieze is ornamented with a strapwork design, of the usual type, with a volute motif. The brackets are carried on pilaster strip, the faces of which are ornamented with another form of acanthus set in a strapwork frame; the panels between have a curious ornament, in low relief, with a lion's face in the centre and a debased acanthus leaf at the corners. Below this a horizontal molding, enriched with another acanthus, is carried across the whole width; it has a rounded upper member separated from a cyma recta by a slight projection and a flat fillet. This serves to divide the overmantel from the mantelpiece. The vertical lines of the design are again emphasised in the lower part by console brackets similar to those described in the frieze, which are carried on fluted shafts of a Roman Doric type, the ovolo of which has an egg and tongue enrichment. Between the lower consoles the panels have a somewhat elaborate strapwork design with rather crudely carved faces worked into it. The ornament as a whole is bolder and in higher relief than in the usual work of the period, but, although it must have looked very well originally, the varnish with which the whole has been covered has destroyed its sharpness. In the room there is also a carved frieze of about the same date. There is a considerable amount of panelling left in the house, but it has all been painted. Most of it is made up with the large panels beloved of the eighteenth century, but there are some remains of older work. 1968: Dorset manor house being given away By Rita Marshall The Ministry of Defence has been giving away some of the last surviving parts of the derelict fourteenth-century Tyneham manor house, which for the past 25 years has been on the Lulworth artillery range, Dorset. Brigadier Martin (Mark sic) Bond, the head of a family that had... Posted in Newspaper Athelhampton House , Mark Bond , Tyneham House Comments Off on 1968: Dorset manor house being given away 1936 – Tyneham Rectory Roof / Garden Fete TYNEHAM RECTORY ROOF – URGENT NEED OF REPAIR – GARDEN FETE WITH TWO-FOLD OBJECT The raising of funds towards meeting the cost of urgently-necessary repairs to the roof of the Rectory, the residence of the Rev. and Mrs. G. Clifford Frend, was the primary object of a fete held on... Posted in Newspaper fete , Frend , Rectory , Sauer , Tyneham House Comments Off on 1936 – Tyneham Rectory Roof / Garden Fete 1935: Tyneham House let Tyneham House, Corfe Castle, a Dorset property that dates from 1580 and has been owned by one family for 250 years, has been let furnished on lease by Messrs. James Styles and Whitlock (St. James Place). Published by The Times, Thursday 31 October 1935 Posted in Newspaper Sauer , Tyneham House Comments Off on 1935: Tyneham House let 1866: Tyneham – The Gale A violent storm burst over this neighbourhood on Sunday last, endangering life and doing considerable damage to property in this locality. An old man who acted as parish clerk at Tyneham for many years was blown completely off his legs and very much shaken by the fall, and when he... Posted in Newspaper Bond , gale , parish clerk , Tyneham House Comments Off on 1866: Tyneham – The Gale Page last updated: 3 September 2022

Charnel

Off Limits Baltington Charnel North Egliston Povington South Egliston Tyneham House Tyneham Rectory Up Under Barrow Whiteway Off Limits: Charnel is strictly off limits at all times. The former lifeboat shed at Charnel Charnel lies on the coast to the south east of Tyneham . Sadly the area is off limits. Former properties include: Lifeboat Shed

North Egliston

Off Limits Baltington Charnel North Egliston Povington South Egliston Tyneham House Tyneham Rectory Up Under Barrow Whiteway Off Limits: North Egliston is strictly off limits at all times. North Egliston (formerly Egglestone) lies to the east of Tyneham . Sadly the area is off limits. Former properties include: North Egliston Farm Radar Buildings

North Egliston Farm

Off Limits Baltington Charnel North Egliston North Egliston Farm [Radar Buildings] Povington South Egliston Tyneham House Whiteway Off Limits: North Egliston is strictly off limits at all times. North Egliston Farm 1943 North Egliston Farm 1943 North Egliston Farm courtesy of Graham Horn North Egliston Farm – Google 3D North Egliston 1900 – Ordnance Survey Map Notice of farm to let in November 1929 following the death of farmer Charles William Howard the year before Notice of forced sale on 7 December 1943 on behalf of Herbert John House North Egliston Farm residents have included: 1851 George Smith & family Edward Roberts & family John Cluns & family 1871 George Gover & family 1881 William Allen Johnson (1855-1935) [farmer] 1891 George Mead & family William Charles & family William Vye & family 1901 Frederick Thomas Way (1864-1943) [farmer] & family William Charles & family Henry Charles 1911 Charles William Howard (1860-1928) [farmer] & family – Charles was the brother-in-law of former farmer Frederick Thomas Way and had taken over by 1906 William Charles 'Charles' Gale (1886-1964) [farm carter] & family Charles Best Herbert Brown [farm labourer] & family 1921 Charles William Howard (1860-1928) [farmer] & family – Charles continued as farmer until his death in 1928 James Smith & family 1931 Herbert John House (1889-1958) [farmer] & family 1939 Herbert John House (1889-1958) [farmer] & family Robert Taylor & family 1943 Herbert John

South Egliston

Off Limits Baltington Charnel North Egliston Povington South Egliston Tyneham House Tyneham Rectory Up Under Barrow Whiteway Off Limits: South Egliston is strictly off limits at all times. South Egliston (formerly Egglestone) lies to the south east of Tyneham . Sadly the area is off limits. Anciently it was a manor but by 1774 was just a farm. The History and Antiquities of the County of Dorset by John Hutchins published in 1774 If Tyneham was quiet and remote, South Egliston was yet more isolated, unget-at-able except by rough grass tracks from Kimmeridge and the Tyneham valley. Lilian Bond Former properties include: South Egliston House South Egliston Cottage Sticklands Cottage Black Cottage South Egliston was neighboured closely by two South Tyneham houses, one of them occupied as a holiday home by Mr. Drew , the Wareham ironmonger, the other by the cattleman in charge of the young stock grazing on South Tyneham. Lilian Bond The 'holiday home' referred to by Lilian is believed to have been South Egliston Cottage . Page last updated: 7 March 2020

Black Cottage

Off Limits Baltington Charnel North Egliston Povington South Egliston South Egliston House South Egliston Cottage Sticklands Cottage Black Cottage Tyneham House Whiteway Off Limits: South Egliston is strictly off limits at all times. In the autumn of 1993 ... we unearthed a forgotten tar-walled stone house at the lower end of this bristling thicket ... Patrick Wright Ordnance Survey Map published 1902 Former residents are believed to have included: 1911 Alfred White & family [stockman] The name of the cottage in general use from the time Alfred White lived there appears to have been White Cottage. 1921 Courtenay Mostyn Robinson (1882-1956) & family 1943 Courtenay Mostyn Robinson (1882-1956) & family Page last updated: 7 March 2020

South Egliston Cottage

Off Limits Baltington Charnel North Egliston Povington South Egliston South Egliston House South Egliston Cottage Sticklands Cottage Black Cottage Tyneham House Whiteway Off Limits: South Egliston Cottage and the whole of South Egliston are strictly off limits at all times. South Egliston Cottage with Verandah House , at S. Egliston, W. of (4), consists of an 18th-century cottage of one storey and attic built on a two-room plan and an early 19th-century addition to the W. of two full storeys with a verandah to the S. The verandah roof is carried on moulded timber standards and decorative timber arches with trellis spandrels. There is a further addition of uncertain date to the E. (Ruinous) 'Tyneham', in An Inventory of the Historical Monuments in Dorset, Volume 2, South east (London, 1970), pp. 299-303. British History Online <http://www.british-history.ac.uk/rchme/dorset/vol2/pp299-303> [accessed 7 March 2020]. Ordnance Survey Map 1902 with places identified South Egliston was neighboured closely by two South Tyneham houses, one of them occupied as a holiday home by Mr. Drew, the Wareham ironmonger, the other by the cattleman in charge of the young stock grazing on South Tyneham. Lilian Bond The 'holiday home' referred to by Lilian is believed to have been South Egliston Cottage. South Egliston Cottage residents have included: 1943 Commander Godfrey Edward Hammond House (1894-1980) & family property owned by Harry Hammond House (1863-1958), former Assistant Master at Malvern College Page last updated: 13 August 2022

South Egliston House

Off Limits Baltington Charnel North Egliston Povington South Egliston South Egliston House South Egliston Cottage Sticklands Cottage Black Cottage Tyneham House Whiteway Off Limits: South Egliston House and all of South Egliston are strictly off limits at all times. My twice great-grandfather, John of Tyneham and Grange, purchased the

property in 1760, giving it to his second son, the Reverend Denis, at that time the incumbent of Steeple-cum-Tyneham, who built the house and spent the greater portion of his life in it until his death at the age of 87. Lilian Bond Great-uncle Nat of Grange, when he succeeded to South Egliston, built on additions to the house and my husband's parents used it as a holiday cottage for their family. My mother-in-law had a particular affection for the place and loved to spend long periods of the summer there with relays of her eleven sons and daughters. Lilian Bond (4) House , at South Egliston (899797), of two storeys with walls of stone rubble and roofs covered with stone slates, was built early in the 18th century on a T-shaped plan with two panelled living rooms in the main S. part and the staircase occupying part of the back wing. The original windows had moulded stone architraves and were mostly of two lights with stone mullions. Early in the 19th century the ground-floor windows to the S. were enlarged to form French windows and a loggia added. The S. part was then extended by the addition of a third room on the W., fitted with original windows taken from the back wing, and additional service rooms were added later to the N.W. (Derelict) 'Tyneham', in An Inventory of the Historical Monuments in Dorset, Volume 2, South east (London, 1970), pp. 299-303. British History Online <http://www.british-history.ac.uk/rchme/dorset/vol2/pp299-303> [accessed 7 March 2020]. There is a plan of the "Mansion House" known as "South Egglestone" in the Dorset History Centre, dated 1912. R. J. Saville, 2009 The Dorset Poll Book for 1807 indicates that only one resident of the parish of Tyneham had the vote at that time: the Revd. Thomas Bond of "Eggleston". R. J. Saville, 2009 Tithe Map 1840 showing original T shape of South Egliston House Near the top of the wood the pathway came out in a clear , open glade and beyond it appeared the charming low Georgian cottage with its row of French windows and long paved verandah. Lilian Bond Ordnance Survey Map published 1902 with properties identified The small semi-circular grass plot in front of the house was ringed with bright flowering shrubs, hydrangeas and fuchias, montbretia and myrtle, and sheltered by ilexes, sycamores, chestnuts and yews. A peephole cut out in the trees framed a view of the sea. Lilian Bond South Egliston House residents have included: 1790 Rev. Denis Bond (1719-1795) 18?? Nathaniel Bond 1911, 1915, 1919, 1921, 1923 Leonora Sophia Bond (1871-1956) Louise Charlotte Bond (1866-1963) In July 1921, The Misses Bond placed South Egliston at the disposal of Walter Bond and his new bride Margaret nee Farquharson for the last few days of their honeymoon 1939 Ivy Gladys Bartholemew nee Share (1886-1974) Beatrice Ivy Lilian Bartholemew (1909-2006) 1943 Ivy Gladys Bartholemew nee Share (1886-1974) Page last updated: 8 September 2022

Sticklands Cottage

Off Limits Baltington Charnel North Egliston Povington South Egliston South Egliston House South Egliston Cottage Sticklands Cottage Black Cottage Tyneham House Whiteway Off Limits: South Egliston is strictly off limits at all times. Stickland's Cottage lies at the southern end of the South Egliston Gwyle in the south-east corner of Tyneham parish. It was home to generations of the Stickland Family . In addition to the main cottage, there were some outbuildings that doubled up as 'spare rooms' for guests of the Tyneham Estate. Like all other properties in the parish of Tyneham, Stickland's Cottage was requisitioned in December 1943. William Louis Stickland (1872-1947) and his wife Nellie were forced to leave. Sadly little remains of the cottage today. Ordnance Survey Map published 1902 With special thanks to William Louis Stickland 's great-grandson Jonathan Reid for his help in compiling this page and providing images Page last updated: 20 March 2020

Povington

Off Limits: Povington is strictly off limits at all times. Povington lies to the north of Tyneham and east of Whiteway . It was home to many families over the generations. Sadly the whole area is off limits and its former residents are often forgotten. It is now home to an automated railway-based moving target system for firing practice. Below we show the likely location of the former properties of Povington based on information from various sources and personal accounts. Properties immediately west of Povington Farm Properties immediately north-east of Povington Farm Batty Corner Farm In 1943, F P Cooper was the occupier. Black Cottage Black Cottage was home to the Singleton family for a short period before they moved to Pine Tree Cottage . Heath Cottage In 1943 , the occupier was Richard John Way (1867-1957) . Heather Cottage Jiggerton Corner In 1943 the occupier was William Joseph 'Joseph' Cooper (1871-1961) . Keepers Cottage Orchard Cottages Pine Tree Cottage Pine Tree Cottage was home to the Singleton family. Povington Farm Povington Farm was farmed by: James Chilcott (1825-1909) from c.1861 to c.1890 Job Churchill (1848-1931) from c.1902 to 1915. Thomas Walter Wrixon (1885-1960) from c.1916 to 1943. Primrose Cottage Primrose Cottage was home to builder George Stewart Chapple (1879-1942) in 1942. He was buried that year in Tyneham Churchyard. At the time of the evacuation in 1943, Helen Dorothy Allday , a midwife at Cornelia Hospital, Poole was understood to have lived in the property. Searley's Holding / Farm In 1841 the occupier was George Searly . In 1943 the occupier was Arthur James Cooper (1884-1969) . Victoria Cottage Page last updated: 6 September 2023

Black Cottage

Off Limits Povington Black Cottage Heath Cottage Heather Cottage Orchard Cottages Pine Tree Cottage Povington Farm Primrose Cottage Searley's Farm Victoria Cottage Whiteway Farm Off Limits: Black Cottage and the whole of Povington is strictly off limits at all times. Black Cottage 1943 Rear of Black Cottage 1943 Black Cottage was home to the Singleton family for a short period before they moved to Pine Tree Cottage .

Pine Tree Cottage

Off Limits Povington Black Cottage Heath Cottage Heather Cottage Orchard Cottages Pine Tree Cottage Povington Farm Primrose Cottage Searley's Farm Victoria Cottage Whiteway Farm Off Limits: Pine Tree Cottage and the whole of Povington is strictly off limits at all times. Pine Tree Cottage (front) Pine Tree Cottage (back) Pine Tree Cottage was home to the Singleton family.

Povington Farm

Off Limits Povington Black Cottage Heath Cottage Heather Cottage Orchard Cottages Pine Tree Cottage Povington Farm Primrose Cottage Searley's Farm Victoria Cottage Whiteway Farm Off Limits: The ruins of Povington Farm and the whole of Povington are strictly off limits at all times. Povington Farmhouse (front) 1943 Povington Farmhouse (back) 1943 Povington Farmhouse (from north-west) 1943 Location of Povington Farm Povington Farm was farmed by Job Churchill (1848-1931) from c.1902 Povington Farm was farmed by the Wrixon family from c.1916 to 1943. Page last updated: 15 August 2022

Primrose Cottage

Off Limits Povington Black Cottage Heath Cottage Heather Cottage Orchard Cottages Pine Tree Cottage Povington Farm Primrose Cottage Searley's Farm Victoria Cottage Whiteway Farm Off Limits: Primrose Cottage and the whole of Povington is strictly off limits at all times. Primrose Cottage (front) 1943 Primrose Cottage (back) 1943 Primrose Cottage was home to George Stewart Chapple in 1942. At the time of the evacuation, Helen Dorothy Allday , a midwife at Cornelia Hospital, Poole was understood to have lived in the property. Page last updated: 15 August 2022

Searley's Farm

Searley's Farm Off Limits Povington Black Cottage Heath Cottage Heather Cottage Orchard Cottages Pine Tree Cottage Povington Farm Primrose Cottage Searley's Farm Victoria Cottage Whiteway Farm Off Limits: Searley's

Farm and the whole of Povington is strictly off limits at all times.

Victoria Cottage

Off Limits Povington Black Cottage Heath Cottage Heather Cottage Orchard Cottages Pine Tree Cottage Povington Farm Primrose Cottage Searley's Farm Victoria Cottage Whiteway Farm Off Limits: Victoria Cottage and the whole of Povington is strictly off limits at all times. Victoria Cottages were home to the following families: Cooper family 1939 Frank and Blanche Cooper Merry family Fred & Louisa Merry. In September 1939 they were host to several evacuees.

Up Under Barrow

Off Limits Baltington Charnel North Egliston Povington South Egliston Tyneham House Tyneham Rectory Up Under Barrow Whiteway Off Limits: Up Under Barrow is strictly off limits at all times. Up Under Barrow lies on the track from Baltington to Worbarrow . Up Under Barrow Cottages from the north 1943 Up Under Barrow Cottages from the south-west 1943 Ordnance Survey Map published 1902 Former residents are believed to include: 1939 Percy Victor Holland (1903-1991) & family Percy Kerley (1886-1959) & family Page last updated: 15 August 2022

Whiteway

Off Limits Baltington Charnel North Egliston Povington South Egliston Tyneham House Tyneham Rectory Up Under Barrow Whiteway Off Limits: Whiteway Farm and the whole of Whiteway are strictly off limits at all times. Properties immediately north and north-east of Whiteway Farm Whiteway , sometimes referred to as West Whiteway, lies to the north of Tyneham and west of Povington . Sadly the whole area is off limits and its former residents are often forgotten. Former properties at Whiteway include: Whiteway Farm Whiteway Farm is sometimes referred to as West Whiteway Farm as there is another Whiteway Farm in the parish of Church Knowle. The History and Antiquities of the County of Dorset by John Hutchins 1774 Salisbury and Winchester Journal 16 September 1842 The following persons are understood to have farmed at Whiteway: 1859 to 1867 – John James Benn ett 1871 – Amelia Parmiter 1875 – Sophia Parmiter 1880 to 1884 – Edmund Hanson Smith (1846-1896) 1890 – Henry Butt 1903 to 1911 – James Moore 1919 to 1923 – Edward Burden 1927 – William Runyard 1931 to 1935 – Herbert Henry Dowle (1887-1962) 1939 – Jane Gillies Turle nee Gray (1908-2000) was managing Whiteway Farm on behalf of her husband Rear Admiral Charles Edward Turle (1883-1966) 1943 – John Henry Sampson (1892-1953) Western Gazette 17 September 1943 Farwell's Cottages The following persons are understood to have lived at Farwell's Cottages/Holding: 1939 – Harriet Laws nee Ellis (1866-1949) Page last updated: 11 March 2024

Whiteway Farm

Off Limits Whiteway [Farwell's Cottages] Whiteway Farm Off Limits: Whiteway Farm and the whole of Whiteway are strictly off limits at all times. Salisbury and Winchester Journal 16 September 1842 Whiteway Farm 1943 The following persons are understood to have farmed at Whiteway: 1859 to 1867 – John James Bennett 1871 – Amelia Parmiter 1875 – Sophia Parmiter 1880 – Edward Smith 1890 – Henry Butt 1903 to 1911 – James Moore 1919 to 1923 – Edward Burden 1927 – William Runyard 1931 to 1935 – Herbert Henry Dowle (1887-1962) 1939 – Jane Gillies Turle nee Gray (1908-2000) was managing Whiteway Farm on behalf of her husband Rear Admiral Charles Edward Turle (1883-1966) . 1943 – John Henry Sampson (1892-1953) Page last updated: 5 April 2020

Family Histories

Families

■Home Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z A-E || Balson Barnes Bond Brachi Chilcott Churchill Cleall Dando | Davis | Draper Driscoll | Elmes | Everett F-J || Gould Grant Hawkes Hole Holland Homan House Howard Hull K-O || Longman Lucas Meech Miller Minterne Mores P-T || Pritchard | Richards | Singleton | Smith | Spencer / Spincer | Stickland Taylor Tizzard U-Z || Upshall Ware Warr Way Wellman Wheeler Whitelock Woadden Woodman Wrixon

A-E

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z Balson Barnes Bond Brachi Chilcott Churchill Cleall Dando Davis Draper Driscoll Elmes Everett

Balson

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z Balson's Gap and Malhala's Fortune by Roy Martin In her book, Tyneham, A Lost Heritage , Lillian Bond wrote: "The first of the Tyneham woodmen that I remember was a Balson ... Old Balson was a little, wiry man as gnarled and woody looking as a tree root. His clothes, well weathered by long use, were the traditional corded leggings and a thick leather coat, topped by a round and ear-flapped headdress of brown fur." She goes on to describe him at some length, then says: "His home was in the heath at Povington and he walked to his work, taking as near as possible a bee line over the hill. The track worn by his daily journeys in the course of the years out lasted him for many more, and the place in the hedge where he climbed from the North Hill into Madmore continued, long after his death, to be known as Balson's Gap ." To learn about his cottage, which was in the hamlet of Whiteway , we need to go back to earlier William Balsons. The first recorded William Balson (1759–1835) was the son of a John Balson ; he married Elizabeth Miller in January 1789. The Millers were, and still are, a fishing family. Their first child Thirza was born in the same year, and their second Mahala arrived in 1791. Their sons Henry and John were born in 1802 and 1804 respectively; there may have also been a William who died young. The next son, Robert , went on to farm at Creekmoor near Poole, where he was described as a Yeoman. William II , William and Elizabeth's last recorded son, was born in 1811. He seems to have remained in Purbeck. This William married Elizabeth Snelling (various spellings) on 23 May 1830. They were both nineteen and their first child, a daughter Kizah , was born four months later. The first entry in Henry Roll's Journal is: " Wm Balson began bildding his house at Whiteway this spring of 1833, over the lake south of the road going to Povington. They went into it in the spring of 1834." As William I was an old man by now, he died at Tyneham in 1835, the builder seems to have been William II. By this time William II and Elizabeth had a son, John. William chose well; though the site was on the edge of the heath the chalk steam known as Luckford Lake flowed past. This not only gave a constant supply of clean water, it also neutralized the acid heathland soil. If needed more chalk could be wheeled down from the nearby pit. How did William get to know of the site? It could be that he had a night job, guiding the smugglers and the landers through the lonely open country, to get their goods across the River Frome to Bere Regis and even on to the Capital? Early in the journey they would have had to cross Whiteway or Povington Hill. Could it have been this Balson, and his convoy, who first made Balson's Gap? His Miller in-laws would probably been involved! William's sister Mahala was twenty years older than him, she had never married. An unnamed child of William and Elizabeth Balson was christened at Corfe Castle on 30 December 1791: as their other early children were also christened at Corfe, it is probable that this was Mahala. In the 1841 Tyneham census Mahala and her mother Elizabeth are described as paupers; but ten years later she was recorded as an annuitant. By the time she made her will in February 1855 Mahala was living in Wareham. She bequeathed almost five hundred pounds to various members of the family. Her first, and worst, choice was her nephew James, the son of the yeoman Robert. She left

this young man £300. Robert was obviously upset that James should have been chosen and only left him five shillings in his own will. James was, or became, a ne'er-do-well; he seems never to have owned a house or land and spent two spells in Dorchester prison. One of Mahala's other bequests was fifty pounds to William III, who later took over the house at Whiteway; he is the Balson that Lillian Bond wrote about. He was my great grandfather. How did an elderly spinster end up with a fortune deposited in the Dorchester Bank? Some have said that she was generous, though not free, with her favours. It is difficult to imagine that she amassed the equivalent of fifty years wages in that way! Others say that the money came from smuggling, but why then did she have it and not the others? It is difficult to imagine that she, or the men, would have taken £500 in cash to Dorchester or even to a Wareham branch; without the Magistrates, and the whole County, becoming aware. The name Mahala is unusual, but not unknown in Dorset. It also occurs in many other languages, including Zulu, where, as Malhala, it means 'free of charge' or a gift. Thank you to Anne Lyons for sending me copies of the wills of Mahala and Robert and my brother Eric Martin for pointing out the possible South African connection. Luckford Lake marks the western extremity of the Isle of Purbeck. Roy V Martin, December 2014 Families [A-E][F-H] War Dead Balson , Bascombe , Chilcott , Cleall , Holland , Homan , McPeak , Meech , Taylor Comments Off on War Dead Balson Balson Comments Off on Balson Hollow Ditch and a Hollow Promise by Roy Martin Hollow Ditch Farm was at West Creech; about one kilometre, five furlongs, north-west of Creech Grange, which we knew as Grange House. The farmhouse and outbuildings seem to be built mainly of sandstone, with brick corners. The farmers who lived there were tenants of the Bond family.... Posted in Guest post Balson , Charles , Martin Comments Off on Hollow Ditch and a Hollow Promise Balson's Gap and Malhala's Fortune by Roy Martin In her book, Tyneham, A Lost Heritage, Lillian Bond wrote: "The first of the Tyneham woodmen that I remember was a Balson ... Old Balson was a little, wiry man as gnarled and woody looking as a tree root. His clothes, well weathered by long use, were the traditional corded... Posted in Guest post Balson , Miller Comments Off on Balson's Gap and Malhala's Fortune by Roy Martin 1962: Probate Records Herbert John BALSON died 4 May 1962 BALSON Herbert John of 57 Green Road Poole died 4 May 1962. Administration Winchester 15 August (1962) to Gertrude Ellen Balson widow. Effects £280 10s. Posted in Probate Balson Comments Off on 1962: Probate Records

Barnes Family

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z The Barnes family lived at 3 The Row – Post Office from 1910 to 1938 . They left Tyneham before the evacuation. Harry Barnes (1877-1915) Harry Barnes was baptised at Morden on 26 August 1877. He was the son of Thomas and Elizabeth Barnes. Elizabeth was baptised Frances Elizabeth Bridle at Morden on 4 June 1848. Harry was 5ft 7 3/4in tall. When he enlisted as a Gunner with the Royal Garrison Artillery on 27 September 1899 at Fort Rowner his complexion was described as fresh. He had grey eyes, dark brown hair and a scar on his forehead. He gave his age as 22 years 3 months and his occupation as carter. He served in Hong Kong, Singapore, Gibraltar and Sierra Leone. He was discharged at Woolwich on 29 November 1905 as medically unfit. His conduct and character were considered exemplary. He went to live at 51 West Morden. Harry married his cousin, Edith Knight , at East Lulworth on 24 June 1908. Edith was baptised at East Lulworth on 5 October 1884. Her father George Knight was a baker by trade and became sub-postmaster at East Lulworth. Her mother was Emily Caroline Knight nee Barnes , the sister of Harry's father, Thomas. Harry & Edith ran the Tyneham Post Office & Shop and had a daughter, Phyllis May Barnes , born at Bere Regis in 1909, and twins born 21 July 1912, Mona Marion Barnes at 9.30pm and Graham Knight Barnes born at 10pm. Edith was the postmistress through to the 1930s. "Mrs. Barnes took over when Mrs Pitman retired and the general stores then became a Post Office as well. It was hardly big enough, what with parcels waiting to be collected, bags of flour and soda having to be stacked upon the floor and all the provisions Mrs. Barnes was required to stock. Business was brisk indeed, but I wondered whether we should soon not be able to get into the shop for clutter." Helen Taylor, 1994 Harry died on 1 August 1915 at Smithfield and his widow Edith married Scotsman James Forgan Herd (1892-1943) at Tyneham on 22 May 1920. By September 1939, Edith and James were living at Crossways near Dorchester. James died in March 1943. He was living at Windyhooks, Mill Lane, Wareham at the time and was buried at Wareham. Edith, widowed for the second time, died at Poole General Hospital in January 1971 and was buried at Wareham. Phyllis May Barnes married Arthur William Stockley in 1934 and they were living at Rose Cottage at Worbarrow in 1939. Phyllis died in 1987. Mona Marion Barnes married Luigi Pantanella in 1939 and died in 1969 aged 57. Graham Knight Barnes died in 1957 aged 45. With thanks to Brian Bradley for providing additional information for this feature. If you have any photographs or information to share on this or other pages, please email us at the contact address shown on our page Page last updated: 31 August 2022

Biles

The Biles family lived at Rectory Cottages from 1910 to 1914.

Bond Family

The Bond Family purchased Tyneham including Tyneham House in 1683. The Bonds also acquired Creech Grange (in the neighbouring parish of Steeple) in 1686 and Holme Priory (in the parish of East Holme) in 1690. Below, the names of Bond family members who owned or lived at Tyneham are followed by the # symbol Nathaniel Bond (1634-1707) # Nathaniel purchased Tyneham in 1683 from the Lawrence Family. Nathaniel was born on 14 June 1634. He was the son of Denis Bond (1588-1658) and his wife Lucy Bond nee Lawrence . 1 Nathaniel married Elizabeth Churchill on 21 December 1667. Sadly Elizabeth died in childbirth on 18 December 1674. Nathaniel married Mary Browne nee Williams on 3 August 1675. Nathaniel and Mary had two sons: Denis Bond (1676-1746) # – married widow Leonora Sophia Dummer nee Colt but had no children John Bond (1678-1744) – married Margaret Williams and had two sons Nathaniel was Member of Parliament for Corfe Castle for one term (1679-1781) and Member of Parliament for Dorchester for two terms (1681-1685 & 1695-1698). He also held the position of the King's Sergeant-at-Arms . In 1683 Nathaniel purchased Tyneham from the Lawrence Family . Nathaniel's second wife Mary was a descendant of the Williams Family that had owned Tyneham before the Lawrence Family. Nathaniel completed his estate acquisitions with the purchase Creech Grange in 1686, which became his main residence, and Holme Priory in 1690. Nathaniel died on 31 August 1707 and was buried at Steeple. Denis Bond (1676-1747) # Denis inherited Tyneham in 1707 on the death of his father Nathaniel Bond (1634-1707) Denis was born on 10 December 1676. His parents were Nathaniel Bond (1634-1707) and his second wife Mary Bond nee Williams . Denis married Leonora Sophia Dummer nee Colt on 6 July 1729. She was the widow of lawyer Edward Dummer who had died five years before. Her parents were Sir William Dutton Colt and Mary Colt nee Garneys . Denis died on 30 January 1747 without male issue. Ownership of Tyneham then passed to his nephew John Bond (1717-1784) . John Bond (1678-1744) His parents were Nathaniel Bond (1634-1707) and his second wife Mary Bond nee Williams . John married Margaret Williams and they had the following children: John Bond (1717-1784) # – Revd. Denis Bond (1719-1795) – Nathaniel Bond (1723-1790) – John Bond (1717-1784) # John inherited Tyneham in 1746 on the death of his uncle Denis Bond (1676-1747) . John was the son of John Bond (1678-1744) (the younger brother of Denis Bond (1676-1746)) and his wife Margaret Bond nee Williams . John married Mary Dummer (1717-1787) at St Paul's Cathedral, London on 17 July 1749. John and Mary had the following children: John Bond (1749–1749) – died in infancy Leonora Sophia Bond (1749-1750) – died in infancy John and Leonora Sophia's joint baptism on 21 March 1749 at St. George's, Hanover Square, Westminster – sadly both died in infancy Margaret Sophia Bond (1751-1820) – married widower Revd. John Methuen Rogers (1748-1834) John Bond (1753-1824) – John of Grange Nathaniel Bond (1754-1823) – Nathaniel of East Holme – Member of Parliament for Corfe Castle 1801-1807 – died at East Holme on 8 October 1823, 'debilitated and reduced to a skeleton', leaving Holme to his nephew Nathaniel, another younger son. Thomas Bond (1756-1833) # – Thomas of Egliston and Wool Bridge Revd. William Bond (1757-1852) # – William of Tyneham Mary Bond (1760-1842) – married Captain Nicholas Caeser Corsellis R.N. (1763 -1833) at Bath Abbey on 10 August 1796 – Nicholas had eleven illegitimate children by his mistress, Sarah Plampin of Essex. Capt. Nicholas Caesar Corsellis R.N. John was particularly skilled in the writings of the best Greek and Roman authors. He had studied the constitution of his own country, which he thoroughly understood. He contributed greatly to the peace and happiness of the people in his neighbourhood, as from the general esteem in which he was held he was usually applied to as arbiter in their differences ... Many of his leisure hours were spent in improving and embellishing his estate. Revd. Denis Bond (1719-1795) # Denis was Rector of Tyneham and Steeple from 1742 until his death in 1795. the son of John Bond (1678-1744) arm Wadham College Oxford matriculated 29 March 1737 aged 18 BA 1740 MA 1743 of Tyneham & Egliston in the isle of Purbeck. In 1789 Denis was living at South Egliston while Charles Richards was living in the Rectory. 2 John Bond (1753-1824) John inherited Creech Grange in 1784 on the death of his father John. John was Member of Parliament for Corfe Castle from 1780 until February 1801. John married Elizabeth Lloyd (1765-1846) at St. Luke's Church, Old Street, Finsbury, London on 20 August 1798. John and Elizabeth had the following children: John Bond (1802-1844) – John Bond of Grange – Member of Parliament for Corfe Castle 1823 & 1825 – High Sheriff of County of Dorset 1830 – did not marry – died without issue Nathaniel Bond (1804-1889) – Leonora Sophia Bond (1806-1836) Thomas Bond (1756-1833) # Thomas looked after the Tyneham estate on behalf of his brother. Revd. William Bond (1757-1852) # William inherited Tyneham in 1784 on the death of his father John Bond (1717-1784) . William was born 1757. He was the son of John Bond (1717-1784) and son of John of Steeple Dorset arm Wadham College Oxford matriculated 24 Oct 1775 aged 18; BA 1779; MA 1783; Rector of Steeple with Tyneham 1795; canon residentiary of Bristol William married Jane Biggs at Stockton, Wiltshire on 28 April 1794. William and Jane had eight children, two of whom died in infancy: Mary Bond (1789-1872) – died as an infant Mary Bond (1798-1872) – died as an infant William Bond (1799-1846) – called to the Bar in 1824 and in 1842 became Metropolitan Magistrate at Westminster Police Court – did not marry Jane Bond (1799-1875) – Rev. John Bond (1801-1898) – Rev. Henry Bond (1804-1875) – Thomas Bond (1805-1893) – called to the Bar – practised as conveyancer – did not marry – lived with older brother William William built the South Transept at Tyneham Church for the exclusive use of the Bond family leaving the North Transept for the congregation. The seats became known as 'the Cowstalls'. Revd. John Bond (1801-1898) John John never married. "For over fifty years the living of Weston was held by a fine old English gentleman named John Bond, a member of an old Dorsetshire family whose home was at Tyneham on the coast. He went to Weston as a very young man, actually nominated while in deacon's orders, about the year 1827 and retired to Tyneham about 1880, justly loved and honoured by the parish to which he had devoted his life." "I should like before passing on to say that I visited the old Vicar, John Bond, aged 92, several times at Tyneham, where he lived with his younger brother, Thomas Bond, aged 88. They were a fine pair of old gentlemen and I loved to go there and hear the reminiscences of the parish, which were surprisingly bright in a nonagenarian memory. After a few more years he passed away and the handsome Churchyard Cross, designed by Mr. Buckle, is his memorial at Weston. It is made of Ham stone and has not worn too well, so looks almost like an ancient cross. I had some little difficulty in persuading the parish to agree to this form of memorial; it was even suggested by some that a public convenience would be of more practical utility! However, I got them keen about the cross when I told them it was a memorial to the unrecorded dead, and a beautiful monument for all parishioners who could not afford gravestones, etc. " Archbishop E H Hardcastle John built the Village Fountain at Tyneham in 1853. He also created the Madmore Reservoir at Tyneham from which water to the fountain was piped. In 1862 John built the new north porch at Tyneham House . Revd. Henry Bond (1804-1875) # Henry inherited Tyneham in 1852 on the death of his father Revd. Henry Bond (1804-1875) Henry was born Henry was Vicar of South Petherton, Somerset Henry married Dublin-born Editha Augusta Mary Pomeroy (1829–1899) in Henry and Editha had three children: Edith Mary Bond (1851-1861) William Henry Bond Bond (1852-1935) # – Henry Pomeroy Bond (1855-1946) – born at South Petherton Henry died at South Petherton on 27 September 1875. Revd. Nathaniel Bond (1804-1889) Nathaniel, the second son of John Bond (1753-1824) and Elizabeth Bond nee Lloyd , inherited Creech Grange in 1852 on the death of his elder brother John had died in 1844. Nathaniel married Mary Hawkesworth (1815-1881). Nathaniel and Mary had six children: Leonora Sophia Bond (1837-1862) – married John Ramsay (1831-1895) John Bond (1838-1849) – died at age 11 Nathaniel Bond (1840-1910) – married Selina Jane Scott (1843-1891) daughter of John 2nd Earl of Eldon Dennis William Bond (1842-1863) – George Hawkesworth Bond (1845-1891) – Member of Parliament for East Dorset (1886-1891) – did not marry – buried at East Holme John Lloyd Bond (1856-1857) – Nathaniel built Tyneham School in 1860. Nathaniel Bond (1840-1910) Nathaniel married Selina Jane Scott

(1843-1891) , daughter of John 2nd Earl of Eldon , and had twelve children, one of whom died in infancy: John Wentworth Garneys Bond (1865-1948) – Louisa Charlotte Bond (1866-1963) – did not marry Denis Raynard De Kenton Bond (1868-1868) – died in infancy Gerald Denis Bond (1869-1925) – Leonora Sophia Bond (1871-1956) – did not marry Rachel Adela Bond (1872-1950) – married Captain Paul Warner Bush R.N. on 18 September 1900 and had three sons Revd. Raymond Alured Bond (1873-1941) – married Mildred Glyn on 4 October 1899 and had two children Claude Nathaniel Bond (1874-1942) – Kenneth Duncombe Bond (1875-1968) – married actress Jessie Bateman (1877-1940) in 1939 Nigel De Mundeville Bond (1877-1945) – married Dorothy Ella Hambro (1876-1953) Herbert Ivo de Kenton 'Ivo' Bond (1879-1953) – married Lilian Mary Garneys Bond (1887-1890) of Tyneham Walter de Grey Bond (1882-1956) – married Margaret Farquharson (1886-1968) William Henry Bond (1852-1935) # William inherited Tyneham in 1875 on the death of his father Revd. Henry Bond (1801-1875) . William was born at South Petherton, Somerset on 27 May 1852 and baptised there on 15 July 1852. His father Revd. Henry Bond (1804-1875) was Vicar there from 1832 or before until his death in 1875. William married Mary Caroline Meysey Thompson (1851–1949) at St Marylebone on 2 July 1878. William and Mary lived at Fryern Court , Burgate near Fordingbridge. They had two sons and three daughters: Algernon Arthur Garneys Bond (1879-1911) – 'Algy' was born on 21 June 1879 – he was severely wounded at the Siege of Ladysmith in the South African War – he died on 13 June 1911 at the Military Hospital, Calcutta, India 3 William Ralph Garneys Bond (1880-1952) – see below Edith Cicely Garneys Bond (1884-1979) – married Lewys Legge Yeatman (1879-1962) at Tyneham on 6 September 1910 and had five children Lilian Mary Garneys Bond (1887-1980) – Lilian was born on 20 March 1887 – she married Herbert Ivo de Kenton Bond (1879-1953) , known as 'Ivo', on 18 January 1914 – he was the son of Nathaniel Bond and Selina Jane Bond nee Scott – Lilian wrote "Tyneham – A Lost Heritage" in 1956 – she died on 12 August 1990 Margaret Helen Garneys Bond (1892-1988) – known as Margot William died on 11 January 1935 and was buried at Tyneham. In 1937 his widow Mary visited Norway with daughter Margaret. Mary died on 1 January 1949 after the evacuation and so was unable to be buried with her husband. She was laid to rest at Dorchester. William Ralph Garneys Bond (1880-1952) # Ralph inherited Tyneham on the death of his father William Henry Bond (1852-1935) Known as Ralph, he was educated at Eton and New College, Oxford. He served in the Sudan political service from 1905 to 1926 and was governor of Fung (1922-24) and of Dongola (1924-26). He was a Justice of the Peace for Dorset, having qualified at the 1927 Midsummer Quarter Sessions, and was a member of the Wareham and Purbeck Rural Council. He was High Sheriff of Dorset in 1945. Ralph married Evelyn Isabel Bond nee Blake (1884-1954) . Evelyn was the person who pinned the note on to the church door in 1943 saying "Please treat the church and houses with care. We have given up our homes where many of us lived for generations to help win the war to keep men free. We shall return one day and thank you for treating the village kindly'. After the evacuation, Ralph and Evelyn moved to Moigne Combe House, built by Henry Pomeroy Bond in 1900. Ralph and Evelyn had two children: Henry Mark Garneys Bond (1922-2017) – see below Elizabeth Mary Garneys Bond (1921-2010) – married Sir David Philip Williams (1909-1970) , Third Baronet of Bridehead and had three children – Elizabeth was High Sheriff of Dorset in 1979 – in later years she lived at The Stable House, Moigne Combe Henry Mark Garneys Bond (1922-2017) Mark inherited Tyneham in 1952. He served in Royal Green Jackets and became Major-General and Brigadier. He was High Sheriff of Dorset in 1977. He lived at Moigne Combe House until his death in 2017. Bond Family Main menu The Bond Family purchased Tyneham including Tyneham House in 1683. The Bonds also acquired Creech Grange (in the neighbouring parish of Steeple) in 1686 and Holme Priory (in the parish of East Holme) in 1690. Below, the names of Bond family members who owned or lived at Tyneham... Blake , Bond Comments Off on Bond Family Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – B Images of gravestones are arranged in alphabetical order of surname Bascombe In Memory of E. M. B. who died July 2nd 1827 aged 18 months Note: The mason appears to have carved 18 months in error. Elizabeth was aged just 8 months when she died. IN LOVING MEMORY OF JAMES THE BELOVED HUSBAND OF BESSIE ELIZA... Bascombe , Bond Comments Off on Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – B 2008: History wakes up By Nick Churchill BENEATH the muck and dust of ages, Tyneham's centuries-old farm is stirring. For nearly 65 years all that has moved through its stables and stalls are bats, creepy-crawlies and the odd range warden – but a new project is under way that will see these buildings restored... Posted in Newspaper Bond , Churchill , Price , Smith , Tyneham Farm Comments Off on 2008: History wakes up 1980: Death of Lilian Margaret Garneys BOND nee BOND Deaths: BOND. – On 12th August, 1980, Lilian, aged 93, widow of Ivo Bond, daughter of William Bond of Tyneham, Dorset. Funeral service at St. Mary's Church, Dorchester on Tuesday, 19th August at 11.30 am, followed by cremation at Weymouth. No flowers by request. Enquiries please to Grassby & Sons,... Posted in Obituary Bond Comments Off on 1980: Death of Lilian Margaret Garneys BOND nee BOND 1945: Dorset's new Sheriff Mr. William Ralph Garneys Bond, of Tyneham House, Corfe Castle, Dorset's new sheriff, was born in 1880, was educated at Eton and New College, Oxford. He served in the Sudan political service from 1905 to 1926 and was governor of Fung (1922-24) and of Dongola (1924-26). He is a Justice... Posted in Newspaper Bond , Sheriff Comments Off on 1945: Dorset's new Sheriff 1910: Forthcoming Marriages Mr. L.L. Yeatman-Biggs and Miss Cicely Bond The marriage of Mr. Lewin Legge Yeatman-Biggs, son on the Bishop of Worcester and the late Lady Barbara Yeatman-Biggs, to Miss Cicely Bond, daughter of Mr. William H. Bond, of Tyneham House, Wareham, Dorset will take place on September 6 at Tyneham Church.... Posted in Newspaper Bond Comments Off on 1910: Forthcoming Marriages 1910: Parish Meeting The annual parish meeting was held in the Schoolroom on Saturday evening, the Rector (the Rev. C. S. Homan) being in the chair. Mr. W. H. Bond 1 proposed the re-election of Mr. Homan 2 as chairman. Mr J. Bascombe 3 seconded, and it was carried unanimously. Messrs. Job Chilcott... Posted in Newspaper Bascombe , Bond , Chilcott , Homan , Smith , Telegraph Comments Off on 1910: Parish Meeting 1893: The Royal Wedding THE ROYAL WEDDING. – A tea for the people of Tyneham was given at Warbarrow by the Rev. J. Bond, of Tyneham House, to celebrate the wedding of the Duke of York. At the same time and place Mr. N. Bond, of Grange, gave a tea to the children of... Posted in Newspaper Bond , Chilcott , coastguard station , Filliter , Ward , Worbarrow , Wordsworth Comments Off on 1893: The Royal Wedding 1866: Tyneham – The Gale A violent storm burst over this neighbourhood on Sunday last, endangering life and doing considerable damage to property in this locality. An old man who acted as parish clerk at Tyneham for many years was blown completely off his legs and very much shaken by the fall, and when he... Posted in Newspaper Bond , gale , parish clerk , Tyneham House Comments Off on 1866: Tyneham – The Gale Page last updated: 17 September 2022 Dorset History Centre, D-53/1 Title A private chronology of Denis Bond, Esq. of Lutton in the Isle of Purbeck year 1634 "My Sonne Nathaniell born 14 June [] Land Tax Assessment 29 June 1787 [] Probate Calendar 1912 []

Brachi Family

Charles Clarence Brachi (1881-1960) Charles Clarence Brachi was born at Islington, London on 22 January 1881. He was the second of seven children born to Peter Charles Brachi (1856-1945) and his wife Clara Harriet Brachi neé Fry (1857-1935) . His father was a Tobacco and Snuff Manufacturer. By 1891, the family moved from Islington to East Barnet. Charles attended Leamington College and represented them at cricket from 1897 to 1900. He then went on to Cambridge and represented them at cricket, rugby and rowing. By 1901 the family were living at Hampstead. In 1911, Charles, then aged 30, was an Assistant Schoolmaster at Kings School, Peterborough . He served with The King's Own (Royal Lancaster Regiment) from 1913 to 1920, rising from Second Lieutenant to Captain. He fought at Gallipoli and was mentioned in dispatches. While in the Army, Charles married Winifred Mary Ellis (1883-1942) at Tyneham on 10 June 1915. Just 15 days later he was photographed with D Company, 10th (Service) Battalion at Kingsbridge in South Devon. Capt. Charles Clarence Brachi, back row, centre After WW1 Charles became an instructor in the Royal Flying Corps and the family lived in Sleaford, Lincolnshire and later Berkhamstead, Hertfordshire. Charles later was given the title Squadron-Leader . Charles died on 26 May 1960. Winifred Mary Brachi neé Ellis (1883-1942) Winifred was born in 1883 to Robert Owen Ellis (1839-1905) and his wife Elizabeth Ellis neé Matthews (1854-1897) . She was the fifth of seven children. When Winifred was 13, her mother Elizabeth died of post partum infection. Winifred was brought up by Elizabeth's sister, Mary Jane Wheeler neé Matthews , in Bournemouth and later at The Bungalow, Worbarrow . Winifred's father Robert, a Draper's Assistant, died when Winifred was 21. In later years, Winifred lived in Hertfordshire at Mill House, Bourne End, Boxmoor. She died at West Hertfordshire Hospital at Hemel Hempstead on 9 September 1942. Children of Charles and Winifred Brachi Charles and Winifred had three children: ● David Peter Brachi (1916-1983) David was born in

Wareham Hospital on 3 November 1916. During his childhood, David often stayed at his great aunt Mary Wheeler's home, known as The Bungalow, on the cliffs overlooking Worbarrow Bay. During WW2, David worked at the Allied Central Interpretation Unit at Medmenham, Buckinghamshire. His future wife, known as Joan, also worked there but their paths did not cross until 1945. They married in 1946 and later settled in Hull, where David was appointed lecturer in the geography department of the University. David and Joan holidayed in Dorset regularly and, in the early 1950's, they bought an old coastguard cottage at Kimmeridge, which they regularly visited with their four sons during school and university vacations. In the mid-1970's David and Joan retired to Kimmeridge where David did most of the original groundwork for a book on the history of Kimmeridge. After his death in 1983, his widow Joan took over the compiling of this book and it was later published under the title 'The Kimmeridgians'. I remember them all well. We used to stay in the adjacent coastguard cottage in Kimmeridge Bay. CH Joan Brachi was a lovely lady and we visited her often in both Kimmeridge and Corfe after she moved there. BS ● Elizabeth Anne 'Anne' Brachi (1918-2009) Anne, also born in Wareham hospital, married Vincent Gerard Doyle (1914-1999) in 1946 at Chelsea. Their eldest son David lives in Kinsale in the south-west of Ireland and he and his wife Angela regularly visit Tyneham and Worbarrow. ● Mary Winifred Brachi (1922-2012) Mary was born at Sleaford in Lincolnshire where her father was based at the time. She worked as a physiotherapist in Midhurst, Sussex and in 1964 married Hartley Sharpe and moved to live in Spain. Her husband died in 1979 and Mary lived on the coast in Sussex for many years, eventually moving to Ireland to be near her sister Anne. She died in Kinsale, Co. Cork, Ireland in December 2012. The three children spent a large part of each year at Worbarrow and they regarded The Bungalow as home. After Mary Jane Wheeler's death in 1933, their aunt, Elizabeth Maude Ellis, continued to run The Bungalow and the Brachi family continued to spend time there after until it was requisitioned in 1943. Page last updated: 4 November 2022

Chilcott Family

The Chilcott family lived at Povington Farm by 1861 until 1909 and at Baltington Farm by 1884 until at least 1895 James Chilcott (1825-1909) James was born at West Knighton, Dorset in 1825 and baptised there on 9 September 1825. His parents were James Chilcott (1796-1849), a farmer, and his wife Mary Virtue Chilcott nee Grant (1801-1886). He was the second of their four sons. By 1841 the family were living at Warmwell, Dorset where James senior's occupation was now miller. The family employed a servant Joshua Ellis. James senior died on 18 April 1849 aged 53 and was buried at his birth village of Powerstock (Poorstock), Dorset. 1 On 12 July 1849 James, now a miller, married Elizabeth Sarah Cole (1816-1891) at Winfrith Newburgh. 2 By 1851 James was farming at Burton in Winfrith Newburgh parish. James and Elizabeth had three children: Mary Jane Chilcott (1853-1932) – Mary remained a spinster and lived with brother Arthur & family after their father's death in 1909 James Arthur 'Arthur' Chilcott (1855-1933) – see below William Chilcott (1857-1908) – see below By 1861 James and family had moved to Povington Farm in Tyneham parish. He was farming 300 acres and employed three men and three boys. Wife Elizabeth died in January 1891 aged 73 and was buried at Wool, Dorset. James served as the Rector's Churchwarden for 23 years. James died on 28 May 1909 aged 84 of heart failure. He was buried in Tyneham churchyard. Western Gazette, 4 June 1909 James Arthur 'Arthur' Chilcott (1855-1933) 'Arthur' lived at Tyneham from before 1861 but had moved to Luton Farm, Steeple by 1901. Arthur was born at East Burton, Dorset and baptised at Winfrith Newburgh on 13 March 1855. Arthur was the Enumerator for the 1891 Census of Tyneham. Arthur married Mary Caroline Lawrence (1857-1940) at Okeford Fitzpaine, Dorset on 14 March 1883. Dorset County Chronicle, 24 July 1884 Arthur and Mary had the following children: Minnie Florence Chilcott (1883-1901) – Minnie was attending Clarendon House School at West Borough, Wimborne in April 1901 – sadly she died on 19 May 1901 aged 18 Reginald Arthur Cole Chilcott (1884-1968) – Reginald was the Enumerator of the 1911 Census of Steeple – married Amy Brown (1892-1977) – in 1915 Reginald and brother Bernard were farming at Bere Farm, Organford Bernard Gerald Lawrence Chilcott (1886-1917) – in 1915 Bernard and brother Reginald were farming at Bere Farm, Organford – Bernard then served in WW1 as a siege battery gunner with the Royal Garrison Artillery in France & Flanders – sadly he was killed in action serving his country on 28 December 1917 Percy Ernest

Edgar Chilcott (1889-1985) – married Eva May Howard (1895-1972) at Tyneham on 28 April 1918 – Percy and Eva emigrated to Canada Ethel Irene Chilcott (1890-1981) – married Arthur Horlock (1889-1968) at Lytchett Minster, Dorset, on 18 April 1923 Gladys Lillian Chilcott (1902-1958) – married Leslie John Rothwell (1904-1978) in 1938 in Middlesex he was an inspector in the Post Office engineering department – they had one child, a son Bertram Anthony Rothwell (1942-2023) . By 1921 Arthur had retired as was living at Heath Cottage, Lytchett Matravers, Dorset with wife Mary, youngest daughter Gladys and Arthur's sister also Mary. Arthur died on 5 July 1933. His effects were valued at £6,896 9s 7d. William Chilcott (1857-1908) William died on 17 December 1908 aged 49, six months before his father James. He was buried in Tyneham churchyard. Page last updated: 2 March 2024 Powerstock Burial Register entry 740, 24 April 1849 [] Winfrith Newburgh Marriage Register entry 88 []

Churchill Family

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z Job Churchill (1848-1931) by Ruth Lancaster Job was one of several children of Henry Churchill of Greenland's Farm, Studland and a grandson of William and Betty Churchill of Rempstone. Henry had started off working for his father-in-law, John Read, and inherited a lot of land and the farm through his marriage to Harriet Read . Their eldest son, Isaac, was not interested in farming and was a shipbuilder (however Isaac died quite young) and it was left to Job to farm alongside his father, Henry, at Greenland's Farm for the best part of his life, where his main job was a dairyman. Job married Roseanna Eeles , daughter of Thomas Eeles, the Police Superintendant of Wareham. When Henry Churchill died in 1899, Job carried on at Greenland's until buying Povington Farm around 1902. Job and Roseanna had 6 children, including Tom who was a Policeman in Wareham, Ted who helped on the farm and married into the COOPER family, Harriet who married a cousin from the Harris family, Evelyn, who married Arthur Cooper and lived at Steeple and my great grandfather Christopher, a shepherd at Povington Farm working for his father and who married Olave Hilda Greatwood. Olave had come to Tyneham, from Frome, for work with her family, she worked at Tyneham House with her mother, her father was the mechanic. Christopher and Olave lived in a cottage close to Povington farm, with their own 3 young sons, one being my grandfather. Job's wife Roseanna died in 1912 and is buried in Tyneham Churchyard . In 1916 there was a scandal, the elderly, widowed Job Churchill and all his local family went to Wareham market, leaving Christopher (aged 29, married with children) alone at Povington farm with just the local farm servant girl Eva Diffey . Nature took its course and the girl fell pregnant, the local newspapers had a field day & I have read all the reports, it seems that there was a lot of debate as to whether she was 15 or 16 at the time, however she did report to the court that she "enjoyed" kissing him!! Eva's father took on old Job.... can you imagine all this going on in a small place like Povington . Eva Diffey's baby didn't survive and all this, as you can imagine, caused a big family fall out. Old Job refused to speak to Christopher again and Job put Povington Farm up for sale, rather than leave it in his will and in 1917 S W Cottee auctioneers of Wareham sold the farm and all the contents and Job moved to Steeple to retire. Job lived to the ripe old age of 83, eventually moving to Sussex to live with his son Ted who had moved there some years earlier and that is where Job died. Olave stood by her husband, they moved from the area and farmed several Dorset farms before settling on the Longleat estate in Wiltshire, where Olave had lots of relatives. Chris and Olave both lived long and happy lives, celebrating a platinum wedding anniversary (70 years married) and both died in their nineties. I spent many happy times with them both and it was they who installed in me the family history stories. I have an extensive family tree and my name will often pop up when anyone researches the Churchill's of Studland, Rempstone, Corfe, Wareham, Povington /Tyneham and other local families. Sidney George Churchill (1900-1975) In 1939 was farming West Crupton Farm near Maiden Newton. Took over Tyneham Farm from Walter Case Smith not long before the evacuation. Edith Laura Churchill nee Pitcher (1901-1973): Page last updated: 25 June 2021

Cleall Family

Two branches of the Cleall Family lived at Povington CLEALL – BRANCH 1 John Cleall , aged 29, married Hannah Burden , aged 20, on 19 April 1881 at Chaldon Herring, Dorset. John and Hannah had at least nine children, three of whom later lived at Povington: William John Cleall (1882-1957) – married Alice Child (1887-1965) and lived in Sussex Francis Henry Cleall (1884-1943) – Florence Lucy Mary 'Lucy' Cleall (1886-1963) – married William James Turner (1883-1966) in 1907 Thomas George Cleall (1888-1890) – died in infancy aged 22 months Charles Job Cleall (1890-1917) – Daisy Annie Mabel Cleall (1892-1893) – died in infancy aged 12 months Walter James Cleall (1894-1984) – Elizabeth Sarah Annie Cleall (1896-1981) – married Frederick Simpson (1888-?) Hannah died in 1900 aged 38 when her youngest daughter was just 4. John died aged 54 with his death registered in the first quarter of 1906. Francis Henry 'Frank' Cleall (1884-1943) Francis Henry 'Frank' Cleall was baptised on 6 July 1884 at Chaldon Herring. In 1911 Frank, aged 26, and his two brothers Charles , aged 21 and Walter , aged 16, were boarding at West Whiteway . Charles Job Cleall was killed in WW1 and is commemorated on the memorial plaque in Tyneham Church . Frank married Frances Amelia Charles of Steeple parish in 1912. Frank died after notice of eviction was served but before the evacuation took place. Private CHARLES JOB CLEALL 113367, 257th Coy., Machine Gun Corps (Infantry) who died age 27 on 02 November 1917 Son of John and Hannah Cleall. Walter James Cleall, aged 25, married Emily Bradford, aged 28 on 12 August 1919 at Tyneham. CLEALL – BRANCH 2 George Cleall (1883-1925) George, born at West Lulworth, was the nephew of John Cleall (see Branch 1 above). George's father was David Cleall (1834-1897) who married Elizabeth Mary Cheeseman (1845-1935) at Warmwell on 10 April 1867. George married Bessie Baggs (1881-1953) at Winfrith Newburgh on 5 December 1917. The tragic circumstances under which George Cleall (43) , a cowman employed at Povington Farm , East Lulworth, met his death whilst returning from Hethfelton Farm with a load of straw on a haorsed waggon, formed the subject of an enquiry by the Deputy Coroner for East Dorset (Mr. R. D. Maddock) at Povington Farm on Monday. Bessie Cleall , of Povington , wife of deceased, giving evidence of identification, mentioned that her husband had been working for Mr. T. W. Wrixon for about 16 months. Deceased was quite well when he left home about 7 a.m. on Saturday, and he had no serious illness. He never complained about his work. There were two children, one aged four years next June and the other 1 year 6 months. War Dead Balson , Bascombe , Chilcott , Cleall , Holland , Homan , McPeak , Meech , Taylor Comments Off on War Dead Cleall Family Main menu Two branches of the Cleall Family lived at Povington CLEALL – BRANCH 1 John Cleall, aged 29, married Hannah Burden, aged 20, on 19 April 1881 at Chaldon Herring, Dorset. John and Hannah had at least nine children, three of whom later lived at Povington: Hannah died in... Charles , Cleall , WW1 Comments Off on Cleall Family Probate 1945 Frances Amelia CLEALL nee CHARLES died 18 February 1944 CLEALL Frances Amelia of 1 West Walls Wareham Dorsetshire died 18 February 1944. Probate Winchester 30 May (1945) to Walter James Cleall storekeeper. Effects £288 10s. 6d. [Frances Amelia Charles was baptised 28 May 1882 at West Lulworth and was living... Posted in Probate Cleall Comments Off on Probate 1945 1925: Farm labourer's fatal accident near Coombe Keynes Fall from Farm Waggon – Bournemouth chauffeur as principal witness The tragic circumstances under which George Cleall (43), a cowman employed at Povington Farm, East Lulworth, met his death whilst returning from Hethfelton Farm with a load of straw on a haorsed waggon, formed the subject of an enquiry by... Posted in Newspaper Cleall , fatal accident , Wrixon Comments Off on 1925: Farm labourer's fatal accident near Coombe Keynes 1906: Tyneham School SCHOOL CHALLENGE SHIELD. – This school has won the challenge shield for the East Dorset Division this year. DR. BARNARDO'S HOMES. – A collection box has been made by the school children in aid of Dr. Barnardo's Homes with the following results: – Irene Knight, 13s 7d; Lizzie Restreux, 11s... Posted in Newspaper Bascombe , Cleall , Dart , Kellaway , Minterne , Pittman , Restreux , School , Taylor Comments Off on 1906: Tyneham School Page last updated: 7 March 2023

Dando Family

The Dando Family lived at Tyneham from 1926 to c. 1929 Joseph Alfred 'Joe' Dando (1912-2002) Joe was born at Radstock , Somerset on 29 March 1912 and baptised there on 26 April 1912. He was the eldest son of miner Oliver James Dando (1888-1941) and his wife Ada Maud Dando nee Butler (1888-1948) . Joe had four brothers, one who died shortly after birth, and a sister. However, Joe left home aged 14 before his three youngest brothers and sister were born. Joe worked as a Servant for the Bond Family at Tyneham House from 1926 until 1930. It was there he met fellow servant Alice Edith 'Rose' Wellman , daughter of Bob & Alice Wellman. Joe then worked for Major Charles Patrick Holroyd at Langton House, Langton Long near Blandford . Joe worked at Langton House. It was demolished in 1951. After the Major's death in 1932, his widow Mrs Coral Holroyd moved to Fritham in the New Forest and Joe worked for her there. Meanwhile Rose secured employment in Lyndhurst to be nearer Joe and she was then invited by Mrs Holroyd to be her housemaid at Fritham to be with Joe. Joe and Rose married in 1934. Joe and Rose had twelve children – seven boys and five girls. Sadly their first-born child Anthony G Dando (1934-1944) died at the age of just nine. Joe and Rose worked for a short while for Cicely Yeatman (William Henry Bond's eldest daughter) at Stock Gaylard . By September 1939 Joe, Rose and son Anthony were at Steeple Leaze Farm . Joe, a farm worker, was also cook for the evacuation camp and Rose, performing unpaid domestic duties, was a St. John's first aider. In 1949, Joe was employed as a dairyman by Mr A Vickery of Kimmeridge Farm . Rose died on 11 May 1992 aged 79 and was buried at Kimmeridge. Joe died on 5 January 2002 aged 89. Also see Wellman Family page Page last updated: 2 September 2023 Dando Family Main menu The Dando Family lived at Tyneham from 1926 to c. 1929 Joseph Alfred 'Joe' Dando (1912-2002) Joe was born at Radstock, Somerset on 29 March 1912 and baptised there on 26 April 1912. He was the eldest son of miner Oliver James Dando (1888-1941) and his wife Ada... Dando , Wellman Comments Off on Dando Family Wellman Family Cox , Dando , Lucas , Stockley , Wellman Comments Off on Wellman Family

Draper Family

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z The Draper Family lived at ' Sheepleaze ' on the cliffs above Worbarrow Bay Warwick Herbert Draper (1873-1926) Warwick lived at Bedford House, Chiswick. It was later home to Sir Michael Redgrave. Bedford House, Chiswick Warwick was a British barrister and self-taught draughtsman/artist. He used the pseudonym "Watchman." Also notable for his sketches (made as a 17-year-old student) of the Eiffel Tower under construction. Warwick married Grace Devitt (1874-1923) in July 1896 . Warwick and Grace had three children: Philip Draper (1902-1979) Christopher 'Christo' Draper (1905-?) Mary Grace Ritchie nee Draper (1907-1965) Grace died on 3 May 1923. The stained glass window in Tyneham Church was dedicated in her memory. Warwick died in 1926. At the time of the evacuation, Sheepleaze was held in the joint names of Philip and Mary. Philip Draper (1902-1979) Philip was born at Chiswick on 30 September 1902. Philip attended King Alfred School, Hampstead from 1915 to 1919. He received private tuition from 1920 to 1921. He attended C. and G. (Engineering) College from 1921 to 1923. From 1923 to 1925 Philip was a Technical Apprentice at John I. Thornycroft and Co. Ltd. at Southampton. Philip later joined the Shell Oil Company . Philip married Jane Esther Lawson (1904-1985) in 1929. They had two daughters. Philip fought hard to regain Sheepleaze using a wide range of influential London friends. In the 1970's he became a leading figure in the Tyneham Action Group 's campaign to get the Army out of the Tyneham valley so that its former residents and families could have the option to return. Philip later lived at Shipstal Cottage on the Arne peninsular. In 1961 he constructed a sea wall, groynes and a slipway there. Philip died in 1979. Christopher 'Christo' Draper (1905-?) Christo was the author of a number of children's books. Mary Grace Ritchie nee Draper (1907-1965) Mary was born in 1907. She married structural engineer James Ritchie , known as Jim, in 1934. Mary & Jim had a daughter Meg and a son John . Mary & Jim were offered the Coastguard Cottages at Kimmeridge in the early 1950s, first as a holiday home, then for son John permanent till the 1970s. Mary lived at Eyot Cottage, Chiswick Mall until 1965. She died on 9 April 1965 at Nuffield House, Guys Hospital, London Bridge. Page last updated: 3 July 2021 Fight for Tyneham The first "Dorset" magazine was launched by Rodney Legg in Spring 1968 and featured Tyneham prominently. The magazine itself was primarily founded as a weapon in his first and best-known campaign: to return Tyneham to the villagers who had been evicted in 1943. John Newth, September 2011 Tyneham Action Group... 1943 Committee , Draper , Gould , Legg , Tyneham Action Group Comments Off on Fight for Tyneham Draper Family Draper Comments Off on Draper Family 2011: Tall story Tall Story: Brilliant sketches by an Englishman which were found in a dusty folder show how the Eiffel Tower was built By Daniel Miller It was a wonder of modern engineering when it was completed in 1890 and remained the tallest building in the world for an astonishing 41 years.... Posted in Newspaper Draper Comments Off on 2011: Tall story 1923: Letter to the Wiltshire Times The proposed Tank School at Lulworth Sir: Permit me, on behalf of the residents and, more particularly, the fisherman of this bay, two miles east of the Tank Corps gunnery range near Lulworth, to urge the public and national need for preventing this monstrous local nuisance. Mr. R. D. T.... Posted in Newspaper Draper , Sheepleaze Comments Off on 1923: Letter to the Wiltshire Times

The Driscoll Family

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z The Driscoll Family lived at 3, The Row , better known as the Post Office , from 1938 until the evacuation in 1943 William Driscoll (1894-1964) & Gwendoline Agnes Jane Driscoll nee Hall (1897-1975) William was born on 22 November 1894 at West Street in Tallow , County Waterford, Ireland to nail maker John Driscoll (1851-1920) and his wife Mary Driscoll nee Walsh (1850-1914) . Snip of William's birth registration The 1901 census shows William aged 6 at West Street, Tallow living with his parents and two brothers, Jerome (Jeremiah) aged 15 and Patrick aged 9. The 1911 census shows William aged 16 again at West Street, Tallow with his parents, but with five boarders all aged 5 or under and no siblings. It also states that John, who was then deaf, and Mary had a total of eleven children, with only William and three others still alive. One deceased child was also named William – he died aged 18 just six months before William number 2 was born. Meanwhile, William's brother Patrick Driscoll was boarding with Timothy Driscoll and his family at Trehafod , in the Rhondda Valley, South Wales. Patrick was then aged 19 working as a coal miner hewer . William's other brother Jerome (Jeremiah) shown on the 1901 census had died in 1908. William's father John made quite a number of appearances at the Petty Sessions, mostly for being drunk: Offences of John Driscoll of Tallow William too made several appearances for being drunk: Offences of William Driscoll of Tallow William's mother Mary died at Tallow on 28 January 1914 of bronchitis. She was aged 64. 1914 also saw William working in South Wales as a coal miner at Windsor Colliery in Abertridwr in the Aber Valley near Caerphilly. Brother Patrick, known as Patsy, was now mining at the Universal Colliery at Senghenydd a few miles away. Both collieries were linked together for ventilation purposes. The pit at Senghenydd was the site of the worst mining disaster in British history a few months earlier when 439 miners lost their lives. On 4 August 1914 Britain declared war on Germany. Just over one month later, on 8 September 1914, William, aged 19 and standing 5 feet 6 1/2 inches tall, enlisted at Abertridwr and joined the Rifle Brigade . On 28 July 1917 he was promoted to the rank of Sergeant in the 13th Battalion, regimental number 3223. Father ran away from his home in Ireland as a very young boy. He worked as a pit boy in South Wales and met my mother there. He spent thirty two years in the Rifle Brigade. Ralph Bond, the last owner of Tyneham, served with this regiment in the First World War and his son, Major General Mark Bond, served with the Rifle Brigade during the Second World War. Lt. Col. Peter Driscoll, 1982 During 1917, William spent two periods in hospital, first for 9 days for scabies and second for 24 days for an injury to his upper right arm. He was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal for bravery. William and brother Patsy were featured in a local newspaper. 1 The above cutting gave 13 Station Terrace, Senghenydd as the home address of both brothers. This was the home of railway platelayer William Hall and his wife Jane Hall nee Fairfax (1878-1937) . William and Jane had six children. Their second child was Gwendoline Agnes Jane 'Gwen' Hall born on 24 August 1897. Gwen came second in the under 16 girls 80 yards race at the 2nd ' Senghenydd Flower Show and Sports ' held on 3 August 1911. Gwen placed second in 80 yard race In 1917 Gwen was working as a booking clerk at Senghenydd railway station. View of Senghenydd with Station Terrace in the foreground, overlooking the station where Gwen worked, and the Universal Colliery where the worst mining disaster in British history occurred. With thanks to Dai the Colliery Boy 2. William Driscoll and Gwen married on 23 March 1918 at Eglwysilan church just over a mile from their home. William was demobilised on 8 January 1919. In July 1919 his brother Patrick was summoned as the alleged father of the child of Mary Lawson Needle of Trealaw which he denied. 2 On 18 July 1919 William and Gwen's first child was born. William's widowed father John died on 11 December 1920 in the Lismore Union Workhouse Hospital. He was aged 78 and had suffered debility for 14 months. By 1922 William was serving in Cawnpore , India where their second child was born. By 1928 William was based at Dalhousie , India where their third child was born. By 1930 they were back in South Wales for the birth of their fourth child. In 1937 the family were living at Winchester, Hampshire. Gwen became Sub-Postmistress at Tyneham Post Office in 1938 and served until the evacuation in December 1943. In 1944, Gwen was living in East Street, Corfe Castle. 3 She was working at a grocery store there in 1945. Gwen later became Sub-Postmistress at Kimmeridge Post Office. William died on 17 August 1964 aged 69. 4 Gwen later emigrated to Rhodesia . She lived at 112 Salisbury Drive, Marlborough, Salisbury, Rhodesia. She died on 18 December 1975 aged 78. As stated earlier, William and Gwen had four children : Bettina Pearl 'Betty' Driscoll (1919-2007) – Betty was born on 18 July 1919 in South Wales – while living at Tyneham Post Office in 1940 she met Harold 'Dugg' Duggleby (1920-2011) who guarded the coastline – Dugg was born on 18 May 1920 near Malton, Yorkshire – the Roll of Assistant Nurses (1947-48) shows Bettina's enrolment date as 21 December 1945 and her permanent address in Norton near Malton, Yorkshire – it is believed Dugg and Betty had three children all born in Yorkshire – Betty died on 20 February 2007 aged 87 and Dugg died on 13 January 2011 aged 90 – they are commemorated in Tyneham churchyard Ilene Joan 'Joan' Driscoll (1922-2014) – Joan was born on 6 March 1922 at Cawnpore, India – in 1939 she was post girl at Tyneham – she married Lloyd Gerald Cornish (1919-2001) in 1943 – the same year Joan qualified as a nurse at Dorset County Hospital – they lived in East Street, Corfe Castle later emigrating to Canada – in 1963 they were at Winchester , Ontario where Lloyd was a District Manager and by 1968 were at Kitchener , Ontario – it is believed Lloyd and Joan had three children – Lloyd died at Vancouver , British Columbia on 16 December 2001 aged 82 – Joan died at Abbotsford , British Columbia on 6 October 2014 aged 92 My sister Joan delivered mail and telegrams throughout the area and knew absolutely everybody. She then trained as a nurse and was sent to the front line with the 14th Army. Colin Driscoll, 2002 Peter James Lewis Driscoll (1928-2020) – Peter was born on 19 May 1928 at Dalhousie, India – he married Mary Evangeline Bryce in 1955 and had two daughters, Anna & Patricia – Peter attained the rank of Lieutenant Colonel – Mary died on 4 January 2015 aged 89. 5 – Peter died on 7 May 2020 aged 91. 6 Colin Lewis Driscoll (1930-2018) – Colin was born on 22 March 1930 in South Wales – he married Janet in 1953 and had a son – Colin died on 5 November 2018 aged 88 With no piped running water in Tyneham my brother Peter and I had the daily chore to collect drinking water from the Tap by the church, but Mondays, with the main wash to be performed, it was a fairly substantial number of buckets to be carted to fill the copper boiler and still be ready to catch the School Bus. Colin Driscoll, 2002 Page last updated: 25 August 2022 Western Mail, 29 October 1917 [] Caerphilly Journal, 12 July 1919 [] Agreement of tenancy, East Street, Corfe Castle D-BKL/A/E/614 [] Probate Register 1964 [] Daily Telegraph [] (Daily Telegraph []

Elmes

Order to remove Ann ELMES from Puddletown to Tyneham 14 April 1753Dorsetshire: Whereas complaint hath been made unto us whose names are hereunto subscribed To of his Majesty's Justices of the Peace of the said County of Dorset Whereof one is of the Quorum by the Churchwardens & Overseers of the Poor of the parish of Puddle Town in the said County Fiat Ann Elmes is Lately come into the said parish of Puddle Town endeavouring to settle herself there contrary to Law. And is shortly to become chargeable there. And upon Examination of the premises on Oath we do find and adjudge the said Anne Elmes likely to become chargeable to the said parish of Puddle Town and that the place of her last legal settlement is in the parish of Tyneham in the Said County of Dorset. These are therefore in this Majesty's name to authorize And require you forth with to Remove the said Anne Elmes out of the parish of Puddle Town into the said parish of Tyneham and her deliver to the Churchwardens & Overseers of the Poor of the said parish of Tyneham or to some or one of them Together with this our Order or a true Copy thereof who are hereby required to receive and provide For her ■ According to the Law And hereof fayle not at Your Perrills Given Under our Hands and Seals the fourteenth day of April 1753 [signed] Jo Meech Sydm Williams To the Churchwardens & Overseers of the Poor of the said parish of Puddle Town to Remove, and to the Churchwardens & Overseers of the Poor of the Sd [said] parish of Tyneham to receive and provide for the Said Ann Elmes With thanks to Trudy Norbury for the above information Summary of removal order :Esther COCKRAM, wife of William COCKRAM, now overseas and Maria and Mary her children to West Lulworth from Tyneham dated 18 July 1795

Everett

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z Members of the Everett family lived at Tyneham from 1890 or before and up to the evacuation in 1943 George Everett (1848-1928) George was born at Broadwinsor, Dorset in 1848 to labourer Thomas Everett (1820-1890) and his wife Maria Everett nee Lane (1815-1887) . George was baptised at St John the Baptist, Broadwinsor on 1 October 1848. On Christmas Day 1870 George, then a labourer, married Kitty Park (1842-1920) at Buckland Rippers, Dorset. George signed the register with his mark. Kitty was born at Corscombe, Dorset to labourer James Park and his wife Sarah Park nee Frampton . Kitty was baptised at Corscombe on 1 May 1842. By 1871 George and Kitty were living at Coryates near Portesham, Dorset. George was an 'ag lab' and Kitty's occupation was given as 'field lab'. George and Kitty had four children together: Samuel James Everett (1871-1937) – married Louisa Haysom Virtue Mary Park Everett (1877-1964) who married Tom Henry Mansbridge Gould (1872-1948) – see Gould family Thomas William Everett (1879-1890) – born at Warmwell – died in a tragic accident in a stone pit at Tyneham George William Everett (1882-1957) – see below Kitty also had a son from a previous relationship: John George Buckler Park (1864-1949) – after leaving Tyneham John moved to London where he married Eliza Augusta Park (1868-1927) and had five children – John was a railway porter in 1911 George and Kitty moved to South Egliston , Tyneham from Warmwell with five children by 1890. Sadly their son Thomas died in a tragic accident at Tyneham that year. In June 1899, there was a Quoit Match at Egliston. Brothers Samuel and George were on the home team against Tyneham but suffered a humiliating 7 games to one defeat. By 1911, George and Kitty had moved to Steeple. Their son George, then aged 29, was living with them along with a lodger, Frank Gould, aged 34. In the 1911 census schedule Kitty was shown as having a total of 7 children from her marriage to George, 4 of whom had died. More investigation is needed. Kitty died at Steeple in February 1920 aged 78. She was buried at Tyneham. See Gravestones page. Widower George returned to Tyneham and died there in May 1928. He was buried in Tyneham Churchyard on 8 May 1928.. George William Everett (1882-1957) George was born at Bincombe, Dorset on 13 May 1882 and was baptised on 23 July 1882. By 1890 the family were living at Tyneham. . – married Lily Jane Hawkins – George and Lily had a son Archibald James Everett (1912-1970) known as Archie. George was employed at Tyneham Farm by Walter Case Smith. When Walter's second wife died in 1938, George and Lily were mourners at her funeral. In 1975, range wardens uncovered villagers' WW2 ration books in an old corrugated iron shed at the back of Tyneham Post Office – among them were Lily's and son Archie's. Archibald James Everett (1912-1970) Archie was born on 21 August 1912. He was nicknamed 'Whippet'. In 1932 Archie, aged 20, was fined 30 shillings. Archie married Hilda Wheeler in 1944. Photo courtesy of Mark White Page last updated: 10 February 2021 Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – E Everett INLOVING MEMORY OF KITT Y BELOVED WIFE OF GEORGE EVERETT DIED JAN 31 1920 IN HER 78TH YEAR PEACE PERFECT PEACE? For more information see Everett family page AT HOME IN MEMORY OF THOMAS W. S. M. EVERETT 1904-1986 DOROTHY V. J. EVERETT NEE DAVIS 1915-1991 MUCH LOVED PARENTS REST IN PEACE For more information see Everett family page Page last updated: 7 June... Everett Comments Off on Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – E Everett Everett Comments Off on Everett Gould Everett , Gould Comments Off on Gould 1975: Tyneham's ration of nostalgia HISTORY stopped at Tyneham 32 years ago. Just before Christmas, 1943, the villagers gave up their homes to make way for an army firing range, and the village died. The villagers of Tyneham never went back. Their bitter and protracted struggle for possession of their homes ended in failure as the... Posted in Newspaper Cato , Driscoll , Everett , Holland , Longman , Ration Books Comments Off on 1975: Tyneham's ration of nostalgia

Coastguard Families

In 1851 , ten coastguard men and their families were living at the Worbarrow Coastguard Station . The Coastguard in charge was William Lidderdale . In total 43 people were living at the station. In 1861 , eight coastguard men and their families were living at the Worbarrow Coastguard Station . The Coastguard in charge was John Wingent . In total 36 people were living at the station. In 1865 , Charles Baker , Thomas Chope , William Dunn , John Hickey and ? Purnell were drowned. Each left a widow and a total of 19 children lost their father. In 1871 , eight coastguard men and their families were living at the station. The Coastguard in charge was George Blunden . In total 40 people were living at the station. In 1874 , William Skinner aged 41, William Bennett aged 38 and Henry Stroud aged 48 lost their lives. Each left a widow, two of whom were expecting, and a total of 18 children lost their father. In 1881 , seven coastguard men and their families were living at the station. The Coastguard in charge was Edward Newbery . In total 35 people were living at the station. In 1886 , Edward Newberry , William Marshall and James Sullivan lost their lives. Each left a widow and a total of 15 children lost their father. In 1891 , seven coastguard men and their families were living at the station. The Coastguard in charge was John Peek . In total 30 people were living at the station. On 2 February 1894 William Sparrow was appointed as Chief Boatman in Charge. In 1901 , seven coastguard men and their families were living at the station. The Coastguard in charge was John Johns . In total 30 people were living at the station. In December 1907 1 , James Barton (at Hastings) was promoted to Chief Boatman. Former Chief Boatman William Dart transferred (to Torquay). A total of eleven coastguards were married at Tyneham Church with eight of these in the ten year period 1841-1850 . A total of 84 coastguard children were baptised at Tyneham Church. 1841-1850 = 18 1851-1860 = 23 1861-1870 = 13 1871-1880 = 13 1881-1890 = 5 1891-1900 = 10 1901-1903 = 2

Grebbell George Grebbell (1822-1900) George Grebbell was born at Stonehouse in Plymouth, Devon in 1822 and joined the Coastguard Service on 19 July 1841 at the age of 19. He married Jane Moore (1828-1884) at Stonehouse in 1847. In 1852, George and Jane were at Kimmeridge and had a son, Frederick John Grebbell baptised there. Unfortunately he died shortly after birth. By 1855, George and Jane had moved to Kimmeridge Coastguard Station with their two children, George Moore Grebbell (1853-) and Edwin John Grebbell (1854-1931), both born in Devon. By the time of the 1861 Census, George and Jane had three more children, Francis William Grebbell (1856-), Emily Grebbell (1858-1941) and Frederick Grebbell (1861-). living in the Coastguard Cottages. The 1861 census listed Francis William as Thomas William. George and Jane had three more children, all born at Kimmeridge: Harriett Grebbell (1862-), Phoebe Caroline Grebbell (1863-1872) and Annie Jane Grebbell (1866-). George moved from the Coastguard Station at Kimmeridge to the Coastguard Station at Worbarrow Bay, and six of their children attended Tyneham School. The school log for 22 November 1872 notes that 'one of the 3rd Standard girls died from brain fever after a fortnight's severe suffering – much regretted by all'. Although not named, the 3rd Standard girl was Phoebe Caroline Grebbell . She was just 9 years old. She was buried at Tyneham on 28 November 1872 (see burial entry below). Phoebe was the subject of an article that appeared in Dorset Life magazine in July 2010 entitled ' A funeral at Tyneham ' written by Ivan Ruff. George Grebbell left the Coastguard Service on 30 April 1873, less than six months after daughter Phoebe's death. The family returned to Plymouth. George's wife Jane died in 1884 and two years later George married Mary Ann Harris . George died in 1900 and Mary Ann in 1910. George and Jane's son George Moore Grebbell married Fanny Louisa Ridout , daughter of John and Elizabeth Ridout (nee Bartlett) of Tyneham. They had a daughter Annie Elizabeth Grebbell who was baptised at Tyneham on 30 July 1882. Fanny was widowed by 1891 and Annie died in 1893 aged 11. George and Jane's daughter Emily Grebbell married William James Geddes (1887-1939) . Sadly Emily was killed in the bombing raids carried out on 29 April 1941 over Plymouth, along with her daughter Emily Elizabeth Glanville and son-in-law Arthur Charles Glanville .

Tripcony Anthony Martin Tripcony (1820-1889) My Great-Great-Grandfather Anthony Martin Tripcony (1820-1889) from St Keverne, Cornwall, was employed in the coastguard service in Worbarrow in the 1850s, just after marrying Harriet Griffin on the Isle of Wight. The first four of their children were baptised in Tyneham Church: Seth in 1853, Elizabeth & Harriet in 1856 and my Great-Grandmother Susannah in 1858. Susannah married Alfred Tadd (1858-1895) in Chichester on Christmas Eve 1880 – she had 5 children: Edward, William, Ernest, Ellen (my Grandmother) & Rosa. Susannah died in Portsmouth on 11 Sept 1926. I found it an extra special place to visit a few years ago and must return soon. Colin Adams, May 2015

Wickerson Herbert Frederick 'Bert' Wickerson (1870-1942) Bert was born on 6 December 1870 at Willingdon, Sussex and baptised there on 5 February 1871. His father Henry was a Rural Messenger. By

1881 the family were living at 5 Old Market, Caves Road , St. Leonards-on-Sea. Unmarried men were rare at the Worbarrow [coastguard] station and caused a flutter in the Tyneham dovecotes when they joined the strength. One such disturber of the peace, Bert Wickerson, was Worbarrow's chief boatman for a number of years. Lilian Bond
Page last updated: 23 July 2021 Hampshire Telegraph, 28.12.1907) []

F-J

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z Godden Gould Grant Hart Hawkes Hole Holland Homan House Howard Hull

Godden

The Godden Family lived at Tyneham from around 1906 until at least 1912 but had left before 1918 William Allan Godden (1872-1952) William, known as Alan, was born at Portesham, Dorset on 11 January 1872 and baptised there on 3 March 1872. He was the son of agricultural labourer Levi Godden (1822-?) and Sarah Godden nee Bussel (1826-1904). In 1881, the family were living at Goose Hill, Portesham and Alan aged 9 attended Portesham school. By 1891, Alan was also an agricultural labourer living with his parents at Front Street, Portesham. Alan married Rose Mary Legg (1880-1971) in late 1897 or early 1898. Alan and Rose had seven children: Annie Rosina Allan nee Godden (1898-1968) – Annie is believed to have married Thomas Cairns Jock Allan although little information – they had a son Anthony William Allan (1927-2009) known as Tony. Gladys Maud Brookes nee Godden (1899-1991) – Gladys was born at Portesham on 9 August 1899 – she married Sidney Brookes in 1922 and they had a son Robert Edward George Brookes (1923-1985) and a daughter Kathleen Edith Mary Ralph nee Brookes (1924-1991) – in September 1939 Gladys and son Robert were living at 4A Nile Street, Portsmouth – Gladys died in 1991 aged 91. Charles Jesse Godden (1901-1982) – known as 'Bus' – was born at Portesham on 2 October 1901 – married Elsie May Godden nee Wilson (1904-1979) in 1936 – was a cordite worker (most likely at the cordite works at Holton Heath – in September 1939 he was at the Cornelia and East Dorset Hospital at Poole – Charles died on 11 January 1982 aged 80 and was buried at Poole Cemetery Nellie May Godden (1903-2009) – Nellie was born on 12 December 1903 at Folke, Dorset – Nellie did not marry – she died on 5 October 2009 at the magnificent age of 105 – she was buried at Wareham Florence Beatrice Alice Dolton nee Godden (1905-1993) – 'Florrie' was born on 13 July 1905 at Bradford Peverell, Dorset – Florrie married George Henry Dolton (1905-1991) in 1931. In 1939 they were living at 37a Spring Road, Bournemouth. George worked as a wood machinist. George died in 1991 and Florrie on 24 July 1993. Alan George Godden (1907-1970) – Alan, known as Jack , was born at Tyneham on 4 May 1907 -Jack married Mary Saunders (1913-1995) in 1933 – they had a daughter Kathleen and a son also named Alan – Jack died in 1970 aged 63 and Mary died in 1995 aged 82 Edward Frederick Godden (1910-1964) – Edward was living with his parents at Edward Crescent, Wareham in 1946 when he was fined 10s for failing to conform to traffic signs while riding a pedal cycle – Edward lived at 27 Edward Close until 1964 – he died at Poole Hospital on 26 March 1964 aged 52 The Godden family were listed in the 1911 census of Tyneham . The six eldest children appear in the Tyneham school photo taken the following year: Six children in this school photo of 1912 were Godden family sblings. F=Gladys Godden, M=Bus Godden, Q=Florence Godden, W=Jack Godden & X=Nellie Godden. Annie Godden is understood to be the unlettered child next to child B. By 1918 Alan and Rose were living at 33 South Street, Wareham. By September 1939 Alan aged 67 was working as a general labourer for Wareham Borough Council. He was living at 27 Edward Crescent with wife Rose aged 59, daughter Nellie aged 35, son Edward aged 29 and grandsons James Godden aged 19 and Anthony Allan aged 12. Alan died on 6 July 1952 aged 80 and his widow Rose died on 4 December 1971 aged 91. Page last updated: 1 September 2023 Godden Main menu The Godden Family lived at Tyneham from around 1906 until at least 1912 but had left before 1918 William Allan Godden (1872-1952) William, known as Alan, was born at Portesham, Dorset on 11 January 1872 and baptised there on 3 March 1872. He was the son of agricultural labourer... Godden Comments Off on Godden 2009: Death of Nellie May Godden GODDEN NELLIE MAY Peacefully on 5th October at White Lodge Rest Home, aged 105 years. Sadly missed by all her family and friends. Service Rossmore Gospel Church,

Rossmore Road, Parkstone on Thursday 22nd October at 1.45 p.m., followed by interment at Wareham Cemetery. Family flowers only please, but, if desired,... Posted in Obituary Godden Comments Off on 2009: Death of Nellie May Godden

Gould

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z The Gould Family lived at Tyneham from Thomas Henry Mansbridge Gould (1872-1948): Tom was the Head Gardener. Tom married Virtue Mary Park Everett (1877-1964) at Tyneham on 20 April 1904. Virtue was the sister of George Everett and aunt of Archie Everett. Tom and Virtue had: John Cedric James Gould (1912-2010) – John At the time of the evacuation, most of Virtue's crockery was smashed while being transported in an old tin bath. John Gould's letter to Prime Minister Harold Wilson 19 December 1974 Dear Prime Minister, I was born on 24 October 1912 in the Gardener's Cottage at Tyneham on the Dorset coast. I lived and worked in the village until 1940 when I joined the Army. Then in 1944, when I was fighting with the Devonshire Regiment in India, I had a letter from my mother saying they had been evicted from their home on 19 December 1943, which is 31 years ago today. Our home was taken over by Major C.H. Miller of Southern command who gave written and verbal promises that we could return 'at the end of the emergency'. This pledge was made at Cabinet level by Winston Churchill. The eviction notice stated: 'The Government appreciate that this is no small sacrifice which you are asked to make, but they are sure you will give this further help towards winning the war with a good heart. In 1948 the Government accepted that we had a right to return home but said that priority had to be given to national defence needs. Then in 1961, Mr Silkin legally closed 92 miles of public paths in and around Tyneham. We no longer have any right to see our old homes again. You can imagine my tremendous pleasure and excitement when Lord Nugent's report in 1973 said these tank ranges should be returned to the people of Dorset. I had always wanted to return, and at last it seemed this was going to happen. Tyneham to me is the most beautiful place in the world and I want to give the rest of my life and energy to its restoration... As a life-long member of the Labour Party, I appeal to you to look again at Tyneham's plight before there is a Parliamentary debate on this matter. If you reject this plea, I must make a second request, that when my time comes I will be interred in Tyneham Churchyard. It is there – and in memory of many old friends, my Grandparents and Uncle Tom, who were allowed to live out their lives in Tyneham – that I would like this wreath to go. Most of all, I want to go home. John Gould Page last updated: 27 June 2021

Grant family family

Grant family Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z The Grant Family lived at Gwyle Cottages in Tyneham from 1924 to 1942. The family left Tyneham a year before the evacuation. Henry George 'Harry' Grant (1898–1977) Harry was born on 8 December 1898 at East Stoke, Dorset. He was the eldest son of John William Grant (1873-1944) and his wife Annie Grant nee Hood (1864-1926) . His father was a woodman by trade but by 1901 was also the sub-postmaster at East Stoke. The post office in those days was on the main Wareham to Wool road opposite the lane to Rushton crossing. Harry married Beatrice Marjorie 'Marjorie' Smith (1901–1982) . Marjorie was born on 15 May 1901 at Throop, Hampshire. Harry and Marjorie had one son, Arthur John Henry Grant (1922-2010) – see below. Harry and Marjorie were both 'in service' at Tyneham House from around 1924. My parents moved to Tyneham when Dad got the job as estate woodman for the Bond family. We had John Gould's house – he moved to Gardener's Cottage as he had been promoted to head gardener at Tyneham House. Arthur Grant, 2000 In 1939 Harry's occupation was given as Woodman. Marjorie was performing 'unpaid domestic duties'. Living with them at Gwyle Cottages was Cyril Frank Griffiths (1928-1998) – see later. Mum took in children from the east end of London during the war. They had never seen the sea or had a holiday. One lady, now aged 76, wrote to me last year to say she still remembered Tyneham and wondered what I had done since then. I sent her some newspaper cuttings, I even found a photo of her sitting on the doorstep of our cottage. Arthur Grant, 2006 The family left Tyneham in 1942, a year before the evacuation. They later lived at Coombe Heath. Harry died in 1977 and Majorie died in 1982.

Arthur Henry John Grant (1922-2010) Arthur was born on 20 April 1922. An enterprising boy, was young Arthur. He discovered that a good way of making extra pocket money was to volunteer to open and close gates for the increasing number of motorists who began to come from far afield to visit Worbarrow Bay. There were four gates and a penny or two was thrown from the cars as a reward. On a good day a boy might take home as much as three or four shillings. Helen Taylor, 1994 Arthur left school at 13 and was taken on as Pantry Boy and then Under Footman at nearby Tyneham House where his parents were in service. In 1937 he left Tyneham, aged 15, to join the Merchant Navy . Arthur did not learn that the village had been evacuated until he returned home after his ship was bombed off the coast of Ireland. Arthur later was a steward on the flying boats and for Qantas and was even part of the crew which flew the Queen to Australia in 1954. After leaving the merchant navy he became a professional photographer. Arthur married his wartime sweetheart Dorothy Grace 'Grace' Rawles (1926–2015) in 1953. They settled in Wareham and had a daughter Annette and a son Geoffrey . Arthur retired in 1990. Arthur died at home on 12 January 2010 aged 87 after a long illness. His ashes are buried in Tyneham Churchyard . Grace died on 13 August 2015 aged 88 years. Cyril Frank Griffiths (1928-1998) Cyril was the adopted son of Harry and Marjorie. He was born on 17 June 1928. Cyril and I played a lot mostly in the duck pond where the Gwyle re-merges from under the road. In 1939 after the war started, we made battleships out of offcuts of wood, using old nails as the 16inch guns. Colin Driscoll, 2002 If you have any memories or photos of the Grant family that you wish to share, please email us. Our address is shown on the home page. Page last updated: 26 August 2022 Video Clips Home Check out some of our favourite links to You Tube videos about Tyneham & Worbarrow. Take a look around the village today and hear what former residents have to say. Tyneham | Exploring Britain's Abandoned World War II Ghost Village (2022) | 32.08 The story of Tyneham with colourised... Grant Comments Off on Video Clips 2010: Tributes paid to legendary Purbeck photographer Arthur Grant by Jim Durkin The family of legendary Purbeck photographer Arthur Grant have paid a heartfelt tribute to a "huge character who will always be remembered with affection and love". Arthur passed away peacefully at home last Tuesday at the age of 87, after a brave battle against a protracted illness.... Posted in Obituary Grant Comments Off on 2010: Tributes paid to legendary Purbeck photographer Arthur Grant 2010: Death of Arthur Grant GRANT ARTHUR (AMENDED NOTICE) (Photographer) aged 87 years peacefully at home on Tuesday 12th January 2010. Dearly beloved Husband of Grace and Dad of Geoff, Annette and to Tanya and Mike. A dear Grandad of Jamie-Lee, Saffron and Poppy. Funeral Service in the Church of Lady St Mary, Wareham, Monday... Posted in Obituary Grant Comments Off on 2010: Death of Arthur Grant Grant family Grant , Griffiths , Rawles , Smith Comments Off on Grant family 2015: Death of Dorothy 'Grace' Grant DOROTHY 'GRACE' GRANT Passed away peacefully at home after a short illness on Thursday 13th August aged 88 years. Beloved wife of the late Arthur (photographer). Much loved mum of Geoff and Annette and to Tanya and Mike. Dear grandma of Jamie-Lee, Saffron and Poppy and to Andrew, 'G-Mar' of... Posted in Obituary Grant Comments Off on 2015: Death of Dorothy 'Grace' Grant 2010: Lingerin ghosts of a long-dead England Tyneham in Dorset was already a museum piece when it was shut down during the Second World War. It never reopened by David Randall There'll be another burial in the village next week. Arthur Grant's ashes will be interred in the churchyard at Tyneham in Dorset. He left more than... Posted in Newspaper , Obituary Grant Comments Off on 2010: Lingerin ghosts of a long-dead England

Hart Family

The Hart Family lived at Tyneham from 1881 or before to 1891 or after William Hart (1841-1917) William Hart 1841-1917 Photo courtesy of yodajake William was born at Clyst Hydon , Devon on 21 February 1841. He was the son of shoemaker John Hart (1804-?) and his wife Mary Hart nee Hayman (1810-?) . William had a younger sister Edith who died shortly after her birth in 1844. In March 1851 the family were living 'near the church' at Clyst Hydon. William married Sarah Anne Horsham (1846-1911) at Sidbury , Devon in the spring of 1868. Sarah was the daughter of John Horsham (1816-1886) and his wife Sarah Salway Horsham nee Carnall (1821-1884). Sarah Ann Hart nee Horsham 1846-1911 Photo courtesy of yodajake William and Sarah had two sons: William John Hart (1869-1963) – see separate section below Frank Horsham Hart (1871-1888) In April 1871 William and Sarah were living at Hall Lodge, Bishops Tawton , Devon with their two young sons. William worked as a gardener for Robert Chichester of Hall Mansion . By April 1881 William and Sarah were living at the Gardeners Cottage , Tyneham . William was employed by the Bond family who lived at Tyneham House a few hundred yards along "The Avenue". William and Sarah's two sons attended Tyneham School . The former Gardeners Cottage, Tyneham , latterly Museum Cottage In February 1886 Sarah's widowed father John Horsham died aged 70 and was buried in Tyneham Churchyard. His grave has an iron marker. John Horsham's gravemarker at Tyneham Sadly son Frank died in June 1888 aged just 17. He was also buried in Tyneham Churchyard. Frank Horsham's gravestone inscription at Tyneham By March 1901 William and Sarah were living at Peatons Farm, Lytchett Matravers , Dorset. The jury lists show William Hart as the occupier of a farm at Lytchett Matravers as early as 1897. Sarah died in March 1911 aged 65 and William died six years later in June 1917 aged 76. They were both buried at Lytchett Matravers. William John Hart (1869-1963) William John Hart 1869-1963 Photo courtesy of yodajake William John Hart was born at Sidbury , Devon on 7 May 1869 and baptised there on 11 June 1869. William joined the Post Office at Poole in November 1889 aged 20. William married Fanny Rosa Wigmore (1881-1922) at Corfe Mullen, Dorset on 5 June 1900. William, then a Post Office Clerk, was aged 31 and Fanny was 12 years his junior aged 19. William and Fanny had three children: Beatrice Annie Hart (1901-1987) – married master mariner Sydney Herbert Trew (1900-1982) in January 1925 and emigrated to the United States later that year – they had a daughter Betty Ella Trew (1925-2009) Vera Constance Hart (1905-1950) – married William Bernard Hiscock (1894-1971) and emigrated to Australia – they had a daughter Vera June Hiscock (1936-1942) who sadly died aged just six and a son Bernard John Hiscock (1944) who died at just 10 days old Reginald Wigmore Hart (1907-1979) – married Gertrude Margaret Masterman (1910-1995) in 1933 and had two sons, Brian Reginald Hart (1935-2014) and Robert Frank Hart (1936-2006) In April 1911 William, Fanny and their three young children were shown as visitors at William's father's home at Peaton Farm, Lytchett Matravers. We have been informed that William ran Tyneham Post Office for about one year but we don't yet know when this was. By 1919 William and Fanny were living at West View Road, Sterte, Poole. Sadly Fanny died on 3 January 1922 aged 40. She was buried at St. James Church, Poole on 9 January 1922. Her residence was given as 'Clyst Hydon', Sterte. In 1933 William aged 63 married Olive Mary Pardy (1894-1968) aged 39. Olive was the daughter of Fanny's sister Bessie Jane Pardy nee Wigmore (1868-1951). In September 1939 William and Olive were living at 'Clyst Hydon', West View Road, Sterte, Poole. William stated his occupation as 'Asst Supt G P O Poole Retired'. William died on 23 June 1963 aged 94. His address was given as 'Clyst Hydon', Sterte. Olive died five years later on 10 January 1968 aged 73. Her address was given as 2 West View Road, Sterte. 2 West View Road, Sterte in 2009. Image courtesy of Google Street View . Page last updated: 8 March 2024 Hart Family Main menu The Hart Family lived at Tyneham from 1881 or before to 1891 or after William Hart (1841-1917) William was born at Clyst Hydon, Devon on 21 February 1841. He was the son of shoemaker John Hart (1804-?) and his wife Mary Hart nee Hayman (1810-?). William had a... Hart , Horsham Comments Off on Hart Family

Hawkes Family

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z Revd. E. C. Hawkes was Rector of Tyneham from 1914 to 1916. Revd. Edward Clifford Hawkes (1853-1920) Edward was born in the St. Pancras area of London to Edward John Hawkes (1819-1879) and Mary Hawkes nee Hawkes (1829-1886). His father was a shirt maker employing other workers. Edward and Mary had two further children, but they both died in infancy. 'Clifford' was his maternal grandmother's maiden surname. Edward attended Corpus Christi College at Cambridge obtaining his B.A. In 1878, the same year as he was ordained deacon at Rochester. His first position was as a curate at St. James, Gravesend in Kent and during his time there he married. He was ordained priest at Winchester in 1880 while curate at Wrecclesham, Surrey and obtained his M.A. in 1882 while curate at Clevedon, Somerset. In all, Edward held sixteen clerical posts during his lifetime and these are detailed later. Edward married Agnes Henrietta Jefferies (1855-1908) at Cirencester on 30 April 1879. She was the daughter of John Jefferies (1822-1904), one of the leading horticulturalists and nurseryman of his day, and Alice Jefferies nee Freeth (1810-1893). Edward's father died in July

1879 at Gravesend, Kent. Apparently the Hawkes and Jefferies families intermarried in three successive generations, being of the same social standing at that time. The respective families both stemmed from the same village of Somerford Keynes (Hawkes pre-English Civil War 1634 and Jefferies 1708) and Jefferies still live in the area. Edward and Agnes had seven children: Edward Albert Hawkes (1880-1968) – Edward, born at Wrecclesham, followed in his father's footsteps and became a clergyman. He married Winifred Florence Judkins in 1911 and they had one son, Martin, who later became a lion-tamer and married a trapeze artist, known as Ida Rosaire. Edward officiated at his son's wedding. William John Hawkes (1882-1943) – William, born at Clevedon, became a school headmaster. He married Jessie Louisa Allen in 1908 and they had three children, Joyce, Peggy and Peter. At the time of his father's death in 1920, he was at Woodrough School, Moseley, Birmingham. Arthur Clifford Hawkes (1884-1959) – Arthur, born at Norwood, also became a clergyman and even officiated at Tyneham while his father served there. Arthur married Margaret Crossley at Kimmeridge in 1916 and his father officiated at the service. Arthur was quite eccentric in that he kept a cockerel in a cage on his desk, wore wellies to church and tied his dog collar with a shoe-lace! Nevertheless he was a very kind man, and held in high regard for his work in his parishes especially with the poor. Agnes Dorothy Hawkes (1885-1966) – Dorothy, also born at Norwood, never married and died at St Leonards on Sea. Mary Alice Hawkes (1887-1973) – Mary, born at Canford Magna, was a nurse and served in the First World War at the Field Hospitals at Rouen and Boulogne. Mary worked at the Chipili mission in Rhodesia from 1929 until 1966 on behalf of the UMCA. Bertha Margaret Hawkes (1891-1933) – Bertha, known as Daisy, was born at Broadstone. Unfortunately she was crippled with arthritis. Ronald Lionel Clifford Hawkes (1901-1933) – Ronald, born at Burbage, became a farmer and, at the time of his marriage to Margaret Lillian Nicolson in 1931, was living at Moseley in Birmingham, near to his brother William John Hawkes. His uncle Edward officiated at the marriage. In the twenties he had farmed in Canada. Ronald helped build the Jameson road in Rhodesia. He died in 1933 aged just 32 as a result of the tsetse fly. When Edward arrived at Tyneham in 1914, he was a widower and his youngest son, Ronald, would then have been just 13. Edward's dearly loved wife Agnes died six years earlier in 1908 while he was incumbent at Compton Abbas. Edward had serious heart trouble which made him a semi-invalid in later life. He died on 28 December 1920 at Brixton Deverill, Wiltshire, a few hours after preaching his Sunday evening sermon. Edward was buried with his wife Agnes at Compton Abbas. Edward's obituary in the Diocese of Salisbury Gazette, January 1921: Edward Clifford Hawkes began his work in the Diocese [of Salisbury] as Curate in Charge of Broadstone. His ten years there gave evidence of the signal power of winning the affection of his people, which characterised his career in all the seven [Diocese of Salisbury] parishes of which he was successfully Incumbent, five of them in Dorset (Langton Matravers, Winterborne Whitchurch, Compton Abbas, Tyneham and Wool), and two (Burbage and Brixton Deverill) in Wiltshire. Mr Hawkes was possessed of considerable preaching power, and in his early days did good work as Mission Preacher. But it was the great kindness of his loving heart which was the distinctive mark of his ministry, and was recognised and appreciated wherever he went. Of late years his health had been very uncertain, and the end came with much suddenness, only a few hours after speaking to the hearts of his parishioners on the evening of Sunday, 26th December. The Burial Service was read at Brixton Deverill on New Year's Day by the Archdeacon of Dorset, who had inducted him four times – there was a mutual affection between them – but his body was laid to rest by the side of his wife, who death some time ago had been to him a great grief, in his former parish of Compton Abbas. Requiescat in peace. Edward's obituary in the Western Gazette, 7 January 1921: Late Vicar of the Parish It was with feelings of intense sorrow that the parishioners of Wool received the sad news of the almost sudden death of their late Vicar, the Rev. E. Clifford Hawkes. Although he had been in very indifferent health for a long time, his zeal and devotion to his church never flagged, and he conducted his services, as usual, on Christmas-day and the Sunday after. On Boxing-day he was taken ill, and, although everything possible was done, he became unconscious, and passed away on the following day. The reverend gentleman had held various livings in Wiltshire and Dorset – the vicarage of Compton Abbas and Winterbourne Whitchurch and the curacies of Canford Magna and Langton Matravers – and left Wool about ten months ago on account of bad-health. Since then, he has been rector of Brixton Deverill, in Wiltshire, which living he held until his lamented death. He will long be remembered for his unfailing sympathy with all who were in trouble, and many feel that in him they have lost a true friend. He was an eloquent preacher, his sermons always being marked with great earnestness. The greatest sympathy is felt for the bereaved family, who have lost a devoted father. The funeral took place on New Year's-day at Compton Abbas, where the body of Mrs. Hawkes lies. It was preceded by a service in Brixton Deverill Church, where he had laboured so faithfully until the very last. A wreath was sent by the parishioners of Wool, and during the service the bell in Wool Church was tolled. At the time of the actual interment the ringers gave muffled peals on the bells, and again on the Sunday morning after. He will be sadly missed and mourned by all who had the privilege of knowing him. Listing of the parishes in which Edward served during his lifetime: From To Position/Parish 1878 1879 Curate of St. James, Gravesend, Kent 1880 1881 Curate of Wrecclesham, Surrey 1881 1882 Curate of St. John, Clevedon, Somerset 1883 1885 Curate of St. Luke, Lower Norwood, Middlesex 1886 1896 Curate at Broadstone, Dorset (then in the Parish of Canford Magna) 1896 1900 Rector of Langton Matravers, Dorset 1900 1903 Vicar of Burbage, Wiltshire 1903 1905 Lay Preacher, Diocese of Salisbury, Wiltshire 1905 1907 Vicar of Winterborne Whitchurch, Dorset 1907 1911 Rector of Compton Abbas, Dorset 1911 1912 Curate of St Augustine's, Bournemouth, Hampshire 1912 1914 Priest-in-Charge of Stourton Caundle, Dorset 1914 1916 Rector of Steeple with Grange and Tyneham 1916 1920 Priest-in-Charge of Wool, Dorset 1916 1920 Vicar of Coombe Keynes, Dorset 1920 1920 Rector of Brixton Deverill, Wiltshire With special thanks to Alison Hawkes, Andrew Hawkes and Richard Wilson for providing family photographs and information about the Hawkes Family Page last updated: 29 June 2021

Hole Family

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z After Tyneham School closed in 1932, sisters Charlotte Hole (1869-1948) , known as Lottie , and Helen Hole (1874-1958) lived at 1 The Row – The School House . The cottage was given the name Flagstaff Cottage . Photo courtesy of Lindsey Guest On Sunday 11 June 1939 Helen fell down a cliff near Worbarrow and suffered multiple head injuries . She was taken to Swanage Cottage Hospital . According to the newspaper report shown below, the hospital described her condition as 'very comfortable'. Over three months later, on 29 September 1939, Helen was still in hospital. Western Gazette, 16 June 1939 Meanwhile, sister Lottie was living in Corfe View Road, Corfe Mullen next door to brother William Hole (1871-1958) and his wife. With Lottie were the Cossars , with whom sister Helen had once lived. Page last updated: 1 July 2021

Holland Family

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z Members of the Holland family lived at Tyneham from after 1911 until the evacuation in December 1943 John Holland (1845–1920) Photo courtesy of Mark White John was born on 6 May 1845 at Somerstown, Middlesex. He married Rose Ballam Hansford (1861–1944) on 25 August 1879 at St Paul's Church, Hounslow Heath. Rose was born on 7 March 1861 at Turnerspudde, Dorset. She was the daughter of John Hansford and Elizabeth Ballam. John and Rose had eleven children, two of whom died in infancy and three of whom died serving their country: In 1911, John and Rose were living at Hurlston near Bradle along with five of their six youngest children: Albert, John, Alice, Charlton and Percy. John senior died on 3 May 1920 aged 74 and was buried in Tyneham Churchyard on 6 May 1920.. In September 1939 Rose was living at 5 Steer Road, Swanage. She died in Swanage on Children of John and Rose Holland John James Holland (1880–1881) – born at Heston but died as an infant James Edward Holland (1882–1959) – James was born at Hounslow and married Lillian Amelia Margaret 'Margaret' Cosh at Bere Regis, Dorset on 4 April 1904 – they had six or more children and lived at Bloxworth, then Truro and Falmouth in Cornwall Thomas Henry Holland (1884-1886) – born at Hounslow but died William Holland (1886–1946) – born at Hounslow – never married – lived with Percy & Nellie Kerley first at Baltington and then East Stoke – died in Poole and buried in an unmarked grave at East Stoke. Henry 'Harry' Holland (1888–1915) – Private Henry Holland was killed in action on 8 December 1915 in Mesopotamia (now Iraq) aged 27 – he is commemorated on the Memorial Plaque in Tyneham Church – see War Dead Albert Edward Holland (1892–1972) – born Wareham. In 1920 he was living at Lutton. Margaret Elizabeth Holland (1894-1977) – born at Bere Regis – known as Meg – married Alf Runyard at Tyneham and lived at East Stoke before moving to East Lulworth John Holland (1897–1916) – born at Bere Regis – John served as a Private in the Hampshire

Regiment in WW1 . Sadly John was shot during the Battle of the Somme and died of his wounds at Netley Military Hospital. He was buried at Netley Abbey and is commemorated on the Netley War Memorial and on the Memorial Plaque in Tyneham Church – see War Dead Alice Rose Holland (1898–1993) – ‘Rose’ was born at Bere Regis and married Frederick James Churchill (1895-1968) at Tyneham on 24 January 1920 – Fred and Rose had three children: Margaret (1923-2005) , Leslie (1927-2005) and Freda (1930-2018) – At the outbreak of the Second World War the family were living at 5 Steer Road in Swanage Charlton Holland (1901–1944) – born at Bere Regis – Able-Seaman Charlton Holland was killed in WW2 on 25 February 1944 when a German U-Boat sinks HMS Mahratta – see War Dead Percy Victor Holland (1903–1991) – Percy was born at Bere Regis on 1 April 1903 and married Florence May ‘Flo’ Davis (1908-1993) on 4 June 1927 at Tyneham – Flo was the daughter of George Davis (1876-1927) and his wife Ellen Louise Davis nee Osmond (1884-1977) – Percy and Flo lived at Up Under Barrow half-way between Baltington Farm and Worbarrow – they had a daughter Margaret – please see below. Photo courtesy of Mark White Margaret Rose ‘Peggy’ Read nee Holland (1929-2023) Margaret, known as Peggy, was the daughter of Percy Victor Holland (1903-1991) and his wife Florence May ‘Flo’ Holland nee Davis (1908-1993) . Peggy was born on 6 November 1929. The family lived at Up Under Barrow . Peggy Holland at Double Cottages in the 1930s. Photo courtesy of Mark White Peggy married Charles Henry James ‘Jim’ Read (1927-2023) in 1948. Peggy and Jim had two daughters. Their elder daughter Marilyn sadly pre-deceased them in May 2023. Peggy and Jim emigrated to Perth, Western Australia as too did their younger daughter Jackie. Jim died in Perth on 3 September 2023 aged 95 and his widow Peggy died there just under three months later on 24 November 2023 aged 94. Page last updated: 28 February 2024 War Dead Balson , Bascombe , Chilcott , Cleall , Holland , Homan , McPeak , Meech , Taylor Comments Off on War Dead Up Under Barrow Holland , Kerley Comments Off on Up Under Barrow Kerley Family Evans , Holland , Kerley Comments Off on Kerley Family Holland Family Davis , Holland , WW1 , WW2 Comments Off on Holland Family 1975: Tyneham's ration of nostalgia HISTORY stopped at Tyneham 32 years ago. Just before Christmas,1943, the villagers gave up their homes to make way for an army firing range, and the village died. The villagers of Tyneham never went back. Their bitter and protracted struggle for possession of their homes ended in failure as the... Posted in Newspaper Cato , Driscoll , Everett , Holland , Longman , Ration Books Comments Off on 1975: Tyneham's ration of nostalgia

Homan

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z The Homan Family lived at Tyneham Rectory from 1897 to 1913 while Revd. C. S. Homan was Rector. He succeeded Revd. Christopher Wordsworth and was succeeded by Revd. Edward Clifford Hawkes. Revd. Claude Samuel Homan (1869-1947) Claude Samuel Horan was born in Umballa, Punjab, India on 13 November 1869. He was educated at Christ's College, Cambridge where he obtained his B.A. In 1891 he became Curate of St. Matthias, Plymouth. On 27 April 1892 he married Adelaide Mabel Digby who was born in London in 1862. In 1893 they moved from Devon to Dorset where Claude took up the Curacy of St. Andrew's, West Stafford. On 30 July 1894, Claude and Adelaide's first child, a son, Digby Arden Homan, was born in Meriden, Warwickshire. In 1896 Claude took up the position of Rector of the neighbouring parish of Winterbourne-Came with Winterbourne-Farringdon (and Incumbent of Whitcombe). On 12 July 1896, while at Winterbourne-Came, Claude and Adelaide had twins: a boy, Claude Knox Homan , and a girl, Rachel Adelaide Homan . Unfortunately Rachel died in infancy in May 1897. That same year, the family moved from Winterborne-Came to Tyneham, where Claude became Rector of Steeple-cum-Tyneham and also Rector of East Holme. They lived at Tyneham Rectory from 1897 to 1913. Extract from Kelly's Directory 1898 for Steeple: The living is a rectory, annexed to that of Tyneham, joint net yearly value £336, with residence and 25 acres of glebe, 5 of which are in Steeple, in the gift of Nathaniel Bond esq. and held since 1897 by the Rev. Claude Samuel Homan B.A. of Christ's College, Cambridge, who is also rector of East Holme, and resides at Tyneham. Claude remained as Rector of Steeple-cum-Tyneham until 1913 when he moved on to Frampton where he was Vicar until 1916. While at Frampton Claude and Adelaide received the tragic news that their younger son Claude Knox Homan , the twin of daughter Rachel, had been killed in action on 18 September 1915 while serving as Lieutenant in the 6th battalion of the Dorsetshire Regiment. He was just 19

years old. Less than six months later, Claude and Adelaide were dealt a further cruel blow when they learned that their only surviving child, Digby Arden Homan had died on 12 March 1916 in British East Africa while serving with the 2nd Rhodesia Regiment. He was just 21. In the wake of these tragedies, Claude relinquished his post of Vicar. A few years after the War, in 1921, Claude became Curate of St. Mary's, Longfleet in Poole and then Chaplain of Costebelle in France from 1922 until 1925. After his retirement, Claude and Adelaide lived at Hillmorton, Wyndham-road, Parkstone, Dorset. Adelaide died on 27 Feb 1947 in Poole and Claude died just over two months later on 5 May 1947 at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Birmingham, aged 78. War Dead Balson , Bascombe , Chilcott , Cleall , Holland , Homan , McPeak , Meech , Taylor Comments Off on War Dead Homan Digby , Homan Comments Off on Homan 1947: Death of Revd. Claude Samuel Homan HOMAN – On May 5, 1947, CLAUDE SAMUEL HOMAN of 72, Parkstone Road, Poole, formerly Rector of Carne, Tyneham, Frampton, Stockton, the Diocese of Salisbury, and for three years Chaplain at Costobello, South of France, aged 78. Cremation at [illegible] Crematorium to-morrow (Friday). Service ; St. Peter's Church, Parkstone, later.... Posted in Obituary Clergy , Homan Comments Off on 1947: Death of Revd. Claude Samuel Homan 1910: Parish Meeting The annual parish meeting was held in the Schoolroom on Saturday evening, the Rector (the Rev. C. S. Homan) being in the chair. Mr. W. H. Bond 1 proposed the re-election of Mr. Homan 2 as chairman. Mr J. Bascombe 3 seconded, and it was carried unanimously. Messrs. Job Chilcott... Posted in Newspaper Bascombe , Bond , Chilcott , Homan , Smith , Telegraph Comments Off on 1910: Parish Meeting

House Families

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z There are at least three House Family lines associated with Tyneham parish – no genealogical connection between the three lines has yet been established. Reverend Thomas Hammond House (1818-1891) was Curate at Steeple-cum-Tyneham . Herbert John House & Family were living at Povington from at least 1915 and then at North Egliston Farm from at least 1931 until the evacuation in December 1943. Frederick Walter House (1867-1936) was living at Baltington c.1917 1 One as yet unidentified person with the surname House is also associated with the parish of Tyneham: Albert House who was farming at Povington from before 1915 to 1927 or after 2 House 1 Family Reverend Thomas Hammond House M.A. (1818-1891) Thomas attended Worcester College, Oxford and was ordained priest at Salisbury Cathedral on 24 September 1843. 3 Thomas was nominated in April 1845 to be Curate at Steeple-cum-Tyneham . 4 He was living at South Egliston at the time of his marriage to his first wife Elizabeth Crane on 26 October 1847. Sadly Elizabeth died at Tyneham on 16 November 1849 aged 25. She was buried at East Stoke, Dorset on 23 November 1849. Thomas became Vicar of Winterbourne Anderson in August 1855 Thomas was appointed to be Rector of Winterborne Zelstone. 5 Thomas married Julia Hector (1831-1866) of Blandford St Mary on 17 July 1862. Thomas and Julia had four children including twin girls: Harry Hammond House (1863-1958) – Edward Hector House (1865-1904) – died 8 November 1904 aged 40 at Elm Grove, Hill Butts, Wimborne Julia Hector House () – Elizabeth House () – Thomas died on 3 January 1891 at Anderson Rectory and was buried in the churchyard there on.. Harry Hammond House (1863-1958) Harry attended Sherborne School and then Corpus Christi College, Oxford. Harry was Housemaster at Malvern College for over 30 years. Harry married Kate Charlotte Sorensen (1869-) at St. Bartholemew's Church, Sydenham on 12 April 1893. Harry and Kate had children: Godfrey Edward Hammond House (1894-1980) – Harry Wilfred House (1895-1987) – Harry was Headmaster of Wellington College from 1941 to 1956 Malcolm Hutchinson House (1897-1917) – killed in action in WW1 Katherine Margaret House (1900-1997) – Harry Wilfred House in uniform Malcolm Hutchinson House at Rugby School Malcolm Hutchinson House in uniform Godfrey Edward Hammond House (1894-1980) Godfrey married Gwynedd Helen Lightfoot Harrison (1896-1985) and they had six children: Morna Frances Helen House (1923-2009) – Morna was a Registered Physiotherapist – in 1946 she was living at the Old Vicarage, Kimmeridge – Morna married Derek James Pratt (1917-2002) – they are believed to have had a son and twin daughters Patricia Hope House (1924-1924) – sadly Patricia died aged just 4 months – she was buried at Mill Road Cemetery, Cambridge John Edward Murray House (1927-2009) – 'Joe' emigrated to Australia – it is understood he had a leg amputated after a lorry he was driving overturned Diana Isabelle H House (1930-2013) –

married Gerhard Gerald Ernest Muhsam – also married Eugene Velicov – she “spent her childhood with her grandfather H. H. House at South Tyneham Farm between 1933 and 1942 and moved into Kimmeridge Vicarage a year before the evacuation” – Diana lived in New Jersey Alan Godfrey Hector House (1925-2021) – married Barbara and had a daughter Judith – Alan died peacefully at home on 3 February 2021, aged 95, after a long fight with cancer 6 Godfrey married Eleanor Rosetta Smyth in Godfrey had a telephone at South Egliston – its number was ‘Kimmeridge 216’. House 2 Family Herbert John House (1889-1958) Herbert was born at East Chaldon on 9 February 1889. He was the son of William House (1848-1934) , born at East Knighton, and his wife Mary Jane House nee Hammett (1848-1908) , born at Tolpuddle. Mary’s mother was a Loveless and those familiar with the Tolpuddle Martyrs will recognise the surnames of Hammett and Loveless . Herbert was baptised at Chaldon Herring on 17 March 1889. His father William’s trade was recorded as carpenter. Two years later, Herbert was living in the Dairyhouse at Affpuddle with his parents and four older siblings. His father William was now a dairy farmer. By 1901 his father was farming at Fossil Farm, East Chaldon which he continued until his death in 1934. We have not yet been able to establish where Herbert was living at the time of the 1901 census. In 1911, Herbert was living with his mother and father at Fossil Farm. Herbert married Jessie Emily Pitcher Bowditch (1893-1978) – By 1915 7 Herbert and Jessie had moved to Tyneham parish and had a tenement and land at Povington . Herbert and Jessie had six children: William House (1913-2001) – William was born on 5 October 1913 – he married Violet Ruth Collins (1917-1993) at Tyneham on 18 October 1936 – in 1939 William was farming at South Egliston – he died in 2001 aged 88 Albert Arthur House (1916-1999) – Albert was born on 25 March 1916 – he died in 1999 aged 83 Gerald House (1918-2006) – Gerald was born on 23 February 1918 – he died in 2006 aged 87 Sylvia House (1919-1999) – Sylvia was born on 19 August 1919 – she married George Francis Braisby (1917-2000) of Blackmanston Farm, Steeple on 23 May 1943 – they were the last couple to be married at Tyneham Church – Sylvia died on 30 June 1999 aged 79 and George died on 23 October 2000 aged 83 Gwendoline ‘Gwen’ House (1923-2016) – Gwen was born on 18 September 1923 at Searley’s Holding, Povington – Gwen married Frank Dicker and they had two sons and a daughter – the family moved to Salisbury – Gwen died on 13 July 2016 aged 92 Poppy Ciceley House (1925-2006) – Poppy was born on 21 June 1925 – she was 18 when evacuated – Poppy married Clifford Budden (1922-1967) in 1946 and they had three children – in 1980 Poppy married Gilbert Frank Ingram (1921-1991) – Poppy died in 2006 aged 81 On 29 September 1939 the family were recorded living at North Egliston Farm . The family were evacuated in December 1943. Herbert later farmed North Holworth Farm near Owermoigne. He died on 15 August 1958 at Dorset County Hospital, Dorchester. 8 Jessie later lived at Crossways, Dorset and died on 11 April 1978 aged 84. Page last updated: 19 August 2022 Register of Electors for Steeple/Tyneham (South) 1918 [] Directory Entries [] Reading Mercury, 30 September 1843 [] Hampshire Advertiser & Salisbury Guardian 26 April 1845 [] London Evening Standard 06 August 1855 [] <http://announcements.telegraph.co.uk/deaths/247870/house> [] Electoral Register for Stoborough/Tyneham (North) 1915 [] Probate Register 1958: HOUSE Herbert John of North Holworth Farm Owermoigne Dorset died 15 August 1958 at Dorset County Hospital Dorchester Dorset. Administration London 1 December (1958) to Lloyds Bank Limited. Effects £21,324 17s 6d. []

Howard Family

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z ||| The Howard Family lived at North Egliston Farm , Tyneham for 22 years from 1906 until 1928 Charles William Howard (1860-1928) Charles was born on 26 November 1860 at Lower Bockhampton , Dorset. His parents were Suffolk-born William Howard (1821-1906) , a dairyman, and his second wife Maria Howard nee Suttle (1825-1905) . Charles married Emily Alice Tewksbury (1861-1936) , known as Alice , at Portsea, Hampshire in 1887. Alice was born on 9 September 1861 at Portsea. Photo courtesy of Scott Green Charles and Alice had seven children, one of whom died shortly after birth: William Albert Howard (1887-1954) – Charles Gordon ‘Gordon’ Howard (1887-1967) – Henry Wilton Howard (1889-1889) – died in infancy Francis Lee Suttle ‘Frank’ Howard (1890-1958) – Alice Daisy Maria ‘Daisy’ Howard (1892-1976) – George Frederick Howard (1893-1956) – Eva May Howard (1895-1972) – Eva was born on 13 September 1895 at Ringstead, Dorset – she married Percy Ernest Edgar Chilcott (1889-1985) at Tyneham on 28 April 1918 Charles was the brother-in-law of former farmer Frederick Thomas Way (1864-1943) and had taken over North Egliston Farm by 1906. In 1917, Charles was elected as Overseer of the Poor. Charles died at Tyneham on 28 November 1928. He was buried in Stratton churchyard on 1 December 1928. Alice later lived at Godlingston Farm and died on 14 April 1936 at the Cottage Hospital, Swanage. Alice was buried at Tyneham (in a very fancy grave). Alice Daisy Maria 'Daisy' Howard (1892-1976) Photo courtesy of Scott Green Daisy lived at Blashenwell Farm, Kingston, Dorset. She married Harry Stephens at St Mark's Church, Portsmouth on 23 August 1910 1 . Harry was the son of the late John Stevens (1848-1915) and Mary Stevens nee Savage (1848-1898) , of Eastington Farm, Swanage. By 1911 Harry Stephens was farming Blashenwell. He had then been married for less than a year to wife Daisy . Photo courtesy of Scott Green Harry Stevens served as a Private with the Dorsetshire Regiment, 2nd Battalion (service number 27367). Sadly Harry died aged 34 in captivity as a prisoner-of-war on 16 July 1917 at Basra Hospital after suffering sunstroke. He is commemorated at Baghdad (North Gate) War Cemetery, Iraq (grave/memorial reference XV. C. 11.) and also on the Swanage War Memorial and in the churches at Kingston and Worth Matravers churches. Harry and Daisy had a son Laurie Howard Stevens (1912-2005) and twins May Howard Stevens and Edward Howard Stevens both of whom sadly died shortly after birth in 1914. Photo courtesy of Lisa Leahy Photo courtesy of Lisa Leahy Harry Stevens' name on the Swanage War Memorial © Mike Guttridge (WMR-26505) Laurie Howard Stevens (1912-2005) Laurie Howard Stevens, known mostly as Howard, was born on 28 March 1912. Howard married Nancy Marianne Farthing (1922–2006) at Church Knowle, Dorset on 15 July 1943. Nancy was born on 1 November 1922 in the Ealing area. Her father was Revd. Robert Farthing of St Peters, Church Knowle. Footage of the wedding recorded on Cine film can be found here <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Lacq4BtHaFs> Laurie died Nancy died on 2 May 2006. She was buried at Church Knowle. With thanks to: Judy Alexander , Lisa Leahy and Scott Green Page last updated: 27 August 2024 Dorset County Chronicle, 25 August 1910 []

Hull Family

Hull The Hull family lived at Tyneham for 40 years from 1851 or before to 1891 . Family members lived at Baltington Farm and Tyneham Farm . William Shetler Hull (1806-1885) William was born at Misterton , Somerset on 16 November 1806 and baptised there on 14 December 1806. He was the son of Henry Palmer Hull (1777-1856) and his wife Mary Hull nee Shitler (c.1777-1835) . William married Ann Lovell (c.1812-1884) at Mudford , Somerset on 8 October 1829 and they had four children : Hester Mary Shetler Hull (1831-1891) – never married William Shetler Hull (1833-1897) – married Susan Frances Scutt (1834-1898) Joseph Symes Hull (1834-1911) – married Mary Good (1838-1911) James Symes Hull (1837-1917) – married Ann Tucker (1840-1922) The family initially lived at Henstridge , Somerset where William was a carpenter by trade but by 1835 had moved to Mudford where William had become an innkeeper . In the 1851 census, William was recorded at Tyneham as a farmer of 462 acres employing 8 labourers . Living with him were wife Ann, 39, daughter Hester 19 and sons William & Joseph, both aged 18. His widowed father, Henry Palmer Hull , 73 was a visitor, as too was wife Ann's widowed mother, Hester Lovell 69. By 1855, William had been appointed as a Guardian of the Poor for the Wareham & Purbeck Union , a position he held to at least 1873. He was also elected as a member of their Assessment Committee. At the time of the 1861 census, William, aged 54, was shown as a farmer of 500 acres employing 4 men and 2 boys . Living with him were wife, Ann, aged 49, son Joseph, 26, mother-in-law Hester Lovell, 79, and servant Grace Elizabeth Ayles 15. In the 1871 census, William, aged 64, was shown living at Tyneham Farm House with wife Ann, aged 59, daughter Hester, aged 39, and servant Fanny Lucas. William was then farming 420 acres and employing 6 labourers and 4 boys . The picture was similar in 1881 , with William aged 75, Ann aged 69, Hester aged 49 and servant Annie Jane Taylor living at Tyneham Farm House . William farmed 400 acres and employed 5 men and 2 boys . Ann died at Tyneham on 5 May 1884 aged 72 and was buried in the churchyard four days later. William died at Tyneham on 20 February 1885 and was buried in the churchyard four days later. His three sons acted as Executors of his estate. Hester Mary Shetler Hull (1831-1891) Hester was born at Henstridge and baptised there on 11 November 1831. Hester moved to Tyneham with her parents by 1851. Hester never married and died aged 60 at

Tyneham Farm in March 1891 shortly before the 1891 census was taken. She was buried at Tyneham churchyard on 27 March 1891. William Shetler Hull (1833-1897) William was born at Henstridge on 16 March 1833 and baptised there on 7 April 1833. William moved with his parents to Tyneham by 1851. William married Susan Frances Scutt (1834-1898) at Tyneham on 12 February 1854. Susan was the daughter of Robert and Elizabeth Scutt of Baltington Farm, Tyneham. William and Susan had 7 children in total, the first four were born at Tyneham and the last three were born after the family's move to Druce Farm near Puddletown: Elizabeth Anne Hull (1854-1917) – married William Joseph Paull (1838-1880) Eleanor Florentina Hull (1859-1939) – married Robert Duke (1855-1940) Mary Jane Hull (1861-?) – married Henry James Rolls (1866-?) Alice Kate Hull (1865-1944) – married Frank Osmond (1864-1944) Emily Maude Hull (1866-1935) – married Robert Shapland (1871-1953) Susan Frances Hull (1868-1948) – married Henry Lloyd Pratt (1855-1945) William Shetler Hull (1874-1946) – married Annie Sarah Worsdell (1874-1946) In 1861, William aged 28 and Susan aged 27 were living at Hurst Farm House near Moreton, Dorset with daughters Elizabeth Ann 6 and Eleanor Florentina 3, and servant Mary Ridout 15 from Tyneham. William was farming 317 acres and employing 8 men and 3 boys. In 1871, William aged 38 and Susan aged 37 were living at Druce Farm near Puddletown, Dorset with their children, Elizabeth 16, Eleanor 12, Mary 9, Alice 6, Emily 4 and Susan 2, together with Governess Catherine Old aged 24, and servants Martha Riggs 24 (housemaid), Jane House 18 (cook) and Caroline Worrain 18 (nursemaid). William was now a farmer of 1100 acres, employing 25 labourers and 20 boys. Photo courtesy of Jolyon Jesty Druce Farm was the setting for Little Weatherbury Farm in Thomas Hardy's novel "Far from the Madding Crowd" published in 1874 when William Shetler Hull and family were in situ. Thomas Hardy is buried at Stinsford (see below). 1881, William was farming 2100 acres and employing 50 men and 30 boys and the family had two servants, Elizabeth Greening 33 and Jane Woodrow 15. Daughter's Eleanor 22, Mary 19 and Susan 12 were at home along with son William 6. William died on 20 October 1897 aged 64 and his widow Susan died just under a year later on 2 October 1898 aged 64. They were buried at Puddletown. Joseph Symes Hull (1834-1911) Joseph was born at Mudford in 1834 and baptised there on 9 November 1834. By 1851, the family were living at Tyneham. Joseph married Mary Good (1838-1911) at Pimperne near Blandford on 19 October 1870. In 1871, Joseph and Mary were living at West Knighton. Joseph was farming 340 acres and employing 6 men and 3 boys. Joseph and Mary had three children, all born at West Knighton: William Good Hull (1871-1872) – sadly William died at West Knighton aged just 11 months Joseph Wyndham Hull (1872-1968) – married Margaret Swatridge Cox (1885-1970). Joseph and Margaret had two daughters, Mary and Daisy. On 15 November 1940, a French two-seater monoplane landed unexpectedly in a field at Hull's Farm, Stinsford and Daisy got the two occupants to sign her autograph book! (Dorsetshire Aero Club started in the summer 1928 from a field owned by Mrs Hull of Stinsford and Dorchester was also in Provincial Airways 1934 timetable as a request stop on their 'West Country Air Service'). Flora Mary Hull (1875-1961) – married William Rupert Tory (1872-1954) In 1881, Joseph aged 46 and Mary 42 were living at Stinsford Farm, about one mile east of Dorchester, with son Joseph, aged 8, and daughter Flora, aged 5. They had three visitors, Bessie Good 27, Ann Symes 14 and Ernest Miles 28 (a brewer). Joseph senior was farming 413 acres and employing 11 men, 2 women and 3 boys. Photo courtesy of Weymouth Pictures In 1891, Joseph 56 and Mary 51 were still at Stinsford with son Joseph aged 18, daughter Flora aged 15, niece Ann Symes 24 (who was living on her own means) and servant Rosanna Painter 14. In 1901, the family were still together at Stinsford but niece Ann had moved out. Joseph was now 66, Mary 62, son Joseph 28 and daughter Flora incorrectly shown as aged 23. Their servant was Alice Gray 19. By 1911, daughter Flora had moved out – she married William Rupert Tory at Stinsford on 24 February 1903. Joseph died on 11 June 1911, aged 76. His widow Mary died less than six months later on 28 November 1911 aged 73. They were both buried at Stinsford. James Symes Hull (1837-1917) James was born on 18 November 1837 at Mudford, where his father was an innkeeper, and baptised there on 17 December 1837. James married Ann Tucker (1840-1922) at East Stoke by licence on 12 September 1867. James was shown as a Yeoman and was living in Tyneham. Ann was baptised at Corscombe on 22 August 1840 and was the daughter of Samuel and Eliza Tucker (nee Groves). At the time of her marriage, she was living at East Stoke and her father, Samuel, was shown as a Yeoman as too was James' father, William Shetler Hull. James and Anne had 4 children all baptised at Tyneham: Louisa Mary Alberta Symes Hull (1868-1955) – married George Mayo (1870-1934) Minnie Gertrude Anne Hull (1869-1945) married John Chilcott Davy (1866-1953) Rosa Beatrice Hull

(1872-1954) – did not marry Reginald William Tucker Hull (1875-1956) – married Minnie Olive Victoria Cooper (1901-1969) In 1871 , James aged 33 and Ann aged 30 were living at Baltington Farm House with their first two children, Louisa 2 and Minnie 1, servant Sarah Hawkins (born at Corscombe) and visitor, Jane Tucker. James was a farmer of 240 acres employing 4 labourers and 1 boy . In 1881 , James, aged 43, was living at Baltington Farm House with wife Anne, 40, three daughters, Louisa 12, Minnie 11 and Rosa Beatrice 9, with son Reginald 6, governess Mary E Priddle and servant Elizabeth Burt. James farmed 400 acres at Baltington employing 5 men and 4 boys while his father William farmed 400 acres at Tyneham and employed 5 men and 2 boys. At the time of his father's death in 1885, James had moved to Lower Bockhampton farm, about 2 miles east of Dorchester, and by 1891 had moved on to Stinsford Farm, about 1 mile east of Dorchester. James died on 17 June 1917 at Rew House, Winterborne St. Martin (more commonly known as Martinstown) 4 miles south-west of Dorchester and is buried at Stinsford. His executors were his widow Ann and farmers John Chilcott Davy (husband of daughter Minnie) and George Mayo (husband of daughter Louisa). "The Hulls were tenants of both Baltington and Tyneham farms for many years, Joseph at Tyneham and his brother James at Baltington . They were successful farmers and had charming families . By the time I was old enough to take some note of Tyneham people the farm was in the hands of Miss Hester Mary Hull who was living alone at Tyneham and soon to depart herself. I have some pleasant memories of her kindness to us children, asking us into her parlour as we passed on the way to the sea and giving us crisp and sugar-topped mixed biscuits. James Hull later rented Higher Kingston Farm , near Dorchester and, after his death, his gifted daughter Rosa Beatrice , lived to a good age in the county town. With her traditional friendship of our families was happily maintained until her death in 1954." Lilian Bond, 1956 Further information about the children of William Shetler Hull (1833-1897) & Susan Frances Hull nee Scutt (1834-1898): As stated earlier, William and Susan had 7 children in total – six girls and a boy. Elizabeth Anne Hull (1854-1917) Elizabeth was baptised at Tyneham on 8 June 1854. She married William Joseph Paull at Puddletown on 28 March 1877. They had two sons, William Ernest 'Willie' Paull (1878-1953) and William Henry 'Harry' Paull (1879-1963) . Ernie married Ellen Dorothea Jobling and Harry married Doris Louise Plummer (1898-1956) . Willie died in 1953 at Croydon and Harry died in 1963 in London. Eleanor Florentina Hull (1859-1939) Eleanor was born at Baltington Farm , Tyneham on 16 March 1859 and baptised at Tyneham on 20 April 1859. She married Robert Duke (1855-1940) at Puddletown on 12 October 1882. Eleanor and Robert had six children ; Robert Henry Duke (1883-1890) – sadly died aged just 6 Lucy Duke (1884-1976) – married Maurice William Radclyffe (1880-1944) William John Street Duke (1888-1951) – married Florence Pay (1888-1979) Robert Street Duke (1892-1915) – did not marry – died in Teheran aged 22 Mary Duke (1893-?) – was living in the Christchurch area in 1921 Eleanor Duke (1896-1977) – married Ernest William Evans (1892-1937) and then John Marsden Edna May Duke (1898-1944) – married Allan Doyle (1891-1967) L-R: Mary, Edna, Lucy, William, Eleanor & Robert S Robert and Eleanor later lived at Ashcott , Somerset. Eleanor died on 18 December 1939 aged 80 and Robert died less than six months later on 29 May 1940 aged 85. They were both buried at Puddletown. Mary Jane Hull (1861-) Mary was born at Hurst Farm, Moreton but was baptised at Tyneham on 5 June 1861. She married Henry James Rolls (1865-?) in 1894 and had a son William Henry Rolls (1896-?) . Alice Kate Hull (1865-1944) Alice was born at Hurst Farm near Moreton, Dorset on 25 February 1865 and was baptised at Tyneham on 30 March 1865. She married Frank Osmond (1864-1944) at Puddletown on 20 August 1895. Frank was born at Dorchester on 21 September 1864 and was baptised at Fordington, Dorchester on 8 December 1864. Frank (far left) took over as Manager of the Gas Works at Dorchester when his father William Osmond died in 1887. Frank was also an Insurance Agent for Scottish Union & National. Alice and Frank had three daughters: Gladys Osmond (1896-1979) – married Cecil Augustus Marsh (1893-1979) Susan Dorothy Osmond (1898-1975) – did not marry Phyllis Ivy Osmond (1902-2000) – married Clifford John Horne (1900-1996) Three sisters – Susan, Gladys & Phyllis September 1929, Salisbury House, Dorchester, Dorset From left to right John and Alice Horne (groom's parents), Doris Horne, Clifford and Phyllis nee Osmond, Susan Dorothy Osmond, Ronald Horne (brother and Best Man) and Frank and Alice Osmond (bride's parents) Frank Osmond died on 21 April 1944 aged 79 and his widow Alice died just over six months later on 8 November 1944 also aged 79. They were buried at Dorchester Cemetery. Emily Maude Hull (1866-1935) Emily was born at Druce Farm House near Puddletown and was baptised at Puddletown on 26 December 1866. Emily married Robert Shapland at Barnstaple, Devon in 1899. Emily and Robert had five children, one of whom died shortly after birth: Dorothy Susan Shapland (1900-1966) – married Elon Robert Ley (1905-1969) Robert William Shapland (1902-1902) – sadly died soon after birth Henry James Shapland (1903-1985) – married Isabella Mackenzie (1902-1992) George John Shapland (1906-1998) – married Florence Ethel Ingerson (1907-2003) Edward Bob Shapland (1909-1992) – married Dorothy Winifred Ford (1912-1991) Emily died at Tawstock in Devon on 23 October 1935 aged 68 and Robert died on 4 February 1953 aged 82 at Barnstaple in Devon. Susan Frances Hull (1868-?) Susan was born at Druce Farm House near Puddletown and was baptised at Puddletown on 24 January 1868. She married widower Henry Lloyd Pratt (1855-1945) in 1901. Susan and Henry had a son, Lawson Druce Lloyd Pratt (1903-1964) . Lawson married Dorothy Battye (1899-1989) and they had three daughters, Ruth, Sheila and Dorothy. William Shetler Hull (1874-?) William was baptised at Puddletown on 12 June 1874. In 1911, he was recorded as visiting Sydney & Dorothy Perry at Manor House, Lower Kingston Park, near Dorchester. He was shown as single, age 36, farm bailiff, born Piddletown. Further information about the children of James Symes Hull (1837-1917) & Ann Tucker (1840-?): Louisa Mary Alberta Symes Hull (1868-1955) Louisa was baptised at Tyneham on 2 August 1868. She married George Mayo (1870-1934) in 1898. George farmed at Cokers Frome Farm at Stinsford. Louisa and George had one son: George Algernon Hull Mayo (1899-1957) – George married Kathleen May Kent (1907-1993) in 1933. George and Kathleen had two sons and a daughter. George Algernon died in 1954 aged 56 and Kathleen died in 1993 aged 85. They are both buried at Stinsford along with son George Oliver who died shortly after birth. George (senior) died in 1934 aged 63 and Louisa died in 1955 aged 86. They are both buried at Stinsford. Minnie Gertrude Anne Hull (1869-1945) Minnie was baptised at Tyneham on 8 August 1869. She married farmer John Chilcott Davy (1866-?) of Netherbury , Dorset at Stinsford on 20 January 1891. Father John Symes Hull and sister Louisa were witnesses. Minnie and John lived at Netherbury for over 20 years. Minnie died in Bridport in 1945 aged 76. Rosa Beatrice Hull (1872-1954) Rosa was baptised at Tyneham on 30 June 1872. In 1901 she was at Alum Chine Road, Bournemouth with her Aunt, Fanny Tucker, who was also visiting. In 1911 Rosa was again visiting her Aunt, Fanny Tucker, this time at West Lulworth. Like Fanny, Rosa did not marry. Rosa was one of the executors when Fanny died in 1927. Rosa died in 1954 aged 88. Reginald William Tucker Hull (1875-1956) Reginald was baptised at Tyneham on 26 January 1875 and married Minnie Olive Victoria Cooper (1901-1969) in 1921. Reginald and Millie had two boys, (one who died shortly after birth) and two girls. Reginald died in 1956 aged 81 and Minnie died in 1989 aged 88. With thanks to: Shirley Harrison and the Horne family Baltington Bascombe , Hull , Longman Comments Off on Baltington Page last updated: 5 September 2022

K-O

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z Kerley Knight Longman Lucas Meech Miller Minterne Mores

Kerley Family

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z The Kerley Family were living at Up Under Barrow , between Baltington and Worbarrow, in 1939 Percy Henry John Kerley (1886-1959) Percy was born on 2 May 1886 in Christchurch, Hampshire. He was the son of woodcutter Cornelius Kerley (1843-1937) and his wife Sarah Sophia Kerley nee King (1846-1915) . Percy married Ellen Louisa Mary Evans (1887-1972) in 1915. 'Nellie' was born on 19 November 1887 and was the daughter of Flintshire miner James Evans and his Hampreston born wife Emma Ellen Evans nee Wills . Photo courtesy of Mark White Percy and Nellie did not have any children. Percy and Nellie moved to East Stoke . Bill Holland lodged with them. Percy died in 1959 and Nellie died at Salisbury Infirmary in 1972. Also see Holland family page Page last updated: 13 April 2020

Knight Family

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z The Knight Family lived at useum Cottage from 1905 to 1918 Fred Knight (1870-1946) Fred was born at Winterborne St Martin , more commonly known as Martinstown , on 13 May 1870 and was baptised there on 6 November 1870. His parents were groom Thomas Knight (1831-1888) and Maria Knight nee Hawker (1831-1920) who lived at Ashton Farm Cottages . Fred had eight older siblings and two younger ones. In April 1891 Fred aged 20 was shown as an agricultural labourer. On 19 October 1896, Fred aged 26 married Annie Day at Corfe Castle . Fred's occupation was shown as groom and gardener as too was his father's. Annie was the daughter of clay miner James Day (1838-1896) and his Povington -born wife Rosanna Day nee Ridout (1840-1927). Although Annie's age was shown in the register entry as 28 she was actually 30. Fred and Annie had four children: Freda Irene Knight (1898-1996) – known as Irene Laurie Eileen Knight (1901-1982) – known as Eileen Vivian Arthur Knight (1904-1939) Frederick Cecil Knight (1908-1994) In April 1901 Fred, Annie and Irene were living at Rowden Lodge in the Hartley area of Plymouth , Devon. Rowden was the home of Colonel Walter William Marriott Smith (1846-1944) who had connections to Winterborne St Martin . Fred was employed as groom and gardener. Their second daughter was born two months later. Rowden later became a 22-bed women's drug and alcohol rehabilitation centre known as Longreach but the charitable company running it went into voluntary administration in 2019. The original office/coach-house block has recently been converted to flats but the main house has now been demolished to make way for six new units. By 1904 the Marriott Smith family had moved to 4 Penlee Gardens, now one of Plymouth's most exclusive streets. By September 1904 Fred was a coachman at Devizes , Wiltshire living at Braeside Lodge . The family had now grown to five in number following the birth of son Vivian. Braeside House was home to elderly widow Mrs Caroline Kate Wynnell-Mayow (c.1825-1912). It is now a licensed wedding venue and education centre. Fred and family then came to Tyneham and took up residence in Museum Cottage . Fred was coachman for the Bond family for 14 years. The 1911 census taken at Tyneham on 2 April showed Fred senior aged 40, Annie aged 45, Irene 12, Eileen 9, Vivian 7 and Fred junior aged 2. The following year the children attending Tyneham School were photographed and three of the Knight siblings were captured on camera. E=Irene Knight, K=Eileen Knight & V=Fred Knight. Sibling Vivian Knight is not pictured as he could only attend school part time due to poor health The last of the coachman to inhabit the Museum was Frederick Knight, its occupant for over fourteen years. He sadly brought the brougham and pair out for the last time on my wedding day, a month or so before the shadows of the first World War descended on the country. Lilian Bond In 1918 the family moved to Povington . In June 1921 Fred senior 52, Annie 57, Vivian 17 and Fred junior 13 were living at 61 West Street, Wareham . Fred senior was a gardener working for Mr. Cottee, the auctioneer . In September 1939 Fred and Annie were still at 61 West Street, Wareham . Irene and husband Thomas were living with them. Fred senior died in June 1946 aged 76 and was buried at Wareham. His widow Annie died in September 1954 aged 89. Freda Irene Knight (1898-1996) Freda, known as Irene , was born on 4 August 1898 at Winterborne St Martin (Martinstown). She was baptised there exactly one month later on 4 September 1898. After leaving Tyneham School , Irene first worked in the Rectory at East Lulworth and later secured a job with ladies' and gents' outfitters Bussey & Son at 3 North Street, Wareham, cycling to and from Tyneham every day. In June 1921 Irene was employed as a nurse for the Lockett family at 64 Lonsdale Road, Barnes , London SW13. Sometime between 1921 and 1930 Irene is understood to have married Thomas Chase . From 1930 to 1936 Thomas and Irene were living at 89 Gunterstone Road, Fulham , London W14 along with two other families. They then moved to 34 Holland Villas Road, Kensington , London W14. In 1939 Irene and Thomas were back in Dorset living with Fred and Annie at 61 West Street, Wareham . Irene died in 1996 aged 98. The elder girl has often spoken to me of her happy childhood memories, her consolation in the troubles of her later life. Lilian Bond Laurie Eileen Knight (1901-1982) Laurie, known as Eileen , was born on 17 June 1901 at Plymouth and baptised on 4 August 1901 at St Pancras, Pennycross. After leaving Tyneham School, Eileen worked in the dairy at Tyneham Farm . In June 1921 Eileen was a live-in servant for Wareham butchers Mrs. Mary Warren and son Ralph at 4 South Street , Wareham Eileen married Maurice Stanley Chappell (1895-1950) in 1925. In September 1939 Maurice was employed as a slaughterman and they were living at The Square, Corfe Castle with son Ronald Stanley Frank Chappell (1926-2001). Maurice died in 1950 and in 1951 Eileen married Philip Charles Chant (1907-1982) who was divorced from his first wife Marjorie Chant nee Platts (1908-2000). Eileen and Philip lived at 158 East Street, Corfe Castle . Philip died on 31 August 1982 aged 74 and Eileen died just over two months later on 6 November 1982 aged 80.

Vivian Arthur Knight (1904-1939) Vivian was born in January or February 1904 at Gussage All Saints . He was baptised at Devizes , Wiltshire on 4 September 1904. Apparently Vivian had trouble with his lungs in early life and was only able to attend school part-time. He attended Tyneham School but was not present in 1912 when the whole school photograph was taken. In June 1921, Vivian was a motor engineer working for Mr. Stroud at Northport , Wareham. Vivian died on 8 September 1939 aged 35 and was buried at Wareham. Frederick Cecil Knight (1908-1994) Fred was born on 8 June 1908 at Museum Cottage . Fred's first real memory was the oak tree planted in 1911 to commemorate the coronation of King George V . Fred left Tyneham School in 1918 when the family moved to Povington and he then attended school at East Lulworth until 1920. His final two school years were at Wareham. I don't think I had any interest in school, I'd rather have been outside in the woods with the birds. Fred Knight 1993 In 1933 Fred married Ivy Adelaide Burgess (1908-1991) . Ivy was born at Wareham on 27 September 1908 and baptised there on 31 January 1909. She was the daughter of blacksmith James Henry Burgess (1868-1939) and his wife Lily Burgess nee Skinner (1876-1959). In September 1939 Fred and Ivy were living at Ivydene, West Walls, Wareham . Fred was a plumber & pipe fitter and in the Auxiliary Fire Service . Fred retired in 1973. Ivy died in 1991 aged 82 and her ashes were buried in Tyneham churchyard. In 1999 Fred's childhood memories of Tyneham were recorded in ' The Rooks in the Elm Trees ' by Jenny Elmes. Fred died on 21 March 1994 aged 85. His ashes were buried in Tyneham churchyard. Photo courtesy of Gavin Churchill Fred and Ivy had two sons. Younger son Ron sadly died in 2021 and his ashes are now understood to be buried at Tyneham. Fred was a frequent visitor to Tyneham on Sunday afternoons back in the early 90's. He used to turn up in his Austin 1100 and make his way down to the school where the range wardens had set up a chair near the fire for him (in winter we used to light it). He would sit and regale to visitors or anyone who would listen his memories of the village. If it was a quiet day he would come and plonk himself down in the duty warden's Land Rover and have a pipe while chatting about days gone by. He was very excited when he told me about a book he was having written about his time in the village ! (Recorded and written by Jenny Elmes). RIP Fred. Chris Strowbridge, Range Warden Page last updated: 6 September 2023 Knight Family Burgess , Chant , Chappell , Chase , Day , Knight Comments Off on Knight Family Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – K Knight Knight Comments Off on Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – K Barnes Family Herd , Knight , Stockley Comments Off on Barnes Family 1914: Air Rifle Shooting On Wednesday evening last week the members of the Povington Club visited Tyneham to shoot the return match to that won by the former Club by seven points on February 7th. Tyneham now won by 19 points, making 184 points, and Povington 165. Scores:- Tyneham – J. Curtis (captain), 23;... Posted in Newspaper Curtis , Gould , Knight , Lucas , Meech , Taylor , Warr Comments Off on 1914: Air Rifle Shooting

Longman Family

The Longman Family lived at Baltington Farm Tyneham for 30 years from around 1913 until the evacuation in December 1943 . Albert Bernard Longman (1869-1943) Albert was born on 17 April 1869 at Hurn , near Christchurch, to Thomas Longman (1831-1905) and his wife Jemima Mary Longman nee Wills (1830-1916) . In 1871 his father was publican at the Horns Inn , Dunsbury near West Parley which also doubled as a general shop. By 1881, the family were living at Firgrove Farm , West Parley. His father was farming 48 acres and employing one man. By 1891, the family had progressed to Holdenhurst Farm . Albert, aged 21, was a dairyman . By 1901, the family had moved again, this time to Hurn Bridge Farm . Albert was now a Farm Bailiff . In 1905 Albert married Emma Caroline Bartlett (1870–1940) . Emma was the daughter of farmer George Bartlett (1846-1909) and his wife Louisa Martha Bartlett nee Miller (1846-1907) of Heron Court Farm , Hurn. Albert and Emma had four children: Thomas Herbrand George 'Tommie' Longman (1906–1914) – born at Hurn – died at Tyneham Louisa Winifred Mary 'Louie' Longman (1908–1977) – born at Hurn Evelyn Mary Longman (1910–1985) – born at Hurn Reginald Charles Augustine Longman (1913–1983) – born at Tyneham By 1913 the family had moved to Baltington Farm . In the 1920s Albert rented out one of his fields between Tyneham and Worbarrow to the Scoutmasters of Eton College for their week-long annual Summer Scout Camps . In 1932, Albert Longman employed Mr. S Allen , an engine driver. In September 1939, Albert, wife Emma, son Reginald, daughter Evelyn and housekeeper Lydia

Dowsett were still living at Baltington Farm. Evelyn was a dairymaid. Albert died on 9 December 1943 – believed to be due to the shock of seeing his cattle being sold off so cheaply at the auction. Baltington Farm Disposal Report, Western Gazette, 17 December 1943 Albert Longman was my Grandfather and actually died on the day of his sale. He was living in Corfe with my Mum and Dad (Louie and Stanley Sheasby). He may have gone to the sale first and died later. My Mum was brought up at Baltington Farm and went to Tyneham School . Sadly she died before more open access was allowed in the village. Bridget Dixon Thomas Herbrand George 'Tommie' Longman (1906–1914) Tommie was born at Hurn in 1906. Sadly he died at Baltington Farm on 22 October 1914 aged just 8 years. It is understood he was kicked in the leg by a cow and contracted TB. Apparently villagers took a door off its hinges to stretch him. In Memoriam – Western Gazette 19 October 1917 Louisa Winifred Mary 'Louie' Longman (1908–1977) Louie was born at Hurn o 9 February 1908. She married Stanley Charles 'Stan' Sheasby (1904-1960) in 1933 at St Mary's Roman Catholic Church, East Lulworth. Stan was the son of Ernest Sheasby (1878-1932) who started a horse and carriage business at Corfe Castle in 1906. The business expanded and motor buses were added. Two tea rooms were opened to cater for visitors. After obtaining a school contract to transport children, he purchased his first coaches. Sadly in 1932, aged 53, he was fatally injured after being crushed by one of his coaches at the Hants and Dorset Depot in Poole. Ernest's family continued to operate the business and the name South Dorset Coaches was introduced. The family finally sold the 99 year old business in 2005. 1936 Advertisement for Sheasby's of Corfe Castle In September 1939, Louie was proprietress of the Castle Tea Gardens , Corfe Castle. Stan was a bus owner . 1 Stan and Louie had a daughter Bridget . Stan died on 12 July 1960 at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Boscombe, Bournemouth aged 56. Louie died on 30 January 1977 aged 68. Evelyn Mary Longman (1910–1985) Evelyn was born on 12 October 1910 at Hurn . She married George Thomas 'Cudgie' Wright (1913-1988) in 1940. Reginald Charles Augustine Longman (1913–1983) Reginald was born at Tyneham on 26 November 1913. Reginald married Joan Mary Potter (1921-1973) of Church Hill, Donhead St Mary , Wiltshire in 1943. Her father was a wheelright's smith. 1 By June 1945 Reginald and Joan were living at Stockford Farm , East Stoke. Reginald and Joan had five daughters – Rita, Patricia, Rosemarie known as Diane, Janet and Gillian. Joan died in 1973 aged 51 and Reginald died on 15 December 1983 aged 70. 2 They are buried at East Stoke as too is daughter Diane. I used to have a drink with Reg when he came into Wareham on Saturday nights, very often in the Black Bear Hotel. He was a very interesting man to talk to. Martin Burgin-Thorpe With thanks to: Bridget Dixon, Martin Burgin-Thorpe, Rebecca Cady & Tony Langdown If you have any photographs or information to share on this or other pages, please email us at the contact address shown on our page Page last updated: 6 September 2022 1939 Register [] [] Probate Calendar 1984 []

Lucas Family

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z Five generations of the Lucas Family are known to have lived at Tyneham. 'Shepherd' Lucas and his family lived in the Shepherd's Cottage at 4 The Row . James Lucas (1750-1790) James was born at Sixpenny Handley , Dorset and baptised there on 27 January 1750. He was the son of John Luccas and his wife Martha Luccas nee Joy . James married Grace Gronday (1751-1810) at Sixpenny Handley on 20 July 1775. James and Grace had at least three children: Grace Lucas (1777-?) Ann Lucas (1779-?) – baptised at Tyneham on 25 July 1779 James Lucas (1780-1832) – baptised at Tyneham on 26 November 1780 – see below James senior died at Coombe Keynes in May 1790. His widow Grace married John Bushrod at Wool, Dorset on 19 February 1792. Grace died at Wool and was buried on 20 November 1810. James Lucas (1780-1832) James was born at Tyneham and baptised there on 26 November 1780. James married Ann Dorey at Coombe Keynes on 2 May 1809. James died in January 1832 and was buried on 6 January 1832 in the churchyard. William Lucas (1822-1891) Photo courtesy of Matt Kendall William was the son of James Lucas and his wife Ann Lucas nee Dorey. He was baptised at Tyneham. William married Harriett Anstey (1826-1905) at Tyneham on 3 October 1847. William and Harriett had nine children, at least one dying in infancy: James William 'Shepherd' Lucas (1848-1925) – see below Fanny Lucas (1851-1932) George Lucas (1852-1917) Elizabeth Anne Lucas (1856-1925) Henry Lucas (1860-?) Jane Maria Lucas (1861-1948) Mary Charlotte Lucas (1865-1865) Louisa Lucas (1867-1907) Robert

Lucas (1871-1953) William died in May 1891. His widow Harriet died in 1905. James William 'Shepherd' Lucas (1848-1925) Shepherd Lucas was born at Tyneham to William Lucas (1822-1891) of Tyneham and his wife Harriett Lucas (nee Anstey) (1826-1905) who are pictured above. Shepherd Lucas married Jane Diskett (1851-1931) of Compton Valence at Tyneham on 2 October 1871. Shepherd and Jane had ten children, all born at Tyneham: William James Lucas (1872-1967) – William married Clara Louisa 'Louisa' Moore (1884-1973) of Child Okeford and they had three children: Frederick James Lucas (1905-?) – Frederick married Ethel Florence Davis (1909-1976). William George Lucas (1907-1971) – William married Winifred Mabel Miles (?-?) and they had seven children Irene Kate Louise Lucas (1909-1993) – Irene married Edgar James Burgess (1906-1991) at Bryanstone, Dorset on 27 March 1932 and they later settled in Berkshire. Annie Maria Lucas (1874-1951) – Annie married Frederick Pearce Rolls (1865-1931) of Bockhampton near Dorchester. Annie and Fred had eight children, the first born at Tyneham and the others at Bockhampton: Edith Bessie Rolls (1894-1971) , Ethel Winifred Rolls (1895-1896) , William Reginald G Rolls (1896-1897) , Albert Leonard James Rolls (1898-1961) , George Rolls (1900-1957) , Daisy Rolls (1903-1972) , Hilda Beatrice Mary Rolls (1904-1957) , Dorothy Kathleen Rolls (1906-1977) . The family moved to Winterborne Whitechurch. Ellen Jane Lucas (1876-1954) – Ellen married Frederick Ernest Parker (1875-1899) at Tyneham on 27 December 1897 and they had one son Wilfred Charles Parker (1898-1988). Sadly Frederick died in 1899. Ellen married George Orchard in 1905 and they had two sons and a daughter: Frederick George William Orchard (1906-1945), Lilian Rose Orchard (1907-1979) and Bertram Orchard (1911-1986). George Lucas (1879-?) – George married Miriam Alice Lacey (1878-1949) and they had at least three children in the London area: Leslie Ernest N Lucas (1907-1984) – Leslie married Sylvia in 1942 and they had a daughter George Lucas b. Tottenham (1909-?) Harry William Claude Lucas (1911-2005) – Harry married Irene Vera West (1920-1995) in 1940. Bessie Lucas (1880-1923) – Bessie married Benjamin Cooper (1877-?) , a Royal Naval Officer, at Tyneham on 19 December 1906. Witnesses were brother William Lucas, sister Edith Kate Lucas and her future husband Percy Beach. Bessie and Benjamin had four children all born at Emsworth, Hampshire: Archibald Benjamin Cooper (1907-1977), Hilda Beatrice Cooper (1908-1975), Gladys Isabel May Cooper (1910-2000), Wilfred Albert Leonard Cooper (1913-1989). Charles Henry Lucas (1882-?) – Edith Kate Lucas (1885-1958) – Edith married Percy Beach at Tyneham on 5 August 1911 and moved to Upwey. Edith and Percy had two sons: Cecil Stanley Beach (1913-1974) Rowland Percy Beach (1916-1986). The lowest cottage in the row was the shepherd's by tradition and occupied for many years by the Shepherd Lucas, his wife and their tribe of fair and blue-eyed children. As if her numerous offspring and their progeny were not enough to occupy her heart and hands she made herself the unofficial sick nurse of the village, dealing with accidents and confinements with remarkable skill. Lilian Bond Page last updated: 4 July 2021 Lucas Family Diskett , Lucas Comments Off on Lucas Family Wellman Family Cox , Dando , Lucas , Stockley , Wellman Comments Off on Wellman Family 1931: Death of Mrs. James Lucas TYNEHAM AN APPRECIATION. – A correspondent writes: "The death of Mrs. James Lucas, at the age of 80, has broken the last link with the old generation so closely connected with Tyneham Farm. Widow of 'Shepherd' Lucas (who died six years ago), she had spent the whole of her married... Posted in Obituary Diskett , Lucas Comments Off on 1931: Death of Mrs. James Lucas 1914: Air Rifle Shooting On Wednesday evening last week the members of the Povington Club visited Tyneham to shoot the return match to that won by the former Club by seven points on February 7th. Tyneham now won by 19 points, making 184 points, and Povington 165. Scores:- Tyneham – J. Curtis (captain), 23;... Posted in Newspaper Curtis , Gould , Knight , Lucas , Meech , Taylor , Warr Comments Off on 1914: Air Rifle Shooting

Meech Family

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z The Meech Family Thomas Charles 'Charlie' Meech (1884- 1971) Charlie was the son of Emily Taylor nee Hyde (1865-1917) , the Laundress, from her first marriage to Thomas How Meech (1860-1888) . He was four when his father died. Charlie was the ' Odd Man ' at Tyneham House . Beloved Charlie Meech ... stayed ... with the [Bond] family for over forty years. Charlie began as bailiff's horseman at the farm, removing to the House when the farm was let. He rapidly became an institution and indispensable, endearing

himself to staff and family alike. Invariably cheerful and ungrudging of his time and trouble, he soon identified himself with all our interests and entered into them with sympathy and zest. In any quandary or troublesome situation the cry increasingly became: "Ask Charlie". He seldom failed to find the right solution to the problem. Charlie was sympathetic with the young, who took to him instinctively. They loved his jokes and most infectious laugh and children staying at Tyneham always asked permission to "go out with Charlie". Lillian Bond After the evacuation, Ralph and Evelyn Bond lived in a house at Corfe Castle for three years and Charlie stayed on with them. William George Meech (1887-1916) William was also the son of Emily Taylor nee Hyde (1865-1917) , the Laundress, from her first marriage to Thomas How Meech (1860-1888) He was just one year old when his father died. William became a gamekeeper and was boarding with the Cane family at Milborne Port in 1911. He enlisted with the 1st Dorset Yeomanry at Sherborne. Sadly Private William Meech was killed in action in Egypt on 26 February 1916 aged 28. He is remembered on the War Memorial in Tyneham Church . Page last updated: 4 July 2021 War Dead Balson , Bascombe , Chilcott , Cleall , Holland , Homan , McPeak , Meech , Taylor Comments Off on War Dead Meech Family Meech , Taylor , War Dead Comments Off on Meech Family 1914: Air Rifle Shooting On Wednesday evening last week the members of the Povington Club visited Tyneham to shoot the return match to that won by the former Club by seven points on February 7th. Tyneham now won by 19 points, making 184 points, and Povington 165. Scores:- Tyneham – J. Curtis (captain), 23;... Posted in Newspaper Curtis , Gould , Knight , Lucas , Meech , Taylor , Warr Comments Off on 1914: Air Rifle Shooting

Miller Family

Members of the Miller family that lived at Worbarrow/Tyneham include the following: Basil William Miller (1893-1984) + Edith Annie Miller nee Pittman (1897-1950) Charles (1787-1831) Charles (1818-1882) Charles William 'Charlie' Miller (1851-1943) + Harriet Deborah Miller nee White (1854-1957) David Miller (1798-1868) m. Harriet Miller nee Hibbs (c.1799-1844) Henry Miller (c.1680-1747) m. Esther Miller nee Nelson (c.1780-1713?) Henry Miller (1740-1803) m. Mary Miller nee Rowe (1742-1827) Henry Miller (1784-1868) m. Jane Miller nee Langrish (1792-1870) James Miller (1754-1840) m. Martha Miller nee Coastfield (1754-1840) John Miller (1713-1780) m. Mary Miller nee Rumsey (1721-1780) John Miller (1743-1808) m. Priscilla Miller nee Coastfield (1745-1820) John Alfred 'Jack' Miller (1866-1947) m. Alice Rose White 'Miggie' Miller nee Rose (1865-1959) Joseph Miller (1824-1909) m. Ann Miller nee Charles (c.1826-1886) Joseph Henry 'Joe' Miller (1857-1953) m. Harriet Louisa Miller nee Murray (1858-1899) Martha Miller (1789-1855) m. Thomas Miller (1782-?) Robert Miller (1760-1820) m. Susannah Miller nee Willcox (1760–1830) Samuel Miller (1763-1848) m. Elizabeth Miller nee Bradford (1763-1846) Thomas Henry 'Henry' Miller (1835-1926) m. Louisa Jane Miller (nee Langrish (1832-1912) Thomas William 'Tom' Miller (1858-1952) William Henry Miller (1821-1883) m. Sarah Jane Miller nee Miller (1825-1914) Millers descended from the above: Walter Ernest Miller (1820-1903) + Miller Family Main menu Members of the Miller family that lived at Worbarrow/Tyneham include the following: Please note pages with photos are highlighted in blue Basil William Miller (1893-1984) + Edith Annie Miller nee Pittman (1897-1950) Charles (1787-1831) Charles (1818-1882) Charles William 'Charlie' Miller (1851-1943) + Harriet Deborah Miller nee White (1854-1957) David Miller (1798-1868) m.... Miller Comments Off on Miller Family News – 1939 Mr. and Mrs. Charles William MILLER Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Miller, of Worbarrow Bay, Dorset, have received a message of congratulations from the King and Queen on their diamond wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Miller have lived in the same cottage for 58 years. The Times, Saturday 4 February 1939 Miller Comments Off on News – 1939 Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – M Miller Miller Comments Off on Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – M Hill Cottage Miller Comments Off on Hill Cottage Balson's Gap and Malhala's Fortune by Roy Martin In her book, Tyneham, A Lost Heritage, Lillian Bond wrote: "The first of the Tyneham woodmen that I remember was a Balson ... Old Balson was a little, wiry man as gnarled and woody looking as a tree root. His clothes, well weathered by long use, were the traditional corded... Posted in Guest post Balson , Miller Comments Off on Balson's Gap and Malhala's Fortune by Roy Martin 1947: Aged Evacuee from Training Area Mrs. C. Miller dies at Stoborough An evacuee from the much discussed battle training area of the Isle of Purbeck, whose exclusion from her lifelong home at Warbarrow Bay has aroused the sympathy of all interested in the "battle" of Purbeck. Mrs. Harriet Deborah Miller, has died at her home at Stoborough. The fate of the... Posted in Obituary Miller , Worbarrow Comments Off on 1947: Aged Evacuee from Training Area Mrs. C. Miller dies at Stoborough 1939: Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Miller Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Miller, of Worbarrow Bay, Dorset, have received a message of congratulations from the King and Queen on their diamond wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Miller have lived in the same cottage for 58 years. Published by The Times, Saturday 4 February 1939 Posted in Newspaper Miller , Worbarrow Comments Off on 1939: Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Miller 1884: Worbarrow – Death of Mr. Joseph Miller It is with regret that we announce the death of Mr. Joseph Miller, an old and respected inhabitant of this place. He was a great favourite with both old and young, and will be greatly missed. In fact Worbarrow has lost its chairman. He gently fell asleep on March 30th... Posted in Obituary Miller Comments Off on 1884: Worbarrow – Death of Mr. Joseph Miller 1865: West Lulworth – The Melancholy Casualty at Sea On Saturday afternoon just before 2 pm, a south south west wind blowing and a heavy sea running the Warborough galley was seen by the watchman at Lulworth returning from Weymouth where she had gone previous evening for Government Stores. She past the cove in safety but about a quarter... Posted in Newspaper Baker , Bale , Chope , coastguard , coastguard station , Dunn , Gildea , Hickey , Miller , Purnell , Williams Comments Off on 1865: West Lulworth – The Melancholy Casualty at Sea Page last updated: 1 October 2022

Henry Miller (c1680-1747)

Miller Index Henry married Esther Nelson at Tyneham on 4 February 1700/01. Henry and Esther had five children, all baptised at Tyneham: Elizabeth Miller (1701-) – Elizabeth was baptised on 8 June 1701. She married George Compton on 1 June 1732. Robert Miller (1703-) – Robert was baptised on 28 December 1703. He married Susannah Smedmore at Tyneham on 6 October 1730 and they had a son Henry who was baptised on 25 January 1731/32. Henry was buried on 30 January 1731/32 and Susannah was buried just over a month later on 5 March 1731/32. Henry Miller (1705-) – Henry was baptised on 30 September 1705. Esther Miller (1708-1777) – Esther was baptised on 30 November 1708. She married Joseph Cates (1713-1769) of East Lulworth at Tyneham on 4 December 1738. Joseph and Esther had four children at East Lulworth: Hannah Cates (1739-?), Elizabeth Cates (1740-1741), Elizabeth Cates (1744-?) and Joseph Cates (1751-1825). Joseph Cates senior was buried at East Lulworth on 28 October 1769 and his widow, Esther, was buried at East Lulworth on 1 October 1777. John Miller (1713-1780) – John married Mary Rumsey (1721-1780) at Tyneham in 1739. John and Mary had nine children. Click for more information Henry Miller was buried at Tyneham on 31 July 1747. Page last updated: 2 September 2022

John Miller (1713-1780)

Families Miller A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z John was the youngest of five children born to Henry Miller (c.1680-1747) and Esther Miller neé Nelson. John married Mary Rumsey (1721-1780) at Tyneham in 1739. John and Mary had nine children: ● Henry Miller (1740-) – Henry married Mary Rowe at Wareham in 1764. Henry and Mary had nine children. ● Betty Miller (1742-1742) – Betty was baptised 9 May 1742 and was buried just less than a month later on 8 June 1742. ● John Miller (1743-) – John married Priscilla Coastfield (1745-1820) at Worth Matravers. John and Priscilla had six children. ● William Miller (1748-) – ● Mary Miller (1751-) – ● James Miller (1754-) – James was baptised at Tyneham on 15 September 1754. He married Martha Coastfield (1754-1840) on 21 October 1783 at Worth Matravers. Martha was the youngest sister of Priscilla Coastfield (his brother John's wife). James and Martha had a daughter, Martha Miller (1789-) and she married her cousin Thomas Miller (1782-), son of her father's brother John Miller and mother's sister Priscilla Coastfield. Martha senior died in April 1840 aged 86 and James died three months later in July 1840 aged 85. They were buried at Tyneham. ● Thomas Miller (1757-) – ● Robert Miller (1760-) – Robert married Susannah Wilcox in 1785. Robert and Susannah had twelve children. ● Samuel Miller (1763-) – Samuel married Elizabeth Bradford at West Lulworth and they had nine children. John and Mary both died in 1780.

John Miller (1743-1808)

Families Miller A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z John was the third child of nine born to John Miller (1713-1780) and Mary Miller neé Rumsey (1721-1780) . He was baptised at Tyneham on 28 August 1743. John married Priscilla Coastfield (1745-1820) on 29 April 1779 at Worth Matravers. Priscilla was the third of six daughters of Thomas and Rebecca Coastfield (nee Bower). John and Priscilla had six children: ● John Miller (1780-1864) – John did not marry. In 1861 he was living with younger brother Henry (1784-) and his wife Jane. ● Rebecca Miller (1781-) – ● Thomas Miller (1782-) – Thomas married his cousin Martha Miller, son of James Miller (his father John's brother) and Martha Coastfield (his mother Priscilla's sister). ● Henry Miller (1784-) – Henry married Jane Langrish at West Lulworth in 1817. Henry and Jane had ten children: ● Sarah Miller (1786-) – ● Mary Miller (1787-1787) – It is believed that John died in 1808. Priscilla died in April 1820 aged 74. John and Priscilla were buried at Tyneham.

Thomas Henry Miller (1835-1926)

Miller Index Thomas Henry Miller , known as ' Henry ', was the last of twelve children born to Henry Miller (1784-1868) and his wife Jane Miller neé Langrish (1792-1870) . He was baptised at Tyneham Church on 28 June 1835. Henry married Louisa Jane Langrish (1832-1912) on 5 November 1857 at West Lulworth, Dorset. Louisa was the daughter of coastguard Mathew Langrish (1799-1865) and his wife Amelia Langrish nee Meaden (1805-1895) . Henry & Louisa lived at Hill Cottage at the foot of Gold Down, above the Coastguard Station . Henry lived under Gold Down up a 'drong' behind the coastguard station with his wife Louisa and bachelor son Tom. As Henry was our gamekeeper and boatman to the House we saw far more of him than of the other fishermen and treasured many of his sayings, alas now long since forgotten. He had learned to observe, to think and form his own opinions, and very sound and sensible they were. His rich and racy Dorset dialect gave flavour to his reminiscences and he had a genius for the choice of the right word. In the Crimean War he had served as a coastal watcher and he had many tales to relate of his nightly patrols. Lilian Bond Henry & Louisa had six children: Thomas William 'Tom' Miller (1858-1952) – Amelia Jane Miller (1860-1943) – Amelia married first cousin Jesse Walter Miller (1861-1938) Emma Louisa Miller (1863-1864) – Emma Louisa was baptised at Tyneham on 9 August 1863 and buried at Tyneham on 28 March 1864 aged 8 months. John Alfred 'Jack' Miller (1866-1947) – Martha Elizabeth Miller (1867-1958) – married Albert Victor 'Bertie' Butler (1866-1935) Kezia Eliza Miller (1868-1967) – Keziah was baptised at Tyneham on 29 November 1868 – she married William Thomas Christopher Watkinson (1874-1920) In 1891, Tom and Jack were still living with their parents. Miller Index Page last updated: 2 October 2022

Charles William Miller (1851-1943)

Miller index Charles William Miller, known as Charlie , was born at Worbarrow on 23 October 1851. He was the eldest son of William Henry Miller (1821-1883) and his wife Sarah Jane Miller nee Miller (1825-1914) . Charlie was baptised at Tyneham Church on 16 November 1851. Charlie married Harriet Deborah White at Kingston Old Church on 29 January 1879. Harriet Deborah Miller nee White (1854-1947) was the daughter of William White (1822-1895) and Elizabeth Kingsbury White nee Fry (1827-1900).] Charlie Miller's wife [Harriet], a White of Kingston, had been the Tyneham school-ma'am in her maiden days and was devoted to young things but had no children of her own. We loved her bright and lively face, warm laugh and husky voice which always welcomed us. I never saw her otherwise than neat and trim, appearing at her doorway in a spotless apron. Her little house was just as clean and tidy as her person. We never tired at looking at its many photographs and treasures which Mrs. Charlie seemed to enjoy displaying. One ornament of the parlour which we dearly loved was a small stuffed tabby kitten attached to a photograph frame. Charlie and Harriet were a devoted pair. I cherish a charming portrait of them, taken in the garden on their golden wedding day. Charlie is gallantly offering the still comely Harriet a rose, and she looks pleased and bashful. She sang in the choir for 40 years at least, walking to church twice every Sunday. Charlie was seriously ill when the evacuation fell in bitter December weather. Because of an influenza epidemic raging at the time, more than half the ambulances promised for the transport of the sick and aged failed to arrive. The Charlies were among the unfortunates compelled to wait for twenty-four hours in comfortless homes with all their household goods packed up and ready to go. The old man died, a few days later, begging for my brother to take him back to Worbarrow. Permission was given for his funeral at Tyneham. Harriet lingered on for several years, but all her zest for living had departed with her home and Charlie. When she, too, died, it was impossible to bury her remains with his and so they rest in Wareham churchyard. Charles and Harriet lived at Fern Hollow, Worbarrow. Charlie died a few days after the evacuation. The Army gave permission for him to be buried at Tyneham. Harriet was buried at Wareham. MILLER Harriet Deborah of Rose Cottage Stoborough near Wareham Dorsetshire widow died 29 August 1947. Page last updated: 2 October 2022

John Alfred Miller (1866-1947)

Miller Index John Alfred Miller was born at Hill Cottage , Worbarrow on 29 March 1866 to Thomas Henry Miller (1835-1926) and his wife Louisa Jane Miller nee Langrish (1832-1912) and baptised at Tyneham Church on 20 May 1866. He was known mostly as ' Jack ' but sometimes as ' Jam ' because of his initials. Photo courtesy of Barbara Swinburne Jack married Alice Mary White Rose (1865-1959), known as Miggie, on 8 November 1897 at Swanage. She was the daughter of Edward Austin Rose (1843-1901) and his wife Martha Ann Pink (1847-1940) . The witnesses were Edward Rose (Miggie's father), Emily Florence Pink Rose (Miggie's sister), Edward Percy Rose (Miggie's brother) and Martha Elizabeth Miller (Jack's sister). Photo courtesy of Barbara Swinburne Jack met Miggie when she was the cook at the Victoria Hotel in Swanage and he drove the Station Omnibus . Jack Miller had driven the station omnibus for the Victoria Hotel at Swanage and married the Victoria's competent cook, a London maiden with the – to children – fascinating name of Alice White Rose. They named their home at Worbarrow "White Rose Cottage" and lived in it until, after Joseph [Miller]'s death, they moved into his house, Sea Cottage, on the edge of the shore. Lilian Bond Jack and Miggie lived at Rose Cottage , Worbarrow . They did not have any children. Jack and Miggie moved to Sea Cottage , Worbarrow in 1913 following Joseph Henry Miller's death. On 26 August 1937, Miggie's mother Martha Ann Rose nee Pink (1847-1940) , known as Granny Rose , celebrated her 90th Birthday . Photo courtesy of Barbara Swinburne Photo courtesy of Barbara Swinburne Photo courtesy of Barbara Swinburne On 29 September 1939, the occupants of Sea Cottage were: MILLER John A 73 1866 Married Fisherman MILLER Alice M 73 1865 Married Unpaid Domestic Duties ROSE Martha Ann 92 1847 Widow Retired O A Pensioner Photo courtesy of Barbara Swinburne Granny Rose died in October 1940 aged 93 years. She was buried in Tyneham Churchyard on 18 October 1943. Jack and Miggie were evacuated from Worbarrow in December 1943. They were found a cottage at the edge of Langton Matravers on the road heading towards Kingston. Jack and his wife moved, at the evacuation, to a house at Langton, condemned some time before and therefore conveniently unoccupied. There they endured extremes of damp and cold in great discomfort and without complaint. Jack fell victim to bronchitis, soon after the war, but "Miggie", crippled with arthritis, lived until 1951 [1959], her gallant spirit undefeated and her Londoner's quick tongue uncurbed. She was a generous and warm-hearted neighbour and a faithful friend, whose memory is treasured by a host of summer visitors to Worbarrow as well as by old inhabitants of Tyneham Lilian Bond Photo courtesy of Barbara Swinburne Jack died at Jasper Cottage on 1 December 1947 aged 81. His widow Miggie continued living at Langton and died on 23 February 1959 aged 92. Jasper Cottage, at 120 High Street, Langton Matravers, is a Grade II listed building: Detached cottage. Probably C17 origin, extended to right in C18. Rubblestone walls, stone slate roof, brick stack near centre. One storey and attic. Gabled porch with cambered stone lintel to doorway. Part-glazed door. At left end, a second part-glazed door into an integral outbuilding. Ground floor has one casement window with horizontal glazing bars, and one top-hung window. No dormers on front. Main ground floor room has large fireplace -built up, with evidence of bread oven. Deep chamfered ceiling beam. Stonefront boundary wall. Reputedly of long-house origin. A National Trust property. RCHM Monument 32 (Dorset Vol. II). Miller Index Page last updated: 1 October

Walter Ernest Miller (1889-1969)

Families Miller A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z Walter was the last child of six born to Frederick William Miller (1858-1898) and Louisa Maria Miller neé Cherry (1860-1909). He was born on 4 February 1889 at Peckham, London. Walter was baptised at on. Walter married Bertha Helena Halligan (1891 –) Walter and Bertha had two children : ● Raymond Richard Miller (1920 – 2000) – ● Iris Edith Miller b. Calgary (1922 – 2006) –

Mintern Family

The Mintern Family lived at Worbarrow until the evacuation in 1943. Please be aware Mintern was often spelled as Minterne and, going back, also as Minton. Samuel Mintern (1825-1879) = Mary Ann Spencer (1821-1902) Samuel Minterne was born at East Stoke, Dorset. He married Worbarrow-born Mary Ann Spencer on 28 November 1847. The family lived at Holme Bridge near East Stoke where Samuel worked as a shoemaker. Samuel and Mary had six 1 children but so far we have only identified five: 1. Ann Mintern (1848-?) – born at East Stoke – worked in service in London and married John Clements 2. Charles Spencer Mintern (1851-1910) – born at Worbarrow and married Ann Squibb (1846-1911), living first at Wareham then later at Parkstone near Poole – Charles and Ann did not have any children 3. Elizabeth Mintern (1856-1929) – born at East Stoke and married George Elford and moved first to Tuckton, near Christchurch, and later Sway in the New Forest 4. Mary Jane Mintern (1860-1875) – born at East Stoke, baptised at Tyneham, sadly Jane died aged just 15 5. William Thomas 'Tom' Minterne (1862-1925) – see below for more information Samuel spent time in Dorchester Prison from September 1873 – the offence was leaving his wife 'chargeable' to the Poor Law Union. 1 Samuel died in 1879 aged 74. Sadly his widow Mary spent at least eleven years in the Workhouse at Wareham until her death there in August 1902 aged 81. William Thomas 'Tom' Minterne (1862-1925) = Sarah Ann Sansom (1867-1939) Tom was born at East Stoke and baptised at Tyneham. He was a gamekeeper and married Sarah Ann Sansom on 30 April 1892 at Tyneham. Sarah was born at Coombe Keynes. Tom and Sarah had six children: 1. Ethel Mary Mintern (1893-1960) – Ethel was baptised at Tyneham on 14 May 1893 – she married William Henry Wood from Polesworth, Warwickshire at Tyneham on 9 June 1919 – Ethel moved with her husband to Polesworth and had nine children – after her husband's death in 1946 she married John T A Spencer in 1947 – she died in 1960 aged 68 2. Jessie Mary Mintern (1895-1982) – Jessie was born at Worbarrow and baptised at Tyneham on 12 January 1896 – she married David Mills (1895-1980) at Tyneham on 21 April 1919 – twenty years later David and Jessie were living in Padiham, Lancashire with their son Derrick Mintern Mills (1923-2009). 3. Rosa Jane Mintern (1898-1961) – Rosie married Ephraim Moore in 1918 and moved to Warwickshire. They had five children. 4. Winifred Elizabeth Mintern (1901-1973) – Winnie remained a spinster living with younger sister Beattie at Worbarrow until the evacuation in December 1943 – they were driven by Margaret Bond to a requisitioned house at Upwey but 'cried out in horror' when they saw it was next to the Station Hotel 5. Beatrice Ann Minterne (1904-1966) – like her sister Winnie, Beattie remained a spinster 6. William Robert Mintern (1908-1923) – sadly Willie, 15 and his cousin Ernest Rose drowned in Worbarrow Bay in June 1923 Mintern's Cottage at Worbarrow The family lived at Mintern's Cottage at Worbarrow. Tom died in 1925 and Sarah died in 1939. Tiles spelling Minterne in Tyneham Church Page last updated; 18 September 2022 Mintern Family Main menu The Mintern Family lived at Worbarrow until the evacuation in 1943. Please be aware Mintern was often spelled as Minterne and, going back, also as Minton. Samuel Mintern (1825-1879) = Mary Ann Spencer (1821-1902) Samuel Mintern was born at East Stoke, Dorset. He married Worbarrow-born Mary Ann Spencer... Minterne Comments Off on Mintern Family Mintern Family Main menu The Mintern Family lived at Worbarrow until the evacuation in 1943. Please be aware Mintern was often spelled as Minterne and, going back, also as Minton. Samuel Mintern (1825-1879) = Mary Ann Spencer (1821-1902) Samuel Minterne was born at East Stoke, Dorset. He married Worbarrow-born Mary Ann Spencer... Minterne Comments Off on Mintern Family 1935: Death of John Ephraim Moore The death occurred at Worbarrow Bay, Tyneham, on Saturday, of John Ephraim Moore, the two-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ephram Moore, of New Street, Bulkington. The boy, who had only recently recovered from a long illness, had been taken to Worbarrow Bay for a short holiday, and it was... Posted in Obituary Minterne , Moore , Worbarrow Comments Off on 1935: Death of John Ephraim Moore 1906: Tyneham School SCHOOL CHALLENGE SHIELD. – This school has won the challenge shield for the East Dorset Division this year. DR. BARNARDO'S HOMES. – A collection box has been made by the school children in aid of Dr. Barnardo's Homes with the following results: – Irene Knight, 13s 7d; Lizzie Restreux, 11s... Posted in Newspaper Bascombe , Cleall , Dart , Kellaway , Minterne , Pittman , Restreux , School , Taylor Comments Off on 1906: Tyneham School Dorchester Prison record 1873 [] []

Mintern Family

The Mintern Family lived at Worbarrow until the evacuation in 1943 . Please be aware Mintern was often spelled as Minterne and, going back, also as Minton . Samuel Mintern (1825-1879) = Mary Ann Spencer (1821-1902) Samuel Mintern was born at East Stoke , Dorset. He married Worbarrow -born Mary Ann Spencer on 28 November 1847. The family lived at Holme Bridge near East Stoke where Samuel worked as a shoemaker . Samuel and Mary had six 1 children but so far we have only identified five: 1. Ann Mintern (1848-?) – born at East Stoke – worked in service in London and married John Clements 2. Charles Spencer Mintern (1851-1910) – born at Worbarrow and married Ann Squibb (1846-1911) , living first at Wareham then later at Parkstone near Poole – Charles and Ann did not have any children 3. Elizabeth Mintern (1856-1929) – born at East Stoke and married George Elford and moved first to Tuckton, near Christchurch, and later Sway in the New Forest 4. Mary Jane Mintern (1860-1875) – born at East Stoke, baptised at Tyneham, sadly Jane died aged just 15 5. William Thomas 'Tom' Mintern (1862-1925) – see below for more information Samuel spent time in Dorchester Prison from September 1873 – the offence was leaving his wife 'chargeable' to the Poor Law Union. 1 Samuel died in 1879 aged 74. Sadly his widow Mary spent at least eleven years in the Workhouse at Wareham until her death there in August 1902 aged 81. William Thomas 'Tom' Mintern (1862-1925) = Sarah Ann Sansom (1867-1939) Tom was born at East Stoke and baptised at Tyneham. In April 1891 he was an agricultural labourer boarding with the Nicholas Lucas and his family at Povington. Twelve months later on 30 April 1892 Tom married Sarah Ann Sansom at Tyneham. He was now shown as a gamekeeper and signed with his mark. Sarah was born at Coombe Keynes . Tom and Sarah had six children: 1. Ethel Mary Mintern (1893-1960) – Ethel was baptised at Tyneham on 14 May 1893 – she married William Henry Wood from Polesworth, Warwickshire at Tyneham on 9 June 1919 – Ethel moved with her husband to Polesworth and had nine children – after her husband's death in 1946 she married John T A Spencer in 1947 – she died in 1960 aged 68 2. Jessie Mary Mintern (1895-1982) – Jessie was born at Worbarrow and baptised at Tyneham on 12 January 1896 – she married David Mills (1895-1980) at Tyneham on 21 April 1919 – twenty years later David and Jessie were living in Padiham, Lancashire with their son Derrick Mintern Mills (1923-2009). 3. Rosa Jane Mintern (1898-1961) – Rosa married Ephraim Moore in 1918 and moved to Warwickshire. They had five children. Sadly their second son Donald died aged 1 and their third son Ephraim died aged 2 while the family had returned to Worbarrow for a short holiday. 4. Winifred Elizabeth Mintern (1901-1973) – Winnie remained a spinster living with younger sister Beattie at Worbarrow until the evacuation in December 1943 – they were driven by Margaret Bond to a requisitioned house at Upwey but 'cried out in horror' when they saw it was next to the Station Hotel 5. Beatrice Ann Minterne (1904-1966) – like her sister Winnie, Beattie remained a spinster 6. William Robert Mintern (1908-1923) – sadly Willie, 15 and his cousin Ernest Rose drowned in Worbarrow Bay in June 1923 Mintern's Cottage at Worbarrow The family lived at Mintern's Cottage at Worbarrow . Tom died in 1925 aged 63 and Sarah died in March 1939 aged 71. Tiles spelling Minterne in Tyneham Church Page last updated; 18 September 2022 Mintern Family Main menu The Mintern Family lived at Worbarrow until the evacuation in 1943. Please be aware Mintern was often spelled as Minterne and, going back, also as Minton. Samuel Mintern (1825-1879) = Mary Ann Spencer (1821-1902) Samuel Mintern was born at East Stoke, Dorset. He married Worbarrow-born Mary Ann Spencer... Minterne Comments Off on Mintern Family Mintern Family Main menu The Mintern Family lived at Worbarrow until the evacuation in 1943. Please be aware Mintern was often spelled as Minterne and, going back, also as Minton. Samuel Minterne (1825-1879) = Mary Ann Spencer (1821-1902) Samuel Minterne was born at East Stoke, Dorset. He married Worbarrow-born Mary Ann Spencer... Minterne Comments Off on Minterne Family 1935: Death of John Ephraim Moore The death occurred at Worbarrow Bay, Tyneham, on Saturday, of John Ephraim Moore, the two-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Moore, of New Street, Bulkington. The boy, who had only recently recovered from a long illness, had been taken to Worbarrow Bay for a short holiday, and it was... Posted in Obituary Minterne , Moore , Worbarrow Comments Off on 1935: Death of John Ephraim Moore 1906: Tyneham School SCHOOL CHALLENGE SHIELD. – This school has won the challenge shield for the East Dorset Division this year. DR. BARNARDO'S HOMES. – A collection box has been made by the school children in aid of Dr. Barnardo's Homes with the following results: – Irene Knight, 13s 7d; Lizzie Restreux, 11s... Posted in Newspaper Bascombe , Cleall , Dart , Kellaway , Minterne , Pittman , Restreux , School , Taylor Comments Off on 1906: Tyneham School Dorchester Prison record 1873 [] []

Mores

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z The Mores Family William Mores (1839-1886) William was born at Milborne Port, Dorset and baptised there on 15 September 1839. He was the son of Samuel Moores and his wife Mary. William married Anne Humphreys (1836-1924) William and Anne had the following children: Mary Amelia Mores (1870-1937) – William James 'Jim' Mores (1872-1945) – Arthur Humphrey Mores (1875-1957) – Henry Davis Mores (1877-1933) – The shepherd's house was neighboured by the post office and shop. The Mores', mother & sons, were its occupants when I knew it first and one son was the village baker. Another worked as under-gardener at the House and a third, Jim, married our pretty housemaid Alice and with her worked a small heath farm at Povington. After the family moved from Tyneham there was no successor in the bakery, and bread thenceforward came from Corfe in Hibbs' van. Lilian Bond Page last updated: 26 July 2021

P-T

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z Pritchard Richards Singleton Smith Spencer / Spincer Stickland Taylor Tizzard

The Pritchard Family

The Pritchard family lived at Tyneham from 1921 to 1928 Malvina Pritchard nee Harper (1874-1964) Malvina was born on 30 November 1874 at Dawley , Shropshire. She was the daughter of Richard Harper (1843-1912) , an Office Clerk, and his wife Elizabeth Harper nee Underwood (1845-?) . Richard and Elizabeth had thirteen children , four of whom had died by 1911. In 1881 the family were living at 4 Tunnel Row, Stirchley , Shropshire. Ten years later in 1891 the family were at 3 Aquaduct Road, Stirchley. Malvina was then a Pupil Teacher aged 16. In 1901 Malvina, now a School Teacher aged 26, was boarding at 190 Accrington Road, Blackburn , Lancashire with fellow School Teacher Betsy Foster aged 38 and Betsy's husband. Ten years later in 1911 Malvina was still boarding with Betsy and her husband, but now 200 miles away at Kimpton , Hertfordshire! Betsy was an Elementary School Teacher and Malvina an Elementary School Mistress . Malvina married Arthur Charles Pritchard (c. 1869-1929) in the Wolverhampton area in 1916. Arthur was School Master at Upper Sapey , Herefordshire and was also Organist for the church there. It appears from a newspaper report in February 1915 that Malvina was School Mistress and had already adopted Pritchard as her professional surname. Arthur & Malvina Pritchard with son Arthur While at Upper Sapey, Malvina and Arthur had son Arthur Walter Pritchard (1917-1988) . Malvina Pritchard was School Mistress at Tyneham School from 1921 to 1928 . Malvina was succeeded by Mrs Leonora Haime , Tyneham's final School Mistress . The Pritchard family lived at 1 The Row – The School House . There was a very strict regime under Mrs. Pritchard, head teacher from 1921 to 1928 and even her son Arthur, who attended the school, was shown no favouritism. Kathy Barnes nee Wrixon recalled that there was no talking, and knuckles were rapped when the pen was held incorrectly for handwriting. Joined-up writing was practised from the start, with careful attention to spacing of letters. The Union Jack was saluted on entering school. Malvina left Tyneham in 1928 to become Headmistress at Melbury Abbas . Sadly the following year husband Arthur died on 11 February 1929. Malvina retired in December 1934 and moved to Shaftesbury . She lived at 3 The Crescent Mampitts Road. Malvina Pritchard retires from Melbury Abbas School Malvina died on 16 March 1964 at Westminster Memorial Hospital, Shaftesbury aged 89 . She was buried at Melbury Abbas on 19 March 1964. Arthur Walter Pritchard (1917-1988) Arthur was born on 8 June 1917 at Upper Sapey, Shropshire. Arthur lived with his parents at Tyneham in the School House which was the top cottage in The Row . He attended Tyneham School just a matter of yards away where his mother was School Mistress . In September 1939 Arthur, an electrician , was living with his widowed mother Malvina at 3 Mampitts Rd, Shaftesbury. Arthur married Lorna Daphne West (1923-2007) in 1941. Lorna was born in Bedfordshire on 26 January 1923. Arthur and Lorna lived at 25 St Georges Road, Shaftesbury. They had a son Nigel and a daughter Anne . Arthur died on 10 November 1988 aged 71 . Lorna died on 7 March 2007 aged 84 . If you have any photographs or information to share on this or other pages, please email us at the contact address shown on our page Page last updated: 31 August 2023

Sauer Family

The Sauer Family lived at Tyneham House from 1935 to c.1937 THIS PAGE IS CURRENTLY IN THE PROCESS OF BEING COMPILED Dr Sauer Hans married Cecilia Josephine Fitzpatrick (1863-1955) Hans and Cecilia had three children: Dora Elspeth Sauer (1892-1978) Mary Cicely Dhlodhlo Sauer (1895-1976) Hans Nikolas Sauer (1899-?) Hans & Cecilia attended Tyneham Fete in 1936 which was held at Tyneham House Cecilia lived on Rossdohan Island , Tahilla, Kersy Fire. Cecilia died at Dinard, France on 17 November 1955. Mary Cicely Dhlodhlo Sauer (1895-1976) – Mary married Douglas Ronald St John Joseph French-Mullen (1892-1964) and they had three children. The Abbey, Bourne End, Buckinghamshire. From 1933 to 1936 Mary and Douglas were living at 14 Woodfield Road, Ealing. Desmond Nicholas Fitzgerald . married Irma Jeanne Marie Maia Le Duc (1901-1982) – born 2 September 1901 in Brest – died 24 June 1982 aged 80 Nicholas Cecilia Joanna French-Mullen (1920-2002) – married Lt. Col. Gerald Patrick Gardner-Brown (1914-1994) in 1939 – married George Richard Barr (1918-1979) in 1950 – Cecilia died in Oxfordshire in 2002 aged 81 Roderick Maurice Fitzgerald French-Mullen (1923-1937) – attended Downside School at Stratton-on-the-Fosse, Radstock, Somerset near Bath – tragically died at Warbarrow aged 14 while his parents were in India Timothy Fitzgerald French-Mullen (1925-1982) – became an engineer – married Doreen Mabel (-1962) – lived at 4 Charlwood Street, London S1 – Doreen died in 1962 in Bangkok, Thailand – Timothy died on 27 February 1982 Page last updated: 8 September 2023

Smith Family

The Smith Family lived at Tyneham Farm from 1909 to 1941 . The family left Tyneham before the evacuation. Walter Case Smith (1861-1948) Walter was born in Swanage on 14 July 1861. He was baptised on Brownsea Island on 25 August 1861. In 1881, Walter was a live-in barman at The Castle public house in Notting Hill, London. The following year he married Louisa Beasley . In 1885 daughter May Louisa Smith was born at Chesterton in Oxfordshire (Louisa's home village). On 1 Feb 1891 daughter Nellie Amelia Smith was born in London. At the time of the census in 1891, Walter was in domestic service as a Butler. He was shown as single. Walter and Louisa divorced the following year. By 1901, Walter was farming Slepe Farm near Arne. He was employing a housekeeper and a cowhand. Walter Case Smith In May 1906 Walter was advertising Slepe Farm to let. Walter married his housekeeper Kate Theodora Doble (1862-1938) on 11 June 1907 at Stoke Wake. Walter and Kate did not have any children. Around 1909, Walter was farming Tyneham Farm . He had the nickname 'Leather Jacket'. In 1913 Walter was a churchwarden. In 1932 Walter was fined £20 for working four horses in an unfit state. Kate died on 22 October 1938. In 1939, Walter had a live-in housekeeper, Kathleen Bristowe and domestic servant Ivy Taylor . In 1941 Walter sold all the assets of the farm and moved to Holly Lodge, Staplehill. He died on 28 January 1948. His estate was valued at £9,570 9s. If you have any photographs or information to share on this or other pages, please

Stickland Family

Families Stickland A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z At least five generations of the Stickland family have lived in the parish of Tyneham , spanning the period from 1804 or before through to the forced evacuation in 1943 . The Sticklands had been fishermen and boatbuilders for generations and bore the reputation of being "able to do anything with their hands". Lilian Bond Please click below to learn more about the Stickland family members named, their spouses and children and see many more images. William Stickland (1780-1851) m. Sarah Ann Lush (1783-1871) & family William Lush Stickland (1814-1881) m. Susannah Orchard (1811-1899) & family Louis William Stickland (1841-1915) m. Mary Churchill (1838-1916) & family William Louis Stickland (1872-1947) m. Nellie Shore (1885-1968) & family Frederick Louis Stickland (1917-2007) m. Gertrude Simpson (1919-1985) & family With special thanks to Fred's grandson Jonathan Reid for his help in compiling these pages and providing images and to Melanie Jenkins , great great grand-daughter of Sarah Gover nee Stickland Page last updated: 16 March 2020 Gaol Registers Main menu Summary of Dorchester Gaol registers Below is a summary of entries in Dorchester Gaol registers for persons connected with the parish of Tyneham including Messrs. Bartlett, Galton & Stickland. George Bartlett George Bartlett, 21, single, labourer, of Povington, Tyneham was 5ft 5in, with dark brown hair, hazel eyes... Bartlett , Galton , gaol , jail , poaching , smuggling , Stickland Comments Off on Gaol Registers Sea & Smuggling Main menu The following extracts are taken from the Smugglers' Britain website by kind permission of Richard Platt, author of 'Smuggling in the British Isles – A History'. Smugglers' customers Some of the contraband landed in southern England was consumed locally: tilling the rich soil a little way inland made... Galton , Mowlam , Stickland Comments Off on Sea & Smuggling Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – S Smith Stickland WILLIAM LUSH STICKLANDDIED MARCH 19 1881AGED 65 Smith , Stickland Comments Off on Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – S Stickland Family lifeboat , Stickland Comments Off on Stickland Family 1881: Death of William Stickland Tyneham On Saturday last this parish sustained a death the loss of a remarkable man, in his 64th year, named William Stickland born in humble life, of him it may truly be said: – "Far from the madding crowd's ignoble strife, His sober wishes never learned to stray: Along the... Posted in Obituary lifeboat , Stickland , William Lush Stickland Comments Off on 1881: Death of William Stickland

Stickland Family

Families Stickland A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z William Stickland (1780-1851) According to the 1851 census, William was born at Steeple about 1780. The parishes of Tyneham and Steeple were linked at that time with Tyneham baptisms being duplicated in the Steeple registers. The Steeple registers do not show a William Stickland being baptised at this time, but a William Stickland, son of Joseph & Elizabeth Stickland, was baptised on 27 February 1780 at the neighbouring parish of Church Knowle. [A Joseph Stickland of Almer and Elizabeth Vye of West Lulworth were married at Tyneham on 5 July 1779. Elizabeth was the daughter of Thomas and Molly Vye (nee Davis) of Egliston. Joseph and Elizabeth had three later children baptised at Tyneham.] William married Sarah Ann Lush (1783-1871) at Tyneham on 11 September 1804. Sarah was born at Windmill Street in London to James and Ann Lush (nee Parsons) and was baptised at St. Marylebone on 6 April 1783. At the time of her marriage, it is believed Sarah may have been working at Smedmore House. William and Sarah had seven children, all baptised at Tyneham: Amey Stickland (1805-?) – Amey was baptised on 1 September 1805. Louisa Stickland (1809-1868) – Louisa was baptised on 13 August 1809. She was shown as an 'invalid' in the 1851 census and as a 'cripple' in the 1861 census. She lived with her mother. Sophia Stickland (1811-?) – Sophia was baptised on 22 June 1811. She married Edward Waters , an agricultural labourer from Woodford in Wiltshire. They had eight children all baptised at Woodford. William Lush Stickland (1814-1881) – William was baptised at Tyneham on 12 May 1814. Click on his name to learn much more. Thomas Stickland (1817-1870) – Thomas was baptised on 18 January 1817. [He was a fisherman and, along with his elder brother, was sentenced in 1840 to six months imprisonment for smuggling.] He married Elizabeth Balson (1819-1911) at Tyneham on 10 June 1846. They had six children: Fanny (1846-1913?), Francis (1848-1869), Emma Elizabeth (1851-?), Frederick (1853-1906), William (1857-?), Emily (1860-1923). By 1861, the family were living at Kimmeridge. Jane Lush Stickland (1819-?) – Jane was baptised on 17 October 1819. Louis James Stickland (1822-1885) – Louis was baptised on 26 May 1822 as James Lewis Stickland. William died in July 1851 aged 71 and was buried at Tyneham on 24 July. At the time of the 1871 census, William's widow Sarah was living with her grandson Louis and family at Sharnell. She died later that year aged 88 in Hertfordshire on 14 November. She was buried at Tyneham on 1 December 1871. William was a fisherman and the 1841 census shows two households at Sharnell (Charnel) in the Parish of Kimmeridge, one with William as the head and the other with his son William, who was also a fisherman. Page last updated: 15 March 2020 Stickland William Lush Stickland (1814-1881))>>>

Stickland Family

Families Stickland A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z William Lush Stickland (1814-1881) William was baptised at Tyneham on 12 May 1814. Like his father William Stickland (1780-1851) before him, William junior was a fisherman. William married Susannah Orchard (1811-1899) on 2 March 1840 at Tyneham. She was born at Broadwinsor and was Governess to the Mansell family at Smedmore House. The witnesses at the wedding were Charles Spencer and Elizabeth Balson. [William and Susannah returned the compliment just over a year later on 14 March 1841 when Charles and Elizabeth married.] [The same year as he was married, William aged 26, and his younger brother Thomas aged 23, were sentenced to six calendar months' imprisonment for smuggling. William was committed on 21 Sep 1840 and taken to Dorchester Gaol the same day. William Stickland, 26, a fisherman from Tyneham in Purbeck, was 5ft 11 1/4 inches, with light brown hair, hazel eyes and fair complexion. He had five large moles in the middle of the right cheek and a dimple chin. He was married but had no children. While there William was described as orderly. He was discharged on 20 Mar 1841.] Please note the above references are being reviewed given our William attended a wedding just over a week before the stated discharge date. William and Susannah had three children: Louis William Stickland (1841-1915) – Louis was born on 2 February. <<<<Click on his name to learn much more. Charles Albert Stickland (1842-?) – Charles was baptised on 25 April 1842 and was a fisherman. Sarah Stickland (1845-1931) – Sarah married James Gover from Corfe Castle. They had two daughters, Emma and Louisa, who both moved to the Rhondda Valleys, South Wales, along with their husbands Hubert Long (1871-1951) and John 'Jack' Mead (1867-?) respectively. In 1891, James, Sarah and Emma were living at Gaulter Cottages (the former Coastguard Cottages) near Kimmeridge. By 1901 James and Sarah were in domestic service at West Bucknowle House as gardener and laundress. After James died in 1905, Sarah moved to Wales to be close to her daughters. William was coxswain of the lifeboat 'Mary Heape' which was stationed at Charnel near Kimmeridge. There have been two lifeboats at Kimmeridge both called Mary Heape. The initial five-oared boat first saw service in 1872 and was replaced by a ten-oared boat in 1881. The station closed in 1896. William died on 19 March 1881 aged 64 and was buried at St. Mary's Church at Tyneham on 26 March 1881. The photograph below shows the iron grave marker. 'WILLIAM LUSH STICKLAND DIED MARCH 19 1881 AGED 65' After William's death, Susannah lived on her own at West Holme and died in December 1898 aged 87. She was buried at Tyneham on 3 January 1899. Page last updated: 15 Mar 2020 <<< William Stickland (1780-1851) Stickland Louis William Stickland (1841-1915)>>>

Stickland Family

Families Stickland A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z Louis William Stickland 1841-1915 Louis was born 2 February 1841 and baptised 28 March 1841 at Tyneham. He was the son of William Lush Stickland (1814-1881) and his wife Susannah Stickland nee Orchard ((1811-1899) . Louis followed in the family tradition of being a fisherman. Louis married Mary Churchill (1838-1916) at Tyneham on 21 September 1863. Mary was the daughter of Charles & Abigail Churchill of Wareham and was a servant for the Bond family at Tyneham House. Louis and Mary lived at Stickland's Cottage , at the southern end of the South Egliston Gwyle, and they had four daughters and one son: Gertrude Emma Louisa Stickland (1868-1869) – Louis and Mary's first child was baptised at Kimmeridge on 2 February 1868 and sadly died less than a year later. She was buried at Tyneham on 6 January 1869. Agnes Louisa Mary Stickland (1869-1940) – Agnes married Arthur Tom Bowring (1866-1947) and they lived at 2 Railway Cottages, London Road, Salisbury. Arthur and Agnes had a daughter, Gwendoline Ivy Bowring, who emigrated to Queensland, Australia and a son Ralph Oriel Bowring who died shortly after birth. William Louis Stickland (1872-1947) – Will was born on 15 September 1872 and was baptised at Tyneham on 20 October 1872. Click on his name to learn much more. Gertrude Eliza Stickland (1874-1954) – Gertrude was baptised at Tyneham on 12 July 1864. She married George James Burgess at St. George, Hanover Square, London on 12 December 1905. George and Gertrude had three children, Jack, Freda and Arthur. Arthur died on 2 December 1940 when the Merchant Navy tanker Vincent Ross was sunk by a U-Boat with the loss of all hands. Caroline Jane Stickland (1877-?) – Caroline was baptised at Tyneham on 1 April 1877. We liked especially to visit Louis Stickland at the sea end of South Egliston Gwyle. The little house was crowded with his handiwork, beautifully finished furniture and model ships. The Sticklands had been fishermen and boatbuilders for generations and bore the reputation of being "able to do anything with their hands". Louis himself, a fine and dignified old man as I remember him, was thoughtful and well read, a talker well worth hearing. His mother had been governess to the Mansel family at Smedmore. Lilian Bond He walked to Tyneham church every Sunday morning, in a dark frock coat and square-top hat, whatever the weather, taking the difficult path round Tyneham Cap and striking across to the Farm from the Ocean Seat. It was only on very stormy days that he varied his route and came by Egliston Gwyle, Parson's Mead and Shoemaker's Lane. His faithful attendance at church was matched by old Samuel Morey's from over the opposite hill, whose place in the transept was never unfilled as long as his thin and crooked legs could carry him over from Povington. Lilian Bond Louis died on 13 May 1915 aged 74 and was buried at Tyneham on 17 May 1915. Mary died on 29 December 1916 at Winchester. At the time, she was living at the home of her daughter Agnes in Salisbury. She was buried at Tyneham on 1 January 1917. Page last updated: 20 March 2020 William Lush Stickland \(1814-1881\) Stickland William Louis Stickland \(1872-1947\)

Stickland Family

Families Stickland A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z William Louis Stickland 1872-1947 Will was born on 15 September 1872 and was baptised at Tyneham on 20 October 1872. He was the son of Louis William Stickland (1841-1915) and his wife Mary Stickland nee Churchill (1838-1916). Will was a fisherman. Will Stickland, Louis' only son, inherited his father's skill and artistry in joinery and carving. He kept the family tradition alive long after his father's death. Lilian Bond Will married Nellie Shore (1885-1968) on 27 September 1914 at Crediton in Devon. Nellie was born on 11 October 1885 at Copplestone in Devon. In 1911 she was a parlourmaid at St Alphege, Bournemouth Road, Parkstone, Dorset. Will and Nellie had one son: Frederick Louis Stickland (1917-2007) – Fred was born on 30 May 1917. Click on his name to learn much more. In the Spring 1920 Electoral Register, Will and Nellie were listed under Steeple Parish. Nellie was very strict as a person and quite often disciplined her son Fred by making him stand facing into the corner of the room for hours at a time. The other punishment would be weeding the path and having it inspected until there were no weeds left. Ron Boobier (cousin from Devon who stayed at the cottage each summer on holiday) Life was tough for the family living in Sticklands Cottage at the southern end of the South Egliston Gwyle. Nellie worked on the Smedmore Estate during the day and William worked long hours either out fishing or in the boat house at Charnel building fishing boats or furniture for the cottage, estate or anyone else. In the evening his time was spent in the back of the cottage cooking shell fish or in the spare rooms mending the nets and pots. Will and Nellie were evicted from Sticklands Cottage at Charnel in December 1943. The evacuation robbed him of his home, his boats and workshops and he failed to recover from the shock of the uprooting. For a while he stayed on in the Gaulter cottages, then, when it grew too evident that the promises of reinstatement would not be honoured, moved down to Plymouth to be near his sailor son but did not long survive the change. So ended one more line of English craftsmen whose chief pride was in their handiwork and who enriched their country by their industry and integrity. Dorset could ill afford to lose them. Lilian Bond Will died at Plymouth on 3 July 1947. He was living at 92 South Down Road, Beacon Park, Plymouth. Nellie died on 11 March 1968. Page last updated: 15 March 2020 <<<Louis William Stickland (1841-1915) Stickland Frederick Louis Stickland (1917-2007))>>>

Stickland Family

Families Stickland A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z Frederick Louis Stickland (1917-2007) by Jonathan Reid, Fred's grandson

Frederick was born on 30 May 1917 to William Louis Stickland (1872-1947) and his wife Nellie Stickland in the small parish of Tyneham, Dorset. His father William was a fisherman and boat builder and Nellie was a domestic servant at the nearby Smedmore house. Their life was hard, living at Stickland's Cottage , a small brick cottage on the cliffs of Charnal beach. Water came from a well in the garden and any electricity was provided by one battery a week. It was a simple life but very rewarding for a young child. His playground was the rock pools, the sea and his father's boat yard. He told me of many happy evenings sitting with his parents in the kitchen listening to their Cat whisker radio, catching up with the outside world. When it was time to go to school, the nearest was four miles away in Kimmeridge. Every school day started with a short walk to the coast path to meet up with other children and walk to school. If they were lucky they might catch a horse and cart that was on its way to Wareham to change the batteries for the parish. At the age of seven Fred's parents decided to send him to Wareham Boys' School, which was for boarders only. After a few years there and with a good standard of education Fred wanted to join the Royal Navy. He was only 13 and still too young to join up. So he was sent to a Naval School on the river Hamble called TS Mercury. His accommodation would be an old wood vessel named HMS Gannet. Boys would sleep in hammocks and in the morning there would be an inspection by the military style teachers. The syllabus was based on working and living on the sea. They would study late into the evening and the pace was relentless. In 1933 Fred went to Collingwood and joined the Navy as a boy sailor and was trained in the art of Gunnery. After spending most of his life in boarding schools he found Collingwood fairly easy. In the next few years he found himself on the Rodney, Ramalies and the shore base HMS Abingdon in Singapore. Also in this period he met his future wife Gertrude from Plymouth. In 1938 Fred married Gertrude Simpson (1919-1985) at St. Andrew's Church in Plymouth. Gertrude was born 3 November 1919 at Plymouth. War was looming and Fred was posted to HMS Ulster. Fred and Gertie had one daughter: Pearl Anne Stickland (1941-1999) – Pearl married George Reid (1939-2001) at Plymouth on 28 August 1965. George and Pearl had a son, Jonathan who has kindly provided most of the photographs and information about the members of the Stickland family. Pearl died in 1999 aged 59 and George died in 2001 aged 62. Shortly after Pearl was born, Fred was sent to Alexandria in the Eastern Mediterranean to serve on the Hunter Class destroyers. The battle for Malta was raging and he found himself in the sharp end on convoy duties escorting ships between Malta and Alexandria. During one of the convoys his gun position was hit and he received a serious injury to one of his legs. The ship managed to make it to the quayside at Malta where he was met by two doctors. They argued over what to do about his leg. One said chop it off and the other said keep it. After a long time in hospital Fred walked out on both legs. The only problem he had now was that when he itched his leg he could feel it in his foot. He carried on with the convoy duties until the German surrender in North Africa. The Sicily Invasion was the next thing to worry about and he was put in charge of 400 landing craft for this next phase of the war. After Italy he was sent to America for training and to bring back a newly built warship for the Royal Navy. When he was out there the war in Europe finished. That week for him and the crew was one big party, the ship had to leave America a few days late. Fred's days after the war became a little more stable with a number of postings to ships and shore bases. Also he received promotion and by 1956 became a Lieutenant Commander . In this year he was given his first command of a ship. The ship would be the Tiree and would be the happiest time in the Navy. The ship's mission was secret and very dangerous. The ship would be sent out in all the bad storms when the rest of the Navy was in port. After that it was back to Collingwood to train the new recruits of the Navy. In his last few years in the Navy he was posted to the reserve fleet and after 32 years it was time to leave. In Civvy Street he would own his own shop and work for Taylor Woodrow and Spillers animal food. Fred was married to Gertie for nearly 50 years until her death in 1985. Their daughter Pearl passed away in 1999. Fred died on 3 December 2007 leaving behind two grandchildren, three great-grandchildren and many friends. Page last updated: 20 March 2020

<<<William Louis Stickland (1872-1947) Stickland

Taylor Family

Taylor Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z The Taylor Family lived at Laundry Cottages in Tyneham from before 1911 until 1943 . Taylor surname tiles in Tyneham Church William Taylor (1865-1952) William was the woodman of Tyneham and was appointed Parish Clerk and Sexton by the Bond family. His wife was Emily Taylor nee Hyde (1865-1917) , the laundress. She also doubled as local 'midwife' and was also caretaker for the church and school. She died in 1917 aged 52. Emily had been married previously to Thomas How Meech and had two sons, Charlie Meech and William Meech . See Meech family. William and Emily had four children : Arthur Henry Taylor (1890-1987) – Arthur was born at Stinsford on 4 February 1890. Harriet Elizabeth Taylor (1892-1987) – Harriet was born at Shroton on 16 March 1892 and was known as ' Bessie '. Reginald Bertie Taylor (1894-1915) – ' Bertie ' served with the Dorset Yeomanry (Queen's Own) and sadly died at Gallipoli on 21 August 1915 aged just 21. He is remembered on the Tyneham Memorial and the Helles Memorial. Helen Beatrice Taylor (1901-1999) – Helen, known as ' Beattie ' was the Seamstress at Tyneham House. After being displaced in 1943, the Taylor Family went to live at Corfe Castle. My grandmother, Louisa M Watson was a cousin of Helen Taylor . Prior to the start of the first world war she joined the Taylor family at Laundry Cottages , she worked there for a while before going on to work as a maid at Tyneham House. During the war she joined the Women's Army, working as a waitress. She kept in touch with her cousins, Helen and her sister, after they moved to Corfe Castle and I can remember as a child her describing her visits to them. Brenda Wells Page last updated: 25 June 2021 War Dead Balson , Bascombe , Chilcott , Cleall , Holland , Homan , McPeak , Meech , Taylor Comments Off on War Dead Meech Family Meech , Taylor , War Dead Comments Off on Meech Family Taylor Taylor Comments Off on Taylor 1914: Air Rifle Shooting On Wednesday evening last week the members of the Povington Club visited Tyneham to shoot the return match to that won by the former Club by seven points on February 7th. Tyneham now won by 19 points, making 184 points, and Povington 165. Scores:- Tyneham – J. Curtis (captain), 23;... Posted in Newspaper Curtis , Gould , Knight , Lucas , Meech , Taylor , Warr Comments Off on 1914: Air Rifle Shooting 1906: Tyneham School SCHOOL CHALLENGE SHIELD. – This school has won the challenge shield for the East Dorset Division this year. DR. BARNARDO'S HOMES. – A collection box has been made by the school children in aid of Dr. Barnardo's Homes with the following results: – Irene Knight, 13s 7d; Lizzie Restreux, 11s... Posted in Newspaper Bascombe , Cleall , Dart , Kellaway , Minterne , Pittman , Restreux , School , Taylor Comments Off on 1906: Tyneham School

Tizzard Family

The Tizzard family lived at Worbarrow from 1874 to 1915 and also at Double Cottages . Richard Tizzard (1838-1915) Richard Tizzard (son of James Tizard and Jane Tizzard) was born on 16 September 1838 at Winterbourne St. Martin , Dorset, England, commonly known as Martinstown . Richard married Mary Ann Ironside on 17 Oct 1861 in The Parish Church, Dorchester, Dorset England, daughter of Samuel Ironside and his wife Eliza Ironside nee Carter. Richard and Mary Tizzard had eleven children , one of whom died shortly after birth. In 1867 the family were living at Ulwell near Swanage. Richard was a labourer, possibly working at Godlingston Farm. In 1871, the family were living at Woolgarston near Corfe Castle where Richard was employed as an agricultural labourer by farmer James Crocker of Woolgarston Farm. Five children emigrated to Canada: William, Alice, George, Mary and Robert and a sixth, Eliza, joined the later (1924). Richard died on 7 October 1915 at Worbarrow. Children of Richard Tizzard & Mary Ann Tizzard nee Ironside Alfred Tizzard (1862-1896) – born at Winterborne Steepleton – see fuller information below Samuel Thomas James Tizzard (1865-1944) – born at Ulwell Samuel was born at Ulwell on 13 January 1865 – he moved to Kingston, near Corfe Castle – Samuel died on 25 July 1944 Emma Jane Tizzard (1867-) – born at Ulwell Eliza Ann Tizzard (1870-1936) – Eliza was born at Woolgarston on 22 June 1870 – she married George Blake , a Prudential Insurance agent – Eliza died on 6 September 1936 William John Tizzard (1872-1947) – William was born at Woolgarston on 16 March 1872 – he emigrated to Canada – William died on 14 June 1947 at Regina General Hospital, Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada Alice Hannah Tizzard (1874-1962) – born at Worbarrow George Edward Tizzard (1876-1945) – George was born on 31 March 1876 – he emigrated to Canada – George died on 22 November 1945 at Ribstone, Alberta, Canada Jane Elizabeth Tizzard (1878-1967) – Jane was born at Tyneham on 9 May 1878 – she married Charles Clouder (1867-1949) in 1898 and they had one son Reginald Charles Clouder (1900-1966) – Jane died at Redbridge, Essex in 1967 Joseph Charles Symonds Tizzard (1880-1880) – Joseph was born 13 August 1880 at Baltington – sadly he died 13 days later on 26 August 1880 Mary Ann Tizzard (1882-1937) – 'Polly' was born at Worbarrow on 10 March 1882 – she emigrated to Canada – Polly died in 1937 at Provost Hospital, Provost, Alberta, Canada. Robert Charles Tizzard (1884-1976) – 'Charlie' was born at Worbarrow on 4 December 1884 – he emigrated to Canada – Charlie died on 29 August 1976 at Provost, Alberta, Canada. The Tizzard family, such of them as were left at home, composed the backbone of the staff of workers on the farm [Tyneham Farm]. Alfred, the eldest, helped his father with the hedging and ditching and with the carpentry of the estate. William and George were carters and Charlie carter's boy. One sister, Mrs. Pitman [Emma, known as Jane], kept the post office and shop, and another was her father's housekeeper. They represented a fine type of Dorset worker and had their sterling character written in their candid faces. Lilian Bond Alfred Tizzard (1862-1896) Alfred was born at Winterborne Steepleton, Dorset on 5 May 1862 and baptised there on 6 July 1862. By 1871 he was living at Woolgarston near Corfe Castle. Alfred married Mary Harvell (1860-1937) at West Lulworth on 27 August 1892. Alfred and Mary had one child, a daughter Elizabeth Mary Jane Tizzard who sadly died aged just 4 months in 1896. She was baptised at Tyneham on 23 May and buried at Tyneham on 6 October. Alfred played for Tyneham in a quoit match against Egglestone in 1899. Alfred and Mary lived at Double Cottages in the western end cottage. The cottage held the Alfred Tizzards, who would have managed well in it by themselves but [they] had Mrs. Tizzard's invalid brother, Philip Harvell, living with them and were seldom without a brother's or sister's child as well. For such a number the one living-room was far too small, the stairs were steep and awkward for the sick man and the bedroom space inadequate. My father had no other house available and, for poor Philip's sake, he shut his eyes to the overcrowding which he disapproved. Lilian Bond Mary's brother, Philip John Harvell (1859-1917) had been an agricultural labourer living at West Lulworth. By the time of the 1901 census he was living with Alfred and Mary at Tyneham and recorded as paralysed. In spite of the congestion the small living room was bright and cosy and Mrs. Tizzard made a happy home of it. I had a deep affection for her, more than for any of the other Tyneham friends, and spent many hours with her and Phil. Both were as good as gold, affectionate and gentle, hearing their troubles with no murmur of complaint. Poor Philip was brought down by Alfred , every morning, with the help of a neighbour or of Mr. Homan, and set in an armchair by the fire where he stayed for the rest of the day, reading a little but mostly looking out of the window and across the valley to the hill. I never once saw Phil impatient and his sister was as gallant as himself both then and when in later life she too became quite helpless. They spoke in the soft-sing Dorset manner and to be in their company was to experience peace and serenity. Some of my earliest contacts with true saintliness I owe to them and, in my long life, have met few to equal those two friends and the others sharing the same quality in the neighbourhood of Tyneham. Lilian Bond By 1911, Alfred and Mary had left Tyneham and were living at Milton End, Winterborne Whitechurch. One of my treasured possessions is a Staffordshire jug, long handed down from mother to daughter in Mrs. Tizzard's family. She had intended me to have it at her death but gave it to me in her lifetime. Lilian Bond After Phil's death the Tizzards moved away from Tyneham and it was many years later before we met again at Puddletown. By that time she was bedridden and totally dependent upon Alfred's gentle ministrations. He nursed and tended her devotedly and, in a tiny, inconvenient house, she looked as perfectly cared for as she might have done in a well-staffed hospital ward. She was as patient and as bright as ever in her helpless and monotonous existence. Asked if a wireless set would give her pleasure her face lit up like that of a delighted and excited child but she did not live to see the set installed, dying a few days later just as quickly and unobtrusively as she had lived. Lilian Bond Alfred died in 1952 aged 90. He was buried at Puddletown on 14 February 1952. Emma Jane Tizzard (1867-) Emma was born at Ulwell on 14 August 1867. She was baptised at Swanage on 29 September 1867. Emma married Walter William Pittman (1865-1900) in 1894 and they had two children, one of whom died shortly after birth: Ernest Walter Pittman (1895-1896) – died aged 4 months Edith Annie Pittman (1897-1950) – became Sub-Postmistress at Tyneham Post Office Walter died in 1900. In 1901 Emma was living with her sister Eliza and family. Alice Hannah Tizzard (1874-1962) Alice was born at Worbarrow on 19 February 1874. Alice emigrated to Canada in 1907. On 27 January 1909 she married Ernest Arthur Pitman at Edmonton, Alberta. Ernest was born at Bowerchalke, Wiltshire. Alice and Ernest had two children: Ernest Arthur Pitman (1909-2001) – married Elsie Dagna Windum (1912-2006) Lilian Alice Pitman (1916-1986) – married Suffolk-born John Maxwell Saville (1912-1998), a veterinary surgeon Alice died on 19 December 1962 at Camrose, Alberta, Canada. Tizzard surname tiles in Tyneham Church Double Cottages Davis , Guy , Richards , Smith , Tizzard Comments Off on Double Cottages Page last updated: 23 September 2022

U-Z

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z Upshall Ware Warr Way Wellman Wheeler Whitelock Woadden Woodman Wrixon

Upshall

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z William Upshall (1897-1973) , known as Bill , lived with his wife Winifred Mary Upshall nee Symons (1902-1985) in the Shepherd's Cottage at No. 4 The Row from 1924 to 1929 . The family left Tyneham before the evacuation. Bill was born at Winterbourne Clemstone near Blandford on 11 December 1897 and was baptised there on 16 January 1898. He was the son of Sylvester Upshall (1871-1948) and his wife Annie Upshall nee Ricketts (1874-1954). The family moved to Hazelbury Bryan by the time Bill was four years old. Bill's older brother Stephen Upshall was killed in action in the First World War . In March 1921 Bill was living with his parents at Winterborne Stickland. He was shown as an out-of-work asylum attendant having been employed previously at Bodmin Asylum in Cornwall. Bill married Winifred Mary Symons aka Simmonds later in 1921 and a photograph of them on their wedding day is shown above. Bill and Winifred had four children: Margaret Annie Elizabeth Upshall (1921-2004) – married Reginald Douglas Evans (1918-1973) Stephen Sylvester Upshall (1923-2001) – Alfred Raymond Percy Upshall (1927-2006) – known as Percy – born at Tyneham – married Beryl V Hutchins in 1952 William Cyril Upshall (1930-2001) – known as Cyril – married Patricia M Summers in 1959 By 1939, Bill and Winifred had moved to Studland where he was employed as a general farm worker. Bill died on 13 June 1973 aged 75. Winifred died in 1985 aged 83. Page last updated: 17 September 2024

Ware

Reginald Gower Ware (1891-1973) Reginald Gower Ware, known as 'Reggie', was born at Englishcombe near Bath in Somerset on 11 December 1891 to parents Walter Thomas Ware (1855-1917) and Alice Mary Ware nee Wheeler (1856-1937) . He was the youngest of seven children. The year before Reggie was born, his father Walter bought impressive Barrow Castle (see photograph below) at Englishcombe, built in 1851. Reggie's father, Walter, was a horticulturalist and ran a wholesale nursery business, founding Walter T Ware Ltd . on 18 October 1897. At the time of the 1901 census, Reggie, aged 9, was at Barrow Castle with his parents and three of his siblings, Nora, Sydney and Iris. Sydney was an 'iron foundry engineer's pupil' and later went on to be Work's Manager for racing car maker Sidney-Straker in Bristol, having the Ware Carburettor named after him. The family used to visit Dorset for holidays, staying at the Clavell Tower. Walter is credited with designing the round furniture for the circular tower. By 1911, Reggie, then aged 19, was an apprentice wholesale florist living with his sister Nora Rayner Oliver nee Ware and her husband Ernest Keane Oliver . Reggie studied Engineering at Reading University . With the outbreak of WW1, he signed up and was commissioned to the Army Service Corps (later known as the Royal Army Service Corps) reaching the position of Second Lieutenant . Unfortunately, Reggie was severely wounded by shrapnel while serving in France in 1917. He virtually lost the use of his left arm and suffered damage to his abdomen. Also in 1917, Reggie's father died leaving an estate valued at £137,092 (equivalent to £10 million in 2013). The wholesale nursery business was eventually taken over by manager, Cyril Cherrington Titchmarsh (1891-1976) , who married Walter's daughter Lena Maud Ware (1888-1962) in 1924, so keeping the business in the family. Reggie eventually moved to Dorset and lived at Gate Cottage close to Worbarrow Bay , just over a stone's throw away from his maternal grandfather, John Wheeler who lived at The Bungalow . His grandfather's second wife, Mary Jane Wheeler neé Matthews apparently took him food parcels and hot bowls of soup. Apparently Reggie owned a string of prestige motor cars with gearboxes adapted so he could change gear with his good right arm. He also loved fishing and had a boat named the ' Witch of Worbarrow ' which is now at the National Maritime Museum in Cornwall. The boat originally belonged to the Miller family . Reggie later lived at The Firs, Binnegar near East Stoke. Reggie died in 1973. Reg Ware was a close friend of my grandfather Charles Clarence Brachi as well as being John Wheeler's grandson. We knew him as uncle Reg. I well remember when he visited us at Kimmeridge in 1958 in his Jaguar XK150 sports car and took us for runs on the straight Wareham road. The abiding memory was of terrifying speed (90mph in the days before speed limits) and gear changing with his right arm, letting go of the wheel! I'm sure my parents had no inkling of what went on! David Doyle, grandson of Charles Clarence Brachi If you have any photographs or information to share on this or other pages, please email us at the contact address shown on our page Page last updated: 6 September 2022

The Warr Family

The Warr Family lived at Tyneham in 1888 and at Worbarrow from 1911 until 1919 The 'Warr' family tiles in Tyneham Church Edwin Charles Warr (c.1862-1937) Edwin was born at Sturminster Newton , Dorset circa 1862 to Elizabeth Warr nee Eustance . Her husband George Warr (1821-1858) had died shortly before the birth of their daughter Amelia in 1858. There does not appear to be any civil registration or church baptism record for Edwin. At the time of the 1871 census, Edwin aged 9 was living at Belchalwell , Dorset with his mother and step-father. Edwin, who could not write, gave his father's name as Charles Warr when he married (see below). Edwin's mother Elizabeth married James Elsworth and they had a son William. Edwin married Sarah Elmes (1865-1937) at Tyneham Church on 21 February 1887. Edwin's occupation was labourer and his residence was given as Steeple. He signed with his mark. Sarah's residence was given as Tyneham. The witnesses were George Elmes (1861-1894) , Sarah's eldest brother, and Emma Murray (1855-?) . Marriage at Tyneham of Edwin to Sarah From 29 April 1889, Edwin was licensee of the Red Lion , Charlton Horethorne , Somerset. It was owned by Jennings, Styring & Co of the Marnhull Brewery, Sturminster Newton and is understood to have closed in 1891. On 3 April 1890, Edwin and Sarah departed Liverpool with their two children, Charles and Elizabeth, on board the SS Gulf of Corcovado bound for Valparaíso , Chile . Sarah would have been expecting daughter Annie at the time. By 1902 the family had returned from Chile and were living at Slepe , roughly halfway between Arne and Stoborough. Edwin was most likely employed by Walter Case Smith at Slepe Farm . By 2 April 1911 Edwin and Sarah and the six younger children were living at Worbarrow near Tyneham. Photo courtesy of Mike Preston Edwin died in 1937 aged 75 and was buried at Stratton , Dorset on 18 January 1937. Sarah died later that same year aged 73 and was buried on 6 December 1937. Children of Edwin & Sarah Edwin and Sarah had a total of 15 children , 8 of whom had died by 1911. Known children are: Charles Warr (1888-?) – Charles was baptised at Tyneham on 22 April 1888 – he departed for Chile with his parents in April 1890 aged two – he may have died there Bessie Elizabeth Martha Warr (1889-?) – Bessie was born on 26 May 1889 at the Red Lion, Charlton Horethorne , Somerset – Bessie was baptised at Charlton Horethorne on 7 July 1889 – s he departed for Chile with her parents in April 1890 aged just 10 months – she may have died there Annoucement of Bessie's birth in 1889 Annie Louisa Warr (1890-1966) – Annie was born in Chile – while living back at Warbarrow she had a son Edwin Charles Warr junior born in 1913 – Annie married labourer William Henry 'Henry' Parker at Tyneham on 12 October 1915 – Henry and Annie had eight children – Henry & Annie celebrated their Golden Wedding in 1965 – Henry died in 1971 aged 78 and Annie died in 1976 aged 75 William George Warr (1892-1966) – William was born in Quilpué , Chile – William took part in an air rifle shooting match for Tyneham against Povington in March 1914 scoring 19 points and helping them to victory – William served as a private (200518) with the 4th Dorsets from 1915 – in 1922 he married

Muriel Gwendoline 'Gwen' Watts (1904-1995) and they had eight children one of whom died shortly after birth aged 3 weeks – in 1939 the family were living at Lower Woolcombe Farm, Melbury Bubb – William and Gwen (also known as Granny Grimble) later lived at School Lane, Chetnole – William died in 1966 aged 73 and was buried at Chetnole on 12 January 1966 – Gwen died in 1995 aged 90 Henry Santiago Warr (1894-?) – Henry was born in Chile and may have died there Sarah Warr (1896-1899) – Sarah was born in Chile – she died there on 30 March 1899 aged 3 Albert Frank Warr (1899-1972?) – 'Frank' also served as a private (201424) with the 4th Dorsets – he may have married a girl from Northern Ireland and settled there Mabel Warr (1899-1900) – Mabel was born on 24 June 1899 at Valparaíso, Chile – sadly she died on 5 January 1900 aged just six months of diahorrea Robert Thomas Warr (1900-?) – Robert was born in Chile and may have died there Alice Edith Ella Warr (1902-1936) – 'Edith' was born at Slepe – she married Alfred William Edward Watts (1896-1972) in 1921 – Alfred was the sister of Muriel, William's wife – Edith and Alfred had a daughter Margaret – Edith died in February 1936 aged 34 and was buried at Stratton – Alfred died in 1976 aged 72 Julia Isabel Rose Warr (1903-1997) – Julia was born at Slepe on 6 June 1903 – she did not marry – in September 1939 she was in domestic service at Southend-on-Sea, Essex apparently also doing A.R.P. work – Julia died in 1997 aged 94 Two of the Warr sisters visiting Tyneham Margaret Florence Warr (1905-1985) – Margaret was born on 12 May 1905 and known as both 'Maggie' and 'May' – she married George Stanley Bown (1905-1978) , known as Stanley, at Frampton in 1928 and they had three children – in 1939 the family were living at Ridgeway near Weymouth – Stanley died in 1978 aged 72 and Margaret died in 1985 aged 80 Daisy Warr (1907-1992) – Daisy was born at Wytch on 5 January 1907 – she was baptised at Tyneham on 7 February 1909 – Daisy had a son Edwin (known as 'Eddie') born in 1934 – Daisy married Granville Preston (1898-1975) in 1939 – Granville was introduced to Daisy by older sister Annie – Granville and Daisy had four children – sadly Alfred (known as 'Joseph') pictured on the left below died aged 4 – Granville died in 1975 aged 77 and Daisy died in 1992 aged 85 Photo courtesy of Mike Preston Photo courtesy of Mike Preston Photo courtesy of Mike Preston With thanks to: Mike Preston If you have any photographs or information to share on this or other pages, please email us at the contact address shown on our page Page last updated: 3 September 2022

Way Family

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z ||| The Way Family lived at Tyneham Farm Dairy from 1890 to no later than 1901 and at North Egliston Farm , Tyneham from 1901 or before until 1906 Frederick Thomas Way (1864-1943) Wedding of Frederick's sister Melina Way to Walter Voss on 4 December 1900 Frederick was born at Toller Porcorum , Dorset on 21 February 1864. He was the son of farmer Thomas Way (1840-1904) and his wife Anne Hayward Way nee Walbridge (1837-1906) . In 1881 the family were at Nether Kingcombe Dairy House and Frederick, aged 17, was shown as a Dairyman's son . By April 1890 Frederick had moved to Tyneham . Frederick married Bessie Elizabeth Mary Howard (1866-1954) at Frampton , Dorset on 8 April 1890. Frederick's abode was given as Tyneham and Bessie's as Southover . a hamlet near Tolpuddle, Dorset. Bessie was born on 11 March 1866 at Owermoigne , Dorset. Her parents were Suffolk-born William Howard (1821-1906) , a dairyman, and his second wife Maria Howard nee Suttle (1825-1905) . Bessie was the sister of Charles William Howard (1860-1928) . In 1891 Frederick aged 26 and Bessie aged 25 were living at Tyneham Farm Dairy , along with Frederick's sister Melissa Olga Way aged 22 and a dairy servant Albert Wort from Redlynch aged 19. Children of Frederick and Bessie Frederick and Bessie had eight children, one of whom died shortly after birth: Thomas Way (1891-?) – Thomas was born on 6 May 1891 at Tyneham and baptised there on 31 May 1891 – Thomas married Gertrude Mabel Cornick (1894-1968) at Folke , Dorset on 23 Apr 1918 – Thomas' brother James was one of the witnesses – Thomas was living at Gussage All Saints , Dorset – in 1939 Thomas and Gertrude were at 5 Burcombe Lane, Wilton with baby daughter Jeannie James Frederick Way (1893-1975) – James was born at Tyneham on 7 January 1893 and baptised there on 12 March 1893 – – did not marry – Wyke Farm, Wimborne St Giles Reginald William Way (1895-1968) – Reginald served as a Gunner (152300) with the 102nd Siege Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery – Reginald married Adelaide Attwood on 26 November 1928 at Wimborne St. Giles, Dorset – Westwood Farm, Corfe Castle – Reginald died 13 November 1968 Westwood Farm was home to Reginald Gertrude Mabel Way (1896-1978) – did not marry

– Wyke Farm, Wimborne St Giles Cecil Arthur Edgar Way (1898-1982) – – did not marry – Wyke Farm, Wimborne St Giles Hilda Dorothy Way (1900-1986) – married Josiah Humphrey Coombes (1895-1958) Edgar Leslie Way (1902-1902) – died aged just 10 days Gladys Ena Way (1906-2003) – Gladys was born on 12 October 1906 at Steeple and baptised on 26 November 1906 at Tyneham – in 1911 she was – did not marry – Wyke Farm, Wimborne St Giles Wyke Farm was home to James Frederick Way and three siblings: Gertrude, Cecil & Alice If you have any photographs or information to share on this or other pages, please email us at the contact address shown on our page Page last updated: 31 August 2022

Wellman Family

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z The Wellman Family lived at Gwyle Cottages from about 1912 until 1936. Robert Wellman (1887-1964) Bob was born at Upwey in Dorset to Walter Wellman and his wife Susan Wellman nee Cox . Bob married Alice Victoria Lucas (1887-1975) , the daughter of 'Shepherd Lucas' and his wife Jane who lived in Post Office Row – see the Lucas family page. Alice and Bob c.1950 Bob and Alice had six children: Alice Edith Rose Wellman (1912-1992) – Rose worked as a servant for the Bond Family at Tyneham House . In 1934 she married Joseph Alfred Dando (1912-2002) . Joe was also a servant at Tyneham House , having worked there from 1926. Rose and Joe had twelve children – seven boys and five girls. Vera Winifred Wellman (1918-1970) – Vera married Herbert Arthur Stockley (1917-1995) in 1941 and they had one son Ivan Owen Stockley (1944-1987) . Dennis James Wellman (1919-2004) – Jim married in 1950 and had a son and a daughter. Ivy Jane Wellman (1921-1997) – Ivy married in 1946 and had a daughter and a son. Peter Wellman Freda Joyce Wellman (1927-2010) – Joyce married and had three sons. The family left Tyneham approximately seven years before the evacuation and in September 1939 were living at East Whiteway Farm Cottages near Church Knowle. In October 1979, the three surviving Wellman sisters, Rose, Ivy and Joyce, returned to Tyneham for the first church service to be held there in 36 years. The Wellman sisters return to Tyneham 1979 Page last updated: 28 June 2021

Wheeler Family

The Wheeler family lived at The Bungalow on the cliffs at Worbarrow . John Wheeler (1831-1913) John was born on 25 January 1831 to Thomas Wheeler (c.1801-?) and Hannah Elizabeth Wheeler nee Hickman (-). The family lived at Gold Street, in the All Saints district of Northampton, for over ten years. His father Thomas was a bookseller and stationer and they attended Northampton Baptist Church. By 1851, the family had moved to London and they were living at 2, Culford Road North, West Hackney. Thomas was now an 'office keeper' and Hannah was a milliner. John, aged 20, was a commercial traveller. On 1 July 1854, John, by then an accountant, married Fanny Swan in the parish church of St. John-at-Hackney. Just seven years later, the family were living in Islington, with John overseeing a business employing 47 hands. Within a decade this had grown to 100 hands. John and Fanny had six sons and one daughter: Samuel Wheeler (1855-1899) Alice Mary Wheeler (1856-1937) John Alfred Wheeler (1859-?) Thomas Wheeler (1861-?) William Wheeler (1861-1903) Albert John Wheeler (1864-1865) Frank Wheeler (1865-?) Fanny died at Stoke Newington on 19 March 1890 aged 58. John was living at 15 Newgate Street at the time. The following year, John then aged 60, married Mary Jane Greenwood nee Matthews . By 1901, John and Mary Jane had moved to Winton, near Bournemouth, and they lived there for over 10 years. John and Mary had no children of their own, but they helped raise the children of Mary's sister Elizabeth who died when her youngest child was just 2 years old. John died at Worbarrow on 30 November 1913 aged 82. His widow Mary Jane Wheeler and Walter Thomas Ware, father of Reggie Ware , were executors. Mary Jane Wheeler (1852-1932) formerly Greenwood nee Matthews Mary Jane Matthews was born at Stratford, Essex, in 1852 to John Matthews, a dock labourer, and his wife Jane. In 1876, at the age of 24, Mary married John Greenwood, seventeen years her senior. John and Mary lived at Prittlewell in Essex. John died on 6 June 1890 and Mary Jane married widower John Wheeler as stated above. Photo courtesy of Lynette Stevens Photo courtesy of Lynette Stevens Photo courtesy of Lynette Stevens Mary Jane died on 15 August 1932 aged 80. Ada Wheeler nee Goddard and son Tony at The

Bungalow in 1930. Tony was the great-grandson of John Wheeler (1831-1913) from his first marriage. With thanks to: Lynette Stevens 1932: The Late Mrs. Mary Wheeler A beloved personality Mrs. Mary Jane Wheeler of The Bungalow, Worbarrow Bay, passed away on Tuesday afternoon, at the age of 81 years, following an illness which commenced suddenly on July 30th. A native of Yorkshire, Mrs. Wheeler had been twice married, and on Friday afternoon she was interred in... Posted in Obituary The Bungalow , Wheeler Comments Off on 1932: The Late Mrs. Mary Wheeler Page last updated: 8 September 2022

Whitelock Family

The Whitelock Family lived at 2 The Row , Tyneham from 1933 to 1942 Ernest George Whitelock (1905-1947) was born on 17 June 1905 at Sandford Orcas, Dorset to Charles Whitelock (1885-?) and his wife Mabel Whitelock nee English (1884-1968) . Ernest was baptised at Sandford Orcas on 20 August 1905. Ernest married Evelyn Mary Kelly (1904-1989) on 18 June 1930 at Sutton Waldron, Dorset. Evelyn was born at Sutton Waldron on 9 February 1904. Ernest and Evelyn moved to Tyneham in 1933 and lived at 2 The Row until 1942. Ernest and Evelyn had three children, one of whom died soon after birth: Eileen May Whitelock (1931-2015) – Eileen married Kenneth Eastment (1930-2022) and they had a daughter Gillian. Muriel Ada Whitelock (1933) – Sadly Muriel died shortly after birth. She was buried at Melcombe Horsey, Dorset. Ronald George Whitelock (1935-2019) – Ron was born at Tyneham. Ron married Myrtle and they had a son Lionel. They lived in East Morden, Dorset. Ron died in Poole Hospital on 11 March 2019 aged 83 years. My father worked for Walter Case Smith at Tyneham Farm. There were lots of troops billeted at Tyneham. My father acted as an unofficial barber. I remember them sitting on the wall in front of the cottage whilst he cut their hair. Ronald Whitelock 20 06 Ernest died in 1947. In 1949, Evelyn married Samuel Bushrod Watts (1914-1976) . She died in 1989. 2015: Death of Eileen May Eastment nee Whitelock EASTMENT EILEEN Passed away peacefully at home on Thursday 9th April aged 83 years. Beloved wife and much loved mum, nan and great nan. Funeral Service to be held at Poole Crematorium on Wednesday 6th May at 10.00am. Family flowers only please, donations if desired for Cancer Research UK may... Posted in Obituary Whitelock Comments Off on 2015: Death of Eileen May Eastment nee Whitelock 2019: Death of Ronald George Whitelock WHITELOCK Ronald George (Ron) Passed away peacefully in Poole Hospital on 11th March 2019, aged 83 years. Loving and dearest husband to Myrtle, much loved father to Lionel, daughter-in-law Louise, a dear brother-in-law, uncle & friend. Happy memories of Morden Football Club Funeral Service at Poole Crematorium on Wednesday 27th... Posted in Obituary Whitelock Comments Off on 2019: Death of Ronald George Whitelock Page last updated: 29 September 2022

Woadden

Families A-E F-J K-O P-T U-Z William Woadden was Coachman and then Butler to the Bond family at Tyneham House . William Thorner Woadden (1837-1919) = Mary Ann Cozens Wills (1836-1910) William was born in 1837 at Up Sydling , Dorset to Robert Woadden (c.1810-1847) , a woodman, and his wife Ann Woadden nee Thorner (1814-1896) . William, their first child, was baptised at Sydling St Nicholas on 23 April 1837. 1 Robert, of Litton Cheyney, married Ann, of Upwey, on 19 June 1836 at Upwey. 2 When William was 10 his father Robert died. His mother Ann was left to raise William and his four siblings. By 1851 the family had moved to Long Bredy , Dorset. William aged 14 was now an agricultural labourer and his mother Ann was employed as a laundress. 3 By April 1861, the family were living at the Post Office, Puncknowle , Dorset. William aged 24 was still an agricultural labourer and mother Ann was still working as a laundress. 4 Five months later, on 26 September 1861, William, now a groom, married house servant Mary Ann Cozens Wills (1836-1910) at Puncknowle, Dorset. Both signed with their names and William's brother Robert and future wife Eliza Legg (three months pregnant) were witnesses. 5 Mary was the daughter of William and Mary had four children : 1. Elizabeth Woadden (1862-1870) – Elizabeth was born at Puncknowle and baptised there on 26 November 1862. Sadly Elizabeth died aged 7 years 11 months on 15 October 1870 and was buried at Tyneham on 19 October 1870. The inscription on Elizabeth's gravestone 2. John

William Woadden (1866-1944) – John, born at Tyneham, married Edith Mann and they had six children – see below for more information 3. Julia Ann Woadden (1869-1920) – Julia was born at Tyneham on 2 May 1869. Julia did not marry. She died at West Street, Corfe Castle on 28 November 1920 aged 52. 4. Robert James Woadden (1871-1935) By 1866, William, Mary and daughter Elizabeth had moved to Tyneham where William gained employment as a coachman. Children John, Julia and Robert were born at Tyneham but sadly daughter Elizabeth died in 1870 aged 7 before Robert's birth. By 1871 In 1881 In 1891 The butler, William Woaden, was the last of the master brewers and his expert methods turned out excellent beer. Each of the indoor servants had a quart, as far as I remember, of home-brew at the principal meals of the day and, when beer was beer, the allowance must have helped to build up healthy constitutions in the younger members of the household. When William Woadden went into retirement the brewing came to an end. The art, like many another cottage industry, was killed by the rapid spread of mass-produced commodities. Lilian Bond In May 1898, William was seeking pastureland to rent: See next sections below for more about William and Mary's children: John William Woadden (1866-1944) = Edith Mann (1866-1939) John was born on 5 July 1866 at Tyneham and was baptised on 8 August 1866. John married Edith Mann (1866-1939) at Tyneham on 30 March 1891. John and Edith had six children: Reginald William Woadden (1892–1972) married Charlotte Hannah Foulds (1892–1972) Algernon Francis Woadden (1894–1970) married Freda Alatheia Nash (1894–?) Raymond Arthur 'Arthur' Woadden (1899–1990) married Alice Kate Ward (1895-1978) Cecily Edith Woadden (1901–1989) married William Charles Paulin Cull (1903-1986) Beatrice Mary Woadden (1904–1993) married Cyril Austin Herbert Carson (1908–1967) Clifford John Woadden (1906–1994) married Annie Burt (1900-1989) In 1920 John was a butler. In March 1931, John was elected as a Corfe Castle parish councillor. John, Edith and family moved to Broughton Astley, Lincolnshire. Robert James Woadden (1871-1935) = 1. Fanny Sargeant (1866-1933) Robert married Fanny Sargeant (1866-1933) on 21 January 1909. In 1911 Robert was a clay pit labourer and he and Fanny were living at Scotland, near Corfe Castle. They were Wesleyan Methodists. Robert enlisted on 18 April 1918 and, although he was astigmatic, he was cleared for duty provided the medical category was no higher than B1. He was 5ft 4in, had brown hair, a fresh complexion and blue eyes. He was called up on 26 July 1918 and posted to the 13th Battalion Somerset Light Infantry. His regimental number was 54424. Less than two months later on 24 September 1918 he was discharged after being considered medically unfit, having suffered with deformed feet and ankles since birth. Robert and Fanny did not have any children. Fanny died in 1933 aged 66. Robert James Woadden (1871-1935) = 2. Emily Jane Joyce nee Miller (1888-1970) In March 1934, Robert placed the following advertisement: The following week, Robert placed another notice in the paper: Just five months later, Robert married widow Emily Jane Joyce nee Miller (1888-1970) on 25 August 1934. At the time of the marriage, he was living at 'The Haven', East Street, Corfe Castle. Emily, the daughter of Joseph Henry Miller (1857-1913) and Harriet Louisa Miller nee Murray (1857-1899) ., was living at Worbarrow. Robert died less than nine months later on 15 March 1935 aged 64. He was buried at God's Acre Cemetery, Corfe Castle. In 1947, Emily attended the funeral of her 93 year old aunt Harriet Deborah Miller nee White. Emily died in 1970 aged 81. Page last updated: 29 December 2020 Sydling St Nicholas Baptism Register entry 540 Upwey Marriage Register entry 77 1851 Census, Long Bredy, Schedule 9 1861 Census, Puncknowle, Schedule 54 Puncknowle Marriage Register, entry 97 Sydling St Nicholas Baptism Register entry 540 Upwey Marriage Register entry 77 1851 Census, Long Bredy, Schedule 9 1861 Census, Puncknowle, Schedule 54 Puncknowle Marriage Register, entry 97

Woodman

The Woodman family lived at 1 The Row – School House from 1907 to 1921. Charles Richard Woodman (1842-1915) Charles was born at Stepney. By the age of 19, Charles was studying at a theological training college in Chichester, Sussex. Charles married Sarah Ann Smither (1845-1915) at Bosham, Sussex on 6 May 1865. Charles and Ann had four daughters. Charles was Headmaster at Ampney Crucis School, Gloucestershire. His wife Sarah was infant mistress and two of his daughters, Norah and Hilda taught there. Charles reached retirement age and was compelled to leave. Daughter Norah secured the Schoolmistress position at Tyneham and her parents and sister moved to Dorset with her. At Tyneham Charles became a Churchwarden. Sadly Charles' wife Sarah died in 1915 and Charles died a few months later. Norah Sophia Woodman (1870-1944) Miss Woodman's love for the youngsters under her care was deep and totally unsentimental, accompanied by a firm belief in discipline. She gave her pupils high ideals and standards of behaviour, whole-heartedly believing that to build character and form good citizens was every teacher's foremost duty. I can recall so many of Miss Woodman's scholars who have been proved themselves to be of sterling worth and usefulness to the community. I cannot think of more than one or two exceptions who have betrayed her trust in them. She did not believe in crowding and bewildering their young minds with a host of subjects likely to be useless to the great majority in after life, preferring a solid grounding in essentials for both boys and girls, to fit them for the lives ahead of them and for later specialisation. It is hard to avoid comparison of letters written to me by her former pupils with the average compositions emanating from the schools of every grade to-day. Old Tyneham scholars write in clear, distinctive hands, their letters abound with information and ideas both well and easily expressed and there are few erasures or mistakes in spelling. Miss Woodman taught the children to be interested in their surroundings, in country things in general and in rural occupations. She was always ready to help them towards practical efficiency and many of her pupils must have blessed her, if not at the time then later on in life, for all the trouble she took over teaching them to "make and mend". She was a competent organist and gave her scholars an example of devoted service to the Church. After leaving Tyneham, Norah went to Stuntney, Cambridgeshire where she lived in the schoolhouse. She later went to live with her sister Hilda who ran a bakers and grocers shop in Winkton, near Christchurch. Norah remained a spinster and died in 1944. Page last updated 8 September 2022

Wrixon

The Wrixon Family lived at Povington Farm, Povington from c.1916 to 1943 Thomas Walter Wrixon (1885-1960) Thomas was born at Netherbury, Dorset on 2 February 1885. He was the third child of nine born to groom Thomas Wrixon (1855-1932) and his wife Eliza Emma 'Emma' Wrixon nee Way (1860-1932). Courtesy of Jonathan Wrixon Thomas married Eva May Gundry (1885-1967) at West Knighton, Dorset on 20 January 1913. Eva was the daughter of William Chillcott Read Gundry (1841-1915) and his wife Sarah Ann Gundry nee Cheney (1845-1909). Thomas and Eva had five children: Frederick Thomas Walter Wrixon (1913-1996) – married Isabel Lilian Riddle (1907-1946) and then his first cousin Marjorie Joyce Wrixon Kathleen Muriel 'Kathy' Wrixon (1916-1962) – Kathy taught at Tyneham School where there was no talking, and knuckles were rapped when the pen was held incorrectly for handwriting – Kathy married Cyril Eyres Barnes (1912-1999) at Tyneham on 4 October 1938 and they had two sons and a daughter. Walter George Wrixon (1919-1995) – Walter was farming at Povington Farm in September 1939 – in 1942 married Brenda May Bowditch (1917-2013) – was a tenant at Manor Farm, Horton in 1944 but took the opportunity in 1949 to buy the 302 acre farm and four cottages for £12,500 William Kenneth Wrixon (1922-1998) – Little Billy – married Molly Ethel Warren (1924-2000) in 1950 – Leonard John 'Len' Wrixon (1925-2001) – Len married Sheila Joy 'Joy' Hann (1928-2017) in 1956 and they had two sons and a daughter In 1915 the family were living at West Knighton, Dorset where Thomas was publican at the New Inn. By October 1917, they had moved to Povington Farm. Western Gazette, October 1917 In 1925 Thomas secured an ejectment order against George Waites: Western Gazette, 27 November 1925 In March 1932, Thomas' parents, who lived at Oakley near Wimborne, Dorset, both died on the same day following influenza – father Thomas aged 76 at 3.30am and mother Emma aged 73 at 7.30pm. Their funeral took place on and they were buried together in a double grave at Canford cemetery. Thomas and Eva remained at Povington Farm until the evacuation in 1943. The forced sale of their livestock and farm machinery took place on Wednesday 15 December 1943 at 11 a.m. The Western Gazette of 24 December 1943 gave details of the sale values achieved. After the evacuation Thomas and Emma moved to Manor Farm at Horton, Dorset with son Walter. Shortly after moving their black and white long-haired terrier 'Tim' went missing: Western Gazette, 18 February 1944 By 1947 Thomas and Emma were at Pelsham Farm at Buckhorn Weston near Gillingham, Dorset. Thomas later moved to Hillside, Old Hill, Wincanton, Somerset where he died on 24 February 1960. His widow Eva died in 1967. Thomas Walter Wrixon's siblings Thomas had eight siblings: Mary Jane Wrixon (1880-1856) – married Norris William Hine (1879-1968) – Bessie Wesson (1882-1971) – married Thomas Lathey (1884-1952) – William G Wrixon (1887-1976) – married Adelaide Hatcher (1879-1947) – Percy John Wrixon (1889-1982) – married Maud Woolridge (1885-1964) – Leonard George 'George' Wrixon (1892-1965) – married Elsie Maria Riggs (1898-1987) – May Constance Wrixon (1895-1904) – married Cyril James Rossiter (1903-1984) – Wilfred Charles 'Fred' Wrixon (1897-1956) – married Kathleen Alice 'Alice' Holloway (1900-1989) – Gladys Emma Wrixon (1902-1993) – married Alfred John Fletcher (1904-1971) – Page last updated: 16 March 2024

Singleton Family

The Singleton family lived at Povington from c. 1928 until the evacuation in 1943 Frederick George Singleton (1899-1934) Frederick was born in Upper Parkstone, Poole, Dorset in 1899. He was the son of painter and paperhanger William Fowler Singleton (1868-1935) and his wife Susan Singleton nee Parker (1868-1957) . The family lived at the White House, Albert Road, Upper Parkstone from 1901 or before until 1911 or later. When enlisting in 1914 William gave his address as Sarum, Albert Road, a neighbouring property where widow Mrs Harriet Trulock and her blind son were living in 1911, along with widow Mrs Victoria Turgiss. William and Susan are known to have lived at 14 Albert Road until 1931 or later – whether number 14 was the White House or Sarum, or another property, we do not yet know. During the First World War, Frederick served as a Private with the 8th Berkshire Regiment (45977). Unfortunately during his time in Europe he suffered from the effects of gassing. In 1922, Frederick married South Africa-born Beryl Beall King (1899-1950) at Christchurch, Hampshire. Frederick and Beryl had four children: Yvonne Beall Singleton (1923-1936) – sadly Yvonne died at the age of just 13 Baden Beall Singleton (1924-2017) – please see below Leon Fowler Singleton (1926-1988) – Leon married Edith May Hindmarch (1928-2006) in 1947 and they had three daughters Brenda Elizabeth Singleton (1928-2009?) – married Alfred and had five sons and two daughters Frederick ran a shoe repair business in Rossmore. Around 1928 the family moved to Black Cottage , Povington and then on to Pine Tree Cottage , Povington about 1930. It had just four rooms, one used by Frederick to carry out shoe repairs. In January 1934, Frederick, aged 35, died at the Poor Law Institution in Wareham, more commonly referred to as the workhouse, where he had been receiving medical treatment. He was buried at Wareham on 15 January 1934. After their father's death, Baden and his brother Leon were responsible for looking after the family's three goats. The Singleton children attended the Catholic School in East Lulworth , a two-and-a-half mile walk each way although occasionally they might cadge a lift on the postman's van. East Lulworth Catholic School pupils c. 1933 The family continued to live at Povington until the evacuation In December 1943 when they were relocated to Stoke Cottage, Wool . Son Leon returned from a trip at sea and was heading home when he was stopped by two soldiers who asked where he was going. When he said to his home at Povington they told him he didn't live there any more and he ended up staying the night in Wareham police station until they could establish where his mother Beryl had been relocated to. In 1948 Beryl married widower Arthur Henry Robert Sancroft Richard Lionel Barnes . They lived at Thatch End, Lytchett Minster. Beryl died just two years later on 24 November 1950 aged 51. She was buried at Lytchett Minster. The following year Arthur married his third wife Effie Tuffin (1897-1991) . Baden Beall Singleton (1924-2017) Baden was born in 1924 at French's Lane in Lytchett Minster. During the Second World War , Baden served with the Royal Naval Patrol Service , also referred to as Harry Tate's Navy or Churchill's Pirates , carrying out minesweeping operations in the Mediterranean aboard HMS Romeo and HMS Walborough . Baden speaks about his time in the RNP S in a number of filmed interviews . In 1946 Baden married Rosanna 'Rosa' Durrant (1927-2009) in Suffolk. Rosa was the daughter of fisherman Dennis George Durrant (1898-1968) and his wife Rosanna Durrant nee Chase (1898-1968) . Baden made a model out of cardboard boxes to show the location of properties at Povington: The well was in one corner of the field and we had to carry the water in buckets some 500 or 600 yards. The toilet was outside the house – a bucket type that had to be emptied by hand. My memory of visiting my grandfather's home in Albert Road, Parkstone was the flush toilet. I had never seen one of those before. I remember the great fascination it had for me just to pull the chain." Baden Singleton Baden and Rosa had three sons and a daughter who sadly died aged 19. In later years Baden and

Rosa lived in Waterlooville, Hampshire. Rosa died in 2009 aged 81 and Baden died in 2017 aged 93. With thanks to: Pauline Barran If you have any photographs or information to share on this or other pages, please email us at the contact address shown on our page Page last updated: 15 September 2022

Tripcony

admin 30 May 2015 31 August 2017 Your messages My Great-Great-Grandfather Anthony Martin TRIPCONY (1820-1889) from St Keverne, Cornwall, was employed in the coastguard service in Warbarrow in the 1850s, just after marrying Harriet GRIFFIN on the Isle of Wight. The first four of their children were baptised in Tyneham Church: Seth in 1853, Elizabeth & Harriet in 1856 and my Great-Grandmother Susannah in 1858. Susannah married Alfred Tadd (1858-1895) in Chichester, Christmas eve 1880. She had 5 children: Edward, William, Ernest, Ellen (my Grandmother) & Rosa. ...so I found it a extra special place to visit a few years ago and must return soon. Susannah died in Portsmouth 11 Sept 1926. Tripcony . Bookmark the permalink . « Hollow Ditch and a Hollow Promise Poem: "Tyneham" by Steph Gassor »

2017: Death of Nancy Openshaw Banister nee Coupe

2017: Death of Nancy Openshaw Banister admin 1 November 2017 7 September 2022 Obituary BANISTER Nancy Openshaw. Peacefully on 29th October 2017, aged 96. Much loved mother, grandmother and great grandmother. A Celebration of her life will be held at St Mary's Church, Culworth on 23rd November at 11.30 a.m. Donations, if desired, to the Game and Wildlife Conservation Trust may be sent c/o Humphris Funerals, 32 Albert Street, Banbury, Oxon, OX16 5DG. Tel: (01295) 265424. Published in the Telegraph, November 2017 Coupe . Bookmark the permalink . « As time passed by . . . this is Tyneham's story 2017: Death of Sheila Joy Wrixon »

Parish Records & Censuses

Parish Registers

|Primary Resources| Censuses Parish Registers Baptisms 1694-1812 1813-1903 Marriages 1694-1839 1840-1921 Burials 1734-1812 1813-1942

Baptisms 1694-1812

|Primary Resources| Censuses Parish Registers Baptisms 1694-1812 Baptisms 1813-1903 Marriages 1694-1839 Marriages 1840-1921 Burials 1734-1812 Burials 1813-1942 Show 10 25 50 100 entries Search: Baptism date Forenames Rel Father Mother Surname Notes Baptism date Forenames Rel Father Mother Surname Notes Baptism date Forenames Rel Father Mother Surname Notes 8 Jan 1694/1695 John John Margaret HOPKINS 3 Mar 1694/1695 Elizabeth John Margaret SHEPHARD 14 May 1696 Elizabeth d of John Jane VINCENT 5 Jul 1696 Moses s of Joseph Anne VIVIAN 13 Oct 1696 Hannah d of Bernard Mary TOUP Rector, born 18 Sep 24 Sep 1696 Richard s of John Margaret HOPKINS 1 Aug 1697 Mary d of William Dorothy SYMONDS 9 Feb 1697/1698 Henry s of Henry Edith BARTLET [BARTLETT] 24 Apr 1698 Jane d of John Jane VINCENT 21 Oct 1698 William s of William Dorothy SYMONDS Showing 1 to 10 of 573 entries Previous Next

Baptisms 1813-1903

|Primary Resources| Parish Registers Baptisms 1694-1812 Baptisms 1813-1903 Marriages 1694-1839 Marriages 1840-1921 Burials 1734-1812 Burials 1813-1942 Show 10 25 50 100 entries Search: entry Date Christian Names Surname Father Mother Abode Trade Column notes entry Date Christian Names Surname Father Mother Abode Trade Column notes Entry Baptism date Forenames Surname Father Mother Abode Occupation Margin notes 1 10 Mar 1813 Samuel COOPER Fleet Sarah Tyneham 2 30 May 1813 Martha MILLER Thomas Elizabeth Portsea Ship Carpenter 3 7 Jul 1813 Matthew PITCHER Daniel Mary Tyneham 4 21 Aug 1813 Sarah BALSON William Eliz Tyneham 5 5 Nov 1813 William BALSON William Eliz Tyneham 6 14 Feb 1814 Sarah SWAIN John Hannah Tyneham 8 12 May 1814 William Lucy STICKLAND William Sarah Tyneham 7 23 May 1814 James GALTON James Mary Tyneham 9 22 Aug 1814 Matthew PITCHER Base Born Martha Tyneham 10 2 Oct 1814 William Fever LAKE John Mary Tyneham 11 10 Oct 1814 James COOPER Samuel Mary Tyneham 12 7 Nov 1814 Elisha BALSON Base Born Thirza Tyneham 13 15 Jan 1815 Peggy BALSON William Elizabeth Tyneham 14 5 Mar 1815 William FARWELL James Mary Tyneham 21 14 Apr 1815 Robert LUCAS James Peggy Tyneham 15 23 Apr 1815 Merrick BARRLETT Base Born Hannah Tyneham 17 15 May 1815 William NORMAN James Elizabeth Tyneham 22 19 May 1815 William SPENCER Thomas Mary Tyneham 16 4 Jun 1815 Eglah POLDEN Henry Sarah Tyneham 23 9 Jun 1815 Isabel LAKE John Mary Tyneham 18 21 Jul 1815 Ann RICHARDS James Elizabeth Tyneham 24 15 Aug 1815 John MOREY John Mary Tyneham 19 15 Oct 1815 George RICHARDS William Elizabeth Tyneham 20 17 Dec 1815 Thomas LOFTUS Thomas Mary Tyneham 26 12 Sep 1816 Henry BILES Anthony Martha Tyneham Showing 1 to 25 of 616 entries Previous Next

Baptisms 1842-1864

■ Home |Primary Resources| Parish Registers Baptisms 1694-1841 Baptisms 1842-1864 Baptisms 1865-1903 Marriages 1694-1839 Marriages 1840-1921 Burials 1734-1812 Burials 1813-1942 Transcribed by Jenfer Dando 1842 Jan 9 Elizabeth Frances CHARLO daur of William & Sarah; Tyneham; Of the Preventative Service 1842 Jan 23 Jane Eliza SHORT daur of John Grant & Jane; Tyneham; Of the Preventative Service 1842 Jan 23 Eliza Sarah HARVILL Daur of John & Eliza; Tyneham; Labourer 1842 Feb 13 Francis WITHERS son of

Francis & Charlotte; Tyneham; Of the Coastguard 1842 Mar 6 Mary Ann HIBBS daur of James & Mary; Tyneham; Labourer 1842 Mar 27 Henry Lewis SPENCER son of Charles & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Mason 1842 Apr 10 Charles John FOOKS son of John & Eglah; Tyneham; Thatcher 1842 Apr 25 Charles Albert STICKLAND son of William & Susan; Tyneham; Fisherman 1842 Jun 13 Angelina KINGCOMBE daur of Josiah & Eliza; Tyneham; Coastguard 1842 Jun 19 Sarah Jane RIDOUT daur of John & Elizabeth Bartlett; Tyneham; Labourer 1842 Jul 5 Maria CHURCHILL daur of George & Sophie Smith; Tyneham; Labourer 1842 Sep 10 Henry BROWN son of William & Charlotte; Tyneham; Boatman 1842 Nov 8 Mary Eliza VINE daur of Peter & Mary Ann; Tyneham; Labourer 1843 Feb 11 Caroline BALSON daur of William & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1843 Feb 11 Eliza BALSON daur of William & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1843 May 10 Thomas ELMES son of George & Harriett; Tyneham; Labourer 1843 May 21 Mary PITMAN daur of William & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1843 May 21 Anne PITCHER base born daur of Sarah; Tyneham; Spinster 1843 Jun 4 Albert LEARMOUTH; daur of Andrew & Elizabeth Dewey; Tyneham; Of the Coastguard 1843 Jun 23 Elizabeth Mary BENNETT daur of Thomas & Anne; Tyneham; Of the Coastguard 1843 Jul 23 Amelia WILLIS daur of Thomas & Sarah; Steeple; Labourer 1843 Aug 12 James SPENCER son of George & Grace; Tyneham; Mason 1843 Dec 25 Giles SPENCER son of Charles & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Mason 1844 Jan 28 Leonora Sophia FOOKS daur of John & Eglah; Tyneham; Thatcher 1844 Mar 31 Mary LANGFORD daur of Henry & Hannah; Tyneham; Labourer 1844 May 8 George Francis VINE son of Peter & Mary Anne; Tyneham; Labourer 1844 May 26 William SAMPSON son of William & Sarah; Tyneham; Labourer 1844 May 26 John SHORT son of John Grant & Jane; Tyneham; of the Coastguard Service 1844 Jun 4 Felix HARVILL? Son of John & Eliza; Tyneham; Labourer 1844 Jun 19 Louisa SMITH daur of George & Sophia; Tyneham; Yeoman 1844 Jun 23 Charles Churchill RIDOUT son of John & Elizabeth Bartlett; Tyneham; Labourer 1844 Oct 6 Mary Ann MURRAY daur of Daniel & Ann; Tyneham; Labourer 1845 Feb 2 Sarah STICKLAND daur of William & Susan; Tyneham; Fisherman 1845 Mar 2 William John GARRETT Son of Edward Stephen & Susan; Tyneham; CoastGuard 1845 Apr 5 Jane Ann BASCOMBE daur of George & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1845 May 22 Henry Jeanes Sm  MARSHALLSAY son of William & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Yeoman 1845 Aug 3 Selina PILCHER base born daur of Susan; Tyneham; Spinster 1845 Aug 20 Henry [illegible]TUCK son of John & Jane; Tyneham; Yeoman 1845 Sep 7 Elizabeth Sarah LEARMOUTH daur of Andrew & Elizabeth Dewy; Tyneham; Coastguard 1845 Sep 21 Elizabeth Ann CHARLES daur of Richard & Mary Ann; Tyneham; Labourer 1845 Oct 4 Ann Maria BENNET daur of Thomas & Ann; Tyneham; of the Coastguard 1845 Oct 26 Lydia Mary RIDOUT daur of John & Elizabeth Bartlett; Tyneham; Labourer 1845 Dec 14 Richard Henry SULLIVAN son of William & Maria; Tyneham; of the Coastguard 1846 Jan 11 Edward Stephen GARRETT son of Edward & Susan; Tyneham; Coastguard service 1846 Jan 27 Sophia BALSON daur of William & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1846 Feb 1 Bericiah RIDOUT son of William & Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1846 May 17 Samuel Henry SMITH son of George & Sophia; Tyneham; Yeoman 1846 Aug 9 Timna FOOKS daur of John & Eglah; Tyneham; Thatcher 1846 Nov 1 H * STICKLAND daur of Thomas & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Fisherman 1847 Jan 19 John ELMES son of George & Harriett; Tyneham; Labourer 1847 Mar 3 Sarah Elizabeth MURRAY daur of Samuel & Anne; Tyneham; Labourer 1847 May 19 George Thomas FOOKS son of John & Jane; Tyneham; Yeoman 1847 May 22 Thomas John SOPER son of Thomas & Martha; Tyneham; Labourer 1847 Jun 13 Elizabeth Emma RIDOUT daur of John & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1847 Jul 11 Henry John HAVEL? Son of John & Eliza; Tyneham; Labourer 1847 Dec 11 William Charles SULLIVAN son of William & Maria; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1848 Jan 24 James Charles BASCOMBE son of George & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1848 Mar 19 William Charles LEARMOUTH son of Andrew & Elizabeth Dewy; Tyneham; Coastguard 1848 Apr 2 Philippa Richards BENNETT daur of Thomas & Ann; Tyneham; Coastguard 1848 Apr 5 Thomas SMITH son of George & Sophia; Tyneham; Yeoman 1848 Apr 10 Lucy JENKINS daur of Edward & Jane; Tyneham; Coastguard 1848 May 31 Louisa Mary FRY daur of John & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Coastguard 1848 Jul 18 Amos CHARLES son of James & Maria; Tyneham; Labourer 1848 Aug 27 Maria ELMES daur of William & Maria; Tyneham; Labourer 1848 Sep 17 James William LUCAS son of William & Harriett; Tyneham; Labourer 1848 Oct 29 Francis STICKLAND son of Thomas & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Fisherman 1848 Nov 15 Priscilla BALSON daur of

William & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1849 Mar 18 Henry THOMPSON base born son of Matilda; Tyneham; Spinster 1849 Apr 1 George PITCHER son of George & Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1849 Apr 29 George Thomas FOOKES son of John & Eglah; Tyneham; Thatcher 1849 Jul 22 Mary Ann LUCAS daur of George & Anne; Tyneham; Labourer 1850 Jan 13 Jane Ann MILLER daur of William & Sarah; Tyneham; Fisherman 1850 Feb 18 George BASCOMBE son of George & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1850 May 30 Selina SMITH daur of George & Sophia; Tyneham; Yeoman 1850 Sep 15 James YEATS son of James & Amy; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1850 Nov 14 Charles THOMPSON son of George & Susan; Tyneham; Shoemaker 1851 Jan 5 Mary Ann ELMES daur of William & Maria; Tyneham; Labourer 1851 Feb 9 Fanny LUCAS daur of William & Harriett; Tyneham; Labourer 1851 Apr 13 Lucy LUCAS daur of Henry & Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1851 Apr 13 Mary Jane PILCHER daur of Edward & Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1851 Apr 23 William BALSON son of William & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1851 May 4 Thomas James BENNETT son of Thomas & Ann; Tyneham; Labourer 1851 May 18 Emma Elizabeth STICKLAND daur of Thomas & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Fisherman 1851 Aug 10 Charles William MURRAY son of Samuel & Emily; Tyneham; Labourer 1851 Aug 17 William Charles Learmouth POYNER son of William & Caroline; Tyneham; Coastguard 1851 Aug 17 Elizabeth Sarah Learmouth POYNER daur of William & Caroline; Tyneham; Coastguard 1851 Aug 17 William Thomas ROBERTS son of George & Ann; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1851 Aug 25 Alice Louisa CHARLES daur of Matthew & Ann; Tyneham; Labourer 1851 Oct 5 Emma Jane TALLING Daur of Richard & Ellen; Tyneham; Coastguard Service (being 9 years of age) 1851 Oct 5 Richard TALLING Son of Richard & Ellen; Tyneham; Coastguard Service (being 7 years of age) 1851 OCT 5 Sarah Amelia TALLING Daur of Richard & Ellen; Coastguard Service 1851 Nov 16 Charles William MILLER son of William & Sarah; Tyneham; Fisherman 1851 Dec 25 Charles Spencer MINTERN son of Samuel & Mary Ann; Tyneham; Shoemaker 1852 Feb 1 Louisa Susannah Bartlett RIDOUT daur of John & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1852 Apr 4 Thomas John BASCOMBE son of George & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1852 May 9 Samuel David MILLER son of David & Theresa; Tyneham; Fisherman 1852 Jul 25 Selina Maria LUCAS daur of George & Anne; Tyneham; Labourer 1852 May 23 William Henry BOLT son of Richard & Eliza; Tyneham; Labourer 1853 Jan 16 George LUCAS son of William & Harriet; Tyneham; Labourer 1853 Feb 27 Samuel MURRAY son of Samuel & Emily; Tyneham; Labourer 1853 Mar 20 Seth TRICONY Son of Anthony Martin & Harriet; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1853 Jul 3 William Harry LUCAS son of Henry & Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1853 Jul 31 Maria Anne SPICER daur of John & Anne; Tyneham; Labourer 1853 Aug 7 Mary Hewlett BASCOMBE daur of George & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1853 Sept 11 Thomas Harris Rows WILLS son of William & Phillis; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1853 Oct 16 Sarah Louisa MILLER daur of William & Sarah; Tyneham; Fisherman 1853 Oct 22 Eliza DOREY daur of William & Eliza; Tyneham; Carpenter 1853 Dec 14 Anne Sophia SMITH daur of Thomas & Anne; Steeple; Dairyman 1854 Mar 26 Richard Arthur BOLT son of Richard & Eliza; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1854 Apr 9 Cecilia BENNETT daur of Thomas & Anne; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1854 Jun 8 Elizabeth Anne HULL daur of William Shelter & Susan ; Tyneham; Yeoman 1854 Aug 21 Fanny Louisa RIDOUT daur of John & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1854 Oct 8 Julia Anne RIDOUT daur of John & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1855 Apr 23 Emma Mary STICKLAND daur of John & Selina; Tyneham; Labourer 1855 Jun 10 Mary Ann DAVIE daur of John & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1855 Aug 12 Emma Jane MURRAY daur of Samuel & Emily; Tyneham; Labourer 1855 Oct 14 Elizabeth Jane WILLS daur of Henry & Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1856 Jan 27 Maria Jane LUCAS daur of Henry & Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1856 Feb 3 Elizabeth Anne LUCAS daur of William & Harriet; Tyneham; Labourer 1856 Nov 9 Mary Ann LONG daur of William & Caroline; Tyneham; Labourer 1856 Nov 23 Elizabeth TRICONY daur of Anthony Martin & Harriet; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1856 Nov 23 Harriet TRICONY daur of Anthony Martin & Harriet; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1857 Jan 16 Elizabeth MILLER daur of David & Theresa; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1857 Jan 16 Joseph MILLER son of David & Theresa; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1857 Jan 18 William Langford WEARR son of William & Kesia; Tyneham; Labourer 1857 Aug 2 Caroline WARREN daur of Joseph & Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1857 Nov 8 Joseph Henry MILLER son of William & Sarah; Tyneham; Fisherman 1857 Dec 27 Harriett Louisa MURRAY daur of Samuel & Emily; Tyneham; Labourer 1858 Jan 5 Henry Charles

BALSON son of Ellen; Tyneham; Dressmaker 1858 Mar 21 Adelaide Amelia BENNETT daur of Thomas & Nancy; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1858 Apr 18 Ann Everest RICHARDS daur of Eliza; Tyneham; Servant 1858 Jun 27 George WILLS son of William & Phillis; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1858 Jul 25 Thomas James Halse? HEALER son of James & Eliza; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1858 Sep 26 Susanna TRICONY daur of Anthony Martin & Harriet; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1858 Oct 24 Thomas William MILLER son of Thomas Henry & Louisa Jane; Tyneham; Fisherman 1859 Jan 9 Frederic BRADFORD son of Thomas & Mary; Tyneham; Labourer 1859 Jan 29 Sophia HINDE daur of William Joseph & Sarah Ann; Tyneham; Servant 1859 Feb 20 Alice Sophia STICKLAND daur of John & Selina; Tyneham; Labourer 1859 Apr 10 Stephe SPICER child of John & Ann Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1859 Apr 20 Eleanor Florentina HULL daur of William Skelter & Susan Frances; Tyneham; Yeoman 1859 May 22 Charles James LUCAS son of Henry & Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1859 Jun 19 Henry LUCAS son of William & Harriet; Tyneham; Labourer 1859 Jul 24 Arthur Cornelius HARDY son of Thomas & Tabitha Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1859 Oct 16 Mary Ann CAINES daur of James & Priscilla; Poole ; Cabinet Maker 1859 Dec 4 John WARREN son of Joseph & Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1859 Dec 25 Thomas Edwin PEARSON son of Thomas & Sarah; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1859 Dec 25 John Manuel Dodd HEALES son of James & Eliza; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1860 Feb 12 Mary Jane MINTERN daur of Samuel & Mary Ann; East Stoke; Shoemaker 1860 Mar 16 Sarah Jane BRADFORD daur of Thomas & Mary; Tyneham; Labourer 1860 Mar 28 George James PITCHER son of Anne; Tyneham; Spinster 1860 May 13 John MURRAY son of Samuel & Emily; Tyneham; Labourer 1860 Jun 3 Thomas John SPICER son of John & Anne Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1860 Jun 10 John MILLER son of William Henry & Sarah Jane; Tyneham; Fisherman 1860 Jun 24 Amelia Jane MILLER daur of Thomas Henry & Louisa Jane; Tyneham; Fisherman 1860 Jul 29 Louisa EVANS? Daur of George & Caroline; West Lulworth ; Coastguard Service 1860 Sep 23 Richard Thomas TIZZARD son of Francis & Jane; Dewlish; Dairyman 1860 Oct 7 Elizabeth Mary DUNFORD daur of John & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer 1860 Nov 4 William George LANGDOWN son of John & Mary Eliza; Tyneham; Labourer 1860 Dec 25 Joseph Phillips WILLS son of William & Phillis; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1861 Mar 8 William Lewis HINDE son of William Joseph & Sarah Ann; Tyneham; Servant 1861 Mar 24 William H I TOMKIN son of John & Mary Ann; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1861 May 5 Jane Maria LUCAS daur of William & Harriet; Tyneham; Labourer 1861 May 19 Mary Ann LAGO (or JAGO?) daur of Richard Curragh & Margaret; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1861 Jun 2 George ELMES son of Charles & Martha; Tyneham; Labourer 1861 Jun 5 Mary Jane HULL daur of William Skelter & Susan Frances; Moreton; Yeoman 1861 Jul 6 Anne Maria PITCHER daur of Edward & Sarah Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1861 Oct 10 Thomas Charles COOPER son of William & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Yeoman 1862 Feb 9 Amelia Jane PENGELLY daur of John Ebenezer & Jane; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1862 Mar 20 Elizabeth Martha STUDLEY daur of Jospheh & Mary; Tyneham; Labourer 1862 Apr 27 Josiah HARDY son of Thomas & Tabitha Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1862 Jun 8 Mary Sophia MILLER daur of William Henry & Sarah Jane; Tyneham; Fisherman 1862 Jul 13 William Thomas MINTERN son of Samuel & Mary Ann; East Stoke; Shoemaker 1862 Aug 5 Caroline MURRAY daur of Samuel & Emily; Tyneham; Labourer 1862 Sep 7 Jane Richards MOSS daur of William & Lucy Ann; Langton Matravers; Mason 1862 Nov 2 John LANGDOWN son of John & Mary Eliza; Tyneham; Labourer 1862 Nov 9 Frederic HOBBS son of George & Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1862 Nov 9 John Henry DUNFORD son of George & Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1862 Dec 1 James HOBBS son of George & Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1863 Apr 17 William ELMES son of Charles & Martha; Tyneham; Labourer 1863 May 3 Edward Charles WILLS son of William & Philis; Tyneham; Coastguard service 1863 Jun 21 Frances Ellen SPENCER daur of James & Ellen; Tyneham; Mason 1863 Jun 28 William Joseph EVRETT? Son of John James & Sarah; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1863 Jul 19 Katherinw SOFFE? Daur of Silvester William & Kate' Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1863 Aug 9 Emma Louisa MILLER daur of Thomas Henry & Lavinia Jane; Tyneham; Fisherman 1863 Aug 12 Louisa SPICER daur of John & Ann Jane; Tyneham; Labourer 1863 Oct 25 Edward John LITTON son of George Henry & Mary Jane; Tyneham; Coastguard service 1863 Nov 15 Mary Louisa JOINER daur of Jospheh & Anne; Tyneham; Labourer 1863 Nov 22 George Smith HINDE son of William Joseph & Sarah Anne; Tyneham; Servant 1864 Feb 7 Mary Jane FOOT daur of Michael & Lavinia; Tyneham; Labourer 1864

Mar 8 Elizabeth ST *Y daur of George & Martha; Tyneham; Labourer 1864 Apr 13 William George HOOPER son of Richard & Harriett; Tyneham; Labourer 1864 Oct 16 Alice Mintern SOFFE? Daur of Silvester William & Kate; Tyneham; Coastguard Service 1864 Oct 16 Matilda Ellen DAVIES daur of Edwin & Ellen; Tyneham; Labourer 1864 Oct 23 George MURRAY son of Samuel & Emily; Tyneham; Labourer 1864 Nov 6 William Frederic DUNN son of William Thomas & Jane; Tyneham; coastguard Service 1864 Dec 25 Emma DUNFORD daur of John & Elizabeth; Tyneham; Labourer CORRECTIONS MADE MAY 2015

Burials 1734-1812

[Primary Resources] Parish Registers Baptisms 1694-1812 Baptisms 1813-1903 Marriages 1694-1839 Marriages 1840-1921 Burials 1734-1812 Burials 1813-1942 Show 10 25 50 100 entries Search: Order Forenames Surname Additional details Burial date Order Forenames Surname Additional details Burial date Order Forenames Surname Additional details Burial date 1 Mary BIRT 20 Jun 1734 2 Robert MEADEN 11 Sep 1734 3 Mary CHRISTOPHERS 14 Apr 1735 4 Mary TUCKER 1 Jun 1735 5 name? name? ? 6 Mary SYMONDS 20 Jan 1735 7 Mary ELBY 30 Jun 1736 8 Ann VIVIAN 24 Apr 1744 9 Joseph WHITE 17 Jun 1744 10 Mary KELLY daughter of Henry & Anne Kelly 22 Jun 1746 11 James SYMMONDS [SYMONDS] 28 Jun 1746 12 William LORD 19 Apr 1747 13 Henry MILLER 31 Jul 1747 14 Mary DAY 27 Dec 1747 15 Dorothy SYMMONDS [SYMONDS] 24 Mar 1748 16 Elizabeth NEWELL 27 Oct 1749 17 William DOUSE of Dartmouth, Devon 27 Jan 1750 18 John BROWN 13 Jan 1753 19 David ALLEN 16 Jan 1753 20 Mary HOPKINS 11 Feb 1753 21 Anne VIVIAN 22 Jun 1753 22 Mary STICKLAND 30 Nov 1753 23 John PARKER 11 Feb 1754 24 Richard HOPKINS 20 Feb 1754 25 Robert ALNER 21 Apr 1754 Showing 1 to 25 of 182 entries Previous Next

Burials 1813-1942

[Primary Resources] Parish Registers Baptisms 1694-1812 Baptisms 1813-1903 Marriages 1694-1839 Marriages 1840-1921 Burials 1734-1812 Burials 1813-1942 Show 10 25 50 100 entries Search: Reg Ent Forenames Surname Abode Burial date Age Margin notes Reg Ent Forenames Surname Abode Burial date Age Margin notes Reg Ent Forenames Surname Abode Burial date Age Margin notes 1 William MILLER Tyneham 30 Jan 1813 64 2 Molly VYE Egglestone 8 Apr 1813 66 3 Joan VYE Corfe Castle 15 Apr 1813 57 4 Matthew PITCHER Tyneham 23 May 1813 10m 5 Ann RICHARDS Tyneham 14 Jul 1813 11m 6 Elizabeth RICHARDS Tyneham 21 Jul 1813 11m 7 Elizabeth STICKLAND Tyneham 22 Nov 1813 54 8 Charles MILLER Tyneham 29 Jan 1814 26 9 Elizabeth SAMPSON Pool 14 Jul 1814 50 10 Ann VIVIAN Tyneham 6 Nov 1814 57 11 Mary RICHARDS Tyneham 27 Dec 1814 77 12 James GALTON Tyneham 12 Feb 1815 9m 13 William RICHARDS Corfe Castle 27 Aug 1815 46 14 Henry BARTLETT Coombe Keynes 24 Dec 1815 83 15 George RICHARDS Tyneham 25 Sep 1816 infant 16 James Charles RICHARDS Tyneham 22 Oct 1816 infant 17 James RICHARDS Tyneham 31 Oct 1816 49 18 Ann RICHARDS Tyneham 31 Oct 1816 1 19 Daniel PILCHER Tyneham 20 Sep 1818 85 20 Mary RIDOUT Tyneham 20 Dec 1818 20 21 George SEARLY Tyneham 23 Dec 1818 17 22 Thomas VEY Tyneham 24 Jan 1819 89 23 Sarah PILCHER Tyneham 9 May 1819 77 24 Martha MOULAM Tyneham 11 Nov 1819 65 25 Elisha BALSON Tyneham 6 Feb 1820 5 Showing 1 to 25 of 380 entries Previous Next

Marriages 1694-1839

[Primary Resources] Parish Registers Baptisms 1694-1812 Baptisms 1813-1903 Marriages 1694-1839 Marriages 1840-1921 Burials 1734-1812 Burials 1813-1942 These transcripts were made by Mr Barry CHINCHEN from the original documents held at Dorset Record Office and have been given by him to the Dorset OPC Project 1694 27 Aug William Holmes & Bridget Ham of West Lulworth 24 Dec George Smedmore & Frances Brine of West Lulworth 1695 25 Mar Joseph Vivian alias Hoggard & Anne Skiller of Osmington 19 Nov Edward Lillington & Jane Fisher 18 Feb James Eyres & Ann Curtis of Steeple 1696 13 Apr William Pook of

Dorchester & Anne Lovelace 1697 18 Apr John Heslier of Osmanton & Rebecca Smedmore 1698 25 Apr Jeffery Street & Mary Serrell of Blandford Forum 7 Jun William Dey & Anne Parrish 4 Aug Benjamin Baker & Elizabeth Ayles of East Lulworth 1700 2 Jan John Vincent & Mrs Priscilla Cockram of Swanage 4 Feb Henry Miller & Esther Nelson 1701 2 May John Alner & Joan Clapcott 1702 5 Apr John White of Tarrant Craford & Rachel Sweet 1703 21 Oct Mr Paul Kellaway of Piddle Hinton & Mrs Anne Moile of Haselbury Brian 1704 17 Apr John Rumsey & Mary Collins 17 Apr Reuben Kent & Elizabeth Doudall 6 Jun John Baker & Sarah Lillington 1705 3 Mar Thomas Tuck of Wareham & Mary Squib 1706 22 Apr John Cox of Knowle & Christian Winter 8 Sep James Pollard & Ruth Baker of West Creech 1709 28 Jun Thomas Bennet of Kimmeridge & Jane Pollard 1710 2 May James Spicer of East Stoke & Frances Christopher 6 May Mr David Grove & Mrs Joanna Duke of Studland 29 Aug George Hellier & Joan Northover of Wareham 1711 3 Apr George Catcott & Mary Harden 1712 30 Apr James Parsons of Horle in Hampshire & Margaret Clapcott 1713 29 May Mr John Lannyng & Mrs Elizabeth Lannyng 1714 29 Mar Samuel Cox & Elizabeth Perkins of Kimmeridge 1 Jul Stephen Smith & Margaret Summers 17 Aug Mr Thomas Whittell & Mrs Mary Samwaies 18 Oct Abel Bonfield of Swanage & Elizabeth Hayward 1715 10 May Mr Joseph Brixey & Mrs Frances Bythewood of Stowborough 8 Dec Henry Burden & Jane Perkins of Kimmeridge 21 Dec Mr Anthony Trew & Mrs Martha Welstead 1716 17 May William Trew of Swanage & Joan Cox 17 May Benjamin Baker & Priscilla Smedmore of East Lulworth 21 May John Buffett & Abigail Savage 27 May John Brine of Church Knowle & Mary Meaden 7 Aug Peter Coombes & Elizabeth Bartlet alias Hancock 15 Oct Mr John Ryall & Mrs Mary Bythewood 19 Mar Robert Bonfield & Mary Vie 21 Mar Peter Smith of Slalbridge & Elizabeth Lannyng 1717 30 Apr John Wilshire & Katherine Battrick 18 May Robert George & Mary Symonds 7 Oct Joseph Coward & Mary Summers 1718 27 Mar Henry Vicary & Mary Tatchell 3 Jun Abner Fall of Wareham & Frances Cribb 8 Sep John Bonfield & Grace Stanly of Swanage 6 Nov Joseph Cox & Susanna Man of Knowle 13 Jan Richard Roper of Arpuddle & Susanna Fry 1719 21 Apr Mr Richard Darracott & Mrs Lucy Thornhull 16 Jun Gerard Trew of Swanage & Ann Curtis of Corfe 18 Jun William Howlett & Elizabeth Shepherd 30 Jun George Fry & Dorothy Frampton 8 Oct Thomas Damper & Mary Brown of Worth 1720 3 May George Neppred & Jane Arnold 6 Jul Robert Knight of Dalwood & Ann Squire 6 Sep Jeremiah Brown & Elizabeth Burt 6 Oct Charles Early & Grace Sturmy 4 Nov Benjamin Foot of Swanage & Mary Stickland 20 Dec Robert Tucker of Wool & Mary Seymour of East Lulworth 5 Feb Thomas Cross of Swanage & Grace Humber 10 Feb Richard Ingram & Mary Scot of Wool 1723 15 Apr William Elmes & Jane Smith 1726 8 Apr James Symonds & Joice Tucker 1730 Oct Robert Miller & Susanna Smedmore 1734 13 May Thomas Baker & Mary Smith 2 Jun Edward Bower & Mary George 14 Jul James Galton & Elizabeth Russel 1736 24 May Thomas Christophers & Elizabeth Mortimer 1737 13 Apr Thomas Meader & Ruth Pollard 17 Apr Richard Hopkins & Mary Reeks 1738 4 Dec Joseph Cate of East Lulworth & Ester Miller 1739 24 Apr John Miller & Mary Romsey 1743 25 Sep Joseph Galton & Susannah Pollard 1744 4 Sep Thomas Seaman & Elizabeth Newill 22 Oct Elias Hibbs & Anne Lillington 1745 30 Jan Henry Hobbs & Esther Symonds 21 Sep William Miller & Hannah Kitcatt 4 Oct Joseph Reeks & Anne Farewell 1746 4 Mar William Cheesman & Mary Dalicourt 1747 21 May Thomas Falkner & Elizabeth Benstead 23 Dec Thomas Wilcox & Mary Arne 26 Jan George Hascall & Mary Riggs 1750 3 May James Goodwin & Jane Tarrant 1751 16 Aug William Cox & Rebecca Byles 1752 12 Nov Henry Vivian & Esther Catcot 1754 2 Sep Charles Pollard & Mary Mauditt Oct Moses Vivian & Hannah Miller – banns 1755 15 May John Ellis & Hannah Pollard 1756 1 Jun John Bridge of Winford Eagle Yeoman & Mary Alner 19 Jul Henry Bartlet & Mary Stickland 1757 12 May James Cates & Elizabeth Strood 1758 6 Feb William Penny of East Lulworth & Sarah Cole 18 Apr Thomas Vie of Holy Trinity Dorchester & Molly Davis 1760 6 Oct William Elmes & Katherine Stickland 1761 30 Apr Robert Fookes & Mary Symonds 1762 17 Feb Henry Wallbridge Farmer of Saylor? Dorset & Sarah Alner 1763 8 Feb Robert Thomas of Winfrith & Jane Meech 19 May John Hopkins & Susannah Brown 1764 12 Mar Robert Miller of Brentspuddle labourer & Martha Randall of Cheldon 10 Jul William Fowler & Elizabeth Mowlem 1765 24 Jan Thomas Millar of East Lulworth & Mary Cammel of Cowes I.O.W. 1767 27 Jul John Smith & Elizabeth Morey 1769 25 Sep James Brown of Stoke labourer & Elizabeth Stanly of Corfe

1770 2 Apr William Harris labourer & Winfrith Champ of East Lulworth 10 Jun John Goodchild of Corfe & Hannah Penny 1771 14 May George Durham labourer & Mary Luccas of Stoke 5 Jun Nathaniel Dean of St.Mary Wareham & Mary Clavell 1772 26 Apr William Kent of Corfe baker & Betty Randall 1773 16 Aug Richard Champ of East Lulworth labourer & Martha Vivian 1775 30 May Robert Cull of Worth Yeoman & Anna Dore of Freshwater I.O.W. 1776 10 Jun John Hibbs & Sarah Smith 18 Sep Thomas Bayly of Winfrith & Esther Trent of Steeple 1777 1 Apr Robert Seymour of East Lulworth & Elizabeth Seaman 8 Jul Richard Stevens of Buckland Rippers & Jane Clavell 15 Aug Samuel Symonds & Elizabeth Chipp of Bere Regis 1779 19 Jun William Bartlett & Hannah Ellis of Steeple 5 Jul Joseph Stickland of Almer & Elizabeth Vye of West Lulworth 1780 4 Jun Henry Sampson of Steeple & Mary Willshear 22 Aug Richard Rawles of Winfrith labourer & Elizabeth Camel of Steeple 29 Oct Edward Fookes widower & Mary Wilcox 1781 15 Jun William Barnes of Swanage Captain of a Merchant Ship & Mary Runyard of Fordington 23 May Thomas Willshire farmer & Hannah Cooper of Steeple 1782 13 Oct John Butcher of East Lulworth & Sarah Luccas 1785 2 Feb Robert Millar labourer & Susannah Wilcox 15 May John Richards & Jane Alner 17 Jun James Wilcox of Steeple & Elizabeth Meader of Swanage 1787 8 Jan Charles Allen & Susannah Gibbs both of Woolbridge 28 May John Willcox of Combe & Katherine Elmes of Steeple 12 Nov Robert Coles widower of Piddle Town & Anne Willshear 1788 30 Jan William Cockram of East Lulworth & Hester Millar 1789 28 Jan William Balsen of Wareham & Elizabeth Millar 24 Aug James Greening of St.Leonard's Shoreditch Middx. & Anne Gibbons 1790 24 May Henry Walbridge & Elizabeth Alner 1791 17 Jul James Willcox & Judith Farrel of Corfe 1794 9 Jan William Miller & Elizabeth Richards 6 Feb Robert Seymour of East Lulworth & Mary Miller 1795 22 Jan William Richards of Steeple & Jane Richards 23 Apr Philip Stickland & Harriet Croomes 29 Apr John Miller & Ann Richards 13 May Henry Polden of East Lulworth & Sarah Miller 13 Jul John Trenchard of Holy Trinity Wareham & Ann Vye 1797 15 May John Elms & Mary Sargent 1798 25 Dec Joseph Lock of Chaldon Herring & Mary Elmes 1799 6 Jul William Burt of Abby Milton & Ann Wallis 1800 11 Aug Cornelius Brown of East Lulworth & Margaret Bartlett 5 Nov Philip Abraham Barnes of Blandford Forum & Hannah Vey 1801 2 Sep James New of St.Martin's Wareham & Susanna New 1802 25 Oct John Pitcher & Ann Bennet 1803 10 Jan Thomas Spencer of Corfe & Mary Miller 7 Jul William Richards & Elizabeth Ball Aug Matthew Pitcher & Elizabeth Rickets – banns only 29 Sep James Pitt of Kingston or Portsea Hants & Ann Slade 2 Nov James Spencer of Corfe & Elizabeth Vye 1804 11 Sep William Stickland & Sarah Ann Lush 1805 24 Sep Henry Cooper of Steeple & Sarah Cole 1806 15 May James Farwell of Corfe & Mary Cole 24 Nov Thomas Burden of East Stoke & Elizabeth Hood 1807 14 Apr Samuel Black? of Shroton? & Mary Stovey 1808 1 Sep Thomas Whittle of Woolbridge & Charlotte Miller 1810 1 Jan John Snelling & Mary Minster 1811 29 Jul James Butt of Blandford & Elizabeth Short 1813 31 Jun Thomas Edmonds & Susanna Miller 1814 16 Aug Joseph Short & Mary Sampson 1815 6 Feb Matthew Townley of Loddington Northants. & Edith Miller 29 May Samuel Bonfield of Swanage & Mary Miller 1818 7 May Robert Hatton of Preston Dorset & Harriot Hillier 1819 11 Jan William Barnes & Clara Bower 27 Apr William Vincent of Corfe & Maria Elmes 1820 13 May Alexander Ball Tackly & Elizabeth Richards 1821 11 Oct George Elmes & Harriet Morey 1823 25 Aug William Ridout & Jane Pitcher 10 Dec John Richards & Jane Squibb 1825 22 Mar John Phillips of Kimmeridge & Ann Polden 26 Jul James Williams & Mary Ann Galton 1 Nov Jonathan Dowley of Turners Puddle & Elizabeth Hardey 21 Nov William Fry & Thirza Balson 1826 23 Jan Thomas Elms of Corfe & Elizabeth Miller 30 Aug Charles Best & Catharine Miller 1827 4 Oct George Fooks & Harriet Polden 25 Dec Robert Balson & Elizabeth Keats 1828 7 Jul William Cure of Steeple & Elizabeth Bishop 4 Aug George Roberts of West Titherley Hants & Maria Slade 13 Nov George Orchard of Corfe & Maria Vincent 1829 28 Sep Robert Sheller & Sarah Balson 1830 23 May William Balston & Elizabeth Snellen 1831 4 Apr George Spencer & Grace Luckas 21 Apr David Miller & Harriet Hibbs 6 Oct Charles Guy & Dinah Swain 1832 29 May John Elmes & Elizabeth Cox 18 Aug William Ralph & Catharine Thompson of Hythe Kent 1833 2 Feb James Lucas of East Lulworth & Rebecca Spencer 10 Feb Richard Squibb of West Lulworth & Sophia Snelling 8 Apr Henry Fooks & Timna Polden 1834 20 May Joseph Cooper of Holy Trinity Wareham & Mary Searley 27 May James Richards & Mary Stickland 7 Jul William Rumsay of Steeple & Mary Lucas

1835 5 May William Hibbs & Ann Wilcox 1836 13 Apr John Tuck & Jane Cole 2 May Charles Elmes & Sarah Gollop 1840 2 Mar William Stickland & Susanna Orchard 1841 14 Mar Charles Spencer & Elizabeth Balson 26 Jun George Bryant & Jane Gibson Fittock of West Lulworth Out of area marriages: At East Lulworth (as shown on East Lulworth OPC site) 1748 4 May Richard Rhynard of Steeple cum Tyneham & Mary Strood 1754 14 Oct Moses Vivian of Tyneham, widower & Hannah Millar, widow 1757 12 Jul George Morey of Tyneham & Elizabeth Tuxbury 1806 29 Dec Joseph Pitchard of Tyneham & Martha Bartlet 1827 04 Jun William Tuck & Lucy Bower of Tyneham 1833 9 May John Harvell of Tyneham & Eliza Lucas At Kimmeridge (as shown on Kimmeridge OPC site) 1802 6 Apr George Richards of Tyneham & Mary Furber At Steeple (as shown on Steeple OPC site) 1754 19 Dec William Stickland of Tyneham yeoman widower & Elizabeth Fookes 1761 12 Apr Charles Richards labourer & Mary Abbot of Tyneham 1789 15 Jun John Hibbs of Tyneham labourer & Anne Furmidge 1795 25 May George Butcher & Mary Selby of Tyneham 1799 6 Dec Richard Loxley & Elizabeth Prowse sojourner at Tyneham 1818 16 Nov George Redout of Tyneham & Jane Gibbons 1835 1 Jan William Marshallsey of Tyneham & Elizabeth Dugdale Sampson At West Lulworth (as shown on West Lulworth OPC site) 1808 9 Jun James Richards of Tyneham & Elizabeth Palmater 1831 8 May James Hibbs Tyneham Dorset & Mary Morey

Marriages 1840-1921

[Primary Resources] Parish Registers Baptisms 1694-1812 Baptisms 1813-1903 Marriages 1694-1839 Marriages 1840-1921 Burials 1734-1812 Burials 1813-1942 Show 10 20 25 50 100 entries Search: Entry Married Forenames Surnames Age Father Father trade Entry Married Forenames Surnames Age Father Father trade Ref Marriage date Forenames Surnames Age Father Father trade 1.1 2 Mar 1840 William STICKLAND of age William STICKLAND Fisherman 1.2 2 Mar 1840 Susanna ORCHARD of age William ORCHARD Labourer 2.1 14 Mar 1841 Charles SPENCER of age Thomas SPENCER Mason 2.2 14 Mar 1841 Elizabeth BALSON* of age - - 3.1 26 Jun 1841 George BRYANT x of age Dennis BRYANT Seaman 3.2 26 Jun 1841 Jane Gibson FITTOCK of age Daniel FITTOCK Seaman 4.1 14 Jun 1842 Thomas MILLER of age John MILLER Fisherman 4.2 14 Jun 1842 Martha MILLER of age James MILLER Fisherman 5.1 26 Sep 1842 George GIBSON of age John GIBSON Coachman 5.2 26 Sep 1842 Johanna Jane KINGCOME* of age Josiah KINGCOME* Coast Guard Service 6.1 25 Mar 1843 William SULLIVAN full age William SULLIVAN Sergeant in Infantry 6.2 25 Mar 1843 Maria STEVENS full age George STEVENS Carpenter 7.1 17 Apr 1843 Robert Searle ROWE of age Richard ROWE Yeoman 7.2 17 Apr 1843 Mary PAGE of age George PAGE Yeoman 8.1 7 Jun 1843 James HIBBS x of age John HIBBS Labourer 8.2 7 Jun 1843 Elizabeth GOULD of age William GOULD Labourer 9.1 1 May 1844 James Alexander SAYERS of age John SAYERS Seaman 9.2 1 May 1844 Emma GOVER 17 yrs Robert GOVER Carpenter 10.1 25 Jul 1844 William RUMSEY of age George RUMSEY Labourer 10.2 25 Jul 1844 Sarah LUCAS of age Charles LUCAS Shoemaker Showing 1 to 20 of 256 entries Previous Next

Censuses

[Primary Resources] Censuses Parish Registers 1841 1851 1861 1871 1881 1891 1901 1911 1939 Register

1841 Census

| Primary Resources | Censuses 1841 1851 1861 1871 1881 1891 1901 1911 1921 1939 Register The 1841 Census of Tyneham recorded where 250 people in the parish were on the night of Sunday 6 June 1841 . We have transcribed the 1841 census records for the whole of Tyneham parish including Baltington , North and South Egliston , Povington and Worbarrow . We have provided an index as well as a free downloadable pdf . Please note enumerators were instructed , for the 1841 Census only, to round down the ages of person 15 years and over to a multiple of five years . So someone aged 19 should have been recorded as 15, someone aged 51 as 50 and so on.

Look at the census index below to find the person whose entry you wish to check and note the reference number in the far right hand column. Then click on the pdf link below to view fuller census details for that reference number. Please note the 'YoB' column shows the approximate year of birth derived from the age shown. 1841 Census Transcription 1841 Census Transcription (2748 downloads) 1841 Census Index Show 10 25 50 100 entries Search: Name Surname Age YoB Born Ref Name Surname Age YoB Born Ref Edith BALSTON [BALSON] 1 1840 Dorset 115 Elizabeth BALSTON [BALSON] 70 1771 Dorset 116 Elizabeth BALSTON [BALSON] 25 1816 Dorset 110 Ellen BALSTON [BALSON] 3 1838 Dorset 114 John BALSTON [BALSON] 8 1833 Dorset 112 Keziah BALSTON [BALSON] 10 1831 Dorset 111 Mahala BALSTON [BALSON] 45 1796 Dorset 117 Mary BALSTON [BALSON] 6 1835 Dorset 113 William BALSTON [BALSON] 25 1816 Dorset 109 Bernard BARNES 10 1831 Dorset 97 Showing 1 to 10 of 250 entries Previous Next Please remember that, for adults, the census enumerator was instructed to round ages down to multiples of 5 years Censuses have been undertaken every ten years from 1841 through to 1921. You can learn more about censuses on the census records page of The National Archives.

1851 Census

| Primary Resources | Censuses 1841 1851 1861 1871 1881 1891 1901 1911 1921 1939 Register This is a temporary transcription. A fuller transcription is currently in preparation. 1851 Census HO107/1856 Schedule; Road, Address; Name; Relation; Condition; Age; Occupation; Where born; Folio/page no. 1; North Egglestone ; George SMITH ; Head; Mar; 42; m; Farmer of 230 acres; Dorset Wytch?; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; Sophia SMITH ; Wife; Mar; 36; f; Dorset Stoborough; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; Mary SMITH ; Daur; Unm; 17; f; Dorset Wytch?; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; Sophia SMITH ; Daur; Unm; 15; f; Dorset Wytch?; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; George SMITH ; Son; Unm; 12; m; Scholar; Dorset Egglestone; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; Charles SMITH ; Son; Unm; 10; m; Scholar; Dorset Egglestone; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; Maria SMITH ; Daur; Unm; 9; f; Dorset Egglestone; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; Louisa SMITH ; Daur; 7; f; Dorset Egglestone; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; Samuel SMITH ; Son; 5; m; Dorset Egglestone; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; John SMITH ; Son; 3; m; Dorset Egglestone; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; Selina SMITH ; Daur; 11mo; f; Dorset Egglestone; HO107/1856/238-p1 2; North Egglestone ; Edward ROBERTS ; Head; Mar; 36; m; Ag lab; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; Jane ROBERTS ; Wife; Mar; 28; f; Dorset Corfe Castle; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; Mary ROBERTS ; Daur; 3weeks; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; George ROBERTS ; Son; 2; m; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p1 3; North Egglestone ; John CLUNS ; Head; Mar; 53; m; Ag lab; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; Elizabeth CLUNS ; Wife; Mar; 56; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; Felix CLUNS ; Son; Unm; 18; m; Shipwrights Apr; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; Haziell CLUNS ; Daur; Unm; 15; f; Scholar; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; Jane COX ; Step Daur; Unm; 25; f; Dress maker; Sorset Stoke; HO107/1856/238-p1 ; May COX ; Sister in law; Unm; 56; f; Charwoman; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p2 4; South Egglestone ; William STICKLAND ; Head; Mar; 70; m; Labourer; Dorset Steeple; HO107/1856/238-p2 ; Sarah STICKLAND ; Wife; Mar; 67; f; Middlesex London; HO107/1856/238-p2 ; Louisa STICKLAND ; Daur; Unm; 40; f; Invalid; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p2 5; South Egglestone ; William MUDLEIGH ?; Head; Mar; 35; m; Fisherman; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p2 ; Susan MUDLEIGH ?; Wife; Mar; 40; f; Dorset Broadwindsor; HO107/1856/238-p2 ; Louis MUDLEIGH ?; Son; Unm; 10; m; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p2 ; Charles MUDLEIGH ?; Son; 8; m; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p2 ; Sarah MUDLEIGH ?; Daur; 6; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p2 6; South Egglestone ; Thomas STICKLAND ; Head; Mar; 33; m; Fisherman; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p2 ; Elizabeth STICKLAND ; Wife; Mar; 32; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p2 ; Fanny STICKLAND ; Daur; 4; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p2 ; Francis STICKLAND ; Son; 2; m; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p2 ; Henry SPICER ; Step Son; 9; m; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/238-p2 7; South Tyneham ; Emmanuel RIGGS ; Head; Mar; 44; m; Shepherd on a farm; Dorset Bothampton; HO107/1856/238-p2 ; Eliza RIGGS ; Wife; Mar; 43; f; Dorset Dewlish; HO107/1856/238-p2 ; Selina RIGGS ; Daur; Unm; 21; f; Dorset Piddletown; HO107/1856/238-p2 8; Tyneham Rectory ; William GUY ; ?; Mar; 46; m; Out ?ook Ag Lab Servant; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p3 ; Caroline SLEGER ; Serv; Unm; 28; f; House mais; Somerset Holston; HO107/1856/239-p3 ; Sarah COOPER ; Serv; Unm; 18; f; General Serv; Dorset

Steeple; HO107/1856/239-p3 9; Tyneham ; William Hutton HALL ; Head; Mar; 44; m; Farmer of 462 acres 8 labourers; Somerset Molenster?; HO107/1856/239-p3 ; Jane? HALL ; Wife; Mar; 39; f; Somerset Henstridge; HO107/1856/239-p3 ; Hester HALL ; Daur; Unm; 19; f; Somerset Henstridge; HO107/1856/239-p3 ; William HALL ; Son; Unm; 18; m; ? Son; Somerset Henstridge; HO107/1856/239-p3 ; Joseph HALL ; Son; Unm; 16; m; ? Son; Somerset Mudford; HO107/1856/239-p3 ; Henry HALL ; Visitor; Wid; 73; m; Annuitant; Dorset ?; HO107/1856/239-p3 ; ? LOVELL ; Visitor; Wid; 69; f; Annuitant; Dorset Stalbridge; HO107/1856/239-p3 10; Tyneham ; Henry DAVID ; Head; Mar; 44; m; Dairyman; Dorset Car?ton; HO107/1856/239-p3 ; Sarah DAVID ; Wife; Mar; 31; f; Dorset Sherborne; HO107/1856/239-p3 11; Tyneham ; George LUCAS ; Head; Mar; 35; m; Ag lab; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p3 ; Ann LUCAS ; Wife; Mar; 29; f; Dorset Mo?; HO107/1856/239-p3 ; Mary Ann LUCAS ; Daur; 2; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p3 12; Tyneham ; Henry? LUCAS ; Head; Mar; 40; m; Ag lab; Dorset Coombe; HO107/1856/239-p3 ; Jane LUCAS ; Wife; Mar; 23; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p3 ; Lucy LUCAS ; Daur; 4mo; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p3 13; Tyneham ; William GRAY ; Head; Mar; 50; m; Gardener; Dorset Woolland; HO107/1856/239-p4 ; Sarah GRAY ; Wife; Mar; 48; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p4 14; Tyneham ; Eliza NORRIS ; Head; Mar; 43; f; Coachmans wife; Dorset Affpuddle; HO107/1856/239-p4 ; Henry NORRIS ; Son; 9; m; Dorset Affpuddle; HO107/1856/239-p4 ; Fanny NORRIS ; Daur; 7; f; Dorset Affpuddle; HO107/1856/239-p4 ; Alfred NORRIS ; Son; 4; m; Dorset Affpuddle; HO107/1856/239-p4 15; Tyneham ; John RIDOUT ; Head; Mar; 32; m; Gardener ?; Dorset Steeple; HO107/1856/239-p4 ; Elizabeth RIDOUT ; Wife; Mar; 30; f; Dorset Westanton?; HO107/1856/239-p4 ; Sarah RIDOUT ; Daur; 8; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p4 ; Charles RIDOUT ; Son; 6; m; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p4 ; Mary RIDOUT ; Daur; 5; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p4 ; Emma RIDOUT ; Daur; 3; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p4 16; Tyneham ; Martha GUPPY ; Wife; Mar; 52; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p4 17; Tyneham ; William CLUNS ; Head; Mar; 37; m; Ag lab; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p4 ; Maria CLUNS ; Wife; Mar; 32; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p4 ; Maria CLUNS ; Daur; 2; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p4 ; Mary Ann CLUNS ; Daur; 10mo; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p4 18; Tyneham ; Mary CLUNS ; Head; Wid; 76; f; Dorset Osmington; HO107/1856/239-p4 ; George CLUNS ; Son; Unm; 29; m; Ag lab; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/239-p4 19; Tyneham ; William HIBBS ; Head; Wid; 49; m; Ag lab; Dorset Coombe; HO107/1856/240-p5 ; Caroline HIBBS ; Daur; Unm; 14; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/240-p5 ; Mary HILLIER ; Visitor; Unm; 62; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/240-p5 ; George RICHARDS ; Lodger; Unm; 21; m; Ag lab; Dorset Borton; HO107/1856/240-p5 20; Worbarrow ; William LIDDERSON ; Head; Mar; 46; m; Chief Officer with Coast Guard; Bucks ?; HO107/1856/240-p5 ; Elizabeth LIDDERSON ; Wife; Mar; 46; f; Suffolk Ipswich; HO107/1856/240-p5 ; Wm LIDDERSON ; Son; 13; m; Essex Elford; Dumb; HO107/1856/240-p5 ; Edward LIDDERSON ; Son; 8; m; Scholar; Essex Elford; HO107/1856/240-p5 ; Charles R LIDDERSON ; Son; 5; m; Scholar; Hampshire Farlington?; HO107/1856/240-p5 ; Sarah AFLETT ?; Wifes sister; Unm; 44; f; Suffolk Ipswich; HO107/1856/240-p5 ; Emily MILLER ; Serv; Unm; 24; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/240-p5 ; Perlina? MILLER ; Serv; Unm; 18; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/240-p5 21; Worbarrow ; Thomas MUNT ; Head; Mar; 30; m; ? Coast Guard; Falmouth Cornwall; HO107/1856/240-p5 ; Ann MUNT ; Wife; Mar; 30; f; Marton Cornwall; HO107/1856/240-p5 ; Thomas MUNT ; Son; 7; m; Scholar; Dorset Steeple; HO107/1856/240-p5 ; Ann MUNT ; Daur; 5; f; Scholar; Dorset Steeple; HO107/1856/240-p5 22; Worbarrow ; Henry STOCKS ; Head; Mar; 39; m; ? Coast Guard; Sussex Rye; HO107/1856/240-p5 ; Jane STOCKS ; Wife; Mar; 38; f; Kent ?; HO107/1856/240-p5 23; Worbarrow ; James YEATS ; Head; Mar; 25; m; Coast Guardsman; Hants Burlington?; HO107/1856/240-p6 ; Amey YEATS ; Wife; Mar; 25; f; Sussex Hastings; HO107/1856/240-p6 ; James YEATS ; Son; 7mo; m; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/240-p6 24; Worbarrow ; Nicholas HANNING ; Head; Mar; 51; m; Coast Guardsman; Ireland; HO107/1856/240-p6 ; Nappy HANNING ; Wife; Mar; 52; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/240-p6 ; Cecilia HANNING ; Daur; Unm; 22; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/240-p6 25; Worbarrow ; George ROBERTS ; Head; Mar; 29; m; Coast Guardsman; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/240-p6 ; Annie ROBERTS ; Wife; Mar; 24; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/240-p6 ; William ROBERTS ; Father; Mar; 67; m; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/240-p6 26; Worbarrow ; John BRODERICK ; Head; Mar; 34; m; Coast Guardsman; Ireland; HO107/1856/240-p6 ; Bridget BRODERICK ; Wife; Mar; 37; m; Ireland; HO107/1856/240-p6 ; Sarah BRODERICK ; Daur; 4; f; Ireland; HO107/1856/240-p6 ; Mary BRODERICK ; Daur; 4mo; f; Ireland;

HO107/1856/240-p6 27; Worbarrow ; ? FARMOUTH ; Head; Mar; 45; m; Chief Boatman Coast Guard; Hants Br?; HO107/1856/240-p6 ; Elizabeth LEARMOUTH ; Wife; Mar; 46; f; South Lemington?; HO107/1856/240-p6 ; Henry LEARMOUTH; Son; Unm; 10; m; Scholar; Ireland; HO107/1856/240-p6 ; Albert LEARMOUTH; Son; 8; m; Scholar; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/240-p6 ; Elizabeth LEARMOUTH; Daur; 5; f; Scholar; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/240-p6 ; Wm LEARMOUTH; Son; 5; m; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/240-p6 28; Worbarrow ; Simeon? BENNET ; Head; Mar; 36; m; Boat & Coast Guardsman; Somerset Bolch; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; Nancy BENNET ; Wife; Mar; 37; f; Cornwall Boscastle; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; Wm BENNET ; Son; Unm; 14; m; Scholar; Cornwall Boscastle; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; Jane BENNET ; Daur; 12; f; Scholar; South Wales Winslow; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; Sarah BENNET ; Daur; 10; f; Scholar; Dorset Lulworth; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; Mary BENNET ; Daur; 7; f; Scholar; Dorset Worbarrow; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; Ann M BENNET ; Daur; 5; f; Scholar; Dorset Worbarrow; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; Phillipa BENNET ; Daur; 3; f; Dorset Worbarrow; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; Thos BENNET ; Son; 3days; m; Dorset Worbarrow; HO107/1856/241-p7 29; Worbarrow ; George BUNNS ; Head; Unm; 33; m; Coast Guardsman; Sussex Higham?; HO107/1856/241-p7 30; Worbarrow ; William H MILLER ; Head; Mar; 30; m; Fisherman; Dorset Worbarrow; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; Sarah J MILLER ; Wife; Mar; 26; f; Dorset Worbarrow; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; Jane Ann MILLER ; Daur; 1; f; Dorset Worbarrow; HO107/1856/241-p7 31; Worbarrow ; Thomas MILLER ; Head; Mar; 66; m; Fisherman; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; Jane MILLER ; Wife; Mar; 59; f; Dorset Lulworth; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; Jane MILLER ; Daur; Unm; 21; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; Heziah MILLER ; Daur; Unm; 18; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; Henry MILLER ; Son; Unm; 15; m; Fisherman; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p7 ; John MILLER ; Brother; Unm; 79; m; Fisherman; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p7 32; Worbarrow ; David MILLER ; Head; Mar; 52; m; Fisherman; Dorset Worbarrow; HO107/1856/241-p8 ; Theresa MILLER ; Wife; Mar; 34; f; Dorset Lulworth; HO107/1856/241-p8 ; Heziah MILLER ; Brother; Unm; 55; m; Fisherman; Dorset Worbarrow; HO107/1856/241-p8 33; Worbarrow ; Joseph MILLER ; Head; Mar; 50; m; Fisherman; Dorset Worbarrow; HO107/1856/241-p8 ; Jane MILLER ; Wife; Mar; 53; f; Dorset Corfe?; HO107/1856/241-p8 34; Worbarrow ; Thomas MILLER ; Head; Mar; 68; m; Fisherman; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p8 ; Martha MILLER ; Wife; Mar; 67; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p8 35; Worbarrow ; George SPICER ; Head; Wid; 72; m; Bricklayer; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p8 ; Selina SPICER ; Daur; Unm; 19; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p8 ; John SPICER ; Son; 13; m; Scholar; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p8 ; James SPICER ; Son; 6; m; Scholar; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p8 36; Worbarrow ; Thomas SPICER ; Head; Mar; 72; m; Bricklayer; ? West Hill; HO107/1856/241-p8 ; Mary SPICER ; Wife; Mar; 69; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p8 ; Eliza SPICER ; Daur; Unm; 47; f; Shopkeeper; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p8 ; William SPICER ; Son; Unm; 35; m; Bricklayer; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p8 ; Caroline SPICER ; Daur; Unm; 25; f; Dress maker; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p8 37; Worbarrow ; William LUCAS ; Head; Mar; 28; m; Ag lab; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p8 ; Harriet LUCAS ; Wife; Mar; 24; f; Dorset Bloxworth; HO107/1856/241-p8 ; James LUCAS ; Son; 2; m; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p8 ; Fanny LUCAS ; Daur; 5mo; f; Dorset Tyneham; HO107/1856/241-p8 The 1851 Census is currently being reformatted and will be available soon.

1861 Census

| Primary Resources | Censuses 1841 1851 1861 1871 1881 1891 1901 1911 1921 1939 Register This is a temporary transcription. A fuller transcription is currently in preparation. RG9 1346 Transcribed for the OPC Project by Ron Adams SCHEDULE, ADDRESS, CHRISTIAN NAME(S), SURNAME, RELATIONSHIP, CONDITION, AGE, OCCUPATION, WHERE BORN, REFERENCE 1, Tyneham, Henry, MILLER Snr, Head, Married, 76, Fisherman, Ind, Warbarrow, F74 P1 1, , Jane, MILLER, Wife, Married, 69, , West Lulworth , F74 P1 1, , Jemima, MILLER, Daughter, Unmarried, 28, , Warbarrow, F74 P1 1, , John, MILLER, Brother, Unmarried, 80, Fisherman, Warbarrow, F74 P1 2, , Joseph, MILLER, Head, Married, 60, Fisherman, Warbarrow, F74 P1 2, , Jane, MILLER, Wife, Married, 60, , Steeple, F74 P1 3, , David, MILLER, Head, Married, 53, Fisherman, Tyneham , F74 P1 3, , Teresa, MILLER, Wife, Married, 40, , East Lulworth , F74 P1 3, , Samuel, MILLER, Son, , 8, Scholar, Tyneham , F74 P1 4, , Thomas

Henry, MILLER, Head, Married, 25, Fisherman, Warbarrow, F74 P1 4, , Louisa Jane, MILLER, Wife, Married, 29, , West Wittering Sussex, F74 P1 4, , Thomas William, MILLER, Son, , 2, , Warbarrow, F74 P1 4, , Amelia Jane, MILLER, Daughter, , 11m, Warbarrow, F74 P1 5, , John, WINGENT, Head, Married, 49, Chief Boatman in charge of station, Chatham Kent, F74 P1 5, , Mary Ann, WINGENT, Wife, Married, 50, , Polperro Cornwall, F74 P1 5, , Prescilla, WINGENT, Daughter, , 14, Scholar, Preston , F74 P1 5, , Susanna, WINGENT, Daughter, , 12, Scholar, Langton Herring, F74 P1 5, , Mary Ann, WINGENT, Daughter, , 8, Scholar, Portland , F74 P1 6, , John, BRODERICK, Head, Married, 44, Coastguard, NK Ireland, F74 P1 6, , Bridget, BRODERICK, Wife, Married, 45, , NK Ireland, F74 P1 6, , Sarah Ann, BRODERICK, Daughter, , 14, Scholar, NK Ireland, F74 P1 6, , Mary Jane, BRODERICK, Daughter, , 10, Scholar, NK Ireland, F74 P1 7, , John, TONKIN, Head, Married, 36, Boatman Coast Guard, St. Keverne Cornwall, F74 P2 7, , Mary Ann, TONKIN, Wife, Married, 36, , St. Keverne Cornwall, F74 P2 7, , Margaret, TONKIN, Daughter, , 8, Scholar, St. Keverne Cornwall, F74 P2 7, , Grace, TONKIN, Daughter, , 2, , Teignmouth Devon, F74 P2 7, , William, TONKIN, Son, , 2m, , Tyneham , F74 P2 8, , Thomas, BUDD, Head, Married, 29, Boatman Coast Guard, Portsmouth Hampshire, F74 P2 8, , Maria, BUDD, Wife, Married, 23, , Portsmouth Hampshire, F74 P2 9, , John, HICKEY, Head, Married, 33, Boatman Coast Guard, NK Ireland, F74 P2 9, , Catherine, HICKEY, Wife, Married, 35, , NK Ireland, F74 P2 9, , Jeremiah, HICKEY, Son, , 10, Scholar, Deptford Kent, F74 P2 9, , Jane, HICKEY, Daughter, , 3, , Deptford Kent, F74 P2 9, , Maria, HICKEY, Daughter, , 1, , Deptford Kent, F74 P2 10, , John, PENGELLY, Head, Married, 41, Boatman Coast Guard, Plymouth Devon, F74 P2 10, , Jane, PENGELLY, Wife, Married, 29, , Marazion, Cornwall, F74 P2 11, , William, WILLS, Head, Married, 40, Boatman Coast Guard, Penzance Cornwall, F74 P2 11, , Phillipa, WILLS, Wife, Married, 36, , Penzance Cornwall, F74 P2 11, , William John, WILLS, Son, , 12, House servant, NK Ireland, F74 P2 11, , James Harris, WILLS, Son, , 10, Scholar, NK Ireland, F74 P2 11, , Thomas Harris, WILLS, Son, , 7, Scholar, Tyneham , F74 P2 11, , Elizabeth Jane, WILLS, Daughter, , 5, Scholar, Tyneham , F74 P2 11, , George, WILLS, Son, , 3, , Tyneham , F74 P2 11, , Joseph Phillip, WILLS, Son, , 5m, , Tyneham , F74 P2 12, , Thomas Cornelius, BULLARD, Head, Married, 43, Boatman Coast Guard, Dover Kent, F75 P3 12, , Ann, BULLARD, Wife, Married, 40, , Dover Kent, F75 P3 12, , Louisa, BULLARD, Daughter, , 12, Scholar, Fairlight, Sussex, F75 P3 12, , Thomas Alfred, BULLARD, Son, , 8, Scholar, Hastings Sussex, F75 P3 12, , James, BULLARD, Son, , 3, , Wyke , F75 P3 13, , William Henry, MILLER, Head, Married, 40, Fisherman, Warbarrow, F75 P3 13, , Sarah Jane, MILLER, Wife, Married, 36, , Warbarrow, F75 P3 13, , Jane Ann, MILLER, Daughter, , 11, Scholar, Warbarrow, F75 P3 13, , Charles William, MILLER, Son, , 9, Scholar, Warbarrow, F75 P3 13, , Sarah Louisa, MILLER, Daughter, , 7, Scholar, Warbarrow, F75 P3 13, , Catherine Emma, MILLER, Daughter, , 5, Scholar, Warbarrow, F75 P3 13, , Joseph Henry, MILLER, Son, , 3, Scholar, Warbarrow, F75 P3 13, , John, MILLER, Son, , 11m, , Warbarrow, F75 P3 14, , Richard, JAGO, Head, Married, 39, Boatman Coast Guard, Fowey Cornwall, F75 P3 14, , Charlotte, JAGO, Wife, Married, 30, , Kinton Devon, F75 P3 14, , Elizabeth Anne, JAGO, Daughter, , 11, Scholar, NK Ireland, F75 P3 14, , Henry William, JAGO, Son, , 9, Scholar, NK Ireland, F75 P3 14, , Mary Anne, JAGO, Daughter, , 6, Scholar, Plymouth Devon, F75 P3 15, , George, SPENCER, Head, Widower, 55, Mason, Tyneham , F75 P3 15, , James, SPENCER, Son, Unmarried, 17, Mason, Tyneham , F75 P3 16, , Thomas, SPENCER, Head, Married, 84, Mason, Corfe Castle , F75 P3 16, , Mary, SPENCER, Wife, Married, 80, , Tyneham , F75 P3 17, , William, SPENCER, Head, Unmarried, 45, Mason, Tyneham , F75 P4 17, , Eliza, SPENCER, Wife, Married, 56, Keep Shop (Shopkeeper), Tyneham , F75 P4 18, , William, STICKLY, Head, Married, 23, Carter Agriculture, East Chaldon , F75 P4 18, , Martha, STICKLY, Wife, Married, 20, , East Chaldon , F75 P4 18, , Jane, STICKLY, Daughter, , 1, , East Chaldon , F75 P4 18, , Sarah, STICKLY, Sister, Unmarried, 15, , East Chaldon , F75 P4 19, , William, RIDOUT, Head, Married, 57, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F75 P4 19, , Jane, RIDOUT, Wife, Married, 57, , Tyneham , F75 P4 19, , Brier, RIDOUT, Son, , 14, , Steeple , F75 P4 19, , William, RIDOUT, Son, , 11, Ag Lab, Steeple , F75 P4 19, , Mary, RIDOUT, Daughter, , 8, , Corfe Castle , F75 P4 20, , Robert, SCUTT, Head, Widower, 66, Farmer 250 acres employing 2 labourers & 2 boys, Affpuddle , F75 P4 20, , Ann, SCUTT, Servant, Unmarried, 69, , Affpuddle , F75 P4 20, , Catherine, BURDEN, Servant, Widower, 61, , Steeple , F75 P4 20, , Ann, RIDOUT, Servant, Unmarried, 19, , Steeple , F75 P4 21, , William, TRUELL, Head, Married, 56, Curate of Steeple with Tyneham, NK Ireland, F75 P4 21, , Jane, TRUELL, Wife, Married, 46, , NK Ireland, F75 P4 21, , Elleanor Mary Florentine, TRUELL, Daughter, Unmarried, 25, , NK Ireland, F75 P4 21, , Mary Ann, STICKLAND, Cook, Unmarried, 29, , Church Knowle , F75 P4 21, , Sarah,

LUTHER, Housemaid, Unmarried, 20, , Corfe Castle , F75 P4 22, , Sarah Ann, HINDE, Head, Married, 24, School Mistress, Corfe Castle , F75 P4 22, , Sophie, HINDE, Daughter, , 2, , Tyneham , F75 P4 22, , William Lewes, HINDE, Son, , 2m, , Tyneham , F75 P4 23, , William, HIBBS, Head, Married, 58, Ag Lab, Stoke , F76 P5 23, , Mary, HIBBS, Wife, Married, 58, Laundress, Studland , F76 P5 23, , Elizabeth, HIBBS, Sister in law, Widower, 63, Stocking Knitter, Studland , F76 P5 23, , Mary, COX, Lodger, Unmarried, 65, Stocking Knitter, Tyneham , F76 P5 24, , John, RIDOUT, Head, Married, 42, Ag Lab, Steeple , F76 P5 24, , Elizabeth, RIDOUT, Wife, Married, 40, , Martinstown , F76 P5 24, , Lavinia, RIDOUT, Daughter, , 9, , Tyneham , F76 P5 24, , Fanny, RIDOUT, Daughter, , 6, , Tyneham , F76 P5 24, , Julia, RIDOUT, Daughter, , 6, , Tyneham , F76 P5 24, , Alfred, ORCHARD, Lodger, Unmarried, 22, Ag Lab, Steeple , F76 P5 25, , William, NORRIS, Head, Married, 54, Servant, North Bradley Wiltshire, F76 P5 25, , Eliza, NORRIS, Wife, Married, 53, Laundress, Affpuddle , F76 P5 25, , Alfred, NORRIS, Son, Unmarried, 14, , Affpuddle , F76 P5 26, , William, GUY, Head, Married, 60, Gardener, Woolland , F76 P5 26, , Sarah Jane, GUY, Wife, Married, 58, , Tyneham , F76 P5 27, , Henry, LUCAS, Head, Married, 51, Shepherd, Coombe , F76 P5 27, , Jane, LUCAS, Wife, Married, 33, , Tyneham , F76 P5 27, , Lucy, LUCAS, Daughter, , 10, Scholar, Tyneham , F76 P5 27, , William, LUCAS, Son, , 7, Scholar, Tyneham , F76 P5 27, , Maria, LUCAS, Daughter, , 5, Scholar, Tyneham , F76 P5 27, , Charles, LUCAS, Son, , 2, , Tyneham , F76 P5 28, , John, RICHARDS, Head, Married, 65, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F76 P5 28, , Jane, RICHARDS, Wife, Married, 60, , Preston , F76 P5 28, , George, RICHARDS, Son, Unmarried, 33, Ag Lab, Preston , F76 P5 28, , Ann Everest, RICHARDS, G-Daughter, 3, , Tyneham , F76 P5 29, , Thomas, HARDY, Head, Married, 39, Ag Lab, Broadway , F76 P6 29, , Tabitha Jane, HARDY, Wife, Married, 39, , Wool , F76 P6 29, , Robert, HARDY, Son, Unmarried, 19, Ag Lab, Wool , F76 P6 29, , Elizabeth Sarah, HARDY, Daughter, Unmarried, 18, , Burlestone , F76 P6 29, , Frederick William, HARDY, Son, , 16, Carter Boy, Burlestone , F76 P6 29, , Henry, HARDY, Son, , 14, Carter Boy, Hurst Moreton, F76 P6 29, , Sarah, HARDY, Daughter, , 11, Scholar, West Knighton , F76 P6 29, , Thomas, HARDY, Son, , 9, Scholar, West Knighton , F76 P6 29, , George Charles, HARDY, Son, , 7, Scholar, West Knighton , F76 P6 29, , William, HARDY, Son, , 4, Winterbourne Came , F76 P6 29, , Arthur, HARDY, Son, , 1, , Tyneham , F76 P6 30, , William, GUY, Head, Married, 56, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F76 P6 30, , Martha, GUY, Wife, Married, 63, , Tyneham , F76 P6 30, , Ann, GUY, Daughter, Unmarried, 33, Dressmaker, Steeple , F76 P6 30, , William Jese, SAMPSON, Lodger, , 15, Servant, Kimmeridge , F76 P6 31, , John, ELMS, Head, Married, 64, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F76 P6 31, , Elizabeth, ELMS, Wife, Married, 69, , Tyneham , F76 P6 31, , George, ELMS, Brother, Unmarried, 40, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F76 P6 32, , George, GOVER, Head, Married, 50, Farmer 309 acres employing 2 men & 2 boys, Wareham , F76 P6 32, , Ellen, GOVER, Wife, Married, 45, , Corfe Castle , F76 P6 32, , John, GOVER, Son, Unmarried, 22, Working on farm, Swanage , F76 P6 32, , George, GOVER, Son, Unmarried, 21, Working on farm, Swanage , F76 P6 32, , James, GOVER, Son, Unmarried, 19, Working on farm, Corfe Castle , F76 P6 32, , Mary, GOVER, Daughter, , 12, , Corfe Castle , F76 P6 33, , William, LUCAS, Head, Married, 37, Carter Ag., Tyneham , F77 P7 33, , Harriett, LUCAS, Wife, Married, 33, , Bloxworth , F77 P7 33, , James, LUCAS, Son, , 12, Carter Boy, Tyneham , F77 P7 33, , Fanny, LUCAS, Daughter, , 10, , Tyneham , F77 P7 33, , George, LUCAS, Son, , 8, , Tyneham , F77 P7 33, , Elizabeth, LUCAS, Daughter, , 5, , Tyneham , F77 P7 33, , Henry, LUCAS, Son, , 1, , Tyneham , F77 P7 33, , Un-named, LUCAS, Daughter, , 13 days, , Tyneham , F77 P7 34, , John, DUNFORD, Head, Married, 26, Ag Lab, Beaminster , F77 P7 34, , Elizabeth, DUNFORD, Wife, Married, 28, , Wells Somerset, F77 P7 34, , William, DUNFORD, Son, , 3, , Corfe Castle , F77 P7 34, , Elizabeth Mary, DUNFORD, Daughter, , 6m, , Tyneham , F77 P7 35, , William, STICKLAND, Head, Married, 47, Fisherman, Tyneham , F77 P7 35, , Susanna, STICKLAND, Wife, Married, 50, , N.K. N.K., F77 P7 35, , Louis William, STICKLAND, Son, Unmarried, 20, Fisherman, Tyneham , F77 P7 35, , Charles Albert, STICKLAND, Son, Unmarried, 18, Fisherman, Tyneham , F77 P7 36, , Sarah Ann, STICKLAND, Head, Widower, 77, , Windmill Street London, F77 P7 36, , Louisa, STICKLAND, Daughter, Unmarried, 51, Cripple, Tyneham , F77 P7 36, , Sarah, STICKLAND, G-Daughter, Unmarried, 16, , Tyneham , F77 P7 37, , John, LANGDOWN, Head, Married, 29, Shepherd, Lychett Matravers , F77 P7 37, , Eliza Mary, LANGDOWN, Wife, Married, 27, , Lychett Matravers , F77 P7 37, , William George, LANGDOWN, Son, , 6m, , Tyneham , F77 P7 38, , Henry, DAVIS, Head, Married, 54, Dairyman, Sherborne , F77 P7 38, , Sarah, DAVIS, Wife, Married, 41, Dairy woman, Sherborne , F77 P7 38, , William, MOORES, Brother in law, Unmarried, 22, Carter, Milborne Port Somerset, F77 P7 39, , William Shitler, HULL, Head, Married, 54, Farmer 500 acres employing 4 men

& 2 boys, Misterton Somerset, F77 P8 39, , Ann, HULL, Wife, Married, 49, , Henstridge Somerset, F77 P8 39, , Joseph Symes, HULL, Son, Unmarried, 26, Engaged on farm, Mudford Somerset, F77 P8 39, , Hester, LOVELL, Mother in law, Widower, 79, No Occupation, Stalbridge , F77 P8 39, , Grace Elizabeth, AYLES, Servant, Unmarried, 15, Servant, Bradford Peverell , F77 P8 40, Tyneham House, Jane, BOND, Head, Unmarried, 65, Fundholder, Chitterne Wiltshire, F77 P8 40, Tyneham House, Mary, BOND, Sister, Unmarried, 63, Fundholder, Chitterne Wiltshire, F77 P8 40, Tyneham House, Mary, SYMONDS, Servant, Unmarried, 28, , Wool Bridge , F77 P8 40, Tyneham House, Eliza, STEVENS, Servant, Unmarried, 34, , Broad Chalk Wiltshire, F77 P8 40, Tyneham House, Mary, CHURCHILL, Servant, Unmarried, 24, , Wareham , F77 P8 40, Tyneham House, Sarah, ELMES, Servant, Unmarried, 19, , Wareham , F77 P8 40, Tyneham House, Joseph, HINDE, Servant, Married, 32, , Grange Steeple , F77 P8 41, Povington, James, CHILCOTT, Head, Married, 36, Farmer 300 acres employing 3 men & 3 boys, West Knighton , F77 P8 41, Povington, Elizabeth, CHILCOTT, Wife, Married, 38, , East Burton Winfrith , F77 P8 41, Povington, Mary J, CHILCOTT, Daughter, , 7, Scholar, East Burton Winfrith , F77 P8 41, Povington, Arthur, CHILCOTT, Son, , 6, Scholar, East Burton Winfrith , F77 P8 41, Povington, William, CHILCOTT, Son, , 3, Scholar, East Burton Winfrith , F77 P8 41, Povington, John, HOSARD, Servant, Unmarried, 16, Shepherd Boy, Corfe Castle , F77 P8 41, Povington, Harriett, WAY, Servant, Unmarried, 16, Dairymaid, Owermoigne , F77 P8 41, Povington, Alonzo, SARGANT, Lodger, Unmarried, 17, Ag Lab, Crookstone , F77 P8 42, , Thomas, BILES, Head, Widower, 62, Game Keeper, Shapwick , F77 P8 42, , Mary Ann, BARNSTABLE, Servant, Widower, 51, Servant, Shillingstone , F77 P8 43, , Samuel, KNAPP, Head, Married, 40, Ag Lab, Steeple , F77 P8 43, , Louisa, KNAPP, Wife, Married, 46, School Mistress, Steeple , F77 P8 44, , Joseph, COOPER, Head, Married, 73, Farmer Retired, Steeple , F78 P9 44, , Mary, COOPER, Wife, Married, 62, , Tyneham , F78 P9 44, , Sidonia, PITCHER, Servant, Unmarried, 15, , Tyneham , F78 P9 45, , William, COOPER, Head, Married, 46, Farmer about 20 acres, Grange Steeple , F78 P9 45, , Elizabeth, COOPER, Wife, Married, 30, , Weymouth , F78 P9 45, , George, COOPER, Son, , 3, , Grange Steeple , F78 P9 45, , William H, COOPER, Son, , 1, , Grange Steeple , F78 P9 46, , John, SPICER, Head, Married, 39, Carter Ag., Stoke , F78 P9 46, , Ann Jane, SPICER, Wife, Married, 28, , Woolland , F78 P9 46, , Mary Ann, SPICER, Daughter, , 7, , Tyneham , F78 P9 46, , Ellen Jane, SPICER, Daughter, , 4, , Ringwood Hampshire, F78 P9 46, , Thomas John, SPICER, Son, , 11m, , Tyneham , F78 P9 47, , James, TAYLOR, Head, Married, 42, Ag Lab, Kimmeridge , F78 P9 47, , Clare, TAYLOR, Wife, Married, 37, , Tyneham , F78 P9 47, , Mary Ann, TAYLOR, Daughter, , 9, , Tyneham , F78 P9 47, , Edwin, TAYLOR, Son, , 7, , Tyneham , F78 P9 47, , Charles, TAYLOR, Son, , 3, , Tyneham , F78 P9 47, , Emily, TAYLOR, Daughter, , 3m, , Tyneham , F78 P9 47, , John, ELMS, Father in law, Widower, 69, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F78 P9 48, , Henry, POLDEN, Head, Unmarried, 57, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F78 P9 48, , Sarah, POLDEN, Mother, Widower, 85, , Tyneham , F78 P9 48, , Tamar, POLDEN, Sister, Unmarried, 50, , Tyneham , F78 P9 49, , Samuel, MURRAY, Head, Married, 40, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F78 P10 49, , Emily, MURRAY, Wife, Married, 36, , Tyneham , F78 P10 49, , Mary Ann, MURRAY, Daughter, , 16, Outdoor servant, Tyneham , F78 P10 49, , Charles W, MURRAY, Son, , 9, Scholar, Tyneham , F78 P10 49, , Samuel, MURRAY, Son, , 8, Scholar, Tyneham , F78 P10 49, , Emma Jane, MURRAY, Daughter, , 5, Scholar, Tyneham , F78 P10 49, , Harriett Louisa, MURRAY, Daughter, , 3, Scholar, Tyneham , F78 P10 49, , John, MURRAY, Son, , 11m, , Tyneham , F78 P10 50, , George, ELMS, Head, Married, 62, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F78 P10 50, , Harriett, ELMS, Wife, Married, 56, , Tyneham , F78 P10 50, , James, ELMS, Son, Unmarried, 21, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F78 P10 50, , Thomas, ELMS, Son, Unmarried, 17, Carter Ag, Tyneham , F78 P10 51, , William, COOPER Snr, Head, Married, 83, Steeple , F78 P10 51, , Honnorina, COOPER, Wife, Married, 71, , Steeple , F78 P10 51, , Elizabeth, COOPER, Daughter, Unmarried, 45, Servant, Steeple , F78 P10 52, , Thomas, FARWELL, Head, Unmarried, 35, Grocer, Steeple , F78 P10 52, , Mary, FARWELL, Mother, Widower, 79, Deaf, Wool , F78 P10 53, Unoccupied, , , , , F78 P10 54, , Henry, LANGFORD, Head, Married, 69, Ag Lab, Moreton , F78 P10 54, , Anna, LANGFORD, Widower, Married, 66, , Moreton , F78 P10 54, , Silas, LANGFORD, Son, Unmarried, 29, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F78 P10 54, , John, LANGFORD, Son, Unmarried, 22, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F78 P10 54, , Mary Ann, LUCAS, G-Daughter, 11, Scholar, Tyneham , F78 P10 54, , Seleana, LUCAS, G-Daughter, 8, Scholar, Tyneham , F78 P10 55, , Joseph, STOODLEY, Head, Married, 41, Ag Lab, Broad Winsor , F79 P11 55, , Mary, STOODLEY, Widower, Married, 41, , Broad Winsor , F79 P11 55, , Thomas, STOODLEY, Son, , 15, , Burstock , F79 P11 55, , Lucy, STOODLEY, Daughter, , 14, , Burstock , F79 P11 55, , Charles, STOODLEY, Son, , 7, , Burstock , F79 P11

55, , Clara, STOODLEY, Daughter, , 5, , Maiden Newton , F79 P11 55, , John, STOODLEY, Son, , 2, , Fordington , F79 P11 56, , Sarah, PITCHER, Head, Unmarried, 54, Outdoor servant, Tyneham , F79 P11 56, , Charles, ELMS, Son in law, Married, 37, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F79 P11 56, , Martha, ELMS, Daughter, Married, 27, , Tyneham , F79 P11 57, , Isaac, COOPER, Head, Married, 38, Ag Lab, Steeple , F79 P11 57, , Maria, COOPER, Wife, Married, 23, , Steeple , F79 P11 57, , George, COOPER, Son, , 1, , Steeple , F79 P11 58, , William, WARR, Head, Married, 42, Ag Lab, Glanvilles Wootton , F79 P11 58, , Kesia, WARR, Wife, Married, 32, , Tyneham , F79 P11 58, , William Langford, WARR, Son, , 4, , Tyneham , F79 P11 58, , Maria Langford, WARR, Daughter, , 1, , East Lulworth , F79 P11 59, , William, BALSON, Widower, Married, 49, Ag Lab (Deaf), Tyneham , F79 P11 59, , John, BALSON, Son, Unmarried, 28, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F79 P11 59, , Ellen, BALSON, Daughter, Unmarried, 22, Dressmaker, Tyneham , F79 P11 59, , Sophia, BALSON, Daughter, Unmarried, 14, , Tyneham , F79 P11 59, , Priscilla, BALSON, Daughter, , 12, , Tyneham , F79 P11 59, , William, BALSON, Son, , 10, , Tyneham , F79 P11 59, , Henry Charles, BALSON, G-Son, , 3, , Tyneham , F79 P11 60, , Edward, PITCHER, Head, Married, 45, Ag Lab, Tyneham , F79 P12 60, , Jane, PITCHER, Wife, Married, 38, , Corfe Castle , F79 P12 60, , George, PITCHER, Son, , 12, Carter Boy, Tyneham , F79 P12 60, , Mary Jane, PITCHER, Daughter, , 10, Scholar, Tyneham , F79 P12 60, , William, PITCHER, Son, , 6, Scholar, Wareham , F79 P12 60, , Joseph, PITCHER, Son, , 3, , Tyneham , F79 P12 61, , George, VALANS, Head, Married, 30, Ag Lab, West Knighton , F79 P12 61, , Mary, VALANS, Wife, Married, 20, , West Lulworth , F79 P12 61, , William Richard, VALANS, Son, , 5m, , Coombe Keynes , F79 P12 61, , Sarah Jane, BALLS, Visiter, , 9, Scholar, West Lulworth , F79 P12 62, Farm House, John, BENNETT, Head, Married, 51, Farmer 400 acres employing 4 men & 2 boys, Haselbury , F79 P12 62, Farm House, Sarah, BENNETT, Wife, Married, 51, , Holwell , F79 P12 62, Farm House, William F , BENNETT, Son, Unmarried, 24, Working on farm, Buckland , F79 P12 62, Farm House, Cordelia, BENNETT, Daughter, Unmarried, 22, , Buckland , F79 P12 62, Farm House, John James, BENNETT, Son, Unmarried, 20, Draper, Buckland , F79 P12 62, Farm House, Richard Cave, BENNETT, Son, , 11, Scholar, Buckland , F79 P12 The 1861 Census is currently being reformatted and will be available soon.

1871 Census of Tyneham

1871 Census | Primary Resources | Censuses 1841 1851 1861 1871 1881 1891 1901 1911 1921 1939 Register The 1871 Census recorded where people were on the night of Sunday 2 April 1871 . Details of 269 people were captured by the 1871 Census of Tyneham parish . We have transcribed the 1871 census records for the whole of Tyneham parish including Baltington, North and South Egliston, Povington an Worbarrow. We have provided an index as well as a free downloadable pdf . Look at the census index below to find the person whose entry you wish to check and note the reference number in the far right hand column. Then click on the pdf link below to view fuller census details for that reference number. Please note the 'YoB' column shows the approximate year of birth derived from the age shown. 1871 Census Index 1871 Census Transcription (2541 downloads) 1871 Census Transcription Show 10 25 50 100 entries Search: Name Surname Age YoB Born Ref Kate BAKER 7 1864 Dorset Morden 263 John BALSON 37 1834 Dorset Tyneham 250 Priscilla BALSON 22 1849 Dorset Tyneham 252 Sophia BALSON 24 1847 Dorset Tyneham 251 William BALSON 59 1812 Dorset Tyneham 249 Adelaide L BENNETT 13 1858 Dorset Warbarrow 46 Nancy R BENNETT 56 1815 Cornwall Boscastle 45 Thomas BENNETT 55 1816 Somerset Porlock 44 George BLUNDEN 45 1826 Sussex Brighton 112 Margrete BLUNDEN 59 1812 Cornwall Probus 113 Showing 1 to 10 of 269 entries Previous Next Censuses have been undertaken every ten years from 1841 through to 1911. Although there was a census in 1921, it will not be made publicly available until 2021. You can learn more about censuses on the census records page of The National Archives.

1881 Census

| Primary Resources | Censuses 1841 1851 1861 1871 1881 1891 1901 1911 1921 1939 Register The 1881 Census recorded where people were on the night of Sunday 3 April 1881 . Details of 275 people were captured by the 1881 Census of Tyneham parish . We have transcribed the 1881 census records for the whole of Tyneham parish including Baltington, North and South Egliston, Povington an Worbarrow. We have provided an index as well as a free downloadable pdf . Look at the census index below to find the person whose entry you wish to check and note the reference number in the far right hand column. Then click on the pdf link below to view fuller census details for that reference number. Please note the 'YoB' column shows the approximate year of birth derived from the age shown. 1881 Census Transcription (2592 downloads) Show 10 25 50 100 entries Search: Name Surname Age YoB Occupation Born Ref Catherine AVON 37 1844 - Ireland 84 Catherine AVON 6 1875 Scholar Ireland 87 Elizabeth AVON 4 1877 Scholar Dorset Portland 88 George AVON 41 1840 Coast Guard R.N. Ireland 83 George AVON 1 1880 - Dorset Portland 90 Hannah AVON 12 1869 Scholar Gloucester Clifton 85 Mary AVON 11 1870 Scholar Somerset Portis Head 86 Tresa AVON 3 1878 Scholar Dorset Portland 89 Alice BALSON 6 1875 - Dorset Tyneham 230 John BALSON 48 1833 Ag Lab Dorset Tyneham 227 Showing 1 to 10 of 275 entries Previous Next

1891 Census

| Primary Resources | Censuses 1841 1851 1861 1871 1881 1891 1901 1911 1939 Register The 1891 Census recorded where people were on the night of Sunday 5 April 1891 . Details of 260 people were captured by the 1891 Census of Tyneham parish . We have transcribed the 1891 census records for the whole of Tyneham parish including Baltington, North and South Egliston, Povington an Worbarrow. We have provided an index as well as a free downloadable pdf . Look at the census index below to find the person whose entry you wish to check and note the reference number in the far right hand column. Then click on the pdf link below to view fuller census details for that reference number. Please note the 'YoB' column shows the approximate year of birth derived from the age shown. 1891 Census Transcription (4022 downloads) Show 10 25 50 100 entries Search: Name & Surname Age YoB Born Ref Alfred C BALSON 7 1884 Steeple 38 Amelia BALSON 37 1854 Swanage 36 Beatrice B BALSON 1 1890 Tyneham 40 Henry G J BALSON 11 1880 Corfe Castle 37 Herbert J BALSON 5 1886 Tyneham 39 William BALSON 39 1852 Tyneham 35 Ada BARRETT 8 1883 Portland 179 Alfred J BARRETT 3 1888 Preston 181 Martha M BARRETT 9 1882 - 178 Martha S S BARRETT 34 1857 Portland 177 Showing 1 to 10 of 260 entries Previous Next

1901 Census

| Primary Resources | Censuses 1841 1851 1861 1871 1881 1891 1901 1911 1921 1939 Register The 1901 Census recorded where people were on the night of Sunday 31 March 1901 . Details of 238 people were captured by the 1901 Census of Tyneham parish . We have transcribed the 1901 census records for the whole of Tyneham parish including Baltington, North and South Egliston, Povington an Worbarrow. We have provided an index as well as a free downloadable pdf . Look at the census index below to find the person whose entry you wish to check and note the reference number in the far right hand column. Then click on the pdf link below to view fuller census details for that reference number. Please note the 'YoB' column shows the approximate year of birth derived from the age shown. 1901 Census Transcription (2485 downloads) Show 10 25 50 100 entries Search: Name Surname Age YoB Born Ref Amelia BALSON 47 1854 Swanage Dorset 177 Beatrice BALSON 11 1890 Tyneham Dorset 181 Edith BALSON 8 1893 Tyneham Dorset 182 Henry G BALSON 21 1880 Corfe Castle Dorset 179 Herbert J BALSON 15 1886 Tyneham Dorset 180 Mabel BALSON 2 1899 Tyneham Dorset 183 Mary Anne BALSON 27 1874 Steeple Dorset 178 William BALSON 49 1852 Tyneham Dorset 176 Bessie E BASCOMBE 40 1861 E Stoke Dorset 97 Dorothy E BASCOMBE 8m 1900 Tyneham Dorset 99 Showing 1 to 10 of 238 entries Previous Next Enumerator : James Arthur Chilcott Boundary of Enumeration District : The whole of the Parish of Tyneham Contents of Enumeration District : Comprising North & South Eggleston, Sharnell, Baltington Farmhouse & Cottages, Worbarrow, The Coast Guard Station, Whiteway Farmhouse & Cottages, Povington Farmhouse & Cottages, Povington Cottages on the Wareham & East Lulworth Road & Tyneham Village.

1911 Census

| Primary Resources | Censuses 1841 1851 1861 1871 1881 1891 1901 1911 1921 1939 Register The 1911 Census recorded where people were on the night of Sunday 2 April 1911 . Details of 209 people were captured by the 1911 Census of Tyneham parish . We have transcribed the 1911 census records for the whole of Tyneham parish including Baltington, North and South Egliston, Povington an Worbarrow. We have provided an index as well as a free downloadable pdf . Look at the census index below to find the person whose entry you wish to check and note the reference number in the far right hand column. Then click on the pdf link below to view fuller census details for that reference number. Please note the 'YoB' column shows the approximate year of birth derived from the age shown. 1911 Census Transcription (2720 downloads) Show 10 25 50 100 entries Search: Name Surname Age YoB Born Ref Amelia BALSON 57 1854 Dorset Swanage 45 Mabel BALSON 12 1899 Dorset Povington Tyneham 46 William BALSON 59 1852 Dorset Povington Tyneham 44 Edith BARNES 26 1885 Dorset East Lulworth 100 Harry BARNES 33 1878 Dorset Tyneham 99 Phyllis BARNES 1 1910 Dorset Bere Regis 101 Bessie Eliza BASCOMBE 51 1860 Dorset East Stoke 142 Dorothy Eleanor BASCOMBE 10 1901 Dorset Tyneham 144 Reginald James BASCOMBE 12 1899 Dorset Tyneham 143 Lizzey BASKETT 23 1888 Sanford Dorset 199 Showing 1 to 10 of 209 entries Previous Next

1921 Census

| Primary Resources | Censuses 1841 1851 1861 1871 1881 1891 1901 1911 1921 1939 Register The 1921 Census of Tyneham recorded where 196 people in the parish were on the night of Sunday 19 June 1921 . We have transcribed the 1841 census records for the whole of Tyneham parish including Baltington , North and South Egliston , Povington and Worbarrow . We have provided an index as well as a free downloadable pdf . Look at the census index below to find the person whose entry you wish to check and note the reference number in the far right hand column. Then click on the pdf link below to view fuller census details for that reference number. Please note the 'YoB' column shows the approximate year of birth derived from the age shown. 1921 Census (3193 downloads) Show 10 25 50 100 entries Search: Name Surname Age y m YoB Birthplace County Ref Name Surname Age y m YoB Birthplace County Ref William BALSON 70 y 2 m 1851 Tyneham Dorset 51 Margaret BARKER 45 y 7 m 1875 Barnes Middlesex 117 Graham Knight BARNES 8 y 11 m 1912 Tyneham Dorset 81 Mona Marion BARNES 8 y 11 m 1912 Tyneham Dorset 80 Phyllis May BARNES 12 y 1 m 1909 Bere Regis Dorset 79 Marjorie Frances BLAKE 29 y 8 m 1891 Welwyn Hertfordshire 157 Phyllis Constance BLAKE 28 y 2 m 1893 Welwyn Hertfordshire 158 Alice BOLLAM 63 y 1 m 1858 Warborough Oxfordshire 182 Daisy BOLLAM 32 y 11 m 1888 Wareham Dorset 183 Frederick BOLLAM 62 y 4 m 1859 Morden Dorset 181 Showing 1 to 10 of 196 entries Previous Next Page last updated: 3 March 2023

1939 Register

| Primary Resources | Censuses 1841 1851 1861 1871 1881 1891 1901 1911 1939 Register Look at the 1939 Register index below to find the person whose entry you wish to check and note the reference number in the far right hand column. Then click on the pdf link below to view fuller register details for that reference number. 1939 Register Transcription (2230 downloads) Show 10 25 50 100 entries Search: Surname Other Names Sex Age Year Status Ref Address ATKINS Richard J 28 1911 Single 170 The Cat, E Lulworth BACON Edith 25 1914 Single 135 Farrows Holding BARTHOLEMEW Beatrice I L 30 1909 Single 2 South Egliston House BARTHOLEMEW Irene 11 1928 Single 147 Victoria Cottis BARTHOLEMEW Ivy G 53 1886 Widow 1 South Egliston House BLAKE Phyllis C 46 1893 Married 29 Tyneham House BOND Evelyn Isabel 55 1884 Married 21 Tyneham House BOND William Ralph G 58 1880 Married 20 Tyneham House BRANDON Clara M 32 1906 Married 91 Sheepleaze BRISTOWE Kathleen 36 1903 Single 38 Tyneham Farm BURFITT Algernon J 40 1899 Married 115 W. Whiteway Cottis

BURFITT Flora E 37 1901 Married 116 W. Whiteway Cotts BURT Cyril James 25 1914 Single 132 64 Whiteway Farm Cotts BURT Elizabeth J 54 1885 Married 131 64 Whiteway Farm Cotts BURT George 54 1884 Married 130 64 Whiteway Farm Cotts CHAMBERS Annie F 46 1893 Married 87 The Bungalow Worbarrow CHAMBERS Thomas H 50 1888 Married 86 The Bungalow Worbarrow CLEALL Elsie M 41 1897 Married 34 Tyneham House Cottage CLEALL Frances A 57 1882 Married 152 Povington CLEALL Francis H 55 1884 Married 151 Povington CLEALL Jack 42 1897 Married 33 Tyneham House Cottage COOPER Arthur J 55 1884 Married 136 Searleys Holding Povington COOPER Blanche M 28 1910 Married 140 Victoria Cotts COOPER Ernest F 32 1907 Single 169 Jiggiton Corner COOPER Evelyn L 57 1882 Married 137 Searleys Holding Povington COOPER Francis G 25 1914 Married 139 Victoria Cotts COOPER Harriet E 73 1866 Married 155 Primrose Cott. Povington COOPER Harry 64 1875 Single 175 Povington COOPER James W 71 1868 Married 154 Primrose Cott. Povington COOPER John 82 1857 Widower 138 Searleys Holding Povington COOPER Joseph W 68 1871 Married 167 Jiggiton Corner COOPER Mary A 65 1874 Married 168 Jiggiton Corner COOPER Walter A 33 1906 Single 156 Primrose Cott. Povington COX Jane 72 1867 Widow 133 64 Whiteway Farm Cotts DAMEN Susan P 46 1893 Married 172 The Cat, E Lulworth DAMEN William E 14 1925 Single 174 The Cat, E Lulworth DAMEN William P 53 1886 Married 171 The Cat, E Lulworth DAVIS Florence L 62 1876 Single 153 Primrose Cott. Povington DOWSETT Lydia 36 1903 Married 75 Baltington Farm DRISCOLL Gwendoline 42 1897 Married 48 The Post Office DRISCOLL Gwendoline 42 1897 Married 196 The Post Office DUDMAN Ada M 29 1909 Married 126 65 Whiteway Farm Cotts DUDMAN Thomas W 28 1911 Married 125 65 Whiteway Farm Cotts DURRANT Frank 12 1927 Single 141 Victoria Cotts DURRANT Marrie L 9 1930 Single 146 Victoria Cotts EVERETT Archie J 27 1912 Single 67 Cott. Tyneham EVERETT George W 57 1882 Married 65 Cott. Tyneham EVERETT Lily Jane 51 1888 Married 66 Cott. Tyneham FRANKFORT Henri 42 1897 Married 180 The Rectory GALE Anthony A 8 1931 Single 42 1 Gwyle Cottage GALE Jean Mary 42 1897 Married 41 1 Gwyle Cottage GOFF Charles 67 1872 Married 165 Keepers Cott. Povington GOFF Ellen E 65 1874 Married 166 Keepers Cott. Povington GOULD Thomas H 67 1872 Married 69 Cott. Tyneham GOULD Virtue Mary 62 1877 Married 70 Cott. Tyneham GRANT Beatrice M 38 1901 Married 46 2 Gwyle Cottage GRANT Henry George 40 1898 Married 45 2 Gwyle Cottage GRIFFITHS Cyril Frank 11 1928 Single 47 2 Gwyle Cottage HAINE Martha K 65 1874 Widow 106 Worbarrow HAINE Violet E 40 1899 Single 107 Worbarrow HARDY Frances L 50 1889 Married 124 66 Whiteway Farm Cotts HARDY Harold F G 19 1920 Single 121 66 Whiteway Farm Cotts HARDY Harry Charles 49 1890 Married 123 66 Whiteway Farm Cotts HAWKINS Henry 82 1856 Widower 68 Cott. Tyneham HOLLAND Florence M 32 1907 Married 82 Baltington Cotts. HOLLAND Percy V 36 1903 Married 81 Baltington Cotts. HOLLAND William 53 1886 Single 80 Baltington Cotts. HOULISTON Eleanor 70 1869 Widow 103 Worbarrow HOUSE Albert Arthur 23 1916 Single 16 North Egliston Farm HOUSE Gerald 21 1918 Single 17 North Egliston Farm HOUSE Godfrey E H 45 1894 Married 7 South Tyneham HOUSE Gwynedd H L 42 1896 Married 6 South Tyneham HOUSE Herbert John 50 1889 Married 14 North Egliston Farm HOUSE Jessie E P 45 1893 Married 15 North Egliston Farm HOUSE Sylvia 20 1919 Single 18 North Egliston Farm HOUSE Violet Ruth 22 1917 Married 4 South Tyneham HOUSE William 25 1913 Married 3 South Tyneham HOUSE William John 1 1938 Single 5 South Tyneham JEWELL Jessie L 29 1910 Married 27 Tyneham House KERLEY Ellen L M 51 1887 Married 79 Baltington Cotts. KERLEY Percy H J 53 1886 Married 78 Baltington Cotts. KLEIN Viola 31 1908 Single 90 Sheepleaze KLEIN Viola 31 1908 Single 176 Sheepleaze KNIGHT Jane W 33 1906 Married 51 The Post Office LAWS Harriet 71 1867 Widow 134 Farrows Holding LONGMAN Albert B 70 1869 Married 71 Baltington Farm LONGMAN Emma C 69 1870 Married 72 Baltington Farm LONGMAN Evelyn M 28 1910 Single 73 Baltington Farm LONGMAN Reginald C 25 1913 Single 74 Baltington Farm MEECH Thomas C 55 1884 Single 64 The Laundry MERRY Frederick A 35 1904 Married 143 Victoria Cotts MERRY Louisa 27 1912 Married 144 Victoria Cotts MILLER Alice M 73 1865 Married 94 Sea Cottage MILLER Charles 87 1851 Married 101 Worbarrow MILLER Harriet 85 1854 Married 102 Worbarrow MILLER John A 73 1866 Married 93 Sea Cottage MILLER Minnie 51 1888 Single 97 Hill Cottage MILLER Thomas W 81 1858 Single 96 Hill Cottage MINTERN Beatrice A 35 1904 Single 104 Worbarrow MINTERN Winifred E 38 1901 Single 105 Worbarrow Showing 1 to 100 of 140 entries Previous Next

Electors

1857 POLL BOOK OF THE COUNTY OF DORSET General Election: April 3 1857 Reg. No. Name Residence Qualification 4695 Robert SCUTT Baltington, Tyneham Occupier 4694 William HULL Tyneham Occupier 4693 William COOPER Povington, Tyneham Leasehold 4696 John TUCK Povington, Tyneham Occupier Note: The Poll book also recorded which candidates the electors voted for. SPRING REGISTER, 1921 SOUTHERN PARLIAMENTARY DIVISION OF THE COUNTY OF DORSET POLLING DISTRICT – ARNE – B Parish

Tyneham (North) No. LG Name in full Residence or property occupied 565 Charles BALSON Povington 566 Herbert BALSON Povington 567 William BALSON Povington 568 HO HO Amelia BALSON Povington 569 Archibald B BUGLER Povington 570 Isaac BUGLER Povington 571 HO HO Ellen Beatrice BUGLER Povington 572 Maurice BUGLER Povington 573 George BURT Povington 574 HO HO Elizabeth Jane BURT Povington 575 William CHAPMAN Povington 576 HO HO Mary CHAPMAN Povington 577 Francis Henry CLEALL Povington 578 HO HO Frances Amelia CLEALL Povington 579 Harry COOPER The Cat 580 Waltch James COOPER Povington 581 HO HO Harriett Emma COOPER Povington 582 William Joseph COOPER Povington 583 HO HO Alice Mary COOPER Povington 584 Elizabeth FOWLER Povington 585 William Charles GIFFORD Povington 586 HO HO Mary Jane GIFFORD Povington 587 Herbert John HOUSE Povington 588 HO HO Jessie Emily Pitcher HOUSE Povington 589 Stephen Arthur LAWS Povington 590 HO HO Harriett LAWS Povington 591 Albert Stephen RUNYARD West Whiteway 592 HO HO Elizabeth RUNYARD West Whiteway 593 William RUNYARD Whiteway 594 NM a Robert P SIMPKINS West Whiteway 595 Frederick TAYLOR Povington 596 HO HO Annie TAYLOR Povington 597 Reginald Joseph TAYLOR Povington 598 Emily Alice Mary THOMPSON Povington 599 Arthur TOMS Povington 600 Eva TOMS Povington 601 Charles Rendall WRIXON Povington 602 HO HO Sarah Jane WRIXON Povington 603 Thomas Walter WRIXON Povington Farm 604 HO HO Eva May WRIXON Povington Farm SPRING REGISTER, 1921 SOUTHERN PARLIAMENTARY DIVISION OF THE COUNTY OF DORSET POLLING DISTRICT – STEEPLE – L Parish

Tyneham (South) No. Parliamentary Local Govt Name in full Residence or property occupied 235 O O BOND Leonora Sophia South Egliston 236 O O BOND Louisa Charlotte South Egliston 237 R O BOND William Henry Tyneham House 238 HO HO BOND Mary Caroline Tyneham House 239 R BRACHI Winifred Mary Worbarrow 240 R O CHEESEMAM Albert James Worbarrow 241 HO HO CHEESEMAM Agnes Florence Worbarrow 242 O O CLERK Anne Marie Henriette South Tyneham 243 R O COUPE Thomas Openshaw, Rev. Tyneham Rectory 244 R O CURTIS Charles James Cottage 245 HO HO CURTIS Annie Cottage 246 R O DRAPER Warwick Herbert Sheep Leaze, Worbarrow 247 HO HO DRAPER Grace Sheep Leaze, Worbarrow 248 R ELLIS Ethelwyn Maud Worbarrow 249 R EVERETT George Tyneham 250 R O EVERETT William George Cottage 251 R O GOULD Thomas Henry Cottage 252 HO HO GOULD Virtue Mary Cottage 253 R O HERD James Forgan Post Office 254 HO HO HERD Edith Post Office 255 O O HOLLAND Rose Cottage 256 R HOLLAND William Worbarrow 257 R O HOUSE Frederick Walter Baltington 258 R O HOWARD Charles William North Egliston Farm 259 HO HO HOWARD Emily Alice North Egliston Farm 260 R HOWARD Francis Lee Cottage 261 R HOWARD George Frederick Cottage 262 R O KERLEY Percy Henry John Baltington 263 HO HO KERLEY Ellen Louisa Mary Baltington 264 R O LONGMAN Albert Bernard Baltington Farm 265 HO HO LONGMAN Emma Caroline Baltington Farm 266 R LUCAS Frederick Cottage 267 R O LUCAS James William Cottage 268 HO HO LUCAS Jane Cottage 269 R O MEECH Charles Thomas Cottage 270 NM a MILLER Basil William Worbarrow 271 R O MILLER Charles William Worbarrow 272 HO HO MILLER Harriet Deborah Worbarrow 273 O O MILLER Jane Ann, Miss Worbarrow 274 R O MILLER John Alfred Worbarrow 275 HO HO MILLER Alice Mary Worbarrow 276 O O MILLER Minnie Louisa, Miss Worbarrow 277 R O MILLER Thomas Henry Worbarrow 278 R MILLER Thomas William Worbarrow 279 R O MINTERN William Thomas Worbarrow 280 HO HO MINTERN Sarah Ann Worbarrow 281 R OWEN-ELLIS Trevor Allan The Bungalow, Worbarrow 282 R ROBINSON Courtney Mostyn The White Cottage, South Egliston 283 O O ROBINSON Margaret The White Cottage, South Egliston 284 R RUNYARD Alfred Tyneham 285 R O SMITH James North Egliston 286 HO HO SMITH Alice North Egliston 287 R O SMITH Walter Case Tyneham Farm 288 HO HO SMITH Kate Feodorah Tyneham Farm 289 R TAYLOR Arthur Henry House 290 R O TAYLOR William Cottage 291 R O WELLMAN Robert Cottage 292 HO HO WELLMAN Alice Victoria Cottage 293 O O WHEELER Mary Jane Bungalow, Worbarrow 294 R O WHITE Alfred South Tyneham 295 HO HO WHITE Georgina South Tyneham 296 NM a WHITE Francis Henry South Egliston 297 O O WOODMAN Norah Sophia School House, Tyneham Top Page last updated: 7 September

Juror Lists

1840 Parish of Tyneham Christian and Surname at full length Title, Quality, Calling, or Business Nature of Qualification Whiteway William BARNES Yeoman Poor Rate Tyneham William MARSHALLSAY Yeoman Poor Rate Egglestone George SMITH Yeoman Poor Rate Povington John TUCK Yeoman Poor Rate 1842 Parish of Tyneham Christian and Surname at full length Title, Quality, Calling, or Business Nature of Qualification West Whiteway, Tyneham William BARNES Yeoman Poor Rate Tyneham Farm, Tyneham William MARSHALLSAY Yeoman Poor Rate North Egglestone, Tyneham George SMITH Yeoman Poor Rate Baltington, Tyneham Giles SAMPSON Yeoman Poor Rate Povington, Tyneham John TUCK Yeoman Poor Rate Page last updated: 7 September 2022

Gaol Registers

Summary of Dorchester Gaol registers Below is a summary of entries in Dorchester Gaol registers for persons connected with the parish of Tyneham including Messrs. Bartlett , Galton & Stickland . George Bartlett George Bartlett , 21, single, labourer, of Povington , Tyneham was 5ft 5in, with dark brown hair, hazel eyes and fair complexion. He had a few summer moulds on his face, also a small bruise on the left side of his face. He had two cuts between the first and second joints of the middle finger left-hand. There were also cuts on the little finger. His crime was poaching . The committing magistrate was Revd. G.H. Hyde who sentenced him to three months' imprisonment . He was committed on 8 November 1817 and taken to Dorchester Gaol on 10 November 1817. White in gaol, his conduct was described as orderly. He was discharged on 2 February 1818. James Galton James Galton was 5ft 9 1/2 inches, with sandy & grey hair, light grey eyes and brown complexion, and had a wart on the back of his right hand. He had 5 children. The crime was smuggling . The committing magistrates were James Frampton and William Morton Pitt Esquire. He was ordered to be imprisoned until he paid the fine of £100 . He was committed on 23 November 1822 and taken to Dorchester Gaol the same day. He was discharged on 6 December 1823 on the order of the committing magistrate. Thomas Stickland Thomas Stickland , 23, a fisherman from Tyneham in Purbeck, was 5ft 9 inches, with light brown hair, hazel eyes and fair complexion. He had five very small moles on each cheek and a small dimple in the chin. There was also the mark of an old sore on the back of his left hand. He was single. The crime was smuggling and he was sentenced to six calendar months imprisonment . He was committed on 21 September 1840 and taken to Dorchester Gaol the same day. While there Thomas was described as orderly. He was discharged on 20 March 1841. William Stickland William Stickland , 26, a fisherman from Tyneham in Purbeck, was 5ft 11 1/4 inches, with light brown hair, hazel eyes and fair complexion. He had five large moles in the middle of the right cheek and a dimple chin. He was married but had no children. The crime was smuggling and he was sentenced to six calendar months imprisonment . He was committed on 21 September 1840 and taken to Dorchester Gaol the same day. While there William was described as orderly. He was discharged on 20 March 1841. Page last updated: 10 September 2022

Removal Orders

Order to remove Ann ELMES from Puddletown to Tyneham 14 April 1753 Dorsetshire: Whereas complaint hath been made unto us whose names are hereunto subscribed To of his Majesty's Justices of the Peace of the said County of Dorset Whereof one is of the Quorum by the Churchwardens & Overseers of the Poor of the parish of Puddle Town in the said County Fiat Ann Elmes is Lately come into the said parish of Puddle Town endeavouring to settle herself there contrary to Law. And is shortly to become chargeable there. And upon Examination of the premises on Oath we do find and adjudge the said Anne Elmes likely to become chargeable to the said parish of Puddle Town and that the place of her last legal settlement is in the parish of Tyneham in the Said County of

Dorset. These are therefore in this Majesty's name to authorize And require you forth with to Remove the said Anne Elmes out of the parish of Puddle Town into the said parish of Tyneham and her deliver to the Churchwardens & Overseers of the Poor of the said parish of Tyneham or to some or one of them Together with this our Order or a true Copy thereof who are hereby required to receive and provide For her ■ According to the Law And hereof fayle not at Your Perrills Given Under our Hands and Seals the fourteenth day of April 1753 [signed] Jo Meech Sydm Williams To the Churchwardens & Overseers of the Poor of the said parish of Puddle Town to Remove, and to the Churchwardens & Overseers of the Poor of the Sd [said] parish of Tyneham to receive and provide for the Said Ann Elmes With thanks to Trudy Norbury for the above information Order to remove Esther COCKRAM (wife of William COCKRAM, now overseas) and Maria and Mary her children to West Lulworth from Tyneham 18 July 1795

Tyneham Directories Index

The Tyneham Directories Index was prepared in 2009-10 by John Patrick and we are grateful to him for making it available to us. It is an index of all the persons mentioned in the Tyneham sections of the Dorset trade directories . In early directories there were no separate sections for Tyneham and names from these dates are taken from the Corfe Castle and Wareham sections of the directories where the location was given as Tyneham or nearby. This index is a finding aid only and the original directory should be consulted as many entries give more information than can be included in the index. Names mentioned in the directory introductions are not included in the index. In many cases there are several entries for the same person and this is because there was a significant change in their directory entry from one year to the next or they had more than one entry per year. There are many obvious spelling and typographical errors in the directories and these have been indexed as printed in the directories. When searching for a particular name in the index and it cannot be found, it is advisable to search for alternative spellings of that name. Surname Initials or forenames Year Address Trade BARNES Harry 1911 Post & T Office sub-postmaster 1911 Post Office shopkeeper 1915 Post & T Office sub-postmaster 1915 Post Office shopkeeper BARTLETT William 1899 parish clerk BASCOMBE James 1899 farmer 1903 farmer 1907 Ballington farmer BENNETT John 1859 Whiteway Farm farmer 1865 Whiteway Farm farmer 1867 Whiteway Farm farmer BOND J & M (Misses) 1851 Tyneham House BOND J (Miss) 1849 Tyneham House gentry BOND Jane (Miss) 1855 Tyneham House gentry/private 1859 Tyneham House gentry/private 1867 Tyneham House gentry/private 1871 Tyneham House gentry/private BOND John (Rev MA) 1885 Tyneham House 1890 Tyneham House 1895 Tyneham House BOND M (J & M, Misses) 1851 Tyneham House BOND M (Miss) 1849 Tyneham House gentry BOND Mary (Miss) 1855 Tyneham House gentry/private 1859 Tyneham House gentry/private 1867 Tyneham House gentry/private 1871 Tyneham House gentry/private BOND Miss 1875 Tyneham House BOND Misses 1911 South Egliston House private 1915 South Egliston House private 1919 South Egliston House private 1923 South Egliston House private BOND Nathaniel (Rev Canon) 1885 National School school supporter BOND Thomas (Esq JP) 1867 Tyneham House private 1871 Tyneham House private BOND Thomas (Esq) 1849 Tyneham House gentry/private 1852 Tyneham gentry 1855 Tyneham House gentry/private 1859 Tyneham House gentry/private 1865 Tyneham House gentry/private BOND Thomas (JP) 1875 Tyneham House 1880 Tyneham House 1885 Tyneham House 1890 Tyneham House BOND William 1839 Tyneham BOND William (Esq) 1842 Thynam gentry BOND William (Rev MA) 1849 Tyneham House clergy BOND William (Rev) 1830 Tyneham clergy 1842 Tyneham clergy 1851 Tyneham clergy 1852 Tyneham clergy BOND William H 1899 Tyneham House BOND William Henry (JP) 1903 Tyneham House private 1907 Tyneham House private 1911 Tyneham House private 1915 Tyneham House private 1919 Tyneham House private 1923 Tyneham House private 1927 Tyneham House private 1931 Tyneham House private BOND William Ralph Garneys (JP) 1939 Tyneham House private BROWNE William Charles (Rev) 1880 Rectory Curate 1885 Rectory Curate 1890 Rectory Curate BURDEN Edward 1919 Whiteway Farm farmer 1923 Whiteway Farm farmer BUTT Henry 1890 West Whiteway farmer CHILCOTT Arthur 1885 Baltington Farm farmer 1890 Baltington Farm farmer 1895 Baltington Farm farmer CHILCOTT James 1859 Povington farmer 1865 Povington farmer 1867 Povington farmer 1871 Povington farmer 1875 Povington farmer

1880 Povington farmer 1885 Povington farmer CHILCOTT William 1890 Povington farmer 1895 Povington farmer
 1899 Povington farmer 1903 Povington farmer CHURCHILL Job 1907 Povington farmer 1911 Povington farmer
 1915 Povington farmer COOPER Arthur 1931 Povington farmer 1935 Searley's Holdings, Povington farmer 1939
 Searley's Holdings, Povington farmer COOPER Joseph 1849 Povington farmer 1851 Povington farmer 1855
 Povington farmer 1859 Povington farmer 1867 Povington farmer COOPER Thomas 1895 gardener &
 taxidermist COOPER William 1865 Povington farmer 1871 Povington farmer 1875 Povington farmer 1880
 Povington farmer 1885 Povington farmer 1890 Povington farmer 1895 Povington farmer 1899 Povington farmer
 CORFIELD Frederick de la Poer B (Rev BA) 1923 Rectory Rector 1927 Rectory Rector COUPE Thomas Openshaw (Rev MA) 1919 Rectory Rector DOWLE Herbert 1931 West Whiteway farmer 1935 West Whiteway farmer DRAPER Philip 1927 Sheepleaze private DRISCOLL Gwendoline (Mrs) 1939 Tyneham shopkeeper &
 post office DUGDALE Robert 1849 Whiteway Farm farmer 1851 farmer 1855 Whiteway Farm farmer ELLIS M
 (Miss) 1935 The Bungslow private 1939 The Bungslow private FARWELL Thomas 1859 Whiteway farmer 1865
 Whiteway grocer 1867 Whiteway grocer 1871 Whiteway grocer 1875 Whiteway grocer 1880 Whiteway grocer
 FRENDE G Clifford (Rev BA) 1935 The Rectory Rector FRY Annie (Mrs) 1899 National School mistress 1903
 Elementary School mistress GOULD Thomas 1923 parish clerk 1927 parish clerk 1931 parish clerk GOVER
 George 1865 Angelstone Farm farmer 1867 Eglestone Farm farmer 1871 Eglestone Farm farmer 1875 Egliston
 Farm farmer GRANGE John 1899 farm bailiff to J Hull esq GUY William 1880 parish clerk 1885 parish clerk
 HAWKES Edward Clifford (Rev MA) 1915 Rectory Rector HERD Edith (Mrs) 1919 Post & T Office sub-postmistress 1919 Post Office shopkeeper 1923 Post & T Office sub-postmistress 1923 Post Office shopkeeper 1927 Post & T Office sub-postmistress 1927 Post Office shopkeeper 1931 Post Office shopkeeper
 1935 Post Office shopkeeper HOMAN Claude Samuel (Rev BA) 1899 Rectory Rector 1903 Rectory Rector 1907
 Rectory Rector 1911 Rectory Rector HOOD Annie (Miss) 1885 National School mistress HOUSE Albert 1915
 Povington farmer 1919 Povington farmer 1923 Povington farmer 1927 Povington farmer HOUSE Godfrey E H
 (Lt-Com RN ret) 1935 South Egliston private 1939 South Egliston private HOUSE Herbert John 1931 Egliston farmer 1935 North Egliston farmer 1939 North Egliston farmer HOUSE Joseph 1849 farmer 1851 farmer HOUSE
 Thomas Hammond (Rev) 1849 Curate 1851 Curate HOWARD William 1903 Egliston farmer 1907 Egliston farmer
 1911 Egliston farmer 1915 Egliston farmer 1919 Egliston farmer 1923 Egliston farmer 1927 Egliston farmer
 HUGHES Gwendoline (Miss) 1907 Elementary School mistress HULL Esther Mary (Miss) 1890 farmer HULL
 James 1871 Baltington Farm HULL James S 1875 Baltington Farm farmer 1880 Baltington Farm farmer HULL
 Thomas S 1867 Baltington Farm farmer HULL William 1851 farmer 1855 Tyneham Farm farmer 1859 Tyneham
 Farm farmer 1865 Tyneham Farm farmer 1867 Tyneham Farm farmer 1871 Tyneham Farm farmer 1875 Tyneham
 Farm farmer 1880 Tyneham Farm farmer 1895 farmer J JOHNSON William 1880 North Egliston Farm farmer
 LAWS Harry 1903 parish clerk LIDDERDALE John 1851 Coast Guard Station, Worbarrow master LONGMAN
 Albert 1911 Ballington farmer 1915 Ballington farmer 1919 Ballington farmer 1923 Ballington farmer 1927 Ballington farmer 1931 Ballington farmer 1935 Baltington farmer 1939 Baltington farmer MARSHALSAY William 1849
 Tyneham & Wyke, nr Weymouth farmer MEAD George 1895 North Egliston Farm farm bailiff to Nathaniel
 Bond esq MILLER John (Thomas &) 1931 crab & lobster fishermen 1935 crab & lobster fishermen
 1939 crab & lobster fishermen MILLER Joseph 1849 Warbarrow shopkeeper 1851 Worbarrow grocer 1855
 Warbarrow shopkeeper 1859 Warbarrow shopkeeper 1865 Warbarrow shopkeeper 1867 Worthbarrow shopkeeper
 1871 Worthbarrow shopkeeper 1875 Worthbarrow shopkeeper 1880 Worthbarrow shopkeeper MILLER Thomas & John 1931 crab & lobster fishermen 1935 crab & lobster fishermen 1939 crab & lobster fishermen MINTON Sarah (Mrs) 1931 smallholder 1935 Worbarrow smallholder 1939 Worbarrow smallholder
 MONEY Humphrey Churchill (Rev) 1939 The Rectory rector MOORE James 1903 Povington farmer 1907
 Povington farmer 1911 Povington farmer MORES Ann (Mrs) 1890 shopkeeper 1895 shopkeeper 1899 shopkeeper
 MORES William 1880 shopkeeper 1885 shopkeeper PARMIT Amelia 1871 Whiteway Farm PARMENTER Sophia (Mrs) 1875 Whiteway Farm farmer PITTMAN Emma J (Mrs) 1907 Post Office sub-postmistress PITTMAN Emma
 (Mrs) 1907 Post Office shopkeeper PRITCHARD N (Mrs) 1923 Elementary School mistress 1927 Elementary
 School mistress RENYARD William 1927 West Whiteway, Povington farmer ROPER William Henry 1885 North Egliston Farm farm bailiff to Rev Canon N Bond 1890 North Egliston Farm farm bailiff to Nathaniel Bond Esq ROSE

Mary (Miss) 1890 National School mistress ROSE Matilda (Miss) 1895 National School mistress SCUTT Robert 1855 Baltington farmer 1859 Baltington farmer 1865 Baltington farmer SHARPE Christopher Campbell (Rev MA) 1931 Rectory rector SMITH Edward 1880 Whiteway Farm farmer SMITH George 1849 North Egglestone farmer 1851 North Egglestone farmer SMITH Walter 1911 farmer 1915 farmer 1919 farmer 1923 farmer 1927 Tyneham Farm farmer 1931 Tyneham Farm farmer SMITH Walter Case 1935 Tyneham Farm farmer 1939 Tyneham Farm farmer SPENCER Eliza (Mrs) 1867 Worthbarrow beer retailer 1871 Worthbarrow beer retailer 1875 Worthbarrow beer retailer 1880 Worthbarrow beer retailer SPENCER Thomas 1849 Warbarrow beer retailer 1851 Warbarrow beer retailer 1855 Warbarrow beer retailer 1859 Warbarrow beer retailer 1865 Warbarrow beer retailer SQUIRES Eleanor (Miss) 1880 National School mistress STICKLAND George 1867 parish clerk STICKLAND Henry 1875 parish clerk TAYLOR William 1907 parish clerk 1911 parish clerk 1915 parish clerk 1919 parish clerk TIZZARD Emma J (Mrs) 1903 Post Office sub-postmistress TIZZARD Richard 1899 shopkeeper 1903 Post Office shopkeeper 1907 Worbarrow shopkeeper TRUELL William (Rev BA) 1855 Rectory clergy 1859 Rectory Curate 1865 Rectory Curate 1867 Rectory Curate 1871 Rectory Curate 1875 Rectory Curate 1880 Rectory Curate TUCK John 1849 Povington farmer 1851 Povington farmer 1855 Povington farmer TURLE Charles (Adml DSO ret) 1939 Whiteway Farm private 1939 Whiteway Farm farmer WAY Frederick Thomas 1899 Egliston farmer WHEELER Mrs 1927 The Bungalow private 1931 The Bungalow private WHITE Miss 1875 National School mistress WILCOX Francis 1890 parish clerk 1895 parish clerk WOODMAN N (Miss) 1911 Elementary School mistress 1915 Elementary School mistress WORDSWORTH Christopher (Rev Canon MA) 1895 Rectory WORDSWORTH Christopher (Rev Preb MA) 1890 Rectory WRIXON Thomas 1919 Povington farmer 1923 Povington farmer 1927 Povington farmer 1931 Povington farmer WRIXON Thomas Walter 1935 Povington Farm farmer 1939 Povington Farm farmer

Gravestones

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions - A

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – A U V X Y Z No gravestones with surnames beginning with A currently exist

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions - C

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – C U V X Y Z Chapple CHAPPLE: George Stewart Chapple Photo copyright of Martin White IN LOVING MEMORY OF GEORGE STEWART CHAPPLE WHO DIED JAN. 13TH 1942 GOOD NIGHT BELOVED Chilcott CHILCOTT: James Chilcott (1825-1909) & William Chilcott (1857-1908) Photo copyright of Martin White In Memory of JAMES CHILCOTT WHO DIED MAY 28TH 1909 AGED 84 YEARS WHO WAS A CHURCHWARDEN OF THIS PARISH FOR NEARLY 20 YEARS UNTIL HIS DEATH ALSO OF WILLIAM CHILCOTT SON OF THE ABOVE WHO DIED DEC. 17TH 1908 AGED 49 YEARS IN THE MIDST OF LIFE WE ARE IN DEATH

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions - B

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – B U V X Y Z Images of gravestones are arranged in alphabetical order of surname Bascombe BASCOMBE: Elizabeth Mary Bascombe (1826-1827) Photo copyright of Martin White In Memory of E. M. B. who died July 2nd 1827 aged 18 months Note: The mason appears to have carved 18 months in error. Elizabeth was aged just 8 months when she died. BASCOMBE: James Bascombe (1849-1921) Photo copyright of Martin White IN LOVING MEMORY OF JAMES THE BELOVED HUSBAND OF BESSIE ELIZA BASCOMBE BORN MAY 24TH 1849 DIED JANUARY 21ST 1911 A LOVING HUSBAND AND A KIND FATHER Bond BOND: Editha Augusta M. Bond Photo copyright of Martin White IN MEMORY OF EDITHA AUGUSTA M. BOND DIED 12 DECEMBER 1899 WIFE OF THE REV. HENRY BOND VICAR OF SOUTH PETHERTON & DAUGHTER OF THE HON. HENRY POMEROY BOND: William Ralph Garneys Bond (1880-1952) & Evelyn Isabel Bond (1884-1954) Photo copyright of Martin White SACRED TO THE MEMORY OF WILLIAM RALPH GARNEYS BOND BORN 12TH DEC. 1880 – DIED 10TH FEB. 1952 AND OF EVELYN ISABEL HIS WIFE BORN 11 SEPT. 1884 – 3RD SEPT. 1954

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions - D

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – D U V X Y Z Davis DAVIS: Florence Davis Photo copyright of Martin White Duggleby DUGGLEBY: Harold Duggleby (1920-2011) Bettina Pearl Duggleby nee Driscoll (1919-2007) Photo copyright of Martin White In loving memory of Bettina Pearl Duggleby (nee Driscoll) 18th July 1919 – 20th February 2007 Who lived in this village 1938-43 and her beloved husband Harold Duggleby 18th May 1920 – 13th January 2011 Dugg guarded the coast here in 1940 & first met Betty in Tyneham Post Office

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions - E

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – E U V X Y Z Everett EVERETT: Kitty EVERETT nee PARK (1842-1920) Photo copyright of Martin White IN LOVING MEMORY OF KITTY BELOVED WIFE OF GEORGE EVERETT DIED JAN 31 1920 IN HER 78TH YEAR PEACE PERFECT PEACE ? For more information see Everett family page EVERETT: Thomas William Samuel Manbridge Everett (1904-1986) Dorothy 'Violet' Jane Everett nee Davis (1915-1991) Photo copyright of Martin White AT HOME IN MEMORY OF THOMAS W. S. M. EVERETT 1904-1986

DOROTHY V. J. EVERETT NEE DAVIS 1915-1991 MUCH LOVED PARENTS REST IN PEACE For more information see Everett family page Page last updated: 7 June 2020

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions - F

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – F U V X Y Z Frennd FREND: Edwin George Clifford Frennd Photo copyright of Martin White

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions - G

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – G

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions - H

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – H U V X Y Z This page shows images and inscriptions of gravestones with surnames beginning with H including Howard and Hull : Howard Gravestone of Emily Alice Howard nee Tewksbury at Tyneham. Photo copyright of Martin White IN LOVING MEMORY OF EMILY ALICE BELOVED WIFE OF CHARLES WILLIAM HOWARD WHO PASSED AWAY APRIL 14TH 1936 AGED 74 YEARS Please see the Howard Family page for more information Hull HULL: Henry P Hull Photo copyright of Martin White IN MEMORY OF HENRY P HULL BORN 27 AUGUST 1777 DIED 26 MAY 1856 Please see the Hull Family page for more information Page last updated: 4 September 2022

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – K

U V X Y Z Knight KNIGHT: Ivy Adelaide Knight (1908-1991) & Frederick Cecil Knight (1908-1994) Photo copyright of Martin White

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – L

U V X Y Z No gravestones with surnames beginning with L currently exist

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – M

U V X Y Z Miller MILLER: Harriet Louisa Miller Photo copyright of Martin White

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – P

U V X Y Z Polden POLDEN: Henry Polden Photo copyright of Martin White

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – R

U V X Y Z Richards RICHARDS: George Richards Photo copyright of Martin White

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – S

U V X Y Z Smith SMITH: Kate Theodora Smith nee Doble (1862-1938) Photo copyright of Martin White Stickland
STICKLAND: William Lush Stickland (1814-1881) Photo copyright of Martin White WILLIAM LUSH STICKLAND
DIED MARCH 19 1881 AGED 65

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – T

U V X Y Z Taylor TAYLOR: Emily Taylor nee Hyde (1865-1917) Photo copyright of Martin White IN LOVING MEMORY OF EMILY THE BELOVED WIFE OF WILLIAM TAYLOR WHO FELL ASLEEP XX JULY 1917 AGED 52
YEARS Tizzard TIZZARD: Richard Tizzard (-1915) ■Photo copyright of Martin White R.T. DIED 1915 Truell

Gravestone Images & Inscriptions – W

U V X Y Z Woaden WOADEN: Elizabeth Woaden Photo copyright of Martin White Woodman

Wills & Probate

Wills

This page provides a listing of known Wills of former Tyneham residents, ancestors and descendants. Click on the links in the table to jump to transcriptions of those Wills . Forename Surname Status Abode Date proved PROB

Mahala BALSON	Wareham	23 Jul 1855	Robert BALSON	Yeoman	Creekmoor	21 Mar 1857	Christopher BARON
Tyneham	29 Jun 1622	11/139	Dennis BATTRICK	Povington	12 Feb 1656	11/253	Robert BEACHANT
Tyneham	2 Apr 1641	11/185	Revd. William BOND	Clerk	Tyneham	7 May 1852	11/2152
John DIKE	Tyneham	12 Feb 1638	11/176	Richard GARLAND	Yeoman	Tyneham	23 Feb 1717
11/556	Henry HELLIER	Yeoman	Tyneham	15 Jan 1825	Martyn HOPKINS	Yeoman	Povington
30 Nov 1654	11/241	Thomas LYMINGTON	Egglestone	14 Jun 1661	11/304	Richard MARSHALLSAY	North Egglestone Farm
20 Feb 1834	Mary MILLER	Tyneham	Samuel MILLER	Fisherman	Tyneham	24 Aug 1848	11/2079
Grace POINTINGTON	Tyneham	9 Nov 1588	11/73	Adam RICHMAN	Parson	Tyneham	6 Dec 1581
11/63	Thomas RICKETS	Yeoman	Tyneham	14 Mar 1632	11/161	George SEARLEY	Yeoman
30 Mar 1842	11/1960	Joseph SYMONDS	Gentleman	Egglestone	17 Mar 1774	Bruen VINCENT	Gentleman
Povington	28 Aug 1662	11/309	Henry WILLIAMS	Tyneham	13 Nov 1589	11/74	Henry WILLSHIRE
Yeoman	Baltington	10 Dec 1780	Henry WILLSHIRE	Yeoman	Tyneham	28 Aug 1827	11/1730
Thomas WILLSHIRE	Baltington Farm	16 Mar 1794/5	Will of Mahala Balson – 24 February 1855	This is my Last Will and Testament of me Mahala Balson of Wareham in the County of Dorset made the 24th day of February 1855. First of all I desire all my just debts and funeral expenses to be paid and after that I give and bequeath to James Ballson the son of Robert Balson now living at Creekmore Farm near Poole in the County of Dorset the sum of three hundred pounds to educate and apprentice him the remainder with the interest to be had when he is of age, that is twenty one years old unless his Executors thinks it would be more beneficial to his interest to have it or any part of it before Also I give and bequeath to the youngest son of William Balson who is now about four years old and living at Povington near Wareham in the County of Dorset the sum of fifty pounds to remain in the Dorchester Bank with the interest untill he is twenty one years of age unless his Executors thinks it would be more beneficial to his welfare for him to have all or any part of it before Also I give and bequeath to Eliza Fry the daughter of my sister Peggy Fry now living at North Kingston near Beer Regis in the County of Dorset the sum of forty pounds to be received with the interest twelve months after my desease Allso I give and bequeath all my wearing apparel beds bedding household furniture etc to be divided equally between Marey and Harriet Balson the daughters of Robert Balson now living at Creekmore Farm near Poole in the County of Dorset with the exception of one pair of best sheets which I give and bequeath to my sister Delilah Simmonds now living near Bristol in the County of Gloster. I give and bequeath to Henry Simmonds my sister Delilah's son the sum of forty pounds that is now living next door to me in Wareham in the County of Dorset I give and bequeath to Harriet Brazey daughter to my sister Delilah Simmonds who is nearly blind the sum of forty pounds and now living with her near Bristol in the County of Gloster. Should there not be money enough at my diseace to pay the parties in full hereinbefore mentioned a proportionate part to be deducted from each individual to pay any expenses that may be incurred in the above named Will I leave Mr William Thomas Redman and Mr Charles Henry Card Executors to this my last Will and Testament – Mahala Balson her mark X signed sealed delivered published and declared by the said Mahala Balson as and for her last Will and Testament in presence of us presant at the same time who at her request in her presence and in the presence of each other have hereunto subscribed our names as witness thereto – Witnesses – Ann Ridge – Tom Redman Proved at London 23rd July 1855 before the judge by the oaths of William Thomas Redman and Charles Henry Card the Exors to whom Admin was granted having been first sworn by Comon [?] oaths to administer. Will of Robert Balson – 11 April 1856 This is the last Will and Testament of me Robert Balson of Creekmoor in the parish of Great Canford in the County of Dorset yeoman. I will and desire that my Executors hereinafter named do carry on my Farm and Farming business for the benefit of my family during the remainder of the term of the Lease which may be unexpired at the time of my decease unless I should dispose of the said Farm and business during my lifetime – I give to my daughter Harriet Balson an annuity of Ten Pounds per annum payable from the time of my decease until she attain the age of twenty one years – Also I give to my son James Balson the sum of Five Shillings. All the rest residue and remainder of my property I give to my children Henry Balson Thomas Balson Mary Ridout and Harriet Balson equally to be divided between them share and share alike as Tenants in Common. Provided always and it is my will that in case I should dispose of my said farm and business during my lifetime then I desire that the residue of my said property and effects shall be divided as above mentioned when and as soon as my said daughter Harriet shall attain the age of twenty one years, but otherwise the same is not to be so divisible or divided until the expiration of the said Lease of the said farm. And I appoint Thomas Arnold of Hamworthy in the County of Dorset yeoman and Robert Hibbs of Creekmoor aforesaid yeoman Trustees and Executors of this my Will and I declare this only to be and contain my last Will and Testament In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this eleventh day of April one thousand eight hundred and fifty six The mark and seal X of Robert Balson Signed sealed published and declared by Robert Balson the said Testator as and for his Last Will and Testament in the presence of us who at his request in his presence and in the presence of each other have hereto subscribed our names as witnesses James Tuck of Wareham Dorset Attorney's Clerk Mahalah Hibbs of Creekmoor Dorset On the twenty first day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifty seven the within Will of Robert Balson late of Creekmoor in the County of Dorset yeoman deceased was proved by the oaths of Thomas Arnold of Hamworthy in the said County yeoman and Robert Hibbs of Creekmoor aforesaid yeoman the Executors therein named to whom administration of all and singular the goods and chattels and credits of the deceased was granted they being first duly sworn well and faithfully to administer the same to exhibit a true and perfect Inventory thereof into the ~Registry of the Court of the Archdeacon of Dorset and render a just amount thereon when thereto lawfully required and that the whole of the goods chattels and credits of the said deceased does not amount in value to the sum of three hundred pounds And lastly that the said deceased died on or about the first day of May one thousand eight hundred and fifty six Sworn before me- In the presence of W Harte Surrogate Will of Robert Beachant – 18 October 1638 Anno domini 1638 Octob: 18 th I Robert Beachant of Ponerington in the parish of Tyneham and countie of Dorset doe make this my last will in manner followeing first desiring god to pardon my sinnes for the meritts of Jesus Christ concerninge my goods I dispose of them in manner followeing Imprimis I will unto Henry Buck my daughter Joanes sonne twentie pounds Item to Mary Bucke her daughter I give twentie pounds Item I give to Elizabeth Hawkins five pounds Item I give William Beachant of Blanford twentie shillings Item I give Alice Beachant of West Holme twentie shillings Item I give Oliver Whiffin thirtie shillings which my will is shall bee delivered into the hands of the overseers of the poore of Tyneham to be employed by them from tyme to tyme for his good Item to the poore of Tyneham I give tenne shillings Item to the church of Tyneham I give tenne shillings Item to my daughter Judeth I give all my pewter andItem my will is that what I have above given to Henry Bucke & Mary Bucke my daughter Joanes children shall not bee delivered unto their father, but top bee employed by the discretion of my overseers & executor for their good till they come to the age of one and twentie yeares Item the rest of my goods not given & bequeathed I give to Robert Beachant of Kingstone my god sonne whome I make my sole executor Item I desire my brother John Beachant and Charles Collins to bee executors of this my will Robert Beachant his marke Signed and sealed in the psence of us Joseph Dike John Vincent Lewes Cockrum Proved 2 April 1641 PCC Prob11/185 Will of William Bond – 20 November 1846 + Codicils This is the last Will & Testament of me William Bond of Tyneham in the Isle of Purbeck & County of Dorset Clerk I give and devise my dwelling house at Tyneham in which I now reside with the gardens orchard & pleasure grounds thereunto belonging together with the Avenue Hole Field Garden Plot stable Close Westmead & all other lands now in my occupation unto my wife Jane Bond for her life & from & after her decease I give & devise the same unto my son John Bond & his heirs I give & bequeath all & singular my household goods & furniture books pictures plate china glass linen horses with their harness Cows Carriages Carts wines & liquors & all other my chattels & effects (except money of every kind) which shall be in & about my said dwelling house & premises at Tyneham at the time of my decease (except as I shall otherwise specifically bequeath by this my Will or any Codicil thereto) unto my said wife for her own use absolutely and I give to my said wife the sum of four hundred pounds for her immediate occasions to be paid to her immediately after my decease I give to my son Henry Bond the sum of one thousand pounds of the three per cent Consols I give to my son Thomas Bond of one thousand pounds of the three per cent Consols I give to my son John Bond in trust for the building of a Parsonage House at Steeple one thousand pounds of the three per cent Consols I give to Esther Rice One hundred pounds I give to William Norris one hundred pounds I give to William Hind Thirty Pounds I give to each of my other servants five pounds I give to the Dorset County Hospital Twenty pounds I give to the Poor of Steeple Parish Ten Pounds I give to the Poor of Tyneham Parish Ten Pounds All the Residue of my Estate & Effects both real & personal I give devise & bequeath unto my said son John Bond his heirs executors & administrators respectively And I appoint the said John Bond Executor of this my Will In Witness whereof I the said William Bond have hereunto set my hand this 20th day of November 1846 (Attestation Clause) Jane Bond Spinster Tyneham _ Mary Bond Spinster Tyneham Dorset This is a Codicil to the last Will of me William Bond of Tyneham in the Isle of Purbeck & County of Dorset Clerk Whereas under & by virtue of a Settlement made previously to & in contemplation of my marriage with my wife Jane Bond daughter of the late Henry Briggs of Stockton in the County of Wilts Esq the sum of £16169 – 13 -2 Consolidated Bank Annuities was vested in the late John Bond Esq & upon certain trusts declared thereof by an Indenture bearing date on or about the 16th day of April 1794 (that is to say) Upon certain trusts therein mentioned for the benefit of myself & my said wife for our respective lives and from & after the decease of the survivor of us Upon trust for all & every such one or more of my children by my said wife thereafter to be begotten to be vested & payable at such time or respective times & in such parts & proportions as I the said William Bond should by deed or writing or by my last Will or Codicil in writing to be by me executed in the presence of two or more credible witnesses direct or appoint And whereas the said John Bond & Thomas Davis have both departed this life but the said sum of £16169 – 13 -2 is still standing in their names in the Books of the Governor & Company of the Bank of England Now pursuant to & by force & virtue & in exercise & execution of the aforesaid power or authority to me for this purpose given or reserved as hereinbefore is mentioned & of every other power or authority in any wise enabling me in this behalf I the said William Bond do by this Codicil to my last Will direct & appoint that the said sum of £16169 – 13 -2 Consolidated Bank Annuities & the stocks funds & securities in or upon which the same shall be for the time being be laid out and invested & the interest dividends & annual proceeds thereof & any other stocks & monies whatsoever (if any) which under & by virtue of my said marriage settlement I have power to appoint to & amongst my children in manner aforesaid Shall immediately from & after the decease of the survivor of myself & my said wife go to & be In trust for my five surviving children by my said wife (that is to say) Jane Bond Mary Bond John Bond Henry Bond & Thomas Bond their respective executors administrators & assigns to be divided between & amongst them in equal shares & proportions share & share alike And whereas by my said Will I have bequeathed to my said Wife for her own use absolutely all & singular my household goods & furniture books pictures plate china glass linen horses with their harness Cows Carriages Carts Wines & liquors & all other my chattels & effects except money of every kind which at the time of my decease shall be in or about my dwelling house at Tyneham in which I usually reside & the premises surrounding the same except such as is otherwise specifically bequeathed by that my Will or any Codicil thereto Now I hereby revoke the said bequest of my household goods & furniture books pictures plate china glass linen & all utensils & implements in & about my said dwelling house at Tyneham & the outhouses & premises surrounding the same but I hereby ratify & reconfirm the bequest to my said Wife of all & singular my horses with their harness & furniture Cows & other livestock Carriages Carts Wines & liquors Hay Corn & other stores in & about my said house & premises at Tyneham & elsewhere and all other my chattels & effects bequeathed to my said Wife by my said Will whereof the bequest to her contained in my said Will is not hereby revoked And I hereby declare my will & meaning to be that my said bequest to my said Wife shall be held to extend to & comprehend all & whatsoever those horses with their harness & furniture cows & other live stock carriages wine liquors Hay Corn & other stores in & about my said house & premises at Tyneham & elsewhere And whereas by my said Will I have given & devised my said dwelling house at Tyneham with the gardens pleasure grounds & certain lands & fields in my said Will particularly mentioned and all other lands in my own occupation unto my said wife for her life And whereas all my woods coppices & plantations at Tyneham are in my own occupation Now I hereby revoke the said devise to my said wife of such the said lands & fields in my said will particularly

mentioned except as to such of the plantations as immediately surrounding my dwelling house at Tyneham But I hereby declare that it shall be lawful for my said wife during her life from time to time & at all times freely to have & take from any or either of the said woods coppices & plantations all such frith & woods for fences fuel or otherwise for her own use as she shall choose & require without making any payment or compensation for the same And whereas by my said Will I have given all my residue of my real & personal estate to my said son John Bond his heirs executors & administrators respectively Now I hereby declare that the said residuary devise & bequest shall not be deemed or construed to be an exercise of any Power of Appointment which I may happen to have over any real or personal estate whatsoever In witness whereof I the said William Bond have hereunto my hand this ninth day of January 1847 _ William Bond (Attestation Clause) William Joseph Hind Tyneham Dorset Servant of the Revd W Bond _ George Open of Weston Somerset Servant of the Revd W Bond I William Bond Clerk of Tyneham in the County of Dorset do make this a Codicil to my last Will & Testament I have left one thousand pounds for the building of a Parsonage House at Steeple I hereby revoke that bequest I give to my son Henry Bond in addition to what I have given by Will one thousand & five hundred pounds in the three per cent Consols I give to my daughters Jane & Mary one thousand pounds each in the three per cent Consols Instead of one hundred pounds to Esther Rice & William Norris I give fifty pounds to each Instead of thirty pounds to Joseph Hind I give fifty pounds Having given to each of my other servants living with me at my decease five pounds except George Spencer unless he be fifteen years of age Sign'd & publish'd as my Codicil to my last Will & Testament on this 30 th day of October 1849 to which I have hereunto set my hand _ William Bond (Attestation Clause) William Guy _ John Resouf This is a Codicil to the last Will of me William Bond of Tyneham in the Isle of Purbeck & County of Dorset Clerk Whereas by my last Will and some Codicil or Codicils thereto or by some one of such instruments (which being left in my house at Tyneham I am not now able to refer to) I have bequeathed £2000 Consolidated Bank annuities to my son Henry Bond And whereas I have lately given a like sum of £2000 Consols to my said son in order that the same might forthwith be transferred to the Trustees of the Settlement made on his marriage and which last mentioned sum I intend to be in lieu of the said £2000 Consols so bequeathed to him as aforesaid Now I do hereby revoke & make void the said bequest of £2000 Consolidated annuities in whatever fraction or form it may have been bequeathed by me to my said son as aforesaid In Witness whereof I the said William Bond have hereunto set my hand at Clifton in the County of Gloucester this fifth day of April 1850 _ Wm Bond (Attestation Clause) Thos Bond _ Mary Bond This is a Codicil to the last Will of me William Bond of Tyneham in the County of Dorset Clerk I bequeath to my son Henry Bond One thousand pounds Consolidated Bank annuities Provided nevertheless that if that if my said last Will or any Codicil or Codicils thereto or by any Settlement or other instrument heretofore executed by me my said son will become entitled immediately on my decease to any money or stock amounting in value to one thousand pounds Consolidated Bank annuities over & above what he will be entitled to receive on the decease of the survivor of myself & my wife under my Marriage Settlement or any other instrument heretofore executed by me then & in that case I revoke & make void the said legacy of one thousand pounds Consolidated Bank annuities expressed to be bequeathed to him by this present Codicil And whereas I have bequeathed fifty pounds to my servant Joseph Hind I hereby revoke the same legacy and in lieu thereof I give to the said Joseph Hind one hundred pounds In Witness whereof I the said William Bond have hereunto set my hand this third day of November 1851 _ William Bond (Attestation Clause) Thos Bond _ Mary Bond This is a Codicil to the last Will of me William Bond of Tyneham in the County of Dorset Clerk Whereas I believe I have bequeathed to my late servant Thomas Spencer by the name of George Spencer or some other name or description the sum of five pounds Now I hereby revoke the said legacy & every other legacy if any which I have given my late servant In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand this 8 th day of Feby 1852 (Attestation Clause) Thos Bond _ Mary Bond Affidavit of due execution by Thomas Bond of Fig Tree Court Temple in the City of London Barrister at Law sworn 5 May 1852 Proved at London with five Codicils 7 th May 1852 to the Reverend John Bond Clerk PCC Prob11/2152 Will of John Dike – 18 October 1636 Anno Dm 1636 Octob: 18 In the name of God Amen I John Dike of Tyneham Sicke in bodie but of good memorie doe make this my last will in mann following Desireing God to pardon all my Sinnes for Jesus Sake and soe to receave me into his kingdome; concerneing my goods I dispose of them in manner following Imprimis I have given to John Symonds the younger a bond for thirtie pounds not yet payed but my will is it shalbe payed when the tyme in the bond mentioned shall come Item I give to Henry Livingston thirteen pounds Item to Pillar Canon thirteen pounds Item to Edith Tomes thirteene pounds Item to my brother William my best Coate and six pounds Item to my brother Richard my ffather bed and six pounds Item to John Dike my Godsonne three pounds Item to the poore of Wareham twentie shillings Item to the poore oftwentie shillings Item I give my linnen and woollen to be parted between John Symonds and Henry Livingston Item I owe my brother Josiah Dike twentie two pounds to be payed to him out of my money or goods Item I name my brother Joseph my Executor and to provide me a reasonable ffunerall and to doe with the residue of my goods as he shall thinke fitting In wittnes whereof I have putt my hand and seale John Dyke In the presence of theis Joane Baker her marke Joane Beaman her marke Item I owe Mr Jolife the Clothier twentie shillings Proved 12 February 1638/9 PCC Prob11/176 Will of Richard Garland – 30 January 1716/7 This is the last Will and Testament of me Richard Garland of the Parish of Tyneham in the County of Dorsett Yeoman And I do declare this to be my Last Will and Testament Imprimis I give and bequeath unto my Wife Mary Garland four hundred pounds to be laid out in an Estate for her naturall life and partly for my children begotten of her, more I give my said wife one shilling Item I give to my Brother Henry Garland the interest of three hundred pounds during his naturall life at the Expiration whereof the said three hundred pounds shall return to my children to be equally divided between them Item I give to my daughter Mary Garland one hundred and ffifty pounds to be paid her at the date of her marriage or when She comes to the age of one and twenty which first shall happen if she dyes before marriage the said money shall be equally divided betweene my surviving Children Item I give more to my Wife Mary Garland of my Household Goods one thing of a sort for her use during her naturall life and after her decease to be equally divided between such of my Children as shall then be living Item I give more to my Brother Henry Garland of my Household Goods one thing of a sort for his use during his naturall life and at the expiration thereof to be equally divided between such of my children as shall then be alive Item the rest of my Household Goods not before given I give and bequeath to my Children to be equally divided between them Item the beforementioned four hundred pounds to be laid out in an Estate for my Wife during her naturall life to be by her enjoyed. After her decease I give and bequeath to my Son Richard Garland and if he happen to dye without issue to be equally divided between my Surviving children Item All the rest of my Goods Chattells etc. I give and bequeath to my son Richard Garland whom I appoint full and sole Executor of this my last Will and Testament Item I appoint and constitute my ffather in Law Thomas Powell of Litton in the County of Dorsett and my Brother Henry Garland and my Sister Margaret ffarr to be Trustees of this my last Will and Testament in the behalfe of my children and of all things herein contained In testimony whereof I have hereunto sett my hand and seale this 30th day January Anno Domini 1716 Richard Garland John Willshear Christian Haynes Proved at London 13 February 1716/17 PCC Pob11/566 Will kindly transcribed by Ros Dunning Will of Henry Hellier – 15 January 1825 This is the last will and testament of me Henry Hellier of Tyneham in the County of Dorset Yeoman made and published this fifteenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and twenty five First I give and bequeath unto my dear wife Mary for and during the term of her natural life one annuity or Yearly sum of thirty pounds of lawful money free and clear of all deductions, to be paid to her half yearly, the said annuity or yearly sum to be paid and payable out of my residuary estate and effects hereinafter bequeathed I also give and bequeath unto my said wife the use of all my household goods and furniture plate linen woollen and china for and during the term of her life and after her decease the same to fall into and form part of my residuary estate and effects hereinafter bequeathed I also give and bequeath unto my daughter Elizabeth the wife of Walter Squibb of Sutton Labourer the weekly sum of four shillings of lawful money for and during the term of her life such weekly sum to be paid to her (without the controul or intermeddling of the said Walter Squibb her said husband) my said daughter weekly and every week and to be payable out of my said residuary estate and effects I also give and bequeath unto my Granddaughter Harriet the wife of Robert Attin of Broadmayne Butcher the sum of Fifty pounds to be paid by my executor hereinafter named at the end of two years next after my decease without interest And also it is my will and desire that my Executor and residuary legatee hereinafter named Shall raise out of my residuary and personal estate hereinafter bequeathed the sum of one hundred and fifty pounds for the purpose of full stating a living called Romsey's living situate at Preston in the said County of Dorset and my will is that he shall name as lives my two Grandsons William and Henry Hellier the children of my late son Thomas Hellier deceased. And lastly all the rest residue and remainder of my estate and effects whatsoever and wheresoever and all my farming Stock crops utensils and implements in Husbandry now standing and being on the farm in my occupation at Tyneham aforesaid, Subject nevertheless to the payment of the said annuity or yearly sum hereinbefore given to my said wife half yearly, and the said sum of four shillings weekly and every week to my said daughter Elizabeth Squibb ; to the payment of the said legacy of fifty pounds to my Granddaughter Harriet Attin , my funeral and other expences, and to the raising of the said sum of one hundred and fifty pounds for the purpose hereinbefore mentioned , I give devise and bequeath to my son Henry Hellier of Tyneham aforesaid Yeoman his executors administrators and assigns And I do hereby make ordain nominate and appoint his my said son Henry Hellier whole and sole executor of this my last will and testament and I do hereby revoke and make void all former wills codicil or codicils by me at any time or times heretofore made and do declare these presents only to be and contain my last will and testament In witness whereof I the said Henry Hellier the testator have to this my will set my hand and affixed my seal the day and year above written Henry Hellier (Attestation Clause) John Gillingham Robert Standley Proved 9 June 1825 Estate below £1500 Dorset Record Office Will of Thomas Lymington – 25 October 1660 Memorandum that on or about the ffive and Twentieth Day of October in the Yeare of our Lord One Thousand Six Hundred and Sixty And in the Twelveth yeare of the Rayne of our most gracious Sovereigne Lord Charles the Second by the Grace of God of England Scotland ffrance and Ireland King Defender of the ffaith Thomas Lymington late of Eggleston in the Isle of Purbeck in the County of Dorsett but Departing his Life att Dorchester in the County aforesaid whiles he lived being in perfect mynd and memory And having an intent to settle his Estate Did make and Declare his last Will and Testament Nuncupative or by word of mouth in these or the like words following (That is to Say) My Master Richard Peirce knoweth what Estate I have And I would desire him to pay out of my Estate All the Debts which I owe And I rest unto him the said Richard Peirce The which words or to the..... that the said deceased did speak with an intent stand for and be his last Will and Testament and be performed after his Death in the psence and hearing of Credible Witnesses (That is to say) of Priscilla Wilson and John Wilson Proved 14 June 1661 PCC Prob11/304 Will kindly transcribed by Ros Dunning Will of Richard Marshallsay – 20 February 1834 This is the last Will and Testament of me Richard Marshallsay of North Egglestone farm within the parish of Tyneham in the county of Dorset Yeoman as follows that is to say I direct that all my just debts funeral expenses and the charges and expenses of proving this my will be paid and discharged by my Executor hereinafter named _ I give devise and bequeath unto my son Richard Jeanes Marshallsay All my messuages lands and hereditaments situate at Wyke Regis in the said county of Dorset To hold the same unto my said son Richard Jeanes Marshallsay his heirs and assigns for ever _ I give and bequeath to my said son Richard Jeanes Marshallsay and to my son William Marshallsay all my plate equally to be divided between them _ I give and bequeath unto my said son William Marshallsay All my household goods and furniture linen woollen china and dairy utensils at North Egglestone aforesaid to and for his own use and benefit _ Also I give and bequeath unto my said son William Marshallsay the live and dead farming stock and implements of husbandry belonging to or which usually have been kept on North Egglestone farm aforesaid together with the growing crops on such farm to and for his own use and benefit _ And as to all the rest residue and remainder of my real and personal estate and effects whatsoever and wheresoever I give devise and bequeath the same unto my said son Richard Jeanes Marshallsay his heirs executors administrators and assigns for ever And I hereby nominate constitute and appoint him my said son Richard Jeanes Marshallsay sole executor of this my will hereby revoking all other wills by me at any time heretofore made and declaring this only to be my last will and testament In Witness whereof I the said Richard Marshallsay have hereunto set my hand and seal this twentieth day of February in the Year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty four Richard Marshallsay (Attestation Clause) D Filliter of Wareham Dorset Attorney Clavell Filliter Henry Filliter Clerks to the said G Filliter Proved 18 October 1835 Dorset Record Office Will kindly transcribed by Ros Dunning Will of Mary Miller – 5 March 1827 This is the last Will and Testament of Mary Miller Widow of the late Henry Miller of Worbarrow in the parish of Tyneham in the County of Dorset _ First I give and bequeath unto Hester Jaret my Daughter 1 Deal Table with Drawers standing in the Kitchen 3 Petticoats and 1 Pair of Stays, Next I give unto Elizabeth Balston my Daughter 1 coloured Quilt which is on my Bed, Then I give unto John Miller my Son the large oval dining Table in the Parlour Next I give and bequeath unto Sarah Poulton my Daughter the large Pier Glass Next I give unto Eliza Spencer my granddaughter the Chest of Drawers in the Parlour Next I give unto George Spencer my Grandson that House which I now reside in with the Garden & all that pertains to it as long as George Miller shall live then I give unto Rebecca Spencer my granddaughter 1 Stump Bedstead six silver Spoons & the Corner Cupboard with all it may contain at my Decease next I give to Charles Spencer my Grandson my large Oak Chest to William Spencer my Son in law the House Garden and all Buildings pertaining thereto in which he the said Thomas Spencer now resides as long as either Henry Poulton , Harriot Balston or Mary Cockram shall live and I do hereby appoint the said Thomas Spencer to be my sole Executor and to pay all my just Debts then he the said Thomas Spencer to have all my Property that is not made mention of in this my last Will & Testament and in the presence of these Witnesses I declare this to be my Will & subscribe my Mark Mary Miller X her Mark Charles Forester Bartholomew Waite Signed March 5th in the Year of our Lord 1827 Proved 1827 Dorset Record Office Will kindly transcribed by Ros Dunning Will of Samuel Miller – 5 June 1833 This is the last Will and Testament of me Samuel Miller of Worbarrow in the Parish of Tyneham in the County of Dorset ffisherman made and published this fifth day of June one thousand eight hundred and thirty three ffirst I Will and direct that all my just debts funeral and testamentary expences shall be paid by my Executrixes herein after named out of my personal property hereinafter bequeathed I give and bequeath unto my son Josiah Miller the sum of one hundred pounds I also give and bequeath unto my daughter Elizabeth Townley and her three sons the sum of one hundred pounds to be equally divided between them I also give and bequeath unto my daughter Mary Bonfield and her children the sum of one hundred pounds to be equally divided between them I also give and bequeath unto my daughter Kezia Lander and her children the sum of one hundred pounds to be equally divided between them I also give and bequeath unto my daughter Sarah Jane Miller the sum of one hundred pounds for her own use I also give and bequeath unto Radican Hill the sum of one hundred pounds for her use which several legacies I desire may be paid as soon as conveniently can be after my decease As to my stock monies three pounds per centum per annum reduced Bank Annuities now standing in my name in the Books of the Governor and Company of the Bank of England my Will and desire is that my dear Wife Elizabeth Miller shall have receive and enjoy the interest and dividends (only of my stock monies) for and during her life and from and after her decease I Will and direct that my said Daughter Elizabeth Townley shall have receive and enjoy the interest and dividends only of one sixth part of my said stock monies for and during her natural life and from and after her decease I give and bequeath such one sixth part of my said stock monies unto her three sons to be equally divided between them share and share alike and I hereby direct my Executrixes to pay or transfer the same accordingly I also Will and direct that my said Daughter Mary Bonfield shall have receive and enjoy the interest and dividends only of one other sixth part of my said stock monies during her life and from and after her decease I give and bequeath such one sixth part of my said stock monies unto her children to be equally divided between them share and share alike and I hereby direct my Executrixes to pay or transfer the same accordingly I also Will and direct that my said Daughter Keziah Lander shall have receive and enjoy the interest and dividends only of one other sixth part of my said stock monies during her natural life and from and after her decease I give and bequeath such one sixth part of my said stock monies unto all and every the children of my Daughter Keziah Lander to be equally divided between them share and share alike And I direct my Executrixes to pay or transfer the same accordingly I also Will and direct that my said son Josiah Miller shall have receive and enjoy the interest and dividends only of one sixth part of my said stock monies for and during his natural life and after his decease I give and bequeath the sum of fifty pounds sterling of such last mentioned one sixth part of my said stock monies unto my granddaughter Mary Ann Miller Townley for her use and benefit and the remainder thereof I give and bequeath unto my said five daughters to be paid them share and share alike and I direct my Executrixes to pay or transfer the same accordingly I also Will and direct that my said Daughter Sarah Jane Miller shall have receive and enjoy the interest and dividends only of one other sixth part of my said stock monies during her natural life and after her decease I Will and direct that such last mentioned one sixth part of my said stock monies shall be paid and transferred unto such person or persons as she my said Daughter Sarah Jane Miller shall by deed or Will give or dispose of the same I also Will and direct that my said daughter Radican Hill shall have receive and enjoy the interest and dividends only of one other sixth part of my said stock monies for and during her life and after her decease I Will and direct that such last mentioned one sixth part of my said stock monies shall be paid and transferred unto such person or persons as she my said daughter Radican Hill shall (notwithstanding her coverture and with or without the consent of her husband Joseph Hill) shall by Deed or Will give or dispose of the same As to my dwelling house in which I reside and the garden buildings and appurtenances

thereto belonging my household goods and furniture and all the rest residue and remainder of my estate and effects of what nature or kind soever and wheresoever I give and bequeath the use thereof unto myWife Elizabeth for and during her life and after her decease I give devise and bequeath the same absolutely unto my said son and my said five daughters to be divided between and amongst them share and share alike And I hereby nominate constitute and appoint my said Daughters Sarah Jane Miller and Radican Hill Executrixes of this my Will and I do hereby empower them to call in and receive all my monies and to sign and give all such receipt or receipts discharge and discharges as shall be required as necessary for the purposes of my Will and also to deduct and retain all such costs charges.....which my Executrixes or the survivor of them shall be put to in executing and performing this my Will and I revoke all former Will or Wills Codicil or Codicils at any time made by me and do declare this only to be my last Will and Testament In Witness whereof I have to this my Will contained in three sheets of paper to the first two sheets I have put my hand and to this third and last sheet my hand and seal the day and year above written_ The Mark of Samuel Miller (Attestation Clause) John Gillingham Clerk to Messrs& Son Solrs Wareham Martin Leahy Wareham Simon Comerford Proved at London 24 Aug 1848 by the Oaths of Sarah Jane Miller Spinster and Radican Hill Widow PCC Prob11/2079 Will of Grace Pointington – 9 January 1587/88 In the name of god amen the ninethe daye of Januarye in the thirtieth yeare of the raigne of our soveraigne Ladie Elizabeth the quenes majestie that now is Anno domini a thousand five hundred eightie eight I Grace Pointington of Tyneham in the countie of Dorsett beinge sick in bodie but of perfect remembrance doe make my last will and testament in manner and forme followinge Viz ffirst I bequeathe my Soule to almightie god And my body to the earthe Item I give unto my Sister Marie Webber widdowe twentie poundes to be payde within one quarter of a yeare after my decease and after the decease of my Sister the money to remaine unto her daughter Elizabeth Webber And I give unto my Sister Webber all my Smocke and Lynen Aprons And to her daughter Elizabeth my durance gowne and a petticoate next the best Item I give to my Brother Nicholas Poyntingtons wife my best gowne my best petticoate all my best bandes and best georgette Item to my Sister Anne Sampford I give my best hatt and a kirtle Item to my Sister Dorothy Winter I give my taffata apron Item I give unto my sisters five Holland yard kerchers Item to Ayme Cole a payer of Gatten gloves two payer of stocking my best cavegarde (?) and a gowld ringe Item to my sonne Hector Daunt als Pointington I give twentie poundes to be paide at the time he shall come to the age of twentie yeares Also I appoynte my sonne my executor And John Williams and Edmond Argenton gen overseers of this my Last will and testament 9 November 1588 Administration granted to Nicholas Pointington brother of the deceased during the minority of Hector Daunt otherwise Pointington PCC Prob11/73 Will of Thomas Rickets – 11 January 1630/31 Anno Dm 1631 Januarie the Eleaventh In the Name of God Amen I Thomas Rickets of Baltington in the Parish of Tyneham in the Isle of Purbeck in the Countie of Dorset yeoman being sicke but of good memorie Doe make this my last will and testament in manner followinge bequeathing my Soule to god through the Merits of Christ and my body to be buried in the Churchyard of Tyneham my goods I give and bequeath in manner as followeth ffirst I give unto Agnes Ricketts my brother Walter 's daughter the Some of thirty pound Item to Bettina Ricketts my brother's daughter I give twenty pound Item to Joane Ricketts my brother's daughter twenty pound Item I give to John Ricketts my brother's Sonn twenty pounds Item I give to Elizabeth Ricketts my brother's daughter fiteene pound Item I give to Marie Ricketts my brother's daughter tenn pound Item my meaninge is that these legacies above given are to be delivered to my brother Walter 's children onely. Item I give to George Ricketts the Sonne of William Ricketts twenty pounds Item I give to Sara Ricketts William Ricketts daughter tenn pound Item I give to John Hoskins twenty pound Item I give to the poore of the Parish of Tyneham thirty shillings Item I give to the Church of Tyneham tenn shillings Item I gice to John Sanford my godsonne one sheepe All the rest of my goods not given nor bequeathed I give unto my wife Grace Ricketts whome I make my whole and sole Executor Item I name and appoint for Overseers of this my will Joseph Dyke of Tyneham and John Esmond of Poverington to each of them one sheepe In wittnesse whereof I have hereunto sett my hand and seale the day and yeare above written Thomas Rickett his marke In the psence of the witnesses Joseph Dike Thomas Clowe his marke (Provided that I give my Executor the time of one yeare for the payment of the legacies and also my Will is that the legacies given to the Children above mentioned shall not be delivered but by the Discretion of the Overseers for there good) Proved at London 14 March 1631/2 PCC Prob11/161 Will kindly transcribed by Ros Dunning Will of George Searley – 5 May 1837 The last Will and Testament of me George Searley of Povington

Dorset Yeoman made this fifth day of May 1837 In the first place I appoint my dear Wife Ann Searley to be my sole Executrix to this my said Will I request my Executrix to pay all my just debts and funeral expences In the first place I give all the Interest in the Estate I now live on left by my late Uncle Harry Willshire of Povington aforesaid unto my Wife subject to certain payments thereon I further give unto my wife all my live and dead Stock on the Estate also all my Goods Chattels ffurniture Plate china wareing apparel and also all monies and security for monies with the interest due thereon in my said dwelling house at the time of my decease for her my said Wife to enjoy the Interest only for her natural life and at her decease I give the aforesaid live and dead Stock Goods and Chattels ffurniture pate China wearing apparel and all monies and security for monies that I die poss'st of unto my only daughter Mary Cooper wife of John Cooper of Povington aforesaid for her own use and benefit and at her own disposal and her receipt alone to be a full discharge but subject to certain payments thereon as below mentioned and to be paid as directed that is to say I give ten pounds to my nephew Charles Richards now residing at Pool within three months after my wife's decease The above Charles Richards is ment the Boy which lately lived with me I declare this to be my last will and testament which have read to me and is agreeable to my wish the same I have made my Cross and made my seal in the presence of those three witnesses _ The Mark of X George Searley Witness this fifth day of May 1837 _ Harry Hammond _ Jos Lampard _ John Tuck Junr Proved at London 30 March 1842 PCC Prob11/1960 Will kindly transcribed by Ros Dunning Will of Joseph Symonds – 17 March 1774 This is the last Will and Testament of me Joseph Symonds of Egglestone within the Parish of Tineham in the Isle of Purbeck and County of Dorset Gentleman made and published the Seventeenth day of March in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Seventy Four First I give and devise unto my Son Joseph Symonds the Younger and his Heirs from and after the decease of my dear and loving Wife Jane who is intitled to the same for her Life by Virtue of our Marriage Settlement All that my Moiety or half part of All that Farm with its Appurtenances now in my own Occupation commonly called or known by the Name of Egglestone Farm situate and being in the Parish of Tineham aforesaid (Subject nevertheless to the Payment of the Annuity hereinafter mentioned) And also Subject to and chargeable with the Payment of a principal Sum of One Hundred Pounds and Interest from the Day of my Decease due on a Bond given by me to my Mother in Law Mary Clapcott Widow deceased) To hold unto my said Son Joseph Symonds the Younger from and after the Decease of my said Wife (Subject and chargeable as aforesaid) his Heirs and Assigns for ever Also I give devise and bequeath unto my Son Samuel Symonds and George Filliter of Wareham in the said County of Dorset Gentleman and to the Survivor of them his Executors or Administrators yearly and every Year and out of my said Moiety of the said Farm called Egglestone Farm by the Person or Persons who shall for the Time being be intitled to the Possession thereof by Virtue of this my Will by equal half yearly Payments from the day of the Decease of my said Wife for and during the natural Life of my Daughter Molly the Wife of Robert Fookes of Church Knowle in the Isle and County aforesaid Yeoman for their own Use and Benefit But In Trust to pay the same unto my said Daughter Molly Fookes for her sole and separate Use and Benefit apart from her said Husband and not to be received or intermeddled with by him. And her Receipt and Receipts shall be to the said Samuel Symonds and George Filliter or the Survivor of them his Executors or Administrators (notwithstanding her Coverture) good and sufficient Discharges and Discharge for the same Also I give and bequeath to my Grandchildren William and Molly Son and Daughter of my said Son Joseph Symonds the Younger the Sum of Ten Pounds apiece Also I give and bequeath unto my Grandchildren Jane and Elizabeth Daughters of my said Daughter Molly Fookes the Sum of Ten Pounds apiece Also I give and bequeath unto my said Wife one Moiety or half Part of all my Household Goods and Furniture Also I give and bequeath unto my said Son Samuel Symond s the other Moiety or half Part of my said Household Goods and Furniture and also my Stock of Cattles Corn Hay Husbandry Utensils and Implements whatsoever And also the Sum of One Hundred Pounds in Money And all the Rest and Residue of my Goods Chattles Credits Moneys Securities for Money real and personal estates (not hereinbefore given and bequeathed) I give devise and bequeath unto my said Son Samuel his Heirs Executors and Administrators forever And do make and appoint him my said Son Samuel soel Executor of this my last Will and Testament In Testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and Seal and declared this to be and contain my whole last Will and Testament the Day and Year above written Joseph Symonds (Attestation Clause) James Randall Thomas Clasby George Smith Proved 15 May 1774 Dorset Record Office Will kindly transcribed by Ros Dunning Top Will of Henry Willshire – 15 October 1780 In the Name of God Amen I Henry

Willshire of Backington in the Parish of Tineham in the Isle of Purbeck in the County of Dorset Yeoman being weak in Body but of sound and perfect Mind Memory and Understanding Thanks be given unto God for the same Do make this my last Will and Testament First I give devise and bequeath unto Jane my dearly beloved Wife all that my Freehold Tenement situate lying and being at Povington within the said Parish of Tineham called or known by the Name of Newham Tenement for and during her natural Life in lieu of her Dower provided she shall continue a Widow but in Case she shall Marry again then and in such Case I give devise and bequeath the same to my Executor hereinafter named Also I give devise and bequeath unto my Daughter Mary the Wife of Henry Sampson of Lutton in the Parish of Steeple in the said Isle of Purbeck the Sum of One Hundred Pounds as and for her Marriage Portion unless I shall pay the same before my decease Also I give devise and bequeath unto my Daughter Ann Willshire the Sum of One Hundred Pounds of lawful Money of Great Britain Also I give devise and bequeath unto my Grand Daughters Jane Anne & Betty Alner the Sum of Ten Guineas a Piece to be paid to each of them when they arrive at their respective Ages of Twenty one Years Also I give devise and bequeath the Fee simple and Inheritance of all and singular my said Freehold Tenement at Povington aforesaid to my two Sons Thomas Willshire and Henry Willshire equal between them and their Heirs and Assigns for ever Share and Share alike And I also constitute make and appoint my said Thomas Willshire and Henry Willshire joint and sole Executors of this my Will to whom I also give devise and bequeath all the rest residue and remainder of all and singular my Lands Monies Goods and Chattels And I do hereby revoke my former Wills ratifying and confirming this and no other to be my last Will and Testament In Witness whereof I have hereunto set my Hand and Seal this ffteenth Day of October in the Year of our Lord one Thousand seven Hundred and eighty Henry Willshire (Attestation Clause) Robert Whittell

Samuel Burt Proved 10 December 1780 Dorset Record Office Will kindly transcribed by Ros Dunning Will of Henry Willshire – 18 April 1827 This is the last Will and Testament of me Henry Willshire of Povington within the Parish of Tyneham in the County of Dorset Yeoman which I make as follows that is to say ffirst I direct that all my just debts funeral expences the charges of proving this my Will be paid and discharged by my Executors hereinafter named I give devise and bequeath unto my Niece Ann Searly Wife of George Searly of Povington aforesaid Yeoman All that my ffreehold tenement dwellinghouse buildings gardens with the several pieces and parcels of Arable Meadow and Pasture ground rights of Common Land hereditaments and Premises with the Appurtenances thereto belonging now in my occupation situate and being in Povington aforesaid To hold the same to her the said Ann Searley and her assigns for and during the term of her natural life on condition of her the said Ann Searley and assigns paying thereout during the continuance of the said term unto my Nephew Richard Sampson of West Parley in the County of Dorset aforesaid or in the County of Hants Yeoman his heirs executors administrators and assigns one annuity clear yearly rent charge or sum of seven pounds and ten shillings of lawful money current in England payable half yearly free of all taxes and other deductions parliamentary or otherwise to be issuing and payable out of the aforesaid ffreehold tenement land heredit and Premises and to commence from the day of my decease and in case of non-payment thereof or any part thereof I hereby authorize and empower the said Richard Sampson his heirs executors administrators and assigns from time to time to seize and distrain for the same together with all costs charges and expences attending such seizure and distress Also on condition of her the said Ann Searley and her assigns paying out of the aforesaid ffreehold tenement land hereditaments and Premises during the continuance of the said term unto all and every the Child and Children of my Nephew Thomas Willshire Sampson late of Longham in the County of Dorset or Hants aforesaid Yeoman deceased their heirs executors administrators and assigns one other annuity clear yearly rent charge or sum of seven pounds and ten shillings of lawful money aforesaid payable half yearly free of all taxes to commence from the day of my Decease And in case of non-payment thereof or any part thereof I hereby authorize all and every the said child and children of my said late Nephew Thomas Willshire Sampson their or either of their heirs executors administrators and assigns from time to time to seize and distrain for the same together with all costs charges and expences attending such seizure and also on condition of her the said Ann Searley and her assigns keeping all and singular the said tenement buildings hereditaments and premises in tenantable repair during the continuance of the said term and from and immediately after the decease of my said Niece Ann Searly The as to for and concerning one moiety or equal half part of all that my said ffreehold tenement Dwelling house Buildings Gardens with the several pieces and parcels of arable meadow and pasture land rights of Common land hereditaments and Premises with the Appurtenances thereto belonging I give devise and bequeath the same unto my aforesaid Nephew Richard Sampson his heirs and assigns for ever and as to for and concerning the other moiety or equal half part of all that my said freehold tenement dwelling house buildings gardens with the several pieces and parcels of arable meadow and pasture land rights of Common land hereditaments and Premises with the Appurtenances thereto belonging I give devise and bequeath the same unto the Child and Children of my said late Nephew Thomas Willshire Sampson their heirs and assigns for ever as tenants in common and not as joint tenants Also I give and bequeath unto the aforesaid Richard Sampson and George Searly the sum of one thousand pounds part of my bank Stock now standing in my name in the new four per cent annuities Upon trust that they my said trustees and the survivor of them and the executors and administrators of such survivor shall and do continue and ... the same One thousand pounds bank stock remain in the said public funds upon the trusts and to and for the uses intents and purposes hereinafter declared of and concerning the same that is to say Upon trust that they shall and do receive and take the Interest Dividends and Proceeds thereof from time to time as the same shall become due and payable and pay apply and dispose of the same in manner and form following (that is to say) As to for and concerning the Interest Dividends and Proceeds of the sum of five hundred pounds bank stock part of the aforesaid sum of One thousand pounds bank Stock Upon trust to Pay the same unto my Niece Jane Richards Wife of John Richards of Chamberlins within the Parish of Bere Regis in the County of Dorset aforesaid Dairyman for and during the term of her natural life and her receipt alone notwithstanding her coverture shall at all times be a sufficient discharge for the same And from and immediately after her decease Then upon trust to pay and apply assign and transfer the said sum of five hundred pounds bank stock with the Interest Dividends and Proceeds thereof unto all and every the child and children of the said Jane Richards their executors administrators and assigns equally to be divided between them as tenants in common and not as joint tenants and if but one of them the whole to such only child his or her executors administrators and assigns Provided always and I do hereby declare and direct that if any or either of the children of the said Jane Richards shall depart this life without leaving Issue of his her or their body or bodies lawfully begotten then the share hereby intended and provided for any such child as well original as accruing by virtue of this clause or proviso of and in the said five hundred pounds bank stock shall from time to time go accrue and belong unto the survivors or survivor and other or others of them their executors administrators and assigns equally to be divided between them as tenants in common and if but one survivor then the whole to such only one his or her executors administrators and assigns And to for and concerning the interest Dividends and Proceeds of the sum of five hundred pounds Bank Stock residue of the aforesaid sum of One thousand pounds bank Stock Upon trust to pay the same unto my aforesaid Niece Ann Searley for and during the term of her natural life and her receipt alone notwithstanding her coverture shall at all times be a sufficient discharge for the same And from and immediately after her decease Then upon trust to pay and apply assign and transfer the said sum of five hundred pounds bank Stock with the Interest Dividends and Proceeds thereof unto Mary Searley daughter of the said Ann Searley her executors administrators and assigns to and for her and their own use and benefit All the rest residue and remainder of my Monies Securities for Money Chattels Estate and Effects of what nature or kind soever I give devise and bequeath the same and every part thereof unto the aforesaid Jane Richards and Ann Searley their heirs executors administrators and assigns for ever equally to be divided between them as tenants in common and not as joint tenants And it is my will and I do hereby declare that my said trustees and executors and each of them and the heirs executors administrators and assigns of them and each of them shall severally be charged and chargeable only for so much money as they respectively shall actually receive by virtue of the trusts hereby in them reposed notwithstanding their or either of their giving or joining in giving or signing any receipt or receipts for the sake of conformity and that either of them shall not be answerable or accountable for the other of them or for the acts deeds receipts or defaults of the other of them but each of them for his own acts deeds receipts or defaults respectively and that they or either of them shall not be answerable or accountable for any banker broker or other person with whom or in whose hands any part of the said trust monies shall or may be deposited for safe custody or otherwise in the execution of the trusts hereinbefore contained and that they or either of them shall not be answerable or accountable for any loss or damage which shall or may happen in the execution of the aforesaid trusts (except the same shall happen by or through his or their own default and that it shall and may be lawful for them with and out of the monies which shall come to their respective hands by virtue of the trusts aforesaid to retain to and reimburse themselves respectively and to allow their Cotrustee all costs charges damages and expences which they or either of them respectively shall suffer sustain or expend in or about the execution of the trusts aforesaid or in relation thereto And I nominate constitute and appoint the aforesaid Richard Sampson and Searley Executors In trust of this my will And lastly I do revoke and make void all former and other Will and Wills at any time heretofore made and do declare this only to be my last Will and Testament In Witness whereof I the said Henry Willshire the Testator have to this my last Will and Testament contained in three sheets of paper set my hand and seal (that is to say) to the first two sheets I have subscribed my hand and to this third and last sheet I have subscribed my hand and affixed my Seal the eighteenth day of April in the Year of our Lord One thousand eight hundred and twenty seven Henry Willshire (Attestation Clause) Henry Hammond – Samuel Cooper _ William Cooper Proved at London 28 th August 1827 to Richard Sansom (in the Will written Sampson) and George Searley PCC Prob11/1730 Will of Thomas Willshire – 16 March 1795 This is the last Will and Testament of me Thomas Willshire of Baltington Farm within the parish of Tineham in the Isle of Purbeck in the County of Dorset Yeoman made and published this sixteenth day of March in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Ninety ffive as follows that is to say First I Give and devise unto my Brother Henry Willshire All that my undivided Moiety or half part of All that Messuage or Tenement Lands Grounds and Premises with the Appurtenances situate lying and being at Povington in the said parish of Tineham which he and I hold as Tenants in Common under the Will of our late Father called Newham Tenement To Hold unto my said Brother Henry Willshire his Heirs and Assigns for ever Also I Give unto my dear and loving Wife Deborah Six Ash Chairs a Small Square Oak leaf Table Two oak oval Tea Tables and a mahogany Tea Chest usually standing in the Hall the best Beds Bedsteed and curtains Two best Quilts Two pair of the best Blanketts Three pair of the best Sheets A Chest of Drawers usually standing in the Chamber over the Kitchen A large Oak Chest a large deal Chest An Oak dining Table usually standing in the East Chamber the largest Boiler A Brass Kettle A Silver Cream Mugg two Silver Table Spoons Twelve Silver Tea Spoons and such of my China and Earthen Ware as she shall make Choice of The Dresser and Shelves in the Kitchen Four pewter plates and Twelve pewter Dishes to be delivered her by my Executor hereinafter named within one Month after my Decease Also I Give unto my said Wife Deborah the Sum of Two Hundred Pounds in lawfull Money of Great Britain over and besides the Two Hundred Pounds I settled on her on our Marriage Also I Give unto my Sister Ann Wife of Robert Cole the Sum of One Hundred Pounds in like lawfull Money aforesaid Also I Give unto my Sister Mary Wife of Henry Sampson the Sum of One Hundred Pounds in like lawfull Money aforesaid Also I Give unto my Niece Jane Wife of John Richards the Sum of Sixty Pounds in the like lawfull Money aforesaid Also I give unto my Niece Ann Alner the Sum of Fifty Pounds in like lawfull Money aforesaid Also I give unto my Niece Betty Alner the Sum of Fifty Pounds in like lawfull Money aforesaid Also I give unto Jane or Jenny Daughter of William Cooper of West Creech Farm in like lawfull Money aforesaid And my Will is and I do hereby direct that the several Pecuniary Legacies hereinbefore given shall be paid the respective Legatees thereof at the End of One Year after my Decease And as to and concerning all the Rest Residue and Remainder of my Household Goods and Furniture Plate Linnen and China Wares Stock of Cattle Corn Hay Husbandry utensils and Implements Monies Securities for Money personal Estate and Effects whatsoever or wheresoever or of what Nature or Kind soever (after Payment of my Just Debts and Funeral Expences and the Legacies hereinbefore given) I Give and bequeath the same and every part thereof unto my said Brother Henry Willshire In Case my said Brother Henry Willshire do and shall within one Month after my Decease Assign and set over In Consideration of One Shilling All that Cottage and Garden with the Appurtenances situate at Baltington aforesaid late James Elbys (which he and I purchased of Humphrey Just (?) Esquire deceased as Joint Tenants) unto my said dear and loving Wife Deborah her Exors Adm and Assigns during the Remainder of the Term then to come therein as her own sole Property But in Case my said Brother Henry Willshire shall not Assign and set over the said Cottage and Garden with the Appurtenances unto my said Wife within the Time and in manner aforesaid Then I Give the said Rest Residue and Remainder and every part thereof unto my said Wife And lastly I do make constitute and appoint my said Brother Henry Willshire whole and Sole Executor of this my last Will and Testament hereby revoking and making Void all former and other Wills and Testaments by me at any Time or Times heretofore made and declaring this only to be and contain my whole Last Will and Testament In Testimony Whereof I have hereunto set my Hand and Seal the Day and Year first written Thomas Willshire (Attestation Clause) James Richards Wm Selby Geo: Filliter Proved 7 March 1796 Under

Probate Calendar Entries

This page shows probate calendar entries for former Tyneham residents, ancestors and descendants listed by surname. Jump to Surnames beginning with: A N O U V X Y Z Beatrice Bessie BALSON died 20 January 1946 &&& see Beatrice Bessie WALLBRIDGE Herbert John BALSON died 4 May 1962 &&& BALSON Herbert John of 57 Green Road Poole died 4 May 1962. Administration Winchester 15 August (1962) to Gertrude Ellen Balson widow. Effects £280 10s. Susan Priscilla BALSON died 28 June 1947 &&& see Susan Priscilla CHARLES James BASCOMBE died 21 January 1911 &&& BASCOMBE James of Baltington Farm Tyneham Dorsetshire died 21 January 1911. Administration (with Will) Blandford 21 March (1911) to Bessie Eliza Bascombe widow. Effects £1,101 4s 11d. Algernon Arthur Garneys BOND died 13 June 1911 &&& BOND Algernon Arthur Garneys of Tyneham Wareham Dorsetshire died 13 June 1911 at the Military Hospital Calcutta India. Administration London 3 June (1912) to William Henry Bond Esq. Effects £926 16s 1d. Reverend Henry Bond died 27 September 1875 &&& BOND The Reverend Henry. 1 February (1876). The Will with four Codicils attached of the Reverend Henry Bond late of South Petherton in the County of Somerset Clerk who died 27 February 1875 at South Petherton was proved at Taunton by the Reverend John Bond of Weston in he said County Clerk and Thomas Bond of Tyneham in the County of Dorset Esquire the Brothers the Executors. Effects under £18,000. Herbert Ivo de Kenton BOND died 27 November 1953 &&& BOND Herbert Ivo de Kenton of 1 Queens-avenue Dorchester Dorsetshire died 27 November 1953 at The Dorset County Hospital Dorchester. Probate London 5 February (1954) to Lilian Mary Garneys Bond widow and Charles Henry May solicitor. Effects £9,704 17s 2d. Leonora Sophia BOND died 21 March 1956 &&& BOND Leonora Sophia of Holme Wareham Dorsetshire spinster died 21 March 1956. Probate Winchester 21 June (1956) to Lloyds Bank Limited. Effects £10,027 8s 4d. Louisa Charlotte BOND died 21 July 1963 &&& BOND Louisa Charlotte of East Holme Wareham Dorsetshire spinster died 21 July 1963 at 3 Owls Road Boscombe Bournemouth. Probate Winchester 11 October (1963) to Lloyds Bank Limited. Effects £20,833 11s. William Henry BOND died 11 January 1935 &&& BOND William Henry of Tyneham Corfe Castle Dorsetshire died 11 January 1935. Probate (save and except settled land) London 11 March (1935) to William Ralph Garneys Bond retired political service officer and Charles Henry May solicitor. Effects £27,335 17s 6d. Further grant 19 August 1935. &&& BOND William Henry of Tyneham Corfe Castle Dorsetshire died 11 January 1935. Probate (limited to settled land) London 19 August (1935) to Lewys Legge Yeatman solicitor and Herbert Ivo De Kenton Bond civil engineer. Effects £8,600. Former grant P.R. 11 March 1935. William Ralph Garneys BOND died 10 February 1952 &&& BOND William Ralph Garneys of Moigne Combe Dorchester Dorsetshire died 10 February 1952 at Moffat House Weymouth Dorsetshire. Probate London 21 March (1952) to Charles Henry May solicitor. Effects £85,471 0s 7d. Winifred Mary BRACHI (formerly WHEELER neé MATTHEWS) died 9 September 1942 &&& BRACHI Winifred Mary of the Mill House Bourne End Boxmoor Hertfordshire (wife of Charles Clarence Brachi) died 9 September 1942 at West Hertfordshire Hospital Hemel Hempstead Hertfordshire. Administration Oxford 8 January (1943) to the said Charles Clarence Brachi squadron-leader R.A.F. and David Peter Brachi flight-lieutenant R.A.F.V.R. Effects £1,710 2s. Ethel Inez Jane CHAPPLE died 11 July 1960 &&& CHAPPLE Ethel Inez Jane otherwise Ethel Inez of Armidale Salcombe Devon widow died 11 July 1960 at South Hams Hospital Kingsbridge Devon. Probate Exeter 13 September (1960) to John Stewart Jeffrey Chapple bank manager. Effects £3,424 19s 4d. George Stewart CHAPPLE died 13 January 1942 &&& CHAPPLE George Stewart of Primrose Cottage Povington Tyneham Dorsetshire died 13 January 1942. Probate Llandudno 10 August (1942) to Ethel Inez Jane Chapple widow. Effects £6,980 16s 6d. Susan Priscilla CHARLES neé BALSON died 28 June 1947 &&& CHARLES Susan Priscilla of 22 Kimmeridge Dorsetshire widow died 28 June 1947. Administration Winchester 4 September (1947) to Alfred Charles Balson corporation employee and Adelaide Mabel Godden (wife of Ernest Godden). Effects £877 5s 8d. Bernard CHILCOTT died 28 December 1917 &&& CHILCOTT Bernard of Lutton Farm Steeple Dorsetshire a gunner siege battery Royal Garrison Artillery died 28 December 1917 in France.

Administration Blandford 28 February (1918) to James Arthur Chilcott retired farmer. Effects £1,436 7s 6d. Alice Maude CHURCHILL nee WEBBER died 9 September 1955 &&& CHURCHILL Alice Maude of 1 Greenland Cottages Stoborough Wareham Dorsetshire (wife of Thomas Henry Churchill) died 9 September 1955. Probate Winchester 21 October (1955) to Wilfred George Slade bricklayer and Reginald James Burt solicitors clerk. Effects £384 9s 6d. Job CHURCHILL died 26 February 1931 &&& CHURCHILL Job of The Lodge Bury St. Austens Rudgwick Sussex died 26 February 1931. Probate London 27 March (1931) to Edward Louis Churchill farm bailiff and Ralph Neville Jones solicitor. Effects £2,260 8s. Albert Thomas COOPER died 3 January 1942 &&& COOPER Albert Thomas of 1 Sunnysdale Villas Swanage Dorsetshire died 3 January 1942. Probate Winchester 24 July (1942) to Charles Edwin Cooper carpenter and Beatrice Mary Cooper spinster. Effects £2,260 8s. Eleanor Elizabeth COOPER died 3 October 1943 &&& see Eleanor Elizabeth RYALL Joseph COOPER died 30 September 1872 &&& COOPER Joseph. 4 January 1873. The will of Joseph Cooper late of Povington in the Parish of Tyneham in the County of Dorset Yeoman who died 30 September 1872 at Povington was proved at the Principal Registry by Mary Cooper of Povington Widow the Relict the sole Executrix. Effects under £300. William Joseph COOPER died 31 March 1951 &&& COOPER William Joseph of The School House Grange near Wareham Dorsetshire died 31 March 1951. Probate Winchester 24 May (1951) to Ernest Edward Cooper clayworker. Effects £371 3s 6d. Frederick de la Poer Beresford CORFIELD died 7 March 1929 &&& CORFIELD the reverend Frederick de la Poer Beresford of The Sanctuary Watchet Somersetshire clerk died 8 June 1954. Probate London 6 September (1954) to Gertrude Phoebe Meirion Rees spinster. Effects £8,638 6s 4d. Gertrude Annie CORFIELD died 7 March 1929 &&& CORFIELD Gertrude Annie of Nettlecombe Rectory Williton Somersetshire (wife of the reverend Frederick De la Poer Beresford Corfield) died 7 March 1929. Administration Taunton 17 February (1930) to the said reverend Frederick De la Poer Beresford Corfield clerk. Effects £84. Grace DRAPER died 3 May 1923 &&& DRAPER Grace of Bedford House Chiswick Middlesex (wife of Warwick Herbert Draper) died 3 May 1923. Administration London 23 June (1923) to the said Warwick Herbert Draper barrister at law. Effects £598 4s 5d. Warwick Herbert DRAPER died 17 May 1926 &&& DRAPER Warwick Herbert of Bedford House The Mall Chiswick Middlesex died 17 May 1926. Probate London 16 June (1926) to Philip Draper engineer and Evelyn John Maude barrister-at-law. Effects £11,884 10s 11d. Gwendoline Agnes Jane DRISCOLL nee Hall died 18 December 1975 &&& DRISCOLL Gwendoline Agnes Jane of 112 Salisbury Dv Marlborough Salisbury Rhodesia died 18 December 1975. Probate Leeds 4 March (1976). £1,599. William DRISCOLL died 17 August 1964 &&& DRISCOLL William of Post Office Kimmeridge Wareham Dorset died 17 August 1964. Probate Winchester 16 December (1964) to Gwendoline Agnes Jane Driscoll widow. £3,376. Felix ELMES died 4 March 1923 &&& ELMES Felix of the Rifle Butts Holme-lane Wareham Dorsetshire labourer died 4 March 1923. Probate Blandford 23 March (1923) to Frederick Charles Talbot labourer and Jane Ann Morris (wife of Albert Edwin Morris). Effects £146 14s 8d. Frank FOOKS died 9 February 1947 &&& FOOKS Frank of Frost Breach Grange-road Wareham Dorsetshire died 9 February 1947. Administration Winchester 19 April (1947) to Eva Gladys Fooks widow. Effects £106 13s 5d. Tamar FOOKS died 5 January 1898 &&& see Tamar KING Revd. Edwin George Clifford FREND died 15 January 1937 &&& FREND reverend Edwin George Clifford of Tyneham Rectory Corfe Castle Dorsetshire clerk died 15 January 1937. Probate London 13 April (1937) to Edith Frend widow and Randall George Davidson of no occupation. Effects £10,651 3s 2d. Edward Frederick GODDEN died 26 March 1964 &&& GODDEN Edward Frederick of 27 Edward Crescent Wareham Dorset died 26 March 1964 at The General Hospital Poole. Administration Winchester 13 August (1964) to Rose Mary Godden widow. £1,445 George GOVER died 8 February 1876 &&& GOVER George. 1 April (1876). The Will of George GOVER late of North Egglestone in the Parish of Tyneham in the County of Dorset Yeoman who died 8 February 1876 at North Egglestone was proved at the Principal Registry by William Hopkins of Organford in the Parish of Lytchett Minster in the said County Esquire and Robert Dorey of Barnston in the Parish of Church Knowle in the said County two of the Executors. Effects over £4,000. Malvina HARPER died 16 March 1964 &&& see Malvina PRITCHARD Revd. Claude Samuel HOMAN died 5 May 1947 &&& HOMAN the reverend Claude Samuel of 72 Parkstone-road Poole clerk died 5 May 1947 at Queen Elizabeth Hospital Birmingham. Probate London 14 August (1947) to John Digby Hyde Bankes solicitor Arthur Gerald Biden retired civil servant and the reverend Joseph Pullibank clerk. Effects £24,025

10s 10d. Eleanor Elizabeth HOULISTON neé Miller died 18 January 1956 &&& HOULISTON Eleanor Elizabeth of 42 Primrose-avenue Chadwell Heath Essex widow died 18 January 1956. Administration London 10 April (1956) to Evelyn Annie Houliston spinster and Hector William Frederick Houliston newsagent and tobacconist. Effects £1,177 8s 5d. Herbert John HOUSE died 15 August 1958 &&& HOUSE Herbert John of North Holworth Farm Owermoigne Dorset died 15 August 1958 at Dorset County Hospital Dorchester Dorset. Administration London 1 December (1958) to Lloyds Bank Limited. Effects £21,324 17s 6d. Charles William HOWARD died 28 November 1928 &&& HOWARD Charles William of Egliston Farm Tyneham Dorsetshire died 28 November 1928. Probate London 1 February (1929) to Emily Alice Howard widow and George Frederick Howard farmer. Effects £725 17s 1d. George Frederick HOWARD died 12 April 1956 &&& HOWARD George Frederick of Spinneybrook Ringstead Osmington Dorset died 12 April 1956 at Moffat House Weymouth Dorset. Administration London 20 July (1956) to Charles Gordon Howard farmer. Effects £24797 15s 11d Elizabeth Anne HULL died 5 March 1917 &&& see Elizabeth Anne PAULL James Symes HULL died 17 June 1917 &&& HULL James Symes of Rew House Winterbourne Saint Martin Dorsetshire died 17 June 1917. Probate London 15 August (1917) to John Chilcott Davy and George Mayo farmers and Anne Hull widow. Effects £7,957 4s 2d. William Shetler HULL died 20 February 1885 &&& HULL William Shetler. 25 April 1885. The Will of William Shetler Hull late of Tyneham in the County of Dorset Farmer who died 20 February 1885 at Tyneham was proved at Blandford by William Shetler Hull of Druce Farm in the County of Dorset Joseph Symes Hull of Stinsford Farm in the said County and James Symes Hull of Lower Bockhampton Farm in the said County Farmers the Sons the three Executors. Personal; Estate £1,942 10s 2d. William Shetler HULL died 20 October 1897 &&& HULL William Shetler of Druce Piddletown Dorsetshire farmer died 20 October 1897. Probate London 2 December (1897) to Susan Frances Hull widow William Shetler Hull farmer and Emily Maude Hull spinster. Effects £7,052 15s. Tamar KING (neé FOOKS) died 5 January 1898 &&& KING Tamar of 97 and 97a Shoe-lane London widow died 5 January 1898 at 97 Shoe-lane. Administration London 18 February (1898) to Harriet Sophia King spinster. Effects £87 10s. Albert Bernard LONGMAN died 9 December 1943 &&& LONGMAN Albert Bernard of Baltington Farm Tyneham Dorsetshire died 9 December 1943 at Corfe Castle Dorsetshire. Administration Winchester 11 February (1944) to Louisa Winifred Mary Sheasby (wife of Stanley Sheasby) and Reginald Charles Longman. Effects £3,167 7s 11d. William Henry LONGMAN died 8 January 1951 &&& LONGMAN William Henry of 12 Belvidere Weymouth Dorset died 8 January 1951 at Malvina Coome-avenue Weymouth. Probate London 10 May (1951) to Raymond Ilfred Henry Longman company director. Effects £2,231 15s 11d. Eleanor Elizabeth MILLER died 18 January 1956 – see Eleanor Elizabeth HOULISTON Harriet Deborah MILLER (neé WHITE) died 29 August 1947 &&& MILLER Harriet Deborah of Rose Cottage Stoborough near Wareham Dorsetshire widow died 29 August 1947. Administration Winchester 16 September (1947) to Charlotte Deborah Head (wife of Albert Head). Effects £648 12s 8d. Elizabeth Anne PAULL (neé HULL) died 5 March 1917 &&& PAULL Elizabeth Anne of 73 Streatham Hill Surrey died 5 March 1917. Administration London 28 April (1917) to William Ernest Paull ironmonger. Effects £1,566 17s 5d. Priscilla PHIPPARD died 24 April 1903 &&& see Priscilla STYLES Arthur Charles PRITCHARD died 11 February 1929 &&& PRITCHARD Arthur Charles of the School House Melbury Abbas Dorsetshire died 11 February 1929. Administration London 8 June (1929) to Malvina Pritchard widow. Effects £213 3s 9d. Malvina PRITCHARD (neé HARPER) died 16 March 1964 &&& PRITCHARD Malvina of 3 The Crescent Mampitts Road Shaftesbury Dorset widow died 16 March 1964 at Westminster Memorial Hospital Shaftesbury. Administration (with Will) London 8 April (1964) to Arthur Walter Pritchard sales representative. £2,588 Charles Churchill REDOUT died 6 August 1872 &&& REDOUT Charles Churchill. 25 September 1872. Administration of the effects of Charles Churchill Redout late of Tyneham in the County of Dorset late a Quarter Master belonging to Her Majesty's Ship 'Renaldo' a Bachelor who died 6 August 1872 at Tyneham was granted at Blandford to John Redout of Tyneham Labourer the Father and Next of Kin. Effects under £100. James RICHARDS died 3 September 1863 &&& Letters of Administration of the Personal estate and effects of James Richards late of Mapperton in the County of Dorset Labourer a Widower deceased who died 3 September 1863 at Mapperton aforesaid were granted at Blandford to John Richards of Tyneham in the said County Labourer the Brother and one of the Next of Kin of the said Deceased he having been first sworn. Effects under £100. Eleanor Elizabeth RYALL (neé COOPER) died 3

October 1943 &&& RYALL Eleanor Elizabeth of Durlston Park Dairy Southcliff-road Swanage Dorsetshire widow died 3 October 1943. Probate Winchester 12 August (1944) to Herbert Charles Ryall and Thomas Ryall farmers. Effects under £2,120 2s 11d. John RYALL died 5 April 1938 &&& RYALL John of Durlston Park Dairy Southcliff-road Swanage Dorsetshire died 5 April 1938. Administration Blandford 2 July (1938) to Eleanor Elizabeth Ryall widow Herbert Charles Ryall and Thomas Ryall farmers. Effects £2,310 11s. Hans SAUER died 28 August 1939 &&& SAUER Hans of Hotel de Bretagne Dinan Cote du Nord France and of Bath Club 34 Dover-street Westminster died 28 August 1939 at Hotel de Bretagne. Probate London 8 December (1939) to Cecilia Josephine Sauer widow. Effects £1900 3s 6d in England. Robert SCUTT died 24 April 1866 &&& SCUTT Robert. 18 May (1866). The Will of Robert Scutt late of Baltington Farm in the Parish of Tyneham in the Isle of Purbeck in the County of Dorset Yeoman deceased who died 24 April 1866 at Baltington Farm aforesaid was proved at Blandford by the oath of William Shitler Hull of Druce farm in the Parish of Piddletown in the County aforesaid Yeoman the sole Executor. Effects under £2,000 Thomas House SQUIBB died 6 November 1939 &&& SQUIBB Thomas House of 258 Great West-road Hounslow Middlesex died 6 November 1939. Administration London 20 January (1940) to Emily Louisa Squibb widow. Effects £791 3s 2d. Walter Case SMITH died 28 January 1948 &&& SMITH Walter Case of Holly Lodge Stapehill near Wimborne Dorsetshire died 28 January 1948. Probate Winchester 25 March (1948) to Frederick Eustace Vye retired butcher and Harry Kirk solicitor. Effects £9,570 9s. Harry STEVENS died 16 July 1917 &&& STEVENS Harry of Newton Cottages Newton Swanage Dorsetshire a private in the 2nd Dorsetshire regiment died 16 July 1917 at Basra Hospital Mesopotamia. Probate Blandford 15 October (1917) to Alice Daisy Maria Stevens widow and Robert Stevens and Charles William Howard farmers. Effects £712 8s. Mary STICKLAND died 29 December 1916 &&& STICKLAND Mary of 2 Railway Cottages London-road Salisbury widow died 29 December 1916. Administration Salisbury 29 January (1917) to Agnes Louisa Mary Bowring (wife of Arthur Tom Bowring). Effects £217 13s 6d. Priscilla STYLES (née Phippard) died 24 April 1903 &&& STYLES Priscilla of Worbarrow-in-Tyneham Dorsetshire (wife of Thomas Thorn Styles) died 24 April 1903. Administration Blandford 25 May (1903) to the said Thomas Thorn Styles coastguard. Effects £193 10s. Thomas Thorne STYLES died 2 June 1925 &&& STYLES Thomas Thorne of Fairholme Northbrook-road Swanage Dorsetshire died 2 June 1925 at the Royal Naval Hospital Portland Dorsetshire. Probate Blandford 21 December (1926) to Minnie Martha Styles widow. Effects £1,357 15s 2d. Richard TIZZARD died 7 October 1915 &&& TIZZARD Richard of Worbarrow near Corfe Castle Dorsetshire agricultural labourer died 7 October 1915 Probate Blandford 28 October (1915) to Emma Jane Miller widow. Effects £264 17s 6d. Rev. William TRUELL died 12 July 1885 &&& TRUELL The Reverend William. 20 August 1885. The Will of the Reverend William Truell formerly Perpetual Curate of the Parish of Stoke-sub-Hamden in the County of Somerset but late of Tyneham in the County of Dorset Clerk who died 12 July 1885 at Tyneham was proved at the Principal Registry by Jane Truell of Tyneham Widow the Relict the sole Executrix. Personal Estate £1,606 8s 7d. Beatrice Bessie WALLBRIDGE neé BALSON died 20 January 1946 &&& WALLBRIDGE Beatrice Bessie of 3 Cornish-road Charlestown Chickerell Weymouth Dorsetshire (wife of Henry George Wallbridge) died 20 January 1946 at The District Hospital Weymouth. Administration Winchester 17 December (1946) to the said Henry George Wallbridge milk roundsman. Effects £309 16s 10d. John WHEELER died 30 November 1913 &&& WHEELER John of Worbarrow near Wareham Dorsetshire died 30 November 1913. Probate London 22 December (1913) to Walter Thomas Ware florist and Mary Jane Wheeler widow. Effects £2,462 10s. Winifred Mary WHEELER &&& Winifred Mary BRACHI Harriet Deborah WHITE died 29 August 1947 &&& see Harriet Deborah MILLER Rt. Revd. Christopher WORDSWORTH died 21 March 1885 &&& WORDSWORTH The Right Reverend Christopher, Late Bishop of Lincoln D.D. 12 May 1885. The Will with a Codicil of the Right Reverend Christopher Wordsworth late of Riseholme in the County of Lincoln D.D. late Bishop of Lincoln who died 21 March 1885 at Harewood in the County of York was proved at Lincoln by the Reverend John Wordsworth of St. Mary's Entry Oxford Clerk the Son and the Reverend Edward Tucker Leeke of the Minster Yard in the City of Lincoln Clerk and Chancellor of Lincoln the Executors. Personal Estate £85,258 17s 6d. Resworn October 1885 £89,750 4s 7d. Christopher Andrewes WORDSWORTH died 6 December 1910 &&& WORDSWORTH Christopher Andrewes of Gordon House Apollo Bunder Bombay India died 6 December 1910 at Bombay. Probate London 10 April (1913) to John Vincent Wordsworth esquire. Effects £21 5s

5d. Kathleen Philippa WORDSWORTH died 16 July 1941 &&& WORDSWORTH Kathleen Philippa of Yarrow Bank Kingswear Devonshire (wife of John Vincent Wordsworth) died 16 July 1941. Administration Llandudno 26 August (1941) to the said John Vincent Wordsworth retired fruit grower and Henry Bernard Howard retired bank manager. Effects £2,267 19s 4d. Mary WORDSWORTH (née Reeve) died 25 February 1921 &&& WORDSWORTH Mary of St. Nicholas Hospital Salisbury (wife of the reverend Christopher Wordsworth) died 25 February 1921. Probate London 30 March (1921) to the said reverend Christopher Wordsworth clerk. Effects £2,743 13s 1d. Osmund Bartle WORDSWORTH died 2 April 1917 &&& WORDSWORTH Osmund Bartle of St. Nicholas Hospital Salisbury second-lieutenant 23rd M.G.C. died 2 April 1917 in France. Probate London 3 May (1917) to John Vincent Wordsworth esquire and Susannah Mary Wordsworth spinster. Effects £1,262 1s 4d. Thomas Walter WRIXON died 24 February 1960 &&& WRIXON Thomas Walter of Hillside Old Hill Wincanton Somersetshire died 24 February 1960. Probate Winchester 28 February (1961) to Eva May Wrixon widow and John Ireland Miller solicitor. Effects £8,579 18s. Page last updated: 6 September 2023

1911: Probate Records

admin 31 December 1911 19 April 2018 Probate James BASCOMBE died 21 January 1911 BASCOMBE James of Ballington Farm Tyneham Dorsetshire died 21 January 1911. Administration (with Will) Blandford 21 March (1911) to Bessie Eliza Bascombe widow. Effects £1,101 4s 11d. Bascombe . Bookmark the permalink . « 1910: Forthcoming Marriages 1911: Probate Records »

Probate 1945

admin 31 December 1944 31 August 2017 Probate Frances Amelia CLEALL nee CHARLES died 18 February 1944 CLEALL Frances Amelia of 1 West Walls Wareham Dorsetshire died 18 February 1944. Probate Winchester 30 May (1945) to Walter James Cleall storekeeper. Effects £288 10s. 6d. [Frances Amelia Charles was baptised 28 May 1882 at West Lulworth and was living at Egliston (Tyneham) by 1891 with her parents and six siblings. By 1911 Frances was living at Hollow Ditch (West Creech). She married Francis Henry 'Frank' Cleall in 1912. She died just three months after the December 1943 evacuation of her Povington home.] Francis Henry CLEALL died 6 December 1943 CLEALL Francis Henry of Povington East Lulworth Wareham Dorsetshire died 6 December 1943 at The Dorchester Infirmary. Administration Winchester 11 June (1945) to Walter James Cleall storekeeper. Effects £301 12s. [Francis Henry 'Frank' Cleall was baptised on 6 July 1884 at Chaldon Herring. In 1911 Frank, aged 26, and his two brothers Charles, aged 21 and Walter, aged 16, were boarding at West Whiteway. Charles was killed in WW1 and is commemorated on the memorial plaque in Tyneham Church. Frank married Frances Amelia Charles of Steeple parish in 1912. Frank died after notice of eviction was served but before the evacuation took place.] Cleall . Bookmark the permalink . « 1939: Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Miller 1945: Dorset's new Sheriff »

1911: Probate Records

admin 31 December 1911 19 April 2018 Probate James BASCOMBE died 21 January 1911 BASCOMBE James of Ballington Farm Tyneham Dorsetshire died 21 January 1911. Administration (with Will) Blandford 21 March (1911) to Bessie Eliza Bascombe widow. Effects £1,101 4s 11d. Bascombe . Bookmark the permalink . « 1911: Probate Records 1914: Air Rifle Shooting »

1962: Probate Records

admin 31 December 1962 19 April 2018 Probate Herbert John BALSON died 4 May 1962 BALSON Herbert John of 57 Green Road Poole died 4 May 1962. Administration Winchester 15 August (1962) to Gertrude Ellen Balson widow. Effects £280 10s. Balson . Bookmark the permalink . « 1947: Aged Evacuee from Training Area Mrs. C. Miller dies at Stoborough 1968: Dorset manor house being given away »

Obituaries & Deaths

Obituaries

This page provides links to obituaries for people associated with Tyneham published in national or local newspapers including Lilian Bond, John Durant-Lewis, Arthur and Dorothy Grant, Revd. Claude Homan, Poppy Ingram, Harriet Miller and Mary Wheeler.

2015: Death of Eileen May Eastment nee Whitelock EASTMENT EILEEN Passed away peacefully at home on Thursday 9th April aged 83 years. Beloved wife and much loved mum, nan and great nan. Funeral Service to be held at Poole Crematorium on Wednesday 6th May at 10.00am. Family flowers only please, donations if desired for Cancer Research UK may... Posted in Obituary Whitelock Comments Off on 2015: Death of Eileen May Eastment nee Whitelock

2010: Tributes paid to legendary Purbeck photographer Arthur Grant by Jim Durkin The family of legendary Purbeck photographer Arthur Grant have paid a heartfelt tribute to a "huge character who will always be remembered with affection and love". Arthur passed away peacefully at home last Tuesday at the age of 87, after a brave battle against a protracted illness.... Posted in Obituary Grant Comments Off on 2010: Tributes paid to legendary Purbeck photographer Arthur Grant

2010: Death of Arthur Grant GRANT ARTHUR (AMENDED NOTICE) (Photographer) aged 87 years peacefully at home on Tuesday 12th January 2010. Dearly beloved Husband of Grace and Dad of Geoff, Annette and to Tanya and Mike. A dear Grandad of Jamie-Lee, Saffron and Poppy. Funeral Service in the Church of Lady St Mary, Wareham, Monday... Posted in Obituary Grant Comments Off on 2010: Death of Arthur Grant

2019: Death of Ronald George Whitelock WHITELOCK Ronald George (Ron) Passed away peacefully in Poole Hospital on 11th March 2019, aged 83 years. Loving and dearest husband to Myrtle, much loved father to Lionel, daughter-in-law Louise, a dear brother-in-law, uncle & friend. Happy memories of Morden Football Club Funeral Service at Poole Crematorium on Wednesday 27th... Posted in Obituary Whitelock Comments Off on 2019: Death of Ronald George Whitelock

2017: Death of Sheila Joy Wrixon Sheila WRIXON Joy (Of Barwick Near Yeovil) In her 90th year, peacefully on Christmas day at her home surrounded by her family. Much loved by all her family and friends. Funeral service will take place at Yeovil Crematorium on Wednesday 10th January 2018 at 2pm. Family flowers only please. Donations... Posted in Obituary Wrixon Comments Off on 2017: Death of Sheila Joy Wrixon

2017: Death of Nancy Openshaw Banister BANISTER Nancy Openshaw. Peacefully on 29th October 2017, aged 96. Much loved mother, grandmother and great grandmother. A Celebration of her life will be held at St Mary's Church, Culworth on 23rd November at 11.30 a.m. Donations, if desired, to the Game and Wildlife Conservation Trust may be sent c/o Humphris... Posted in Obituary Coupe Comments Off on 2017: Death of Nancy Openshaw Banister

2015: Death of Dorothy 'Grace' Grant DOROTHY 'GRACE' GRANT Passed away peacefully at home after a short illness on Thursday 13th August aged 88 years. Beloved wife of the late Arthur (photographer). Much loved mum of Geoff and Annette and to Tanya and Mike. Dear grandma of Jamie-Lee, Saffron and Poppy and to Andrew, 'G-Mar' of... Posted in Obituary Grant Comments Off on 2015: Death of Dorothy 'Grace' Grant

2010: Lingerin ghosts of a long-dead England Tyneham in Dorset was already a museum piece when it was shut down during the Second World War. It never reopened by David Randall There'll be another burial in the village next week. Arthur Grant's ashes will be interred in the churchyard at Tyneham in Dorset. He left more than... Posted in Newspaper , Obituary Grant Comments Off on 2010: Lingerin ghosts of a long-dead England

2009: Death of Nellie May Godden GODDEN NELLIE MAY Peacefully on 5th October at White Lodge Rest Home, aged 105 years. Sadly missed by all her family and friends. Service Rossmore Gospel Church, Rossmore Road, Parkstone on Thursday 22nd October at 1.45 p.m., followed by interment at Wareham Cemetery. Family flowers only please, but, if desired,... Posted in Obituary Godden Comments Off on 2009: Death of Nellie May Godden

2006: Death of Poppy Ingram POPPY INGRAM. Dearly mother of Ruth, David and Lizzie, widow of Gilbert and Cliff Budden, of Southdown. Adored granny and great granny, fell asleep on 27th September, 2006. Funeral service service at St Michaels Church, Owermoigne, on Friday 6th October at 10.00am. Flowers and/or donations in aid of St Catherine's... Posted in Obituary Budden , House , Ingram Comments Off on 2006: Death of Poppy Ingram

2003: Death of John Durant-Lewis DURANT-LEWIS JOHN (Late Chief Executive of Wareham & Purbeck Rural District Council) and resident of

Wareham for nearly 70 years, passed away peacefully, aged 93 years, at Holmegate Residential Home, on 5th April 2003. Funeral Service at Poole Crematorium on Tuesday 15th April at 1.30pm. Family flowers only please. All... Posted in Obituary Durant-Lewis Comments Off on 2003: Death of John Durant-Lewis 1980: Death of Lilian Margaret Garneys BOND nee BOND Deaths: BOND. – On 12th August, 1980, Lilian, aged 93, widow of Ivo Bond, daughter of William Bond of Tyneham, Dorset. Funeral service at St. Mary's Church, Dorchester on Tuesday, 19th August at 11.30 am, followed by cremation at Weymouth. No flowers by request. Enquiries please to Grassby & Sons,... Posted in Obituary Bond Comments Off on 1980: Death of Lilian Margaret Garneys BOND nee BOND 1947: Aged Evacuee from Training Area Mrs. C. Miller dies at Stoborough An evacuee from the much discussed battle training area of the Isle of Purbeck, whose exclusion from her lifelong home at Warbarrow Bay has aroused the sympathy of all interested in the "battle" of Purbeck. Mrs. Harriet Deborah Miller, has died at her home at Stoborough. The fate of the... Posted in Obituary Miller , Worbarrow Comments Off on 1947: Aged Evacuee from Training Area Mrs. C. Miller dies at Stoborough 1947: Death of Revd. Claude Samuel Homan HOMAN – On May 5, 1947, CLAUDE SAMUEL HOMAN of 72, Parkstone Road, Poole, formerly Rector of Carne, Tyneham, Frampton, Stockton, the Diocese of Salisbury, and for three years Chaplain at Costobello, South of France, aged 78. Cremation at [illegible] Crematorium to-morrow (Friday). Service ; St. Peter's Church, Parkstone, later.... Posted in Obituary Clergy , Homan Comments Off on 1947: Death of Revd. Claude Samuel Homan 1937: Killed while riding Downside schoolboy's skull fractured Roderick Maurice Fitzgerald ffrench-Mullen, aged 14, of Downside School , near Bath, whose parents are in India, was killed when he was thrown from a horse at Worbarrow Bay, Dorset, yesterday. He was spending part of his holiday with his uncle, Mr Desmond Nicholas Fitzgerald, a... Posted in Newspaper , Obituary ffrench-mullen , fitzgerald , Sauer Comments Off on 1937: Killed while riding 1935: Death of John Ephraim Moore The death occurred at Worbarrow Bay, Tyneham, on Saturday, of John Ephraim Moore, the two-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Moore, of New Street, Bulkington. The boy, who had only recently recovered from a long illness, had been taken to Worbarrow Bay for a short holiday, and it was... Posted in Obituary Minterne , Moore , Worbarrow Comments Off on 1935: Death of John Ephraim Moore 1932: The Late Mrs. Mary Wheeler A beloved personality Mrs. Mary Jane Wheeler of The Bungalow, Worbarrow Bay, passed away on Tuesday afternoon, at the age of 81 years, following an illness which commenced suddenly on July 30th. A native of Yorkshire, Mrs. Wheeler had been twice married, and on Friday afternoon she was interred in... Posted in Obituary The Bungalow , Wheeler Comments Off on 1932: The Late Mrs. Mary Wheeler 1931: Death of Mrs. James Lucas TYNEHAM AN APPRECIATION. – A correspondent writes: "The death of Mrs. James Lucas, at the age of 80, has broken the last link with the old generation so closely connected with Tyneham Farm. Widow of 'Shepherd' Lucas (who died six years ago), she had spent the whole of her married... Posted in Obituary Diskett , Lucas Comments Off on 1931: Death of Mrs. James Lucas 1885: Tyneham – Death of the Rev. W. Truell We regret to announce the death of the Rev. William Truell. B.A., rector of Tyneham, which took place at the Rectory on Sunday morning last. The deceased gentleman, who was 81 years of age, entered the Church of England in 1827, and was ordained priest in 1828; he has, therefore,... Posted in Newspaper , Obituary Truell Comments Off on 1885: Tyneham – Death of the Rev. W. Truell 1884: Worbarrow – Death of Mr. Joseph Miller It is with regret that we announce the death of Mr. Joseph Miller, an old and respected inhabitant of this place. He was a great favourite with both old and young, and will be greatly missed. In fact Worbarrow has lost its chairman. He gently fell asleep on March 30th... Posted in Obituary Miller Comments Off on 1884: Worbarrow – Death of Mr. Joseph Miller 1881: Death of William Stickland Tyneham On Saturday last this parish sustained a death the loss of a remarkable man, in his 64th year, named William Stickland born in humble life, of him it may truly be said: – "Far from the madding crowd's ignoble strife, His sober wishes never learned to stray: Along the... Posted in Obituary lifeboat , Stickland , William Lush Stickland Comments Off on 1881: Death of William Stickland

2015: Death of Dorothy 'Grace' Grant

2015: Death of Dorothy 'Grace' Grant admin 15 August 2015 7 September 2022 Obituary DOROTHY 'GRACE' GRANT Passed away peacefully at home after a short illness on Thursday 13th August aged 88 years. Beloved wife of the late Arthur (photographer). Much loved mum of Geoff and Annette and to Tanya and Mike. Dear grandma of Jamie-Lee, Saffron and Poppy and to Andrew, 'G-Mar' of Gracie-May and Harlie-Arthur. Funeral Service in the Church of St Martin on the Walls, Wareham on Friday 21st August at 2.00pm. Family flowers only please, donations if desired for Marie Curie, Wareham Health Centre and The Tyneham Fund may be sent to Albert Marsh Funeral Directors, St Michaels Road, Wareham, Dorset, BH20 4QU. Published in the Dorset Echo, 15 August 2015 [Dorothy Grace Grant nee Rawles (1926-2015)] Grant . Bookmark the permalink . « Poem: "Tyneham" by Fiona Fulton As time passed by . . . this is Tyneham's story »

2009: Death of Nellie May Godden

admin 19 October 2009 26 August 2024 Obituary GODDEN NELLIE MAY Peacefully on 5th October at White Lodge Rest Home, aged 105 years. Sadly missed by all her family and friends. Service Rossmore Gospel Church, Rossmore Road, Parkstone on Thursday 22nd October at 1.45 p.m., followed by interment at Wareham Cemetery. Family flowers only please, but, if desired, donations made payable to the 'Tear Fund' may be sent to George Scott Funeral Services, 15 Somerset Road, Boscombe, BH7 6JH. Tel: 01202 395827 Bournemouth Daily Echo 19 October 2009 Godden . Bookmark the permalink . « 2008: History wakes up 2010: Lingerin' ghosts of a long-dead England »

2017: Death of Sheila Joy Wrixon admin 4 January 2018 31 August 2023 Obituary Sheila WRIXON Joy (Of Barwick Near Yeovil) In her 90th year, peacefully on Christmas day at her home surrounded by her family. Much loved by all her family and friends. Funeral service will take place at Yeovil Crematorium on Wednesday 10th January 2018 at 2pm. Family flowers only please. Donations in memory of Sheila for either St. Margaret's Hospice, Yeovil or Yeovil Heartbeat may be sent c/o Clive Wakely A.J. Wakely & Sons 33 Sparrow Road Yeovil BA21 4BT Tel : 01935 479913 Please make cheques payable to the charity. Published 4 January 2018 Wrixon . Bookmark the permalink . « 2017: Death of Nancy Openshaw Banister 2019: Death of Ronald George Whitelock »

1932: The Late Mrs. Mary Wheeler

admin 26 August 1932 26 August 2024 Obituary A beloved personality Mrs. Mary Jane Wheeler of The Bungalow , Worbarrow Bay, passed away on Tuesday afternoon, at the age of 81 years, following an illness which commenced suddenly on July 30th. A native of Yorkshire, Mrs. Wheeler had been twice married, and on Friday afternoon she was interred in the grave of her first husband, Mr. John Greenwood, who predeceased her by 52 years, at Southend-on-Sea. To the small community at Worbarrow Bay, the people of Tyneham, and many more in that cleft in the hills of Purbeck, Mrs. Wheeler's death has brought a sense of irreparable loss. They mourn the passing of a friend who never failed, and for whom their affection was won by a kindly and sympathetic disposition, and by rare generosity. No-one ever turned to Mrs. Wheeler for help, advice, or sympathy in vain. Not only residents of that part of Purbeck where Mrs. Wheeler was so loved, but visitors, soldiers, airmen, and others can testify to her goodness. During the days of war, when the military had charge of a look-out station at the Bay, she opened her home to the men, provided hot baths and placing a room at their disposal. On an occasion when a seaplane descended in the Bay, it was Mrs. Wheeler who provided the occupants with accommodation, giving them every comfort, until such time as they were prepared to depart. Holiday makers, campers, and others have found in her a true friend, always prepared to help them, and to make their stay more pleasant. Funeral Tributes Mrs. Wheeler was interred by her own special wish in the vault of her first husband, at Southend-on-Sea, Essex, and among the many wreaths sent were the following: Michael, Lorna, and Patrick: In loving memory. Amy, Arthur, and Norman: With ever loving memory to dear Auntie. Reg., of Australia: In affectionate remembrance. Owen, Idris [Ellis] : Sincere love and sympathy. Winifred and Clarence [Brachi] : With great love and deep sorrow. Florrie and Glen: With loving and deepest sympathy. Maude [Ellis] : With grateful and loving remembrance. Trevor [Ellis] : To dearest Mother. David, Anne, and Mary [Brachi] : With love from her children. Mrs. Norman Briggs: With ever loving memories to a great and noble woman. Mrs. R. J. Oliver and Violet: In grateful remembrance of her kindness. Elsie Schries and Margaret Boston: In ever loving memory. Rev. and Mrs. L. Wynne: In memory of an old friend. Mr. and Mrs. Hill, Olive and Mabel: In very loving memory. Mrs. L. H. Gilbert: In loving memory of a dear old friend. Mrs. Haley and Olga: In loving remembrance. Annie and Julia and Mrs. Warr : In loving memory. Rosetta Fraser: With deepest sympathy. Douglas, Ada, and Tony Wheeler: With love and sympathy. Mrs. H. Cundall: In loving memory of a very dear friend. Mr. C. Bayer: With deepest sympathy. Harriet, Grace, and Sally: With love for the best lady we have ever known. Harriet and Charles Miller : In ever loving memory. Jack and Miggie [Miller] : To our dear old friend. Mrs. Rose : With much love to a dear friend. Mrs. Herd : With deepest sympathy. Percy and Ellen Kerley : In kind remembrance. Mrs. J. Toms: With deep sympathy. The Nurses: With kind thoughts. Mrs. A. Moor-Shaw: In loving remembrance. Mrs. F. J. Wheeler, Alice and Willie: With deepest sympathy. Mrs. Frank Berryman and Mrs. Titchmarsh: In affectionate remembrance. Miss Edith Gamble: In affectionate memory. Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Kirton: With sincere sympathy. Mrs. Walter Ware and Reg .: In loving memory of a dear Gran. Mr. and Mrs. John Annereau: With kind remembrance. Mr. Francis Briggs: In memory of many happy days. The relatives of the late Mrs. M. J. Wheeler, of Worbarrow, Corfe Castle, wish to thank their many friends for the kind letters of sympathy and beautiful flowers. Published by Western Gazette, 26 August 1932 The Bungalow , Wheeler . Bookmark the permalink . « 1931: Death of Mrs. James Lucas 1935: Death of John Ephraim Moore »

1881: Death of William Stickland

admin 24 March 1881 7 September 2022 Obituary Tyneham On Saturday last this parish sustained a death the loss of a remarkable man, in his 64th year, named William Stickland born in humble life, of him it may truly be said: – “Far from the madding crowd's ignoble strife, His sober wishes never learned to stray: Along the cool sequestered vale of life He kept the noiseless tenour of his way” By his simple piety, strict integrity, courage and uniform civility he had endeared himself to all the neighbourhood. His death will be universally lamented by all who knew him. By nature a sailor, he had been accustomed to the sea from his earliest childhood, and in early life he had been a leading spirit amongst the smugglers, who used to abound on this coast, to whom his dauntless courage and thorough knowledge of the coast were invaluable, and many were the hairbreadth escapes he had amid the heavy surf and darkness amongst the dreaded Kimmeridge ledges or the rugged rocks beneath Gad Cliff. He was the owner of a fine boat built by himself, and obtained his living as a fisherman. He was a keen observer of nature, his remarks upon the habits of fish, sea birds and the peculiarities of the tides were always most interesting. On the establishment of a Lifeboat Station by the Royal National Institution in 1868 at Kimmeridge he was at once chosen as the coxswain of the Mary Heape which office he held up to his death. In the terrific gale of December 8th 1872, the 'Mary Heape' was successful in rescuing 17 men, the crew of the German ship 'Stralsund' which had stuck on the Kimmeridge ledges, on which occasion the safety of the boat and crew was attributed to his clear head and steady hand in piloting her through the heavy breakers. In recognition of which the Life Boat Institution awarded him an extra gratuity. Every Sunday morning he used to be seen arrayed in his pilot jacket and hat well on the back of his head crossing the hill to attend the Service of his Parish Church, where also he was a regular communicant, and beneath whose shadow he now rests. How appropriate to him are the words of the beautiful hymn: – ‘The saints of God, life's voyage o'er. Safe landed on that blissful shore, No stormy, tempest how they dread, No roaring billows lift their head, Oh, happy saints for ever blest, In that calm heaven of your rest’ Published by the Dorset County Chronicle, 24 March 1881 Kindly extracted from Dorset County Chronicle by William's great-great-grand-daughter, Pat Andrews , who lives in Australia. lifeboat , Stickland , William Lush Stickland . Bookmark the permalink . « 1873: Fatal Boat Accident 1884: Worbarrow – Death of Mr. Joseph Miller »

1884: Worbarrow - Death of Mr. Joseph Miller

1884: Worbarrow – Death of Mr. Joseph Miller admin 18 April 1884 26 August 2024 Obituary It is with regret that we announce the death of Mr. Joseph Miller, an old and respected inhabitant of this place. He was a great favourite with both old and young, and will be greatly missed. In fact Worbarrow has lost its chairman. He gently fell asleep on March 30th last at the good old age of 83 years. He was interred in the quiet little churchyard at Tyneham on the Friday following his death, and the greatest respect was shown by all the friends and neighbours around him. Published by Blandford and Wimborne Telegram, Friday 18 April 1884 Miller . Bookmark the permalink . « 1881: Death of William Stickland 1885: Tyneham – Death of the Rev. W. Truell »

1885: Tyneham - Death of the Rev. W. Truell

1885: Tyneham – Death of the Rev. W. Truell admin 17 July 1885 26 August 2024 Newspaper , Obituary We regret to announce the death of the Rev. William Truell. B.A., rector of Tyneham, which took place at the Rectory on Sunday morning last. The deceased gentleman, who was 81 years of age, entered the Church of England in 1827, and was ordained priest in 1828; he has, therefore, been a clergyman for 58 years. He accepted the curacy of Steeple-cum-Tyneham in 1854, and until his death occupied that position, being curate in this parish for 31 years. The deceased had won the respect of all his parishioners, by whom his loss will be deeply regretted. The funeral took place on Wednesday. He was interred in the burial ground adjoining the church at Tyneham, and nearly the whole of the parishioners, with his friends and relatives, attending. Published by Bridport, Beaminster and Lyme Regis Telegram, Friday 17 July 1885 Truell . Bookmark the permalink . « 1884: Worbarrow – Death of Mr. Joseph Miller 1886: The Coastguard Accident at Warbarrow »

1925: Farm labourer's fatal accident near Coombe Keynes admin 10 April 1925 4 February 2020 Newspaper Fall from Farm Waggon – Bournemouth chauffeur as principal witness The tragic circumstances under which George Cleall (43) , a cowman employed at Povington Farm , East Lulworth, met his death whilst returning from Hethfelton Farm with a load of straw on a haorsed waggon, formed the subject of an enquiry by the Deputy Coroner for East Dorset (Mr. R. D. Maddock) at Povington Farm on Monday. Bessie Cleall , of Povington , wife of deceased, giving evidence of identification, mentioned that her husband had been working for Mr. T. W. Wrixon for about 16 months. Deceased was quite well when he left home about 7 a.m. on Saturday, and he had no serious illness. He never complained about his work. There were two children, one aged four years next June and the other 1 year 6 months. Chauffeur Witnesses the Fatality Wm. Chas. Elias, chauffeur, of 18, Poole-road, Bournemouth, stated the previous Saturday, about 3.30 to 3.45 in the afternoon, he was with his employer on the road between East Lulworth and Wool, near Coombe Keynes, and saw two waggons laden with straw about 300 yards apart. Witness had passed the first waggon with the car, and then saw the top of the load on the rear waggon when 120 yards away. The waggon appeared to be coming towards him rather quickly, and he therefore drew up at a "widish" part to let it pass. Then the horse appeared round the corner, trotting, and the man in charge, who was on the near shaft, jumped off and seemed to get under the wheels of the waggon. The horse continued at a running pace, bringing the waggon towards him, and the witness waved his arms at it to prevent it colliding with the car. The horse, however, continued on its way, avoiding a collision, and witness jumped out of the car and went to the man, who was lying on the road and had not moved, and, as far as witness could judge, was dead. There was a bruise at the side of the deceased's head, and blood was coming from the left ankle. Witness hurried to a farm on the right-hand side of the road to get help, and a man on a motor-bicycle went to summon the police. A policeman and doctor came some time later. Witness did not see anyone on the road at the time of the accident except the lady in the car. The road was a fairly hard stone one, and was quite dry. Thomas Walter Wrixon , of Povington Farm , East Lulworth, the deceased's employer, informed the Coroner that on Saturday Cleall left the farm with a horse and waggon to bring straw from Hethfelton Farm, being accompanied by another man with a two-horse waggon. Deceased had done the same journey for the same purpose 15 to 20 times during the past winter. The animal he drove was a mare aged about 10 years, and perfectly quiet. Cleall had never complained about the horse when he had had it out. Deceased was a steady man and a very good worker indeed. The road near the corner referred to was very narrow, with a very bad corner, and on the descent. Deceased was a good man with horses, one could not have a better man, and he was active and quick naturally. Erneest Corbin, dairyman, of Coombe Keynes, stated that deceased stopped his horse and waggon at witness's gate on Saturday afternoon and they had a conversation about Cleall's dog. Witness saw deceased go down the road towards Povington, leading his horse. A few minutes later a man came and told him that there had been an accident. He found Cleall lying on the road towards his left side, quite dead. P.C. Beviss (Wool) said on receiving information of the accident about 4 p.m. he told Dr. Anderson, and together they went to the scene of the fatality. Deceased was taken to Mr. Ford's farm close by and there examined by Dr. Anderson, who found deceased had died of a fracture of the base of the skull. The left leg was also broken, and there was a cut on the right knee. There was a large abrasion on the left bottom jaw, which might have been crushed by the waggon passing over it. The Coroner (who sat without a jury) returned a verdict to the effect the death was due to a fracture of the skull, caused by the farm waggon passing over deceased's head, the injury being accidentally caused. Published by Western Gazette, Friday 10 April 1925 Cleall , fatal accident , Wrixon . Bookmark the permalink . « 1923: Letter to the Wiltshire Times 1931: Death of Mrs. James Lucas »

1931: Death of Mrs. James Lucas

admin 3 April 1931 26 August 2024 Obituary TYNEHAM AN APPRECIATION. – A correspondent writes: "The death of Mrs. James Lucas, at the age of 80, has broken the last link with the old generation so closely connected with Tyneham Farm. Widow of 'Shepherd' Lucas (who died six years ago), she had spent the whole of her married life in this parish, and it was only latterly that ill-health had obliged her to leave in order to be cared for by her youngest daughter. Life must have been very difficult to face, with ten children to bring up on the low wages of 40 years and more ago, but she maintained a quiet dignity and an uncomplaining disposition to the end. She was buried at Tyneham on Saturday in the presence of many children, grandchildren and friends. May she rest in peace." Published by Western Gazette, 3 April 1931 [Jane Lucas nee Diskett (1851-1931)] Diskett , Lucas . Bookmark the permalink . « 1925: Farm labourer's fatal accident near Coombe Keynes 1932: The Late Mrs. Mary Wheeler »

1935: Death of John Ephraim Moore

admin 27 May 1935 26 August 2024 Obituary The death occurred at Worbarrow Bay, Tyneham, on Saturday, of John Ephraim Moore, the two-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ephram Moore, of New Street, Bulkington. The boy, who had only recently recovered from a long illness, had been taken to Worbarrow Bay for a short holiday, and it was after being taken ill again that he died on Saturday. Published by the Coventry Evening Telegraph, 27 May 1935 Minterne , Moore , Worbarrow . Bookmark the permalink . « 1932: The Late Mrs. Mary Wheeler 1935: Unspoilt Worbarrow Bay »

1937: Killed while riding admin 11 August 1937 8 September 2023 Newspaper , Obituary Downside schoolboy's skull fractured Roderick Maurice Fitzgerald French-Mullen, aged 14, of Downside School , near Bath, whose parents are in India, was killed when he was thrown from a horse at Worbarrow Bay, Dorset, yesterday. He was spending part of his holiday with his uncle, Mr Desmond Nicholas Fitzgerald, a company director, at Tyneham, Boscastle, and went for a ride with his riding master. The horse was about to cross a small wooden bridge over a stream when it momentarily stopped. The boy was thrown, and pitched heavily on his head. His skull was fractured, and he died before an ambulance arrived. Published by The Times, 11 August 1937 French-mullen , fitzgerald , Sauer . Bookmark the permalink . « 1936 – Tyneham Rectory Roof / Garden Fete 1939: Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Miller »

1947: Aged Evacuee from Training Area Mrs. C. Miller dies at Stoborough

admin 5 September 1947 26 August 2024 Obituary An evacuee from the much discussed battle training area of the Isle of Purbeck, whose exclusion from her lifelong home at Warbarrow Bay has aroused the sympathy of all interested in the "battle" of Purbeck. Mrs. Harriet Deborah Miller, has died at her home at Stoborough. The fate of the only home she knew in her sixty odd years of married life has still to be decided by the Government. Mrs. Miller, who was 93, was evacuated in December 1943, and within a week her 93 years old husband, Mr. Charlie Miller, died. By permission of the military authorities, he was buried in his home parish of Tyneham, and ever since his widow has grieved that she has been debarred from visiting his last resting place. In view of all the circumstances Mrs. Miller decided that her last resting place should be at the cemetery adjoining Wareham Parish Church, where her relatives could visit and tend her grave. So it was that Mrs. Miller was buried at Wareham, separated from her husband, with whom she lived in the little cottage at Warbarrow for the 63 years of her married life. A native of Kingston, she was for some time before her marriage a teacher at Tyneham School. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. John Frith, and chief mourners were Mrs. J. Hodge, Mrs. A. Head, Mrs. G. Mudford, Mrs. E. Woadden, Miss E. Houliston (nieces), Mr. G. White, Mr. A. Head, Mr. F. Hodge (nephews), Mrs. Houliston (sister-in-law), Miss Minnie Miller (cousin), Miss B. Minterne and Miss W. Minterne (friends and former neighbours at Warbarrow). Others present included Mr. and Mrs. W. R. G. Bond, Mrs. Pryce (representing Wareham and Purbeck Rural Council) and Mr. C. F. J. Durant-Lewis, clerk to the Council, Mrs. H. C. Money, Mr. and Mrs. P. Brachi, Mr. and Mrs. G. Hart and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Reeks. Western Gazette – Friday 5 September 1947 Miller, Worbarrow. Bookmark the permalink. « 1947: Death of Revd. Claude Samuel Homan 1962: Probate Records »

1947: Death of Revd. Claude Samuel Homan

admin 8 May 1947 26 August 2024 Obituary HOMAN – On May 5, 1947, CLAUDE SAMUEL HOMAN of 72, Parkstone Road, Poole, formerly Rector of Carne, Tyneham, Frampton, Stockton, the Diocese of Salisbury, and for three years Chaplain at Costobello, South of France, aged 78. Cremation at [illegible] Crematorium to-morrow (Friday). Service; St. Peter's Church, Parkstone, later. No flowers, by request. Published by Poole & Dorset Herald, 8 May 1947 [Claude Samuel Homan (1867-1947)] Clergy, Homan. Bookmark the permalink. « 1945: Dorset's new Sheriff 1947: Aged Evacuee from Training Area Mrs. C. Miller dies at Stoborough »

1945: Dorset's new Sheriff

1945: Dorset's new Sheriff admin 6 April 1945 8 September 2023 Newspaper Mr. William Ralph Garneys Bond, of Tyneham House, Corfe Castle, Dorset's new sheriff, was born in 1880, was educated at Eton and New College, Oxford. He served in the Sudan political service from 1905 to 1926 and was governor of Fung (1922-24) and of Dongola (1924-26). He is a Justice of the Peace for Dorset, having qualified at the 1927 Midsummer Quarter Sessions, and is a member of the Wareham and Purbeck Rural Council. Published in Western Gazette, 6 April 1945 Bond, Sheriff. Bookmark the permalink. « Probate 1945 1947: Death of Revd. Claude Samuel Homan »

1980: Death of Lilian Margaret Garneys BOND nee BOND

admin 14 August 1980 26 August 2024 Obituary Deaths: BOND. – On 12th August, 1980, Lilian, aged 93, widow of Ivo Bond, daughter of William Bond of Tyneham, Dorset. Funeral service at St. Mary's Church, Dorchester on Tuesday, 19th August at 11.30 am, followed by cremation at Weymouth. No flowers by request. Enquiries please to Grassby & Sons, Funeral Directors, 16 Princes Street, Dorchester. Tel. Dorchester 2338 Published by The Times, Thursday 14 August 1980 Bond . Bookmark the permalink . « 1975: Tyneham's ration of nostalgia 2003: Death of John Durant-Lewis »

2003: Death of John Durant-Lewis

admin 9 April 2003 26 August 2024 Obituary DURANT-LEWIS JOHN (Late Chief Executive of Wareham & Purbeck Rural District Council) and resident of Wareham for nearly 70 years, passed away peacefully, aged 93 years, at Holmegate Residential Home, on 5th April 2003. Funeral Service at Poole Crematorium on Tuesday 15th April at 1.30pm. Family flowers only please. All enquiries c/o Lesley Shand Funeral Service, Tel: (01202) 658833. Published by the Bournemouth Echo, 9 April 2003 Durant-Lewis . Bookmark the permalink . « 1980: Death of Lilian Margaret Garneys BOND nee BOND 2006: Death of Poppy Ingram »

2006: Death of Poppy Ingram

admin 30 September 2006 31 August 2023 Obituary POPPY INGRAM. Dearly mother of Ruth, David and Lizzie, widow of Gilbert and Cliff Budden, of Southdown. Adored granny and great granny, fell asleep on 27th September, 2006. Funeral service service at St Michaels Church, Owermoigne, on Friday 6th October at 10.00am. Flowers and/or donations in aid of St Catherine's Chapel, Holworth, may be sent c/o Woods Funeral Service, 11a Icen Way, Dorchester, DT1 1EW (please make cheques payable to Woods Funeral Service). Please wear something red for Poppy. Published by Dorset Echo, Saturday 30 September 2006 [Poppy Cicely Ingram formerly Budden nee House (1925-2006)] Budden , House , Ingram . Bookmark the permalink . « 2003: Death of John Durant-Lewis 2008: History wakes up »

2010: Death of Arthur Grant

admin 7 September 2022 7 September 2022 Obituary GRANT ARTHUR (AMENDED NOTICE) (Photographer) aged 87 years peacefully at home on Tuesday 12th January 2010. Dearly beloved Husband of Grace and Dad of Geoff, Annette and to Tanya and Mike. A dear Grandad of Jamie-Lee, Saffron and Poppy. Funeral Service in the Church of Lady St Mary, Wareham, Monday 25th January at 2.15pm. Family flowers only please, donations if desired for Wareham Surgery Medical Trust Fund and the Tyneham Fund may be sent to:- Albert Marsh Funeral Directors, St Michaels Road, Wareham, BH20 4QU. Tel. 01929 552107. Published by Bournemouth Echo, Tuesday 19 January 2010 [Arthur Henry John Grant (1922-2010)] Grant . Bookmark the permalink . « Poem: "Something is very wrong" by Samantha Day 2010: Tributes paid to legendary Purbeck photographer Arthur Grant »

2010: Tributes paid to legendary Purbeck photographer Arthur Grant admin 7 September 2022 7 September 2022 Obituary by Jim Durkin The family of legendary Purbeck photographer Arthur Grant have paid a heartfelt tribute to a "huge character who will always be remembered with affection and love". Arthur passed away peacefully at home last Tuesday at the age of 87, after a brave battle against a protracted illness. He worked as a professional photographer for three decades, with many of his pictures featuring in the Daily Echo and Swanage and Wareham Advertiser. Son Geoffrey said: "Dad will be remembered fondly, having touched many people's lives in his role as the photographer in Wareham and Purbeck." Arthur is also remembered as one of the last inhabitants of Tyneham village, which was requisitioned by the army and used as a practice area for the historic D-Day landings. The village, heavily damaged, would eventually be substantially restored and opened to the public. Arthur went on to give many interviews for books and television about his schoolboy memories of Tyneham life. In a moving gesture, his family have been given special permission for his ashes to be interred at Tyneham – Arthur is finally going home. The year before the outbreak of the Second World War, Arthur, aged just 16, joined the Union Castle Shipping Line. He served as captain's steward on the Capetown Castle, which was converted into a troop carrier and survived a bombing off Northern Ireland. During leave he met young Dorset woman Dorothy Grace Rawles, his beloved Grace, who he went onto marry at Poole in 1953. He is survived by Grace and their two children, Geoffrey and Annette. Arthur also worked as a steward on the flying boats which operated out of Poole and for Australian airline Qantas, where he rose to the rank of deputy flight steward controller. He was honoured to be selected as part of the crew flying the Queen to Australia during her 1954 tour. After returning to England, to help his sick mother in the late 1950s, Arthur and Grace settled in Mill Lane, Wareham. It was around this time he decided to turn his love of photography into a profession. After retirement in 1990 Arthur became a prolific gardener. His funeral service will be held at the Church of Lady St Mary, Wareham, on Monday at 2.15pm. The family will be holding light refreshments at the South Street Conservative Club afterwards. Published by, and copyright of, the Daily Echo, 19 January 2010 Grant . Bookmark the permalink . « 2010: Death of Arthur Grant 2021: Pathway blocked by razor wire »

2015: Death of Eileen May Eastment nee Whitelock

admin 29 September 2022 29 September 2022 Obituary EASTMENT EILEEN Passed away peacefully at home on Thursday 9th April aged 83 years. Beloved wife and much loved mum, nan and great nan. Funeral Service to be held at Poole Crematorium on Wednesday 6th May at 10.00am. Family flowers only please, donations if desired for Cancer Research UK may be sent to Albert Marsh Funeral Directors, St Michaels Road, Wareham, BH20 4QU. Tel: 01929 552107. Published in the Dorset Echo on 30th April 2015 Whitelock . Bookmark the permalink . « 2021: Pathway blocked by razor wire

2019: Death of Ronald George Whitelock

admin 23 March 2019 31 August 2023 Obituary WHITELOCK Ronald George (Ron) Passed away peacefully in Poole Hospital on 11th March 2019, aged 83 years. Loving and dearest husband to Myrtle, much loved father to Lionel, daughter-in-law Louise, a dear brother-in-law, uncle & friend. Happy memories of Morden Football Club Funeral Service at Poole Crematorium on Wednesday 27th March 2019 at 2:30pm. Family flowers only please. Donations if desired for Dorset & Somerset Air Ambulance can be made online at www.funeraldirector.co.uk/ron-whitelock or sent c/o Ives & Shand Funeral Service 568 Ashley Road, Parkstone, Poole, Dorset BH14 0AG Tel: 01202 716500 Published by the Bournemouth Daily Echo, 23 March 2019 Whitelock . Bookmark the permalink . « 2017: Death of Sheila Joy Wrixon We will remember them »

Historical Newspaper Articles

1844: Miraculous Escape

admin 13 April 1844 31 August 2017 Newspaper Poole, Saturday, April 13 MIRACULOUS ESCAPE. – Lieut. Wilmot, R.N. , of the Warbarrow Coast Guard Station , received some severe injuries about a fortnight ago whilst on night duty, he having (owing to the extreme darkness of the night) walked over the highest part of Gadcliff , which is an elevation of 128 feet. The first portion of the cliff is about 40 feet perpendicular, the remainder being on the slope, both rugged and rocky; he was shortly after being picked up by one of his men, who fortunately heard him call for help, and by the assistance of others , was carefully conveyed [conveyed] to his residence. Hampshire Advertiser & Salisbury Guardian, Saturday 13 April 1844 coastguard , Wilmot . Bookmark the permalink . 1844: Miraculous Escape »

1844: Miraculous Escape

admin 13 April 1844 11 March 2020 Newspaper Poole, Saturday, April 13 MIRACULOUS ESCAPE. – Lieut. Wilmot, R.N. , of the Warbarrow Coast Guard Station , received some severe injuries about a fortnight ago whilst on night duty, he having (owing to the extreme darkness of the night) walked over the highest part of Gadcliff , which is an elevation of 128 feet. The first portion of the cliff is about 40 feet perpendicular, the remainder being on the slope, both rugged and rocky; he was shortly after being picked up by one of his men, who fortunately heard him call for help, and by the assistance of others , was carefully conveyed [conveyed] to his residence. Published by the Hampshire Advertiser & Salisbury Guardian, Saturday 13 April 1844 coastguard , coastguard station , Gadcliff , Wilmot . Bookmark the permalink . « 1844: Miraculous Escape 1865: West Lulworth – The Melancholy Casualty at Sea »

1865: Distressing Accident in Weymouth Bay

admin 18 March 1865 11 March 2020 Newspaper FIVE LIVES LOST On Saturday, March 4, five men belonging to her Majesty's coastguard were suddenly swallowed up in the angry sea. The men, who belonged to the Warbarrow station, about thirteen miles to the westward of St Alban's Head, were returning in their galley from Weymouth with sundry stores, and which might be considered a fair cargo for such a vessel. The men were perfectly sober, but the wind was blowing fresh from S.S.W., and Admiral Fitzroy's signal opposite the Weymouth Telegraph Station indicated a probable gale from the southward. When about a mile from Lulworth Station (the one below that to which they were bound) the watchman there observed a sea strike her on the quarter. She shipped apparently a good deal of water, and immediately went down, in nautical phrase "like a stone"! The Lulworth men immediately took to their cork jackets and their boat, but on arriving at the spot nothing could be seen, save a few light articles, forming a part of the stores, floating about. There was a good bit of sea and wind on at the time, so much so that the Lulworth men could not effect a landing at their own place, and were obliged to disembark at a place called Mupes. The five men drowned were: – Chope , who leaves several children, fortunately grown up, had seen upwards of thirty years' service, but withal, like the rest, was a smart seaman. Baker had been in the service upwards of a quarter of a century, and leaves a numerous family young in years. Hickey had been in the employ of the Crown about twenty years, and leaves a small family. Dunn 's term of servitude was about twelve years; and Parnell recently married, and his widow on the eve of her accouchement, had been in the coastguard about six months. Owing to one set of tides it was conjectured that neither they or the boat will be found, but swept seawards, though every exertion is now making to recover them. Published by Jacksons Oxford Journal, Saturday 18 March 1865 Baker , Chope , coastguard , coastguard station , Dunn , Hickey , Parnell . Bookmark the permalink . « 1865: Loss of 5 Coastguard Men 1866: Tyneham – The Gale »

1865: Loss of 5 Coastguard Men

admin 9 March 1865 11 March 2020 Newspaper One of those unfortunate accidents man has not the power to foresee or avert occurred on Saturday afternoon, by which 5 men belonging to the coastguard, who had faithfully served their country for many years and seen a considerable amount of hard service were suddenly summoned to appear before the Great Tribunal. It would appear that the chief boatman in charge at the Worbarrow coastguard station, Thomas Chope and Charles Baker (Chief boatman), with Hickey, Dunn and Purnell, coastguard men, on Friday evening came over in their galley from Worbarrow station for the purpose of carrying back stores from the depot at Weymouth. On Saturday afternoon at one o'clock, having shipped all their stores, they proceeded on their return voyage, the boat being pretty well laden. At the time they left the wind was fresh blowing SSW, and Admiral Fitzroy's storm signal indicating a gale from the south west had just been sent up from opposite the telegraph station. The distance across the bay is about 14 miles, and all proceeded well until arriving about a mile off Lulworth station, when the boat was observed by the watchman there to ship a sea over her quarters, and immediately to go down "like a stone". The men at the Lulworth station, quickly encased themselves in their cork jackets and were speedily on the spot in their boat, but beyond saving a few light articles which they picked up floating about, they could not see anything further of the missing men or boat. To show the character of the weather it may be well to notice that the Lulworth men were unable to make their station and had to land at Mewp's. Chope had seen about 32 years service and leaves 2 or 3 children who are grown up; Baker had served her Majesty about 28 years, and leaves a youthful family of 7 children; Hickey who leaves several young children, had been in the employ of The Crown about 20 years, Dunn about 12 years, and Purnell who leaves a young wife just on the eve of her accouchement with her first child, only about 6 months. The men bore a high character for sobriety, and when they left on Saturday afternoon were perfectly sober, a fact which is vouched for by an unimpeachable eye witness who was on the key when they left the harbour. On Saturday evening and Sunday active search was made for the bodies, but it is feared from the set of the tides on that coast that they will be swept seaward and heard of no more. The deceased were all skilful men in handling a boat, and we have heard a whisper that the boat was not the most approved model for standing rough weather. At the various churches and chapels on Sunday the sad occurrence was feelingly alluded to by the various ministers. No trace has been discovered of the men and all hopes are now banished of discover aught to throw further light on the sad catastrophe. One of the men, in addition to maintaining his 7 children, supported another belonging to a deceased brother. Purnell had in the boat a few extra comforts for his wife during her expected illness. A vast amount of sympathy has been evoked in Weymouth on behalf of the widows and fatherless, in all about 22 in number, and a subscription has already been set on foot and well responded to. The fifth D.R.V. Amateur dramatics society have announced their intention of giving 2 performances at the Royal hotel assembly rooms on Monday and Tuesday next, when the entire proceeds (without any deduction for expenses) will be given for the relief of the bereaved. The room has been accorded gratuitously by the proprietor of the Royal Hotel, Mr Luce, and the charge for the erection of the stage, the gas fitting, the service of the orchestra and the printing and bill posting will also be fairly met by various tradesmen and others. The room can accommodate about £20 worth of tickets each night and it is for the public to say whether or not £40 shall be handed over to the fund. By another paragraph it will be seen that a lecture will be given at the new music hall on Monday next, and the proceeds devoted to the same good cause. Owing to numerous engagements of the talented lecturer it was impossible to alter the date. Each one however, according to his taste can show his or her sympathy either by attendance at the Royal Hotel or the New Music Hall. Thus the arrangements may be considered complete for the development of charity. Published by the Dorset County Chronicle, Thursday 9 March 1865 Baker, Chope, Dunn, Hickey. Bookmark the permalink. « 1865: West Lulworth – The Melancholy Casualty at Sea 1865: Distressing Accident in Weymouth Bay »

1865: West Lulworth - The Melancholy Casualty at Sea

1865: West Lulworth – The Melancholy Casualty at Sea admin 9 March 1865 11 March 2020 Newspaper On Saturday afternoon just before 2 pm, a south south west wind blowing and a heavy sea running the Warborough galley was seen by the watchman at Lulworth returning from Weymouth where she had gone previous evening for Government Stores. She past the cove in safety but about a quarter of a mile further on was struck by a heavy sea on her quarter and instantly disappeared. The Lulworth galley was at once launched and with 5 minutes of the boats disappearance was pulling for the spot, fully manned and with mens lifebelts on board. There efforts were, however, useless for no trace of any of the crew (which consisted of Mr Chope , Chief Officer in Charge, Mr Baker , Chief Boatman, and Dunn Hickey and Purnell , boatmen) could be discovered. It is thought that they must have all gone down together, as the oars and material floating on the surface would have been sufficient to support 3 of 4 men at least. Great praise is due to the Lulworth coast guard who launched and made their boat with wonderful rapidity and though a dangerous sea was running outside vied with each other in their eagerness to go to the rescue of their comrades; also to Thomas Williams and Joseph Miller , Lulworth fishermen, who put off in the formers sailing boat in the hope of being able to give assistance. In reference to the crew of the ill fated boat the writer of the above adds: – a finer set of men would have been difficult to meet; Mr Chope and Mr Bale being especially skilful in the mangement of a boat. She was, however, heavily laden with government stores, which partly, no doubt, caused the accident; and it was noble desire to get these goods home so that they might begin at once to get their stations into order, which was eventually the cause of their sad death. The promptitude of the Lulworth men, both of the coastguard and the two fishermen, in going to the rescue, was beyond all praise and excited the admiration of all who witnessed it. The Rev. W. Gildear [Gildea] was on the beach 2 or 3 minutes after the boat went down; and when no hope remained, went to break the sad intelligence to the poor widows and children. The boat was washed up last Monday on Duddleston Ledge , but none of the bodies have yet been found. Published by the Dorset County Chronicle, Thursday 9 March 1865 Baker , Bale , Chope , coastguard , coastguard station , Dunn , Gildea , Hickey , Miller , Purnell , Williams . Bookmark the permalink . « 1844: Miraculous Escape 1865: Loss of 5 Coastguard Men »

1866: Tyneham - The Gale

1866: Tyneham – The Gale admin 15 February 1866 25 August 2024 Newspaper violent storm burst over this neighbourhood on Sunday last, endangering life and doing considerable damage to property in this locality. An old man who acted as parish clerk at Tyneham for many years was blown completely off his legs and very much shaken by the fall, and when he sought shelter at Tyneham House , the residence of Thomas Bond, Esq ., the poor old man was in a very distressed and exhausted state. A number of fine old trees, forming part of an avenue on the estate of the above-named gentleman, have been blown down and others dismembered, but the total amount of damage is not yet ascertained. Published by Dorset County Chronicle, 15 February 1866 Bond , gale , parish clerk , Tyneham House . Bookmark the permalink . « 1865: Distressing Accident in Weymouth Bay 1873: Fatal Boat Accident »

1873: Fatal Boat Accident

admin 9 October 1873 11 March 2020 Newspaper On Monday a fatal boat accident occurred between Kimmeridge and Warbarrow, Dorset. James Soper , late of Her Majesty's ship Duke of Wellington, Portsmouth; Edwin Soper , seaman, Her Majesty's ship Euphrates; John Quan , a native of Kimmeridge; and Jeremiah Quan , aged 19, seaman, Her Majesty's ship Duke of Wellington, receiving ship for seaman awaiting draught at Portsmouth, started about 2 o'clock from Kimmeridge in a punt about 11ft long, with an extemporary mainsail, made with a mizzen from a larger boat. At the ledge at Warbarrow, where the sea is always very rough, the boat was capsized. All hands swam towards the shore, but, finding the tide too strong, returned to the boat. Jeremiah Quan , after holding on to the boat a short time, made another attempt to reach the shore, but was drowned. The others held to the boat for about a quarter of an hour, when, the accident having been witnessed from the shore, they were rescued by some fishermen. The men were sober and the boat was properly managed. Published by The Times, 9 October 1873 fatal accident , Quan , Soper , Worbarrow . Bookmark the permalink . « 1866: Tyneham – The Gale 1881: Death of William Stickland »

1886: The Coastguard Accident at Warbarrow

admin 2 July 1886 4 February 2020 Newspaper Mr. J.E. Robens, of Weymouth, appeals for help for the widows and children of the coastguardsmen who lost their lives in Warbarrow Bay on the 19th ult. The Warbarrow Coastguard boat left that station for exercise in the bay at noon. On completing their exercises the men went into Lulworth Cove, in order to land and get provision for their families. About 5.30 they left for their home at Warbarrow, but just before reaching their station they were caught in a heavy thunder squall. The boat was struck first on her port side, and capsized. There were four men in her, three of whom were drowned. The man at the bow was partly clear of the boat when she went over, and his cork jacket kept him afloat till he got hold of an oar, and part of a life-belt beside, and tried to swim for the shore. He was picked up in an unconscious state, but through the aid of Dr. Blakeston , he revived. His name is William Pearce. The bodies of William Marshal I and James Sullivan having become disengaged from the boat were picked up some time after by a Warbarrow fishing boat, but the body of Mr. E. Newberry , the chief boatman in charge, has not yet been recovered. By this lamentable event three wives were left widows and fifteen children fatherless. Mr. Newberry leaves a widow and three children; William Marshall a widow and seven children; James Sullivan a widow and five children. All the men bore excellent characters for sobriety and seamanship. Mr. Newberry had been twenty-four years on the Lulworth and Warbarrow stations. These widows and children are truly objects worthy of sympathy and help. The Inspecting Commander has shown them much kindness in their distress. The Mayor of Weymouth, Sir R. N. Howard, has consented, in conjunction with Mr. Robens, to receive any contributions sent for their relief. Published by Bridport News, 2 July 1886 coastguard , Marshall , Newberry , Newbery , Sullivan . Bookmark the permalink . « 1885: Tyneham – Death of the Rev. W. Truell 1893: The Royal Wedding »

1893: The Royal Wedding

admin 14 July 1893 11 March 2020 Newspaper THE ROYAL WEDDING. – A tea for the people of Tyneham was given at Warbarrow by the Rev. J. Bond , of Tyneham House, to celebrate the wedding of the Duke of York . At the same time and place Mr. N. Bond , of Grange , gave a tea to the children of Holme , Grange and Steeple , and to such of the older people as could come. The children were driven over in waggons, and at once began to make the most of their time by bathing, going in the boats provided, and other seaside pleasures. At four o'clock the children were summoned to their tea, which was prepared just in front of the Coastguards' houses , the scene being enlivened by flags, some of which had been hoisted by the Coastguardsmen , while others, which had been brought by the children in procession were now planted in the grounds at the top of the green. When the children's tea was over, the elder folks gathered round and enjoyed the plentiful supply of good cheer. Mr. Bennett 's well-known cakes and bread being as good as ever, thorough justice was done to them. Altogether more than three hundred persons were thus entertained. Various races and sports were then improvised, conducted by Messrs. Chilcott, Nineham, Ogle, &c ., and the onlookers seemed much interested, and applauded loudly. A concertina being forthcoming, some of the party were soon dancing, and the evening was so still that the music was sufficient to enable the dancers to keep step. About eight o'clock, as the more distant folk were preparing to leave, the Rector suggested that " God save the Queen " should be sung, which was done heartily without accompaniment. Then three cheers for Her Majesty were given with a will, led off by Mr. Ward , the officer in charge. Three more for the Duke of York and three for the Duchess followed. After that three for "Our entertainers," the two Messrs. Bond, were enthusiastically given, and three more for the Rev. Canon and Mrs. Wordsworth and Mr. and Mrs. Filliter . The Rector responded by calling for three cheers for Mr. Ward and the Coastguards generally, who so greatly contributed to the success of the entertainment. After this dancing and races went on again, as long as the light lasted. The feature of the evening was the extreme good temper of the company, even the losers of the races coming in with a broad grin, and joining in the laugh at the good-humoured jibes bestowed on the laggards. Altogether it was a most delightful gathering, the weather perfect, the little bay looking at its best, and everyone on good terms with themselves and their neighbours. The Duke of York's wedding day will long be remembered in Tyneham, where everyone wishes him and his fair bride all possible joy and blessing. Published by the Western Gazette, Friday 14 July 1893 Bond , Chilcott , coastguard station , Filliter , Ward , Worbarrow , Wordsworth . Bookmark the permalink . « 1886: The Coastguard Accident at Warbarrow 1898: Local Football News »

1898: Local Football News

admin 11 March 1898 26 March 2020 Newspaper TYNEHAM v. WARBARROW (A.) At Tyneham on Saturday, teams representing the two schools met. Willie Healey was captain of Warbarrow team, and Francis Willcox of Tyneham . This being a first match, the players were greatly excited. The kick-off was at four p.m., and the first goal was scored by Jesse Cooper , who was loudly cheered. The game terminated with Warbarrow leading by four goals to one. After the match light refreshments were provided by the Rector . Mr. G. Selby was referee. Published in the Western Gazette, 11 March 1898 Cooper , Football , Healey , Selby , Wilcox , Willcox . Bookmark the permalink . « 1893: The Royal Wedding 1906: Tyneham School »

1906: Tyneham School

admin 21 December 1906 1 February 2020 Newspaper SCHOOL CHALLENGE SHIELD. – This school has won the challenge shield for the East Dorset Division this year. DR. BARNARDO'S HOMES. – A collection box has been made by the school children in aid of Dr. Barnardo's Homes with the following results: – Irene Knight, 13s 7d; Lizzie Restreux, 11s 6d; Lizzie Cleall, 6s 10d; Reggie Bascombe, 3s 6d; Ethel Minterne, 1s 4d; Harry Dart, 1s 7d; Harry Kellaway, 1s 3d; Lucy Dart, 1s 5d; Jessie Minterne, 3s. This, with 8s from the school box, to which Queenie Pittman and Bertie Taylor subscribed regularly, made a total of £2 12s. Published in Western Gazette, Friday 21 December 1906 Bascombe , Cleall , Dart , Kellaway , Minterne , Pittman , Restreux , School , Taylor . Bookmark the permalink . « 1898: Local Football News 1910: Parish Meeting »

1910: Forthcoming Marriages

admin 30 August 1910 9 March 2020 Newspaper Mr. L.L. Yeatman-Biggs and Miss Cicely Bond The marriage of Mr. Lewin Legge Yeatman-Biggs, son on the Bishop of Worcester and the late Lady Barbara Yeatman-Biggs, to Miss Cicely Bond, daughter of Mr. William H. Bond, of Tyneham House, Wareham, Dorset will take place on September 6 at Tyneham Church. The Bishop of Lichfield, the Bishop of Worcester, and the Rev, C.S. Homan will officiate. There will be six bridesmaids – the Misses Lilian and Margaret Bond (sisters of the bride), Miss Yeatman-Biggs (sister of the bridegroom), the Misses Barbara and Elizabeth Yeatman-Biggs (twin nieces of the bridegroom) and Miss Evelyn Blake. Sir Randolph Baker, M.P., will be best man. The reception will be held at Tyneham House, and the Bishop of Worcester has lent Hartlebury Castle for the honeymoon. Among the wedding presents are the following:- A gold-fitted dressing-case from the Bishop of Worcester; a silver tea-pot and coffee-pot from the Earl and Countess of Dartmouth; an armchair from the Earl and Countess of Iddesleigh; four pierced gold-fruit dishes from Lord and Lady Knaresborough; a dinner service from the Bishop of Lichfield and the Hon. Mrs. Legge; a silver sugar-bowl from Viscount St. Cyres; an antique table from Lady Octavia Legge; an old chair from Lady Wilhemina Brooke; an umbrella from Lady Croft; and a leather blotting-book from Major and the Hon. Mrs. Geoffry Glynn. Published by The Times, Tuesday 30 August 1910: Bond . Bookmark the permalink . « 1910: Parish Meeting 1911: Probate Records »

1910: Parish Meeting

admin 25 March 1910 25 August 2024 Newspaper The annual parish meeting was held in the Schoolroom on Saturday evening, the Rector (the Rev. C. S. Homan) being in the chair. Mr. W. H. Bond 1 proposed the re-election of Mr. Homan 2 as chairman. Mr J. Bascombe 3 seconded, and it was carried unanimously. Messrs. Job Chilcott and Walter C. Smith 4 were unanimously re-elected overseers , and thanks were accorded them for their past services. The Chairman announced that Mr. W. H. Bond had kindly become guarantee to the Postmaster-General for the necessary amount required for the restoration of the postal telegraph service to Tyneham, which was suspended on the removal of the coastguard , and a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Bond for his action was carried with acclamation. The restoration of the telegraph service will prove a great boon to Tyneham. The Chairman was cordially thanked for presiding. Published by Dorset County Chronicle, Thursday 24 March 1910 . William Henry Bond (1852-1935) [] Claude Samuel Homan (1867-1947) [] James Bascombe (1849-1911) [] Walter Case Smith (1861-1948) [] Bascombe , Bond , Chilcott , Homan , Smith , Telegraph . Bookmark the permalink . « 1906: Tyneham School 1910: Forthcoming Marriages »

1914: Air Rifle Shooting

admin 6 March 1914 1 February 2020 Newspaper On Wednesday evening last week the members of the Povington Club visited Tyneham to shoot the return match to that won by the former Club by seven points on February 7 th . Tyneham now won by 19 points, making 184 points, and Povington 165. Scores:- Tyneham – J. Curtis (captain), 23; T. Gould, 22; F. Knight and B. Taylor, 21 each; C. Meech and F. Lucas, 20 each; W. Meech, W. Stickland, and W. Warr, 19 each – total, 184 points. Povington – C. Charles and W. Runyard, 21 each; C. Beauchamp, 20; W. Taylor, 19; W. Cooper, M. Charles, and A. Taylor, 18 each; B. Charles, 16; and A. Norman, 14; – total, 165 points. – Tyneham v. Frampton (Dorchester). – This match was shot on the same evening, each Club firing at patent targets on their own range. Tyneham won by nine points. Scores:- Tyneham – J. Curtis, 23; F. Knight and F. Lucas, 22 each; W. Warr, 21; T. Gould, W. Meech, and B. Taylor, 20 each; T. Miller and F. Warr, 17 each – total, 237 points, Frampton – A. Biles, G.H. Whatmore, F. Hansford, and Carter, 21 each; W. Hill, Rev. C. S. Homan, and J. Legg, 19 each; C. Watkins, 17; and E. Dart, 16 – total, 228 points. Published in Western Gazette, Friday 6 March 1914 Curtis , Gould , Knight , Lucas , Meech , Taylor , Warr . Bookmark the permalink . « 1911: Probate Records 1920: Tyneham – War Memorial »

1920: Tyneham - War Memorial

1920: Tyneham – War Memorial admin 25 November 1920 26 August 2024 Newspaper , War Dead By the unveiling and dedication of the memorial tablet to the members of the parish who made the supreme sacrifice in the Great War the parish of Tyneham has worthily perpetuated the memory of its gallant sons , and also contributed its quota to the war memorials springing up all over the country. The tablet is of white marble on a foundation of black marble . The unveiling and dedication took place at a special service held on Friday evening. The Rural Dean (Canon Blackett) performed the ceremony and gave an inspiring address on the “Unknown Soldier,” taking as his text II. Cor. vi., 9. Published by the Dorset County Chronicle, Thursday 25 November 1920 War Memorial Tablet copyright Michael Day Please visit the War Dead page for more information about the men listed and others connected with the parish who gave their lives in the service of their country. memorial , tablet , war . Bookmark the permalink . « 1914: Air Rifle Shooting 1923: Letter to the Wiltshire Times »

1935: Tyneham House let admin 31 October 1935 8 September 2023 Newspaper Tyneham House, Corfe Castle, a Dorset property that dates from 1580 and has been owned by one family for 250 years, has been let furnished on lease by Messrs. James

1935: Unspoilt Worbarrow Bay

admin 13 September 1935 8 September 2023 Newspaper Dorset Beauty – Warbarrow Bay – Unspoilt English Splendour [By Stephen F Aylett] Seeing that the majority of our people live inland, it is not surprising that the many charming nooks and coves that form our coastline, should provide the change required by those who seek an environment of contrast for their annual relaxation or periodical excursion. The ease with which the travelling public may reach their destination is rendered more simple and swift , as each year increases the efficiency of our transport systems, so that to find a quiet retreat necessitates a journey almost as far west as Cornwall; the time and cost of such a distance eliminating a vast number of would-be holiday-makers. Peaceful corners do exist, however, and I want to take the reader, in imagination, to a little beauty spot on the Dorset coast, a small stretch of sea-shore, that remains as primitive and natural as it was in the dawn of civilisation, except perhaps, that the sea, in its tireless onslaught has penetrated further inland, washing out the least resisting of its obstacles. If you already know the place, a brief description of its charms should not be amiss, but if by chance the locality has not been brought to your notice, you are hereby charged to honour and obey the moral rules and regulations which preserve this scenic treasure from the modern Vandal. The Approach So then, let us start from East Lulworth, taking the first turning past the Inn, if travelling from Wareham, or the first before, if coming from the west. This road gradually increases in elevation, until it reaches a gradient of one in seven, winding up the side of a tall hill, that at present shuts out all sight of the sea, presenting to the traveller a wall-like bank of grass on his right and the bramble covered slopes on his left, that stretch down and down to the valley below, forming a wonderful panorama of Dorsetshire countryside, with Lulworth Castle at the base, Wareham in the distance and a view that extends over several counties, becoming enhanced in loveliness as our height grows steadily upwards. The only diversions from our contemplation of this verduous landscape are the three gates, through which we must pass, barriers across the road, at irregular intervals, each one under the care of a voluntary attendant who opens and shuts them to facilitate our passage – thus earning the monetary recognition scattered from the windows of the moving car – the gates, being no doubt, the legal symbols of the right-of-way, through which we pass. Reaching the summit, our road bears to the right and runs down the other side of the hill, to a little hamlet, known as Tyneham, and as we traverse this declining roadway, we observe at our feet, a perspective of our objective, Warbarrow Bay , being the nest-like erosion into the valley below, bounded each side by small hills, that eventually grow to the cliffs on the shore. The Antidote to Hurry Those of us who are confined to office or factory every working day of our lives, with no aspect beyond the piles of bricks and mortar that surrounds us and no sound but the clicking of typewriters, ringing of telephones, or throbbing of engines, learn to distinguish inside us a craving for the soothing amenities of nature in the raw, which alone can provide the antidote to commercialism and satisfy the very definite yearning of our mental requirements. After all, just as the hunger-stricken victim suffers from the need of physical nourishment, so that unknown component of our being, that we call mind or soul, insists upon the beauties of sea and landscape. We cannot yet measure the effects of light and colour upon our system, but we know, most certainly, that our brain reacts to them, leaving deep impressions and creating a powerful influence upon our emotions. Thus, our glimpse of the ocean awakens our sense of the infinite, as we leave the car at Tyneham and pass through a little woodland, a tiny arcadia that is complete with stream, rockeries and footbridges, all in a pleasing and rustic manner, the path ultimately leading us to cultivated fields, by the side of which we pass along, the only remaining track that divides us from the sea. The Bay We enter the bay, by the only passage, from the north-east corner and are at last confronted by the unique beauty of our quest, an enchanting little cove, that resembles Lulworth in all respects, excepting that its cliffs are not so high and its shape not quite so circular, but dissimilar in its one important feature of virginity. Here in the full of summer, the sea approaches in gentle progress upon the shingle beach (its only defect), washing the shallow basin of its semi-circular formation with a light blue water, that is pleasingly transparent and offering a particularly safe bathing place, to the few who know of its existence. The eastern side (assuming a circle to contain sides) is the only portion of the beach to be accessible, it being a stretch of piled up rocks of small dimensions, that just represent a whim of the tide in its method of orderliness, but our eye picks out, here and there, the bright hues of a silk sunshade that shelters into enterprising Eve who has manipulated the boulders, to gain a position of advantage at the water's edge. The white clay-like substance of the cliffs all round, stretch up to the grassy slopes above reflecting the sun's rays, to the bay beneath – a fact that would account for the agreeable temperature of the water. The cliffs are so straight, in parts, that they form a rough right angle with the green of the grass at the top, giving one the impression that the bay has been cut out by the knife of a giant hand. There are one or two clefts in the precipices, which have been made by the continuous drainage of the adjoining land, each of which becomes periodically congested by the more crumbly substances of inundated soil. The only residences are little homesteads that could be counted upon either hand, including the one construction that in any way suggests modernity. These little cots contain natives who were born in them and the visitors who share their humble abodes with their low ceilings, tiny windows and stone floors, during the holiday months are families that have done so from generation to generation, it being recognised that they or their children will continue to do so for all time. Camping and caravanning are strictly forbidden in all, leaving accommodation for the stranger an impossibility. A Proper Guardian The owner of the land obviously belongs to the type of landlord who, alas! are becoming few in number, as days go by. The type of person who guards the unspoiled features of his property with a passionate autocracy – and therein lies the secret of this flawless gem, amidst a portion of disfigured countryside – evident signs of his attitude being noticeable in the remains of the two coastguard cottages, the inhabitants of which insisted upon letting them to people, detrimental to the surroundings, with the result that he ejected the tenants and pulled down the cottages. The few existing structures possess the usual appurtenances of their kind, the piles of fishing nets, lobster pots, upturned boats and so on, lying haphazardly about, whilst a small lifeboat house stands by the beach, erected of grey stone slabs, the time stained surface of which seem to have a story of their own. Looking out of the bay, we observe the passing of small craft, the sails of which seem to sway lazily to the feeble zephyr, a little to the right, or west, we may discern the faint outline of Portland Bill, while right out on the open sea, we catch occasional glimpses of ocean liners, appearing like toys in the distance. A Sunshine Trap Thus, as we are lucky with the weather, we are confronted with a picture that will for long stimulate our memory to joyful reflection. This rugged cove with its wealth of unaffected beauty, seems to veritably trap the sunshine which glimmers and sparkles on everything it touches, causing the gently flowing waves to flash a myriad beams of gold, that are lost to oblivion, as the fresh born ripple radiates its new-formed gleam of light, piercing in every direction an atmosphere of azure, the rich blues of sky and sea, that fill the background of our living canvas. The lapping of the waters mingle to the sound of child laughter, and from above we hear the sharp shrill note of the seagull, as it drifts from cove to cove, along the shore, and amid this harmony of enchantment, we subconsciously detect the humming of a far off aeroplane, the sinister potentialities of which loses its menace, regarded from our blue lagoon, but reminds us, none the less, that only round the corner is the world of every day realities. One other feature of our surroundings brings us to earth, as we notice the girls along the beach, who unblushingly change their ordinary attire for a costume of scant proportions, in which to romp and bathe in the inviting water. This dates our period to the twentieth century, the day of emancipation for the gentler sex and when we remember that less than a century ago our sisters were forbidden outside the door without a chaperon, which accompanying them to the water's edge, would watch them decorously enter and leave it – the bathers costume's enveloping every inch of person, from tip to toe – we realise that our women folk have progressed far along the road of reason. Lastly, in respect of time, our thoughts might wander above to the cliffs, upon the edge of which are the ancient burial mounds, containing the long silent remains of our Stone Age ancestry, and incidentally, giving name to our dream cove, Warbarrow Bay. Published by the Western Gazette, Friday 13 September 1935 Worbarrow Bay . Bookmark the permalink . « 1935: Death of John Ephraim Moore 1935: Tyneham House let »

1936

1936 – Tyneham Rectory Roof / Garden Fete admin 28 August 1936 8 September 2023 Newspaper TYNEHAM RECTORY ROOF – URGENT NEED OF REPAIR – GARDEN FETE WITH TWO-FOLD OBJECT The raising of funds towards meeting the cost of urgently-necessary repairs to the roof of the Rectory , the residence of the Rev. and Mrs. G. Clifford Frend , was the primary object of a fete held on Wednesday in the charming grounds of Tyneham House , which had been lent by Dr. and Mrs. Sauer . Part of the proceeds are also to be devoted towards the expenses incurred in conveying members of the Tyneham Women's Institute from outlying hamlets to meetings. The roof of the Rectory is in a very dilapidated condition and far from watertight, and although the rector and Mrs. Frend spent a good deal of money on it when they came into residence in the hope of avoiding further trouble, it was found advisable to call in an architect. The lowest estimate obtained for the work was £735, but with a new scheme the cost has been reduced to £550. Towards this sum promises amounting to about £400 have been received including generous subscriptions from the patron of the living, Mr. John W. G. Bond, C.B ., and diocesan funds. The district embraced by the Women's Institute, which owes its inception to Mrs. Frend, who is the present president, is such a large and scattered one, including Kimmeridge, Steeple, Povington, and Creech Grange, that to enable members to get to meetings in the hut at Tyneham a 'bus and usually two taxis have to be requisitioned, which represents an expenditure of £10 a year for transport. THE OPENING CEREMONY. Mrs. Sauer, formally introduced by the Rector, declared the fete open and wished it every success. Mr. Frend, in thanking Dr. and Mrs. Sauer for kindly lending the grounds, mentioned, apropos the object of the effort, that the Rectory was practically uninhabitable. It was hoped by that afternoon's effort to raise sufficient to pay off the amount required for meeting the cost of repairing the roof. The Women's Institute was quite a young and growing branch, and naturally wanted something to feed on. (Laughter and hear, hear.) Mrs. Sauer was presented with a bouquet of pink carnations by little Miss Clare Farley-Smith (grand-daughter of the Rector) and cordially thanked on the proposition of Mr. Ralph Bond. THE ATTRACTIONS. Favoured with brilliant weather, the fete attracted a large number of visitors, who found much to interest them, apart from the pleasure of a stroll through the grounds. A unique feature at night was the flood-lighting of the beautiful Elizabethan house, which is of Purbeck ashlar, commenced in 1567 and mostly built in 1583, although considerable alterations and additions were made by the late Rev. William Bond in 1820. Mr. N. Fitzgerald generously defrayed the whole of the cost of the flood-lighting. Mrs. W. H. Bond , Miss Margot , Mrs. Ralph Bond , Mrs. Frend and Mrs. Sauer presided at a stall devoted to the sale of miscellaneous articles, whilst members of the Women's Institute had charge of a produce department and work made by them. Sweets were sold by Miss Margaret Bond and Miss B. Kendrick . Mrs. F. H. Swann was responsible for the serving of teas, whilst Mrs. Bowditch later in the evening saw to the provision of suppers. Plays, "No Beggars or Hawkers" and "King or Clown?" were presented by "The Barnstormers"; "Estelle," clairvoyante and crystal gazer, gave demonstrations, whilst various competitions added to the visitors' interest and augmented the funds. Amongst the side-shows, &c., were a Chinese laundry, run by Mrs. Donald Leney ; a treasure hunt, the charge of Mrs. John Evans ; bowling, at which the helpers included Dr. Dru Drury and Mr. Ralph Bond; cocoanut shies, in the care of Mr. T. W. Wrixon ; darts, Messrs W. H. Clifford Frend, C. H. Bayliss , and G. N. Walton ; Mr. D. Squires (Kimmeridge) persuaded "anglers" to fish for bottles in a bath; and a whist drive on the lawn, with Mr. A. Dunning as M.C., followed by dancing to music by Wareham Town Band, were fitting finales to an interesting programme. Messrs. J. H. Heard and Hy. Grant were responsible for preparing the ground for the fete. Published by the Western Gazette, Friday 28 August 1936 fete , Frend , Rectory , Sauer , Tyneham House . Bookmark the permalink . « 1935: Tyneham House let 1937: Killed while riding » admin 4 February 1939 8 September 2023 Newspaper Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Miller , of Worbarrow Bay , Dorset, have received a message of congratulations from the King and Queen on their diamond wedding . Mr. and Mrs. Miller have lived in the same cottage for 58 years. Published by The Times, Saturday 4 February 1939 Miller , Worbarrow . Bookmark the permalink . « 1937: Killed while riding Probate 1945 »

1939: Mr. and Mrs. Charles William Miller

1968: Dorset manor house being given away

admin 9 April 1968 8 September 2023 Newspaper By Rita Marshall The Ministry of Defence has been giving away some of the last surviving parts of the derelict fourteenth-century Tyneham manor house, which for the past 25 years has been on the Lulworth artillery range, Dorset. Brigadier Martin (Mark sic) Bond , the head of a family that had lived in the house for nearly 500 years, is serving in west Germany. "This is the end of a long, sad and rather disgraceful story", he told me from Osnabrück , "I feel pretty sour." The Bond family, villagers and farmers from the Tyneham valley, were evacuated in 1943. In 1952, after disputes, the war Office compulsorily acquired the house. Wartime sacrifice Since 1943 it has been deteriorating. Now, what vandals, weather, neglect and ricochet bullets have left, has been given away to owners of other manor houses and museums. Brigadier Bond said: "In 1943 when the whole valley was evacuated we accepted it as a wartime sacrifice. It was implied to us all, although not in writing, that it would be all right to go back when the emergency was over. "Some months ago the Ministry of defence land offices wrote to tell me of proposals to give away some of the pieces of the house that were left. I replied slightly angrily that that was the affair of the Ministry. I no longer had any authority over the house. On that sour note the correspondence ended." The Ministry of Defence's gift has been, for at least two men, a costly business. Lord Southborough , in his house, Bingham's Melcombe, near Dorchester, has a stone doorway of the fourteenth or fifteenth century and a porch, dated 1583, from Tyneham. "I have these pieces because the Royal Commission on Historical Monuments was getting very concerned about the state of this house in the middle of the artillery range", he said. "It makes you want to weep to see an old house in this state. It has cost me four figures to remove, transport, and absorb these pieces into my house, but I regard it as a patriotic act." Mr. Robert Cooke, M.P. for Bristol, West, of Athelhampton Hall, Dorset, has stone facing blocks from Tyneham. He told the royal commission that he could not see how to accommodate part of the fourteenth-century Tyneham in his own fifteenth-sixteenth-century home. Eventually he agreed to incorporate some of the stone in works at the rear, which are Victorian in origin and not in keeping with their surroundings. Bringing the stones from Tyneham was costly, he said. The royal commission said parts of Tyneham had gone to other homes. The National Trust had some stone roofing material which it was keeping until needed. When it became known that parts of Tyneham were being given away there was local concern. The south- east Dorset area planning subcommittee, who were asked to keep an eye on the house before it was taken over by the Army, called for a report from the Ministry of Public Building and Works. 'With regret' The Ministry sent details of the steady deterioration of the property which the planning committee "noted with regret". The Ministry said that any thought of restoring the house was out of the question. "There is no public access to the house, it has been falling very steadily into a derelict state. It was thought that to give away the remaining pieces was the right thing to do. The Bond family were consulted and had no objection." Brigadier Bond said: "I am very grateful to these public-spirited people who have taken some of the pieces. At least something of Tyneham will be preserved." Published by The Times, Tuesday 9 April 1968 Athelhampton House , Mark Bond , Tyneham House . Bookmark the permalink . « 1962: Probate Records 1968: The army reclaims a beautiful spot – for shelling »

1968: The army reclaims a beautiful spot - for shelling

1968: The army reclaims a beautiful spot – for shelling admin 3 September 1968 7 September 2022 Newspaper Letter to The Times From Philip Howard – Tyneham, Dorset, Sept. 2 All today, holiday crowds lay on the beach at Worbarrow Bay , happily staring up at the craggy cliffs of the Dorset coast. Children screamed in the surf: other people sprawled on the strange grassy mound called the Tout , brooding over their transistor radios, and looking down to Lulworth Cove with the waves frothing in and out of the mysterious caves. The only difference between this and a thousand other Bank holiday beaches is that it really is one of the most beautiful stretches of wild coast in Britain and nobody will be able to visit again until Christmas. From tomorrow morning the crump of big guns and the squeal of armoured cars and tanks will replace the picnickers and the bikinis. The bay, the ghost village of Tyneham behind it and the whole valley will be beauty spots no longer. They will become again what they are for the rest of the year, except for Bank holidays and the month of August: part of the 10,000 acres of Royal Armoured Corps ranges, which stretch over nine miles of the coast here, strictly out of bounds to the general public, fenced off with barbed wire, with frequent notices about unexploded shells, and with a lurid placard of skulls and crossbones. The Army pumps £4m. of shells into the area during an average year. But never on Bank holidays. A group of local residents spent the holiday here today in a demonstration to try to persuade the military to give back to the public this piece of the range. Hideous traffic jams built up on the narrow road through the bracken. Many hundreds of people made the pilgrimage between the barbed wire and the rusty skeletons of tanks to the beach. The campaign did a brisk trade in leaflets and membership forms. There was a nostalgic display of pictures of what Tyneham looked like before it became a range. And all day there was a running dialogue between holidaymakers and the campaigners around their trestle table with their charts and placards. "You've got to have gunnery ranges somewhere. Now, haven't you?" barked a military-looking gentleman in a blazer. Crowds peered at the derelict buildings of the village, which has been deserted for 25 years, and looked through the trees for the decaying Elizabethan manor house, which is being stripped of its Purbeck stone. A 6ft. cross painted red, "marked the spot of a broken promise", for, when the Government assumed responsibility for Tyneham House in 1943, it promised to return the house after the war. In some ways, today's demonstration was almost too successful. The fulmars, which are one of the rare attractions of these cliffs, might find such large, enthusiastic crowds every day around their lonely homes nearly as tiresome as bombardment by tanks. The campaigners grew hoarse explaining why Tyneham is unique and must be recovered from the Army. The 500ft. cliffs apparently are happy hunting grounds for the geologist. They are thick with fossilized trees and are one of the best examples anywhere of marine erosion of rocks of varying hardness. For the ornithologist there are seabirds he can see nesting in few other parts of Britain. There is the only Iron age promontory fort on the South Coast, which suffers frequent bombardment of a kind it was never built to withstand. There is the scenery and the coastal paths and the little beach set in the silver sea. Whether these arguments will melt the heart of the Ministry of defence is perhaps doubtful. But they certainly sent today's visitors home glowing with enthusiasm for English heritage. The first tanks invented came to shoot along this stretch of Dorset in 1916. Gradually, as guns became bigger, Tyneham valley became vulnerable to overshooting, and it was taken over in 1943, with the assumption that it would be handed back after the war. Then, in 1948, and the cold war, the Army compulsorily purchased it. The overshoot area now stretches 14 miles out to sea. And a new line of targets for armoured cars has recently been put up along the line of the cliffs. Until the next Bank holiday, the fulmars and the cliffs and the view will all be out of bounds again to everything except high explosives. Published by The Times, Tuesday 3 September 1968 campaign . Bookmark the permalink . « 1968: Dorset manor house being given away 1969: Army opens gunnery beaches to public »

1969: Army opens gunnery beaches to public

admin 5 August 1969 7 September 2022 Newspaper From a staff reporter Lulworth, Dorset, Aug. 4 The restricted beaches inside the Royal Armoured Corps Gunnery School range areas which civilians were asked to leave two weekends ago were opened to the public today, the start of the school's summer leave. The operation of clearing the approaches to the beaches at Mupes and Worbarrow Bays finished shortly before civilian access was allowed. Residents had complained that the beaches were being used by army personnel while the public was banned. A protect "invasion" of the beaches was planned for last Sunday but only one family and a couple of holidaymakers went to Mupes Bay. The army did not interfere. After firing last Wednesday, 40 men spent 1,000 hours patrolling the authorized approaches. A final sweep across the shingle and rocks of Mupes Bay was made a short time before it was decided to let the public on to the beach. Colonel A.H.N. Reade, commandant of the gunnery school, said it would take months to cover the necessary terrain with mine detectors and would require the checking of every possible bit of metal. The Army point out that if they tackled the area in the way the beaches would "never be open to the public". Instead, the patrols search with eyes, boots and sticks, systematically stamping the ground and prodding it to see if there is anything lying on the surface. They cover the paths and verges and 10 yards across the fences, signposted with warnings. The main dispute between the civilians who want access to the beaches outside firing hours at other times of the year and the authorities is that the military personnel and their families can go down to the beaches with special permission. Mrs. Margaret Kraft , of Milborne Wood, Dewlish, a vigorous campaigner for the release of the Tyneham Valley from the range area said she was prepared to help anyone who wanted free access to what she regarded as the finest beaches between Eastbourne and Devon. Lord Salisbury's plea: Lord Salisbury, aged 76, said on the I.T.N. programme World in Action last night that the residents, who gave up their homes in 1943 so that the area could be used as a shooting range, responded to the coalition government's appeal out of patriotic duty. They were told they could return when the war ended but they still had not returned. Lord Salisbury, a former M.P. for South Dorset, urged the Government to try to right the wrong "which these good people have suffered". Published by The Times, Tuesday 5 August 1969 campaign . Bookmark the permalink . « 1968: The army reclaims a beautiful spot – for shelling 1975: Tyneham's ration of nostalgia »

1975: Tyneham's ration of nostalgia

admin 16 December 1975 6 March 2024 Newspaper HISTORY stopped at Tyneham 32 years ago. Just before Christmas, 1943, the villagers gave up their homes to make way for an army firing range, and the village died. The villagers of Tyneham never went back. Their bitter and protracted struggle for possession of their homes ended in failure as the Army retained control over a hamlet of tumbledown cottages. Now, as Army range wardens are working to clear up the remains of the village, has come a reminder of those early war years. Ration books for everyone living in the village before they were dispossessed have been found by the wardens, in an old corrugated iron shed at the back of Tyneham post office . Names like Everett, Longman, Colin Driscoll , the postmaster, and William Holland , who lived at Baltington Cottage , are still clearly legible on the tattered and crumbling orange and buff coloured pieces of paper. And the injunction from the Ministry of Food to write your surname and National Registration Number on the counterfoil before handing it to the retailer is clearly visible, too. Coupons for sugar, bacon and ham, meat and cooking fats are crossed off in blue pencil, for these bits of paper are the remains of used-up ration books, thrown into a pile by postmaster Colin Driscoll some time in 1943. And there, it seems, they stayed for 32 years. "We found them as we were demolishing the old shed at the back of the post office," said warden Mrs. Jane Cato . "They were under a pile of ash on the floor, with rat holes all around. I'm afraid they all break up very easily," she added. Mrs. Cato, the only woman warden on the army range, took the ration books home to her cottage in Lulworth, and is now cleaning them up. "We hope eventually to put them on show, wrapped in polythene, at Tyneham Church ," she told the Echo. The church, deconsecrated some years ago, is planned by the Army as a museum and an information centre for the public who use the Army range walks when the soldiers aren't firing. The books will take pride of place in the museum, particularly as little else of value has been discovered in the village by the wardens. "There was surprisingly little of value in the village – most of the villagers must have taken everything they had with them when they left," said Mrs. Cato. From a dump near the stream they found a few bottles and old inkwells, from the greenhouse of Tyneham House they took a water pump in perfect working order, and from a farmhouse they took a pair of Victorian scales. But they found little else to stock a museum of old Tyneham. So those who knew Tyneham in pre-war years will have to rely on the names in old ration books to spark off memories of life in the village. Memories like those of Miss Margaret Taylor, whose name appears in faded ink on one of the ration books. Miss Taylor, who lives with her sister in Corfe Castle, is a frequent visitor to the tiny 13th century church, which is maintained by the Department of the Environment at the edge of the village. "We showed her round the old post office and she was amazed to see the huge tree growing just in front of the building," said Mrs. Cato. "She remembered giving it to the postmaster as a six-inch pot plant about 40 years ago!" Published by Bournemouth Evening Echo, Tuesday 16 December 1975 Cato , Driscoll , Everett , Holland , Longman , Ration Books . Bookmark the permalink . « 1969: Army opens gunnery beaches to public 1980: Death of Lilian Margaret Garneys BOND nee BOND »

2008: History wakes up

admin 23 February 2008 8 September 2023 Newspaper By Nick Churchill BENEATH the muck and dust of ages, Tyneham's centuries- old farm is stirring. For nearly 65 years all that has moved through its stables and stalls are bats, creepy- crawlies and the odd range warden – but a new project is under way that will see these buildings restored and reopened. Not that it will ever be a working farm of course – Purbeck's famed ghost village has long since surrendered all possibility of human habitation – but it will provide a unique vantage point from which we can peer into the past. I'm lying awake at night working out how I can bring the whole thing together, but the idea is to show how the farm worked . Lilian Bond Project manager and designer Lynda Price and her husband John have already cleared the pond by the time I find them ankle-deep in mud. A small double- arched bridge has been uncovered, and so, to their surprise, has the cobbled floor of the stream. "This must have been for decoration, because I can't imagine why someone would go to all that trouble if they only used the stream to flush away waste from the stables," says Lynda. "It's a puzzle, one of many, but that's what I love about this job. " Lilian Bond called this the Pond Yard in her book (Tyneham: A Lost Heritage) but, although she gives very detailed descriptions, I have no idea how this was laid out. I'd imagine there's a stone road over that bridge as this was the main entrance to the farm from what they called the Lulworth road." Tyneham and the surrounding area was evacuated in 1943 to allow Allied troops to exercise in the build- up to the Normandy landings. The villagers and the estate's owners, the Bond family, never returned. Retained as part of Lulworth Ranges, for decades it remained largely unseen, gradually returning to nature until the mid- 1970s when the Ministry of Defence agreed greater public access on weekends and holidays. In 1994, the old school was reopened, restored to how it looked in the 1920s. Work followed on the church and many of the cottages with a series of displays explaining village life under what was, to all intents and purposes, the last vestiges of feudal England. Swanage-based artist Lynda has now turned her attention to Tyneham Farm . "The farmhouse is only two bricks high, so that is lost, as are some of the other buildings. "But the Great Barn, the granary, stables, tack room and cowsheds are all there. So is the mysterious bull house, which had a chicken coop on top." She plans to reopen the main barn as The History Barn , for use by community groups and schools, as well as placing the farm in its historical and environmental context. One wall appears to have been painted blue. "Well, Lilian Bond talks about the Tyneham Players , and the shows they put on. Her father erected a stage on the north aisle, so it could be that they painted it. She says they used to have up to 160 people sitting in there." In the store above the 1904 coach house, Lynda opens the shutter doors and the light floods in. The original tiles are on the roof and, although part of the timber framing has been patched up, there are materials here that are hundreds of years old. "Most of this is 1904 because we know the steps were originally on the outside of the building, but the stables, stalls and mangers are part of a much older building. "I'm lying awake at night working out how I can bring the whole thing together, but the idea is to show how the farm worked and to look at the decline of small farming communities. It will also acknowledge the radar research work at Brandy Bay." Lynda is on the lookout for pre- 1940s farm implements and excitedly showed me photos of long- redundant chaff-cutters and hay- balers sent to her by a property developer who was impressed by her work at Tyneham. "You get involved in every aspect of the project – from tracing families to finding the right wood and stone, designing displays and clearing bramble." Her boundless enthusiasm surfaces again as she shares with me a letter from the nephew of Walter Case-Smith , the tenant farmer until the early 1940s. He talks about a much- admired flock of Dorset Horn sheep and how the milk had to be stored overnight in tanks of water to keep it fresh in summer before a lorry arrived to take it to Corfe Castle. "It's amazing what you find out – Walter Case- Smith was quite a character. The field in front of the farmhouse was open, so cows, chickens and sheep would be out grazing together. You wouldn't see that nowadays." The last tenant of Tyneham Farm was one S C Churchill . "Now he wasn't very popular. He was a newcomer for one thing, but he also brought the first tractors to the valley. "Previously everything had been done by horse, so he laid farmworkers off – and, of course, he got all the compensation when the village was evacuated." As with the rest of the work at Tyneham, the farm project is not commercially- driven. The village remains a gentle oasis for the imagination untainted by tea rooms, gift shops and hi- tech displays, allowing the ruins to retain the mystery that has captured the minds of thousands of visitors over the years. "I can't stand that phrase visitor centre' – it's so dry and dull," says Lynda. "What I love about Tyneham is that it's a great place for people of all ages where they are not hassled by ice cream sellers, hot dog stands and souvenir stalls. "The Army does not have a vast budget of taxpayers' money for Tyneham, so I've had to get very good at asking people for things for nothing and the £2 parking fee really does pay for the upkeep.” Clearing work continues – much of it involving community groups such as the Lulworth Society – but as befits this window on Purbeck’s past, there’s no set date for the reopening of Tyneham Farm. Things have a habit of working out when they’re meant to. “There is a plan of sorts, but no timetable. There are so many possibilities – it’s very exciting.” The Great Barn at Tyneham Farm will be open to the public on March 22. If you have old farm implements or other ephemera that may find a home at Tyneham, please contact range liaison officer Lt Col Ken Davies on 01929 404714. Published by Daily Echo, Saturday 23 February 2008 Bond , Churchill , Price , Smith , Tyneham Farm . Bookmark the permalink . « 2006: Death of Poppy Ingram 2009: Death of Nellie May Godden »

2010: Lingerin ghosts of a long-dead England

admin 24 January 2010 19 October 2017 Newspaper , Obituary Tyneham in Dorset was already a museum piece when it was shut down during the Second World War. It never reopened by David Randall There'll be another burial in the village next week. Arthur Grant's ashes will be interred in the churchyard at Tyneham in Dorset. He left more than 60 years ago, but now the last of him will return to the village that laid down its life for the Second World War. In 1943, the army needed Tyneham to expand its Lulworth firing range, and so everyone was shipped out. Ever since, the only way of becoming a resident again is to die and be buried here. Arthur is believed to be the last of them. Now there is no one with any memory of this curious place which did not wither or change but simply shut its doors and went away. Even for the time, Tyneham was a period piece, albeit an ambiguous one. For romantics, it was, in its old ways, a keepsake of a once-unchanging England. For modernists, it was, with its broken roadways, its single telephone, and the Bond family owning all the land, an affront to progress. But, to a few hundred people, it was home. In the early decades of the 20th century, there was Mrs Manktelow, the widow at Double Cottages, the schoolmistress Mrs Pritchard, old Charlie Miller, the Knights, including Fred and his father, coachman to the Bonds at Tyneham House; Charlie Meech, the odd-job man up at the big house; and Mrs Taylor, the village wise woman. There were two villages here, really. Down the Gwyle, the coombe that led to the sea, was Worbarrow. Then there was Tyneham proper, with its fields of sheep and its Elizabethan manor house. Closer to the green was St Mary's church; the rectory, home to parsons grand enough to make use of the tennis courts; Dorset stone homes; the one-roomed school; and The Row, the line of terraced cottages punctuated by the village's only shop. By the late 1930s, there were cracks in its chocolate-box façade. The school had closed in 1932. There was no pub; Worbarrow's coastguard station had closed; there was no electricity, no piped water and no development – unless the Bonds sanctioned it. Then came the war. A radar station was set up on Tyneham Cap, and, to staff it, the Women's Auxiliary Air Force arrived. They requisitioned Tyneham House, and airmen were billeted in homes. In November 1943, every villager received a letter. “It is necessary,” it began, “to move you from your homes.” By 19 December, all 225 were gone. Many were under the impression they would return, but in 1947 they were told there would be no coming back. Compensation was paid in 1952 and periodic campaigns were mounted to wrest back the village. They failed, but concessions were made. In 1975, burials were allowed, and the army's guns are muzzled on 134 days a year so ramblers and curious civilians can once again come to Tyneham. The manor house was demolished in 1967, and thatched roofs have fallen. But the church is preserved, and the school is a museum. In it are the clothes pegs of pupils, and one bears the name Arthur Grant. His ashes will be in the churchyard, but the memory of him, and some of the spirit of the place he once inhabited, lives on. Published by, and copyright of, The Independent, Sunday 24 January 2010 Grant . Bookmark the permalink . « 2009: Death of Nellie May Godden 2011: Tall story »

2011: Tall story

admin 5 September 2011 8 September 2023 Newspaper Tall Story: Brilliant sketches by an Englishman which were found in a dusty folder show how the Eiffel Tower was built By Daniel Miller It was a wonder of modern engineering when it was completed in 1890 and remained the tallest building in the world for an astonishing 41 years. Now, brilliant drawings by a young English artist of the Eiffel Tower as it was being built have been found hidden away in a dusty folder. They are revealed here for the first time and show the tower's construction in intricate detail. The sketches have remained in the family of artist Warwick Herbert Draper since he drew them as a young student in the city between 1887 and 1890. The never-seen-before pictures show the entire process of the tower being built as well as Parisians enjoying the new attraction in their city. Detail: A series of sketches have been uncovered by a young British student showing the building of the Eiffel tower. This picture shows the summit with stairs leading to the lighthouse at the very top. They include details of the geology of the area, the foundations, the metal being worked on and people going up in the lifts and enjoying the tower. Each drawing is annotated and shows what a talent Draper had, combining draughtsmanship and human study. It is thought he visited Paris several times during the period in which the tower was built and each time sketched what was going on. The drawings were passed down through his family and his grandson John Ritchie recently found them tucked away in a folder. He has now decided to sell them at auction where they could fetch several thousand pounds. In this picture a rudimentary crane is shown hoisting steel sections to workers building a part of the structure. The sketches have remained in the family of English artist Warwick Herbert Draper since they were drawn between 1887 and 1890. Toil: A gang of riveters at work during the construction of the tower. Drawn in black pen, the 17 sketches show the entire process of the tower being built. Draper is thought to have visited Paris several times during the period the tower was built and each time sketched what was going on. Deborah Doyle, from auctioneers Duke's of Dorchester, Dorset, said: 'The drawings are of great interest as they show different stages of the Eiffel Tower being constructed. Draper was obviously a very talented draughtsman.' 'These small drawings show first the geological sections of the strata at the foot of the tower, the position of the four foundation blocks and several drawings of workers at work including one of the Edoux lifts with people changing cars at a height of 650ft. 'The final drawing of the summit of the Eiffel Tower shows the light-house, laboratories, and the Edoux lift.' One of Draper's earliest drawings show the creation of one of the four concrete bases at the foot of the tower. This drawing shows a cross section of one of the lower end of one of the main beams. Draper went on to work as a barrister but continued to draw and paint – skills that he taught himself. He qualified for the bar in 1898 and later lived at Kelmscott House in Hammersmith, west London, the former home of artist William Morris. After Morris's death in 1896, Hammersmith became the centre of the Arts and Crafts movement and a magnet for artists including Frank Brangwyn, Eric Gill and Mary Fedden. Draper was a leading figure in a range of voluntary and political activities in Hammersmith and Chiswick. Mr Ritchie, from Weymouth, said: 'I don't know much about my grandfather but he worked as a barrister and I believe his art was self-taught. 'I don't know how long he was in Paris or whether he visited several times during the construction of the tower. 'The drawings have been in a folder and they are the type of thing that people might want to see.' Sketches showing two Parisians going up in the lift and the ticket office at the foot of the tower. This drawing shows people entering their names at the Figaro newspaper office on the second level of the tower. 'I think he must have been quite a character.' The Eiffel Tower stands 1,063ft high and remains the tallest building in Paris. It is also the most visited paid-for attraction in the world. It was named after its designer, the engineer Gustave Eiffel, and was built as the entrance to the 1889 World's Fair. Upon its completion, the Eiffel Tower became the tallest building in the world – a title it held for 41 years. The drawings are being sold at auction on September 29. Published by the Daily Mail 5 September 2011 Draper . Bookmark the permalink . « 2010: Lingerin' ghosts of a long-dead England Poem: "The Tale of Tyneham" by Angela Wybrow »

Dorset Life Articles

The magazine "Dorset Life" has featured many articles on Tyneham and some of these articles have been reproduced online. Links to these are provided below. "Dorset" county magazine first issue The first "Dorset" magazine was launched by Rodney Legg in Spring 1968 and featured Tyneham prominently. The magazine itself was primarily founded as a weapon in his first and best-known campaign: to return Tyneham to the villagers who had been evicted in 1943. John Newth, September 2011 Date Title Brief description Aug 2009 Legging it in Dorset – Kimmeridge to Worbarrow Rodney Legg explores hills and cliffs inside the Purbeck ranges Jul 2010 A funeral at

Tyneham Ivan Ruff 's research into Tyneham 's history has uncovered the sad story of little Phoebe Grebbell Sep 2011 Rodney Legg (1947-2011) and Dorset Life A personal memoir by John Newth Dec 2011 Charlie Mills refuses to be caned Ivan Ruff recounts a Tyneham incident of violence in the schoolroom Jul 2012 Clive Hannay – view from a Dorset Artist Clive Hannay captures Pondfield Cove with Worbarrow Tout , Worbarrow Bay , Flowers Barrow and Arish Mell gap with Portland in the distance Aug 2013 Dorset walk: Tyneham and Worbarrow Teresa Ridout explores Tyneham , Worbarrow Bay and Worbarrow Tout Dec 2013 Fighting for Tyneham The campaign to allow its residents to return to Tyneham was a more tangled story than it appears at first sight. John Newth does some unravelling. Nov 2014 Down my way: Tyneham Sketchbook Billa Edwards on her unique access to the 'lost village' and its surroundings Aug 2015 Dorset Lives: Lynda Price Nick Churchill meets a very special Tyneham worker Jul 2016 A Tyneham sapper Before David Greville-Heygate joined the RAF, he was an army officer. This record of his time in Tyneham was written by his daughter Sally . Jun 2018 Tyneham Revisited Nick Churchill considers the effects of 75 years of army occupation on the 'lost village' that this magazine was launched to protect Click on the date to read the article in a new window Page last updated: 27 August 2022

Emigrants

Emigrants

Known residents of Tyneham who have emigrated include: Show 10 25 50 100 entries Search: Forenames Surname Born Died Country Emigrated Notes Alice Hannah TIZZARD 1874 1962 Canada George Edward TIZZARD 1876 1945 Canada Mary Ann TIZZARD 1882 1937 Canada Robert Charles TIZZARD 1884 1976 Canada William John TIZZARD 1872 1947 Canada Showing 1 to 5 of 5 entries Previous Next Click on the surnames shown to find out more: Tizzard Page last updated: 20 June 2021

Poetry

Poetry Corner

Below we provide links to poetry about Tyneham, including contributions from Samantha Day, Fiona Fulton, Steph Gassor and Angela Wybrow. Poem: "Something is very wrong" by Samantha Day I'm wandering round my home , I cannot hear a thingI grip onto a bannister, held together with a stringI call out for my parents, where have they disappeared?My older siblings too, why are they not here?It's always been so lovely, living in this rowOur little group of cottages, a... Posted in Poetry Corner Poem , Poetry Comments Off on Poem: "Something is very wrong" by Samantha Day Poem: "Tyneham" by Fiona Fulton Down in the valley where grasses roll to the sea,And blue joins seamlessly with blue,A building graveyard slumbers.High-limbed trees arch over rough walls and empty windows,Stream running clear to nowhere.Step to the schoolhouse-Step, stop and listen.High-pitched voices at play dance lightly,Dust motes of memory.The church bell rings, callsdo not forget... Posted in Poetry Corner Poem , Poetry Comments Off on Poem: "Tyneham" by Fiona Fulton Poem: "Tyneham" by Steph Gassor Sometimes my mind strays alone in the valleyWatching the sunshine dappling through the ageless trees.The sweet, clear stream trickles on to the coastlineAdding its own music to the humming of the bees.Then I can wander through the skeletal cottages,Which once were homes with life within their walls.A rusting copper nestles... Posted in Poetry Corner Comments Off on Poem: "Tyneham" by Steph Gassor Poem: "The Tale of Tyneham" by Angela Wybrow Nestling in the valley below Whiteway Hill,There stands a village where time's been standing still.The villagers of Tyneham, they very well rememberThe year of '43 and that bitterly cold November. The villagers went about their usual daily chores,Oblivious to letters which headed to their doors.To sell their homes, the folk... Posted in Poetry Corner Poem , Poetry Comments Off on Poem: "The Tale of Tyneham" by Angela Wybrow

Poem: "Tyneham" by Steph Gassor

Poem: "Tyneham" by Steph Gassor admin 23 June 2015 18 August 2022 Poetry Corner Sometimes my mind strays alone in the valley Watching the sunshine dappling through the ageless trees. The sweet, clear stream trickles on to the coastline Adding its own music to the humming of the bees. Then I can wander through the skeletal cottages, Which once were homes with life within their walls. A rusting copper nestles in a barren outhouse, While through the open eaves the pigeon calls. The whole row of houses stand guard to their village, Eerily, silently holding their own. Despite being abandoned, bombed and derelict A sense of long ago life still abounds. Within the church take time to linger, Where names and faces come quickly to life. Yet in the churchyard those very same names Are carved in the gravestones, both man and wife. Climb up the hillside and look down at the village. Beautiful, quiet, unspoilt it lies Within the deep valley, cutting down to the fields To the stark coastline where the waves heave and sigh. There are very few places that my heart would linger, And fewer places still that my soul would rest, But with Tyneham I've found my own little paradise, And I could settle for nothing less. Bookmark the permalink . « Tripcony Poem: "Tyneham" by Fiona Fulton »

Poem: "The Tale of Tyneham" by Angela Wybrow

Poem: "The Tale of Tyneham" by Angela Wybrow admin 1 June 2014 7 July 2021 Poetry Corner Nestling in the valley below Whiteway Hill, There stands a village where time's been standing still. The villagers of Tyneham, they very well remember The year of '43 and that bitterly cold November. The villagers went about their usual daily chores, Oblivious to letters which headed to their doors. To sell their homes, the folk found they had zero choice; Against the government War Office, folk had zero voice. The land, it was purchased for British Army training. Within a single month, not a soul was left remaining. Upon the church door, there was pinned a note – Here is the gist of what somebody wrote: "Please treat the houses and church with due care. A flattened village, us folk really couldn't bear. We're all really hoping to return home one day. Please look after our village while we are away.' The last folk left their homes prior to Christmas '43 – They'd hoped to return, but sadly that wasn't to be. With the enemy so near, some folk were relieved, But, for their little village, many people grieved. Over two hundred folk found themselves displaced. Of life in the village, there's now such little trace. The ravages of time have surely taken their toll; Memories of residents, the village still beholds. The church and the school, they still stand intact, But, against the little houses, the odds were sadly stacked. Upon school peg hooks, there are still pupils' names, And their work upon the desktops to this day remains. In this small rural village on Dorset's Jurassic coast, There now only remains aged spirits and ghosts. For the war effort, Tyneham played its part. For our great nation, Tyneham gave its heart. Poem , Poetry . Bookmark the permalink . « 2011: Tall story Balson's Gap and Malhala's Fortune by Roy Martin »

Poem: "Tyneham" by Fiona Fulton

Poem: "Tyneham" by Fiona Fulton admin 6 July 2015 18 April 2020 Poetry Corner Down in the valley where grasses roll to the sea, And blue joins seamlessly with blue, A building graveyard slumbers. High-limbed trees arch over rough walls and empty windows, Stream running clear to nowhere. Step to the schoolhouse- Step, stop and listen. High-pitched voices at play dance lightly, Dust motes of memory. The church bell rings, calls do not forget us, do not let our sacrifice go unnoticed and unattended. Wild flowers catch our eye, nodding wisely in the breezes. "Each year we wither and yet return, our roots clinging deep to the land." So too, the memories clinging here live once more through travellers' eyes and we walk away, hushed and aware. Poem , Poetry . Bookmark the permalink . « Poem: "Tyneham" by Steph Gassor 2015: Death of Dorothy 'Grace' Grant »

Visiting Tyneham

Tyneham: Opening Dates & Times - 2025

Easily see Tyneham with our quick-glance Monthly Calendars . On what days is Tyneham open to the public? Tyneham and the Lulworth Range Walks are open most weekends and all main public holidays . They are open to the public each weekend except for the following weekends : 17 and 18 January 2026 = CLOSED 14 and 15 March 2026 = CLOSED 13 and 14 June 2026 = CLOSED 12 and 13 September 2026 = CLOSED 10 and 11 October 2026 = CLOSED 14 and 15 November 2026 = CLOSED In addition to the weekends, they are open every day during the following holiday periods – all dates are inclusive: Christmas Break: 20 December 2025 to 4 January 2026 = OPEN Easter Break: 28 March to 12 April 2026 = OPEN Early May Bank Holiday: 2 May to 4 May 2026 = OPEN Late Spring Break: 23 May to 31 May 2026 = OPEN Summer Break: 25 July to 31 August 2026 = OPEN Christmas Break: 19 December 2026 to 3 January 2027 = OPEN At what times is Tyneham open? On the days when Tyneham is open: The Elmes Grove gate that allows vehicle access to Tyneham is opened at 9am each day and is locked each evening at dusk . The exhibitions in Tyneham Church , Tyneham Farm and Tyneham School are opened at 10am and closed at 4pm . The gates to the walks are opened around 4.30pm on Friday and closed at 8am on Monday (when only open at weekends). Important The opening dates and firing times are subject to last-minute change. Please phone 01929 404714 to listen to an answering machine that will give up-to-date access information to callers. For general information phone 01929 404714. Also see: Parking Directions Frequently Asked Questions Page last updated: 27/12/2025

Directions to Tyneham - Where time stopped in 1943

Directions ain menu Where is Tyneham? Tyneham is in Purbeck , Dorset. The following map, annotated with the direction signs at various junctions, and the directions below should help you find your way to Tyneham. Click on the link below to download a printer friendly version. Map & Directions to Tyneham (4016 downloads) As Tyneham is not inhabited, it is not well signposted. Nor does Tyneham have a postcode that can be entered into satnavs. Nor are there phone masts, so mobile phone reception is poor From the Weymouth/Dorchester direction on the A352: As you approach Wool, take the right hand turn just before the railway barriers on to the B3071 signposted to 'West Lulworth & Lulworth Castle'. At the Burngate Farm crossroads, just before Lulworth Camp, take the left-hand turn on to the B3070 signposted to 'East Lulworth Wareham'. Just before the entrance to Lulworth Castle, you will see a sign saying 'All military vehicles turn right'. Take the right-hand turn. An Army Ranges sign says 'Corfe Castle via Whiteway Hill'. A little further on, take the road on the right signposted to 'Tyneham Village'. The road winds up Whiteway Hill and at the top there is a viewpoint on the right-hand side. About a mile further on there appears to be a turning area on the left-hand side. Immediately after this, take the sharp right-hand turning which drops down into Tyneham valley. From the Poole/Bournemouth direction on the A351: As you approach Wareham you will go over the main railway line. At the first roundabout, take the second exit signposted 'A351 Swanage' and continue on the Wareham bypass. At the second roundabout, again take the second exit signposted 'A351 Swanage' and continue on the Wareham bypass. The next junction you come to is staggered: take the right-hand turning signposted to 'Creech Steeple Kimmeridge'. Stay on this road, which passes Creech Grange, straight to the top of Grange Hill where you will pass a viewpoint on your left. Shortly after the viewpoint, the road you are on bears round sharply to the left but you need to turn right (in effect, heading straight on along the top of the hill) taking the road signposted 'Tyneham Lulworth via Army Ranges'. After a third of a mile, take the road on your left down into Tyneham valley. From the Swanage direction on the A351: Immediately after Corfe Castle, take the left turn signposted to 'Church Knowle Steeple Kimmeridge'. Go straight through Church Knowle and on to Steeple. As you approach Steeple, do not take the left turn to Kimmeridge. At Steeple Leaze Farm the road bends round to the right and slowly climbs up the hill. At the top of the hill the road bends sharply to the right but you need to take the left-hand turn. There is no signpost but you will see the gate to the Army Ranges with a green portacabin alongside. After a third of a mile, take the road on your left down into Tyneham valley. Tyneham is NOT accessible to coaches Also see: Parking Frequently Asked Questions Page last updated: 3 September 2022

Parking

Where can I park? There is a car parking area close to Tyneham Village. There is no fixed charge. However a £4 donation per car is encouraged to help fund the ongoing conservation work at Tyneham. Please remember not to leave any valuables in your car. If you use What 3 Words the car per entrance is located at Laws.Processes.Reflect Also see: Directions Page last updated: 24 January 2026

Frequently Asked Questions

This section provides answers to the most Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) about visiting Tyneham . Are there any shops or cafes? The village was last inhabited in 1943 so there is no permanent café or shop, nor is drinking water available. The privately-run 'Forgotten Salt Pig' trailer in the picnic area may be open serving refreshments (typically from 10am to 3.30pm). (T: 01929 550673). Are there any picnic areas? Yes. There are picnic tables near the car park and at nearby Tyneham Farm for those bringing their own refreshments. There are no litter bins so please take your litter home with you. Are there any toilets? There are toilets next to Tyneham Farm two minutes walk from the car park. There are no toilets at Worbarrow. What is mobile phone reception like? Very poor . As no one lives in Tyneham and the immediate surrounding area, there are no phone masts nearby , so mobile phone reception is unreliable. Although there is an old-style Telephone Box at Tyneham, complete with old-style phone, it has NO telephone connection. Are dogs allowed? Yes . But please keep your dog under control. There is no provision for the disposal of litter or dog waste at Tyneham. If you choose to clear up after your dog, please take the bag home with you. Alternatively, please ensure the un-bagged waste is left to degrade naturally away from public footpaths. Are any areas off-limits? Yes . Remember Tyneham and Worbarrow are part of the Ministry of Defence Lulworth Ranges. As the area is a LIVE FIRING range, while walking away from the track to Worbarrow you must KEEP TO THE PATHS MARKED WITH YELLOW POSTS at all times. Tyneham House and the former hamlets and farmsteads of Baltington , North Egliston , South Egliston and Povington are in the restricted zone and NOT accessible to the public . Tyneham Rectory and some Tyneham Cottages are currently fenced off for safety reasons. Are there any restrictions on taking photos or filming? No . You are free to take photographs and use video cameras in Tyneham Village and Worbarrow. Of course, you must not enter any areas that are off-limits. If doing a 'film shoot', you must not deny access to other members of the public. Can metal detectors be used? No . Metal detectors must NOT be used. Can schools visit during term time? Special arrangements can be made for organised school parties to visit on Friday afternoons once firing has finished. Arrangements must be confirmed in advance. Enquiries should be made in writing to: Range Control DTE Lulworth WAREHAM BH20 5QF Please note we are NOT the Ministry of Defence who are responsible for the actual village (opening times, exhibitions, car park, toilet facilities etc.) and the surrounding ranges (clearing paths of ammunitions etc.). Also see: Directions Parking Page last updated: 25 January 2026

Books about Tyneham

[Other Resources] Books There are many books about Tyneham . Below we show images of the books we highly recommend and others we commend . We also provide further details of all known books including ISBN numbers etc. Click on the cover images below for more information  Highly Recommended: Highly recommended books include: The Tyneham Story Tyneham – A Tribute Tyneham Ghost Village Tyneham – A Lost Heritage The Tyneham Story Tyneham - A Tribute Tyneham Ghost Village Tyneham - A Lost Heritage  Commended: Commended books include: Tyneham – The Lost Village of Dorset Tyneham in Purbeck – A Short History of the Parish Tyneham with Worbarrow – Then & Now The Village That Died For England – The strange story of

Tyneham Tyneham - The Lost Village of Dorset Tyneham in Purbeck Tyneham with Worbarrow - Then & Now
The Village that Died for England * Other books Other books worth a look include: A Tyneham Boyhood – The Rooks in the Elm Trees The Fight for Tyneham Tyneham Boyhood - The Rooks in the Elm Trees Some books are out of print. Some can be obtained on sites such as Amazon and eBay but please be careful not to pay the inflated prices of some online sellers. Page last updated: 22 April 2020
